Expert assistance is essential. Unfortunately, the Michigan Department of Environment Quality (MDEQ) cannot perform an investigation we can all trust. As such, I've sent a letter to the EPA and to the Auditor General requesting an accurate and thorough investigation to determine whether the misapplication of federal water testing rules was intentional or due to negligence. Their results must be transparent and easy to understand.

Michigan health officials scramble to help lead-poisoned Flint

USA Today, October 25, 2015

FLINT, Mich. -- To the panicked parents in Flint: Help is on the way.

That's the message from doctors, university researchers and public health officials mobilizing to move an embattled city beyond shock and anger over its toxic water to a brighter next chapter — one that involves wrapping services around Flint's children to protect them from the worst effects of the lead that streamed through the city's water lines.

School water seldom tested in urban Michigan districts

Detroit News, October 26, 2015

Unhealthy levels of lead may be in the drinking water of Michigan's urban public schools beyond Flint as a result of gaps in federal testing requirements that leave those facilities unprotected.

A Detroit News survey of the urban districts of Detroit, Lansing and Muskegon found that their school taps and drinking fountains are not tested regularly, if ever. The school and water system officials put the testing responsibility on each other.

Planned Parenthood, VG's join efforts to bring clean water to Flint

MLive, October 24, 2015

FLINT, MI - As Flint residents, schools, businesses and agencies ready to reconnect fully to the city of Detroit donations of bottled water and filters continue to pour in from various agencies.

Local contractors partnered with Genesee County Community Action Resource Department to install water filters in 200 homes in Flint for elderly, disabled and homebound residents. Through the partnership, UA Local 370 of the Plumbers, Pipefitters, Service Trades is working with contractors from Goyette Mechanical, Johnson & Wood and William Floyd on the project. All the labor has been donated and the contractors have donated supplies and the vehicles for use during installation. According to an Oct. 20 media release, 100 filters have been installed and there are plans to install 100 more.

VG's announced donated 4,000 bottles of water to Flint Community Schools for a water drive at the Fenton vs. Linden football game . Oct. 23 at Fenton High School. Various VG's stores are also allowing customers to donate $3.29 toward a case of water from Oct. 24 – 31. Below is a list of participating stores.

Who's snooping on your location? In Michigan, state cops

Patch, October 24, 2015

Did you mean for the Michigan State Police to know where you are?

Probably not, but since 2006, the state police agency has been using cellphone tracking services originally intended to fight terrorism, but used in common practice to solve everyday crimes, The Detroit News reports.

An internal State Police memo showed the cellphone simulator technology, which police use to collect large amounts of data, including the location of users, was used 128 times last year, according to the report. Deployment reportedly resulted in 82 arrests, including 40 for homicide and attempted murder, and the discovery of six missing persons, saving the agency both time and money for investigations.

ACLU: Michigan State Police have been tracking cell phones for years

Michigan Radio, October 24, 2015

Michigan state police have been using cell phone tracking devices for nearly ten years.

That's according todocuments the American Civil Liberties Union obtained through a Freedom of Information request.

The documents show the devices have been in use since at least 2006 and were first purchased to help fight terrorism.

Since then, the ACLU said the devices have also been used to investigate other, more commonplace crimes, including burglary and fraud.

LANSING - Schools across Michigan are being encouraged to enroll their fifth-graders in a program that helps prepare youngsters for emergencies like tornadoes, floods and storms.

Student Tools for Emergency Planning, or STEP, is sponsored by the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) and the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and is funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

$230M grant would help prevent Grand River flooding

Wood TV, October 24, 2015

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (WOOD) — Kent County and West Michigan cities are asking for $230 million from the federal government to prepare for and withstand natural disasters like the Grand River's historic flooding in 2013.

The preparation plan is called "The Grand Strategy." According to a press release from Kent County, the plan includes "approximately two dozen initiatives" for Kent County and the cities of Grands Rapids and Wyoming.

Hurricane Patricia dissipates in Mexico; flooding, mudslide concerns remain

CNN, October 24, 2015

(CNN)Patricia, the strongest hurricane ever recorded at sea, approached Mexico's Pacific coast with such ferocity that one official predicted it would become the most dangerous storm in history.

Thousands were evacuated from luxury beach resorts and impoverished hamlets long before the powerful Category 5 storm touched down Friday evening near Cuixmala in southwestern Mexico. Its crushing 165-mph sustained winds uprooted trees and toppled power lines. Heavy rains unleashed mudslides.

By late Saturday afternoon, however, satellite imagery and surface observations from northern Mexico indicated Patricia had degenerated into a remnant area of low pressure, according to the U.S. National Hurricane Center.

Tax proposal vote may determine fate of 24-hour police in Clayton Township

MLive, October 23, 2015

CLAYTON TWP, MI – Clayton Township Police Chief Scott Pavlik isn't sure what might happen to his department after Jan. 1 if a 1.9-mill, six-year tax proposal isn't passed in the Nov. 3 election.

If it passes, the tax is forecast to raise approximately $361,000 in its first year. That would be in addition to the current 0.9746-mill property tax for township police that raises $186,000 a year.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

Published on: 10/26/2015 at 6:08AM

An area of rain will move across Upper Michigan today. Look for the greatest amounts over the south where up to a third of an inch is possible. The rain will diminish from the west late this afternoon into this evening. Another period of rain is expected from late Tuesday night into Thursday as a low pressure system slowly moves through the western Great Lakes. Some snow may mix with the rain late Wednesday night into early Thursday over inland portions of West Upper Michigan.

Gaylord

Published on: 10/26/2015 at 3:36AM

It will be seasonably mild through midweek with cooler temperatures expected to end the week. There will be chances for a few light rain showers across far northern Michigan today. Otherwise...widespread showers are expected later Tuesday night through Thursday. A little snow may even mix in with the rain by Thursday.

Detroit

A strong low pressure system will track through the Great Lakes Region during the Mid-Week Period.

Grand Rapids

Skies will range from mostly sunny near I-94 to mostly cloudy near Route 10 today. Highs will be in the mid 50s to around 60 degrees.

Northern Indiana

The work week will begin with mostly sunny skies, dry conditions, and temperatures slightly above normal. Highs today will be in the upper 50s to mid 60s. Lows tonight will be in the upper 40s to low 50s with increasing clouds through the night. Rain will move into the area during the day on Tuesday, with highs in the mid 50s to around 60s. Rain, with a few possible rumbles of thunder, will continue through Tuesday night. Some areas, mainly east of I-69, could receive more than an inch of rainfall Tuesday and Tuesday night. Rain chances will decrease through the day on Wednesday, however a few rain showers will still be possible through Wednesday night.

MEDIA MONITORING REPORT

10/23/2015

Issues:

- No issues to report.

Summary:

- The state says it will speed up funding to Detroit water.
- The city will conduct its own internal investigation of Flint's water crisis, City Administrator Natasha Henderson said Wednesday, Oct. 21.
- A Detroit-area pastor who met with the director of the state Department of Environmental Quality this week says he asked the director to resign because of the state's role in Flint's water crisis.
- Gov. Rick Snyder has appointed a task force to review "actions regarding water use and testing in Flint" and to make recommendations for future guidelines.
- Lackadaisical and dismissive – that's the tone of a Michigan Department of Environmental Quality spokeswoman's response to a July e-mail noting that a member of a second media outlet had made an inquiry about elevated lead levels in Flint's drinking water, according to a Detroit Free Press column.
- Officials are asking the federal Environmental Protection Agency to answer questions about its oversight of state environmental regulators after elevated blood-lead levels were found in children whose Flint homes received river water.
- The Michigan State Police's Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division is offering elementary schools across the state an opportunity to enroll their fifth-graders in the Student Tools for Emergency Planning program.
- Documents say Michigan State Police have had cellphone tracking devices for nearly a decade that were bought to fight terrorism but instead are used to investigate other crimes.
- Detroit News reports that for nearly a decade, the Michigan State Police has had cellphone tracking devices that were bought to fight terrorism but instead are used to solve everyday crimes, internal documents show.
- A military officer of Iraqi descent said he was passed over for promotion in the Michigan Army National Guard because of his ethnicity, according to a complaint filed Wednesday.
- Tens of thousands of people are being evacuated from Mexico's Pacific coast Friday as Patricia, the strongest hurricane ever recorded in the Western Hemisphere, bears down on the Puerto Vallarta area packing sustained winds of 200 mph.

- Republican leaders in the state Senate say they're willing to consider a road funding plan approved late Wednesday night by the state House.
- The state Legislature has given its OK to create an alert system for people suspected of killing or injuring on-duty police officers.
- Tomorrow, a state Senate committee takes up legislation that would require state agencies to pay the court costs of people who sue the state and win.
- National Weather Service forecast updates.
- TV clips: cell phone tracking.

Analysis:

- Media coverage is neutral and negative.
- Continued coverage on Flint water.
- MLive reports Gov. Rick Snyder has appointed a task force to review "actions regarding water use and testing in Flint" and to make recommendations for future guidelines.
- State officials are asking for the EPA to conduct an investigation regarding its oversight of state environmental regulators after elevated blood-lead levels were found in children whose Flint homes received river water.
- MLive reports that the state is speeding up funding to help Flint buy Detroit water.
- Will continue to monitor the situation.

FLINT WATER

State says it will speed up money transfer to Flint for Detroit water

MLive, October 22, 2015

FLINT, MI -- The state says it will speed up funding to help Flint buy Detroit water. The promise came less than 24 hours after top city officials said the cash was needed now -- not in 2016.

Sara Wurfel, a spokeswoman for Gov. Rick Snyder, said Flint should receive $4 million in one or two business days.

City will conduct internal review of Flint water crisis, administrator says

MLive, October 21, 2015

FLINT, MI — The city will conduct its own internal investigation of Flint's water crisis, City Administrator Natasha Henderson said Wednesday, Oct. 21.

Henderson told the City Council her planned review will include "the steps that were taken" since 2013, when officials decided to join the Karegnondi Water Authority.

MLive, October 22, 2015

FLINT, MI — A Detroit-area pastor who met with the director of the state Department of Environmental Quality this week says he asked the director to resign because of the state's role in Flint's water crisis.

The Rev. David A. Bullock said he and other members of the nonprofit Change Agent Consortium met with DEQ Director Dan Wyant on Wednesday, Oct. 21, after a prayer vigil at the agency's headquarters.

Gov. Snyder names task force to review actions in Flint water crisis

MLive, October 21, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Gov. Rick Snyder has appointed a task force to review "actions regarding water use and testing in Flint" and to make recommendations for future guidelines.

The governor announced creation of the task force in a news release Wednesday, Oct. 21, the same day U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint, and state Sen. Jim Ananich, D-Flint, called for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to carry out a similar review.

Detroit Free Press, October 22, 2015

"Apparently it's going to be a thing now."

Lackadaisical and dismissive -- that's the tone of a Michigan Department of Environmental Quality spokeswoman's response to a July e-mail noting that a member of a second media outlet had made an inquiry about elevated lead levels in Flint's drinking water. And it's a perfectly tone-deaf representation of that agency's response to the public health crisis then brewing in that impoverished town.

This week, the state acknowledged that it made mistakes in approving and overseeing Flint's transition to a new water source last year, that it misunderstood and misapplied federal rules meant to keep dangerous substances like lead and copper out of drinking water. The state was finally spurred to action after a local pediatrician found that an increasing number of Flint kids had elevated blood-lead levels.

New York Times, October 23, 2015

Officials are asking the federal Environmental Protection Agency to answer questions about its oversight of state environmental regulators after elevated blood-lead levels were found in children whose Flint homes received river water. Representative Dan Kildee and the State Senate minority leader, Jim Ananich, both Democrats from the Flint area, said Wednesday that they had sent letters to the agency. Flint reconnected to Detroit's water system last week in hopes of resolving the health emergency. "It has become clear to me that unacceptable lead levels were a failure of government at every level," Mr. Kildee wrote in a letter to the E.P.A. administrator, Gina McCarthy. He said the agency needed to conduct an investigation "to restore confidence and to ensure that these failures never happen again." The agency said it was reviewing the request. Dan Wyant, director of the State Department of Environmental Quality, has said that federal drinking water rules were not followed properly when Flint switched from Detroit's water system.

Kildee calls for federal probe of Flint water crisis

Detroit News, October 21, 2015

Washington — Rep. Dan Kildee has requested an investigation by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency into the Flint water crisis, saying the unacceptable lead levels detected in the city's water "were a failure of government at every level."

Kildee, a Democrat from Flint Township, wrote Wednesday to EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy about the need for accountability "to restore confidence and to ensure that these failures never happen again," following revelations that lead levels existed in city water at dangerous levels for months.

Top Dem calls for hearings, audit on Flint water crisis

Detroit Free Press, October 20, 2015

LANSING – A top Democratic lawmaker called Tuesday for legislative hearings and an audit to probe the state's oversight of drinking water issues in Flint, which he described as "extremely troubling."

Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich of Flint said regulators' job is to "protect people" and they failed.

Gov. Rick Snyder and the Republican-led Legislature last week approved $9.3 million in aid to address the crisis, which included $6 million to help temporarily reconnect the 99,000-resident city to Detroit's water system after elevated blood-lead levels were found in children.

Police offer emergency preparedness education in Michigan schools

Petoskey News, October 22, 2015

The Michigan State Police's Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division is offering elementary schools across the state an opportunity to enroll their fifth-graders in the Student Tools for Emergency Planning program.

Known as STEP, this classroom curriculum enables teachers to prepare students for various emergencies, including tornadoes, flooding and storms.

"Fifth-graders who participate in the STEP program will learn important and potentially life-saving knowledge about emergency preparedness," said Capt. Chris A. Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the MSP/EMHSD. "Students then take that knowledge home and share it with family and friends, making their communities better prepared for an emergency or disaster."

MI News 26, October 22, 2015

Elementary schools across the state now have an opportunity to enroll their fifth-graders in the Student Tools for Emergency Planning (STEP) program, offered by the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD).

STEP aims to prepare students for various emergencies, including tornadoes, flooding, and storms.

"Fifth-graders who participate in the STEP program will learn important and potentially life-saving knowledge about emergency preparedness," said Captain Chris A. Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the MSP/EMHSD. "Students then take that knowledge home and share it with family and friends, making their communities better prepared for an emergency or disaster."

Documents: State police using cellphone tracking devices

9 and 10 News, October 23, 2015

DETROIT (AP) - Documents say Michigan State Police have had cellphone tracking devices for nearly a decade that were bought to fight terrorism but instead are used to investigate other crimes.

The Detroit News reports (http://detne.ws/1Lr9nQD) more than 250 pages of emails, invoices and other documents show state police in 2006 acquired cellphone simulator technology, which lets them collect large amounts of data including the location of users.

The equipment was upgraded in 2013 and an internal memo indicates it was used last year on 128 cases including burglary and fraud, but not terrorism.

Iraqi-American Lt. Col. Says Michigan Guard discriminated

Detroit Free Press, October 22, 2015

A military officer of Iraqi descent said he was passed over for promotion in the Michigan Army National Guard because of his ethnicity, according to a complaint filed Wednesday.

Lt. Col. Jason Awadi, a Dearborn native who is currently a strategist with the chief of staff of the Army in Washington, D.C., said he was passed over for promotion this summer. Instead, lesser qualified whites were promoted, he alleges in a complaint filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

The U.S. National Hurricane Center predicted the Category 5 hurricane would make a "potentially catastrophic landfall" in southwestern Mexico later in the day.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

State senate to consider House-passed roads plan, but deal likely far off

Michigan Radio, October 22, 2015

Republican leaders in the state Senate say they're willing to consider a road funding plan approved late Wednesday night by the state House.

That $1 billion plan eventually raises taxes and fees by $600 million. It also makes $600 million in unspecified cuts to other parts of the budget. And the legislation includes a possible rollback in Michigan's income tax rate.

Bill to create alert system to track down cop killers headed to Snyder's desk

Michigan Radio, October 21, 2015

The state Legislature has given its OK to create an alert system for people suspected of killing or injuring on-duty police officers.

The "blue alert" system would be similar to amber alert systems for missing children. It would use media broadcasts and highway signs to send out information on suspects who are at-large and considered a public threat.

Lawmakers consider forcing state agencies to pay court costs of people who sue

Michigan Radio, October 21, 2015

Tomorrow, a state Senate committee takes up legislation that would require state agencies to pay the court costs of people who sue the state and win.

State Sen.Tom Casperson, R-Escanaba, says state agencies have an unfair advantage over people in disputes over taxes and permits.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

Low pressure approaching the area from the west this afternoon into tonight, will bring widespread rain showers to the area. Behind the low pressure system, temperatures will begin to cool off with gusty northwest winds expected Saturday afternoon and evening. Winds could gust between 25 and 35 mph along the Keweenaw Peninsula and for locations close to Lake Superior.

Gaylord

Occasional rain and drizzle is expected late Friday night into Saturday before clearing up to end the weekend.

Detroit

Low pressure over the plains will push high pressure toward the east coast today. Clouds will thicken during the afternoon and then rain will move in tonight as the low pressure system moves into the northern Great Lakes. Increasing south wind will maintain mild temperatures Saturday as rain diminishes during the morning. There will be a chance of showers redeveloping Saturday afternoon as a cold front moves through the region. There is a slight chance of thunderstorms late in the day. Sunday will turn out dry but cooler to finish the weekend.

Grand Rapids

Dry weather is expected through most of the day. Clouds will thicken up through the day with above normal temperatures for western parts of the region. Late this afternoon and more so this evening we will see showers starting to track in from the southwest. These showers will overspread the entire area tonight.

Northern Indiana

Increasing Clouds This Afternoon

Clouds will increase throughout the afternoon, especially west and central. Rain will move into the west by late afternoon/early evening and spread eastward overnight. Highs today will be in the 60s and low 70s. Lows tonight will be in the 50s and low 60s.

MEDIA MONITORING REPORT

10/21/2015

Issues:

- No issues to report.

Summary:

- The Water Network posted an article on a local Flint resident who discovered her children were poisoned from lead in Flint's water supply.
- Emails from the state Department of Environmental Quality supply some of the background to the story of how Flint was allowed to operate its water system for more than 17 months without controlling corrosion.
- The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality "completely failed" to protect Flint residents from contaminated drinking water, according to Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich, who is calling for a formal investigation by the Legislature.
- A formal review is underway into the state agency that made mistakes in its monitoring of Flint's drinking water.
- Monroe County emergency managers and civil preparedness authorities will meet soon to assess the impacts the Oct. 16-17 phone outage had on local businesses, health care and law enforcement agencies.
- Two weeks after a mass shooting struck a community college in Oregon, the conversation continues locally regarding campus safety.
- State officials are urging Michigan's poultry owners to watch for signs of bird flu during the fall migration season.
- Law enforcement will have to adhere to new reporting requirements and meet a higher evidentiary standard for seizing and taking ownership of people's property under laws signed by Gov. Rick Snyder.
- The Michigan Legislature has approved a new state framework for evaluating teachers and school administrators, with annual evaluations based partly on student tests and their improvement over time.
- National Weather Service forecast updates.
- TV clips: Investigation underway about Flint water; Asset forfeiture changes.

Analysis:

- Media coverage is neutral and negative.

- More news coverage on Flint water situation and around the emails revealing that the federal government informed the state more than seven months ago that Flint's river water was causing transmission pipes to leach contaminants.
- Michigan Radio reports that the state Auditor General's office expects to wrap up its review of the Office of Drinking Water and Municipal Assistance (ODWMA) next year.
- Mich. State Sen. Jim Ananich is continuing to call for a formal investigation by the legislature on the situation.
- Will continue to monitor reports.

FLINT WATER

Lead poisoning from US tap water

The Water Network, October 21, 2015

LeeAnne Walters' four children started getting sick around November of last year. Her 14-year-old, J. D., was in and out of the hospital, and her four-year-old twins, Garrett and Gavin, would get scaly, itchy rashes whenever they took a bath. "I could see the water line on Gavin's stomach," Walters says. In February, the pediatrician wrote a note to the city saying that Gavin, who has a compromised immune system, couldn't consume the water.

City officials came out to test the Walters' tap that same month and found lead levels at 397 parts per billion. For reference, anything greater than 15 ppb—what the Environmental Protection Agency considers an acceptable level—can result in irreversible damage to a child's brain. In fact, the EPA and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention agree there's no truly safe lead level.

Read state DEQ emails as lead-in-water crisis unfolded in Flint

MLive, October 20, 2015

FLINT, MI -- These emails from the state Department of Environmental Quality supply some of the background to the story of how Flint was allowed to operate its water system for more than 17 months without controlling corrosion.

Dating back to February, the emails detail the state DEQ's position that such treatment was not immediately required after the city changed its water source from Lake Huron to the Flint River in April 2014.

Michigan DEQ 'completely failed' Flint residents, says Ananich, calling for water investigation

MLive, October 20, 2015

LANSING, MI — The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality "completely failed" to protect Flint residents from contaminated drinking water, according to Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich, who is calling for a formal investigation by the Legislature.

Emails released this week show that the federal government warned the DEQ as early as February that Flint River water was causing lead and other contaminants to leach from pipes, posing a health risk for city residents that was not addressed for months.

Snyder's lead-in-the-water crisis harks back to Milliken's trial by PBBs

It seems every governor is tested at some point on issues he or she can't control. It's the kind of stuff that comes out of left field, and they don't prepare you for it in governor school.

Former Gov. William Milliken had his PBB crisis. Ninety percent of the state's population unknowingly consumed the fire-retardant chemical in 1973-74. It was accidentally mixed into cattle feed that was then fed to the animals, who then passed it on into the human food chain. Afterward, Mr. Milliken confessed mistakes were made and the situation "got out of hand."

Lawmaker calls for hearings on Flint water crisis

Fox 2 Detroit, October 21, 2015

LANSING, Mich. (AP) -- A top Democratic lawmaker called Tuesday for legislative hearings and an audit to probe the state's oversight of drinking water issues in Flint, which he described as "extremely troubling."

Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich of Flint said regulators' job is to "protect people" and they failed.

Gov. Rick Snyder and the Republican-led Legislature last week approved $9.3 million in aid to address the crisis, which included $6 million to help temporarily reconnect the 99,000-resident city to Detroit's water system after elevated blood-lead levels were found in children.

Auditor general looking into state agency responsible for monitoring Flint water

Michigan Radio, October 20, 2015

A formal review is underway into the state agency that made mistakes in its monitoring of Flint's drinking water.

The state Auditor General's office expects to wrap up its review of the Office of Drinking Water and Municipal Assistance (ODWMA) next year. Specifically, the auditor is reviewing how the office oversees drinking water supplies.

Plenty of blame to go around in Flint

The Times Herald, October 20, 2015

Confusion poisoned Flint's children.

So says one of the confused, Gov. Rick Snyder, is his defense of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality.

For his part, DEQ Director Dan Wyant admitted that his department just didn't know what it was doing when the city of Flint switched from water from Lake Huron, delivered by the Detroit water department, to using water from the Flint River.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Emergency managers to assess phone outage

Monroe News, October 21, 2015

Monroe County emergency managers and civil preparedness authorities will meet soon to assess the impacts the Oct. 16-17 phone outage had on local businesses, health care and law enforcement agencies.

Mark Hammond, director of the Monroe County Emergency Management Division, said managers from ProMedica Monroe Regional Hospital, Michigan State Police and the sheriff's office would attend the ad hoc meeting, probably to be held next week.

The outage had a "huge impact on individuals" and "some public facilities" were impacted, Mr. Hammond said Monday. "Not only was it an inconvenience of losing the Internet, but none of our fire alarm systems worked. They would go off, but they could not (connect) with Central Dispatch if there was a problem."

Keenan: Wayne State police chief says campus is safe

Detroit News, October 20, 2015

When Chief Anthony Holt of the Wayne State University Police Department learned about the mass shooting at a college campus in Oregon, he picked up the phone and called the chief of security at Umpqua Community College.

It's something he's done following every college campus shooting since the horrific Virginia Tech massacre in 2007.

Recent shooting renews focus on campus safety

Emergency Management, October 19, 2015

(MCT) - Two weeks after a mass shooting struck a community college in Oregon, the conversation continues locally regarding campus safety.

Similar incidents have occurred with enough regularity in recent years that campus officials have developed plans to respond and protect students and staff.

Tim Kissock, risk manager for Missouri Western State University, said safeguards are in place to make sure campus police don't stand alone when faced with a shooter.

MICHIGAN HEALTH

State officials urge poultry owners to watch for bird flu

Detroit Free Press, October 21, 2015

State officials are urging Michigan's poultry owners to watch for signs of bird flu during the fall migration season.

Migrating birds carry diseases that could spread to poultry operations if the wild birds mingle with domestic ones.

Poultry across much of the nation was hit with a bird flu virus this past spring, one of the biggest animal health disasters in U.S. history.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

Snyder signs changes in police forfeiture of assets

NBC 25 News, October 21, 2015

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - Law enforcement will have to adhere to new reporting requirements and meet a higher evidentiary standard for seizing and taking ownership of people's property under laws signed by Gov. Rick Snyder.

The measures approved Tuesday seek to address concerns about police taking cash, vehicles and assets from people not convicted of crimes.

Michigan legislature approves teacher evaluation framework

NBC 25 News, October 20, 2015

LANSING — The Michigan Legislature has approved a new state framework for evaluating teachers and school administrators, with annual evaluations based partly on student tests and their improvement over time.

The bill, OK'd 35-2 by the Senate on Tuesday, goes to Gov. Rick Snyder for his expected signature.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

An approaching low pressure system and associated cold front will bring a slight chance of showers through early this afternoon. There could even be a couple rumbles of thunder through early afternoon. Temperatures will be warmer today with high temperatures in the middle 50s to middle 60s ahead of the cold front. Along and behind the cold front winds will become gusty from the west to northwest late this afternoon into tonight, especially along the Lake Superior shoreline and along the Keweenaw Peninsula. Winds could gust to 25 to 35 mph in those areas.

Gaylord

Published on: 10/21/2015 at 3:08AM

Low pressure crossing the region will bring the threat for showers today into this evening, with even the threat for a rumble of thunder or two across northern lower Michigan this afternoon. While severe weather is not expected, isolated gusty winds are possible with any thunderstorm activity. Cooler air arrives later tonight and Thursday, bringing a few light lake effect rain showers along with it. High pressure follows this system, bringing dry and mainly sunny weather to end the work week. The next area of low pressure arrives this weekend, with additional showers expected.

Detroit

Published on: 10/21/2015 at 5:17AM

Above normal temperatures once again as much of the area reaches into the 70s. Showers will persist on and off through the overnight until a cold front sweeps through the area late tonight. High pressure moves in tomorrow bringing dry weather and slightly cooler temperatures around 60.

Grand Rapids

It will be mild again today. To start the day, one area of showers will be pushing east of Lansing and Jackson. Then only some isolated showers are expected for much of the day. However later in the afternoon and during the evening, another round of showers is forecasted to move in. The atmosphere will be slightly unstable. Thus a few storms could develop.

Northern Indiana

Mostly cloudy skies can be expected through tonight as a weak disturbance and cold front impact the region. The weak disturbance will depart the area this morning, but not before giving some areas a few light showers. Skies may clear somewhat this afternoon, especially in southeastern areas. However they will quickly fill back in as a cold front drifts south and brings another chance for showers. Despite the cloud cover, well above normal temperatures are expected with highs well into the 70s and lows tonight in the 50s. The next chance for rain will arrive Friday night and linger into Saturday.

Governor Rick Snyder

12 hrs ·

Today, I released the following statement today on the importance of Perrigo to the state of Michigan:

"Perrigo in Michigan dates back to its founding in 1887. It is part of the fabric of Southwest Michigan's economy and communities. Perrigo employs over 4,000 people in Michigan at its facilities in Allegan and Holland. Among those employees are 3,400 who work at its U.S. operations base in Allegan. In fact, Perrigo currently ranks as the sixth largest company in Michigan....

I am deeply concerned about any move that would result in Perrigo eliminating both executive level and staff level positions in Michigan. I am especially concerned for the men and women in their manufacturing facilities who become the casualty of these types of deals. Moving these jobs to another state would leave many hard working Michiganders jobless.

Perrigo supports a large supply chain consisting of businesses throughout Southwest Michigan that would be severely impacted if this bid to acquire the company is successful. Perrigo also supports numerous marketing and advertising firms and helps drive a major slice of the local and state economy.

A strong corporate citizen in Michigan, Perrigo has a liability of approximately $2.4 million in state income taxes, $12 million in payroll taxes and approximately $3 million in local property taxes. I don't want to see this revenue stream lost and I don't want Michigan to lose the vital community support through Perrigo's charitable work and vibrant community efforts.

I am also concerned because I view the State of Michigan as a partner to Perrigo. Over the years, we have worked with Perrigo to provide investment incentives and consideration in support of their growing presence and commitment to Michigan of nearly $9 million dollars just in the past four years. Perrigo has delivered in terms of producing jobs, investment, growth, revenues and prestige for our state through their expanding global operations and excellence in helping consumers across the world access high quality and affordable healthcare products.

The bottom line is that a takeover of Perrigo could lead to devastating results for Allegan, become a serious blow to Southwest Michigan and a significant setback for the State. I view Michigan as a major stakeholder and I urge the Perrigo shareholders to vote no on this deal and affirm that Michigan is where Perrigo belongs."

Emails show feds warned state in February of leaching lead in Flint

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI — The federal government told the state more than seven months ago that the chemistry of Flint River water was apparently causing transmission pipes to leach contaminants such as lead into city water, according to emails among environmental regulators.

But the state Department of Environmental Quality continued to operate under the incorrect assumption Flint wasn't required to develop and implement plans for controlling corrosion, something the agency didn't acknowledge was a mistake until Monday, Oct. 19.

DEQ replaces water official after state acknowledges 'mistake' in Flint

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI — State Department of Environmental Quality Director Dan Wyant is replacing his top municipal drinking water official after acknowledging oversight mistakes with the Flint water system in a news release Monday, Oct. 19.

Wyant issued a written statement Monday, saying the state enforced the wrong federal standards for treating Flint River water for more than 17 months, failing to require that the city make it less corrosive.

DEQ chief says state used wrong federal water rules in Flint for 17 months

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI — The city used the wrong federal standards to treat Flint River water for 17 months, the state's chief environmental officer now says.

Dan Wyant, director of the state Department of Environmental Quality, said DEQ officials were confused on federal regulations that required the city to make Flint River water less corrosive.

State admits mistakes in Flint water switch

Detroit Free Press, October 19, 2015

FLINT — The State of Michigan has removed its top drinking water quality official and admitted it botched corrosion control in Flint water pipes, which resulted in elevated lead levels in the city's water system.

"Simply stated, staff employed a federal protocol they believed was appropriate, and it was not," Dan Wyant, director of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, said in a statement. "The water testing steps followed would have been correct for a city of less than 50,000 people, but not for a city of nearly 100,000."

Michigan DEQ admits mistakes were made in handling Flint water emergency

WWMT, October 19, 2015

FLINT, Mich. (NEWSCHANNEL 3) – A state agency is admitting that mistakes were made in the handling of Flint's water emergency.

On Monday the leader of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality came forward, admitting that critical mistakes were made leading to the contamination of Flint's drinking water.

The DEQ says federal rules weren't followed that could have helped keep the lead out, because the agency didn't have the expertise needed.

Michigan official: Federal rules weren't followed in Flint, where lead became problem in water

U.S. News & World Report, October 19, 2015

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Federal rules governing drinking water weren't followed properly in Flint, the cash-strapped Michigan city where problems with lead prompted officials to declare a public health emergency, according to the state's top environmental official.

Acknowledging that mistakes were made by the state, Michigan Department of Environmental Quality Director Dan Wyant said Sunday that "necessary changes" were being made. Officials long maintained that the water met safety standards, but the state recently corroborated findings of elevated lead levels in children and disclosed higher lead amounts in three Flint schools.

"Our actions reflected inexperience, and our public response to criticism was the wrong tone early in this conversation," Wyant said. "But the best we can do with the situation going forward is represented in our present course. We will learn from this."

Lawmakers moved fast to get the lead out of Flint water

MLive, October 20, 2015

Nobody knows how many column inches are written every year on the comings and goings at the state Capitol, but we do know that the focus is mainly on all the stuff lawmakers screw up.

So when they get something right, it is only fair to applaud them.

In record time — less than a week — both the House and Senate stepped up in a strong bipartisan manner to send emergency assistance to Flint, where the city's own water supply has created a lead contamination hazard for young and old alike. The end of this story is yet to be written, but when the state needed to do something, lawmakers and the governor did it by releasing $9.3 million to the city with no strings attached.

Flint-based water testing company 'drumming up business' in Saginaw County

MLive, October 20, 2015

THOMAS TOWNSHIP, MI — Some Saginaw County residents have received orange "Water Update" fliers distributed by Flint Township-based Water Treatment Solutions and RainSoft of Northern Michigan, a private company offering free water tests, but Thomas Township officials say there's no cause for alarm.

"A company down in Flint has sent out fliers. They're just drumming up business," said Thomas Township's Director of Public Works Rick Hopper. "They'll do a simple water test on your tap, and then they'll sell you a filter."

Senator calls for state investigation over missed federal regulations

WNEM, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI (WNEM) - Sen. Jim Ananich said he is troubled by the water crisis that has plagued a city for the last 18 months.

"It's been an ever evolving and more troubling the more you layers you scratch," Ananich said.

Now the state senate minority leader wants the legislature to launch an investigation, wanting those responsible for this mess to be held accountable.

Truth-out.org, October 19, 2015

Flint may have finally reconnected to Detroit's water infrastructure, but the damage done to its population by the ill-advised connection to the Flint River is irreversible. If Michiganders are looking for someone to blame for the travesty in Flint, they need look no further than Governor Rick Snyder and the emergency manager Snyder appointed who unilaterally made a decision that put thousands of children and adults at serious risk.

Emergency Management Enforces Inequality

In 2011, one of the first actions of the Snyder administration and the Republican-controlled Michigan legislature was to pass Public Act 4 (PA 4), which strengthened the state's controversial emergency manager (EM) law. To clarify, the EM law effectively erases the sovereignty of local governments by installing a state-appointed autocrat whose decisions can override city councils and mayors.

Calif., Governor's link between climate change and wildfires is unsupported, fire experts say

Emergency Management, October 20, 2015

(MCT) - The ash of the Rocky fire was still hot when Gov. Jerry Brown strode to a bank of television cameras beside a blackened ridge and, flanked by firefighters, delivered a battle cry against climate change.

The wilderness fire was "a real wake-up call" to reduce the carbon pollution "that is in many respects driving all of this," he said.

"The fires are changing.... The way this fire performed, it's not the way it usually has been. Going in lots of directions, moving fast, even without hot winds."

Michigan Supreme Court hears arguments on prevailing wage law

Bridge MI, October 19, 2015

LANSING — The Michigan Supreme Court heard oral arguments this past week in a case that will decide whether municipalities have the power to require contractors to pay union-scale wages and benefits on local building projects.

The state's high court is hearing the case, Associated Builders and Contractors v. City of Lansing, on appeal from Associated Builders and Contractors of Michigan, a Lansing-based trade group that represents mostly nonunion contractors. ABC sued the city in 2012 in a bid to get its local prevailing wage ordinance tossed out as unconstitutional.

How Snyder plans to sell his $715 million plan for Detroit schools to Michigan lawmakers

MLive, October 19, 2015

DETROIT — Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder will ask lawmakers to facilitate his 10-year, $715 million plan to improve education in the state's largest city and help Detroit Public Schools crawl out from under a mountain of debt.

Snyder, speaking Monday morning during a media roundtable in Detroit, outlined pending legislation, saying that improving education in Detroit and paying off debt will provide a long-term benefit to the state.

Legislation calls for microbead ban, environmentalists say it's not enough

MICHIGAN — A piece of proposed legislation calls for a ban on bits of extremely hazardous pieces of plastic found in abundant numbers in the Great Lakes, though environmentalists say it is not enough.

House Bill 4345 would effectively ban the use of microbeads — defined in the bill as "an intentionally added nonbiodegradeable sold plastic particle less than 5 millimeters in all dimensions" — in personal care products, after being found in increasing amounts in Lake Michigan and other Great Lakes.

Today will be cooler under breezy northeast winds. Expect high temperatures in the upper 40s over northwest and north central Upper Michigan to the lower and middle 50s elsewhere. An approaching disturbance will bring a slight chance of showers late tonight and then a better chance of showers on Wednesday. Wednesday will be warmer with high temperatures in the middle 50s to middle 60s. It will become windy on the Keweenaw Peninsula late Wednesday afternoon.

It will be mild again today with a mix of sun and clouds and scattered rain showers, mainly north of I-96. High temperatures will range from the middle 60's to lower 70's. Rain showers will be more prevalent across all of southwestern lower Michigan tonight.

Northern Indiana

A front through central Michigan and high pressure over the southeastern U.S. will give us warmer than normal temperatures for today. Today will also see increasing cloudiness and windy conditions; but not quite as windy as yesterday with gusts up to 25mph. Then for tonight that front remains in Michigan while a small chance for some rain creeps into the northern part of the County Warning Area (CWA). The rest of the CWA will remain dry. There is an enhanced risk of fires today so caution is advised. Any fire could quickly spread out of control...especially from midday into the afternoon hours.

FLINT WATER

Emails show feds warned state in February of leaching lead in Flint

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI — The federal government told the state more than seven months ago that the chemistry of Flint River water was apparently causing transmission pipes to leach contaminants such as lead into city water, according to emails among environmental regulators.

But the state Department of Environmental Quality continued to operate under the incorrect assumption Flint wasn't required to develop and implement plans for controlling corrosion, something the agency didn't acknowledge was a mistake until Monday, Oct. 19.

DEQ replaces water official after state acknowledges 'mistake' in Flint

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI — State Department of Environmental Quality Director Dan Wyant is replacing his top municipal drinking water official after acknowledging oversight mistakes with the Flint water system in a news release Monday, Oct. 19.

Wyant issued a written statement Monday, saying the state enforced the wrong federal standards for treating Flint River water for more than 17 months, failing to require that the city make it less corrosive.

DEQ chief says state used wrong federal water rules in Flint for 17 months

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI — The city used the wrong federal standards to treat Flint River water for 17 months, the state's chief environmental officer now says.

Dan Wyant, director of the state Department of Environmental Quality, said DEQ officials were confused on federal regulations that required the city to make Flint River water less corrosive.

State admits mistakes in Flint water switch

Detroit Free Press, October 19, 2015

FLINT — The State of Michigan has removed its top drinking water quality official and admitted it botched corrosion control in Flint water pipes, which resulted in elevated lead levels in the city's water system.

"Simply stated, staff employed a federal protocol they believed was appropriate, and it was not," Dan Wyant, director of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, said in a statement. "The water testing steps followed would have been correct for a city of less than 50,000 people, but not for a city of nearly 100,000."

Michigan DEQ admits mistakes were made in handling Flint water emergency

WWMT, October 19, 2015

FLINT, Mich. (NEWSCHANNEL 3) – A state agency is admitting that mistakes were made in the handling of Flint's water emergency.

On Monday the leader of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality came forward, admitting that critical mistakes were made leading to the contamination of Flint's drinking water.

The DEQ says federal rules weren't followed that could have helped keep the lead out, because the agency didn't have the expertise needed.

Michigan official: Federal rules weren't followed in Flint, where lead became problem in water

U.S. News & World Report, October 19, 2015

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Federal rules governing drinking water weren't followed properly in Flint, the cash-strapped Michigan city where problems with lead prompted officials to declare a public health emergency, according to the state's top environmental official.

Acknowledging that mistakes were made by the state, Michigan Department of Environmental Quality Director Dan Wyant said Sunday that "necessary changes" were being made. Officials long maintained that the water met safety standards, but the state recently corroborated findings of elevated lead levels in children and disclosed higher lead amounts in three Flint schools.

"Our actions reflected inexperience, and our public response to criticism was the wrong tone early in this conversation," Wyant said. "But the best we can do with the situation going forward is represented in our present course. We will learn from this."

Lawmakers moved fast to get the lead out of Flint water

MLive, October 20, 2015

Nobody knows how many column inches are written every year on the comings and goings at the state Capitol, but we do know that the focus is mainly on all the stuff lawmakers screw up.

So when they get something right, it is only fair to applaud them.

In record time — less than a week — both the House and Senate stepped up in a strong bipartisan manner to send emergency assistance to Flint, where the city's own water supply has created a lead contamination hazard for young and old alike. The end of this story is yet to be written, but when the state needed to do something, lawmakers and the governor did it by releasing $9.3 million to the city with no strings attached.

Flint-based water testing company 'drumming up business' in Saginaw County

MLive, October 20, 2015

THOMAS TOWNSHIP, MI — Some Saginaw County residents have received orange "Water Update" fliers distributed by Flint Township-based Water Treatment Solutions and RainSoft of Northern Michigan, a private company offering free water tests, but Thomas Township officials say there's no cause for alarm.

"A company down in Flint has sent out fliers. They're just drumming up business," said Thomas Township's Director of Public Works Rick Hopper. "They'll do a simple water test on your tap, and then they'll sell you a filter."

Senator calls for state investigation over missed federal regulations

WNEM, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI (WNEM) - Sen. Jim Ananich said he is troubled by the water crisis that has plagued a city for the last 18 months.

"It's been an ever evolving and more troubling the more you layers you scratch," Ananich said.

Now the state senate minority leader wants the legislature to launch an investigation, wanting those responsible for this mess to be held accountable.

Truth-out.org, October 19, 2015

Flint may have finally reconnected to Detroit's water infrastructure, but the damage done to its population by the ill-advised connection to the Flint River is irreversible. If Michiganders are looking for someone to blame for the travesty in Flint, they need look no further than Governor Rick Snyder and the emergency manager Snyder appointed who unilaterally made a decision that put thousands of children and adults at serious risk.

Emergency Management Enforces Inequality

In 2011, one of the first actions of the Snyder administration and the Republican-controlled Michigan legislature was to pass Public Act 4 (PA 4), which strengthened the state's controversial emergency manager (EM) law. To clarify, the EM law effectively erases the sovereignty of local governments by installing a state-appointed autocrat whose decisions can override city councils and mayors.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Calif., Governor's link between climate change and wildfires is unsupported, fire experts say

Emergency Management, October 20, 2015

(MCT) - The ash of the Rocky fire was still hot when Gov. Jerry Brown strode to a bank of television cameras beside a blackened ridge and, flanked by firefighters, delivered a battle cry against climate change.

The wilderness fire was "a real wake-up call" to reduce the carbon pollution "that is in many respects driving all of this," he said.

"The fires are changing.... The way this fire performed, it's not the way it usually has been. Going in lots of directions, moving fast, even without hot winds."

Recent shooting renews focus on Campus safety

Emergency Management, October 19, 2015

(MCT) - Two weeks after a mass shooting struck a community college in Oregon, the conversation continues locally regarding campus safety.

Similar incidents have occurred with enough regularity in recent years that campus officials have developed plans to respond and protect students and staff.

Tim Kissock, risk manager for Missouri Western State University, said safeguards are in place to make sure campus police don't stand alone when faced with a shooter.

LANSING — The Michigan Supreme Court heard oral arguments this past week in a case that will decide whether municipalities have the power to require contractors to pay union-scale wages and benefits on local building projects.

The state's high court is hearing the case, Associated Builders and Contractors v. City of Lansing, on appeal from Associated Builders and Contractors of Michigan, a Lansing-based trade group that represents mostly nonunion contractors. ABC sued the city in 2012 in a bid to get its local prevailing wage ordinance tossed out as unconstitutional.

How Snyder plans to sell his $715 million plan for Detroit schools to Michigan lawmakers

MLive, October 19, 2015

DETROIT — Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder will ask lawmakers to facilitate his 10-year, $715 million plan to improve education in the state's largest city and help Detroit Public Schools crawl out from under a mountain of debt.

Snyder, speaking Monday morning during a media roundtable in Detroit, outlined pending legislation, saying that improving education in Detroit and paying off debt will provide a long-term benefit to the state.

Legislation calls for microbead ban, environmentalists say it's not enough

MICHIGAN — A piece of proposed legislation calls for a ban on bits of extremely hazardous pieces of plastic found in abundant numbers in the Great Lakes, though environmentalists say it is not enough.

House Bill 4345 would effectively ban the use of microbeads — defined in the bill as "an intentionally added nonbiodegradeable sold plastic particle less than 5 millimeters in all dimensions" — in personal care products, after being found in increasing amounts in Lake Michigan and other Great Lakes.

10/19/2015

Issues:

- No issues to report.

Summary:

- The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality says Flint did not follow federal regulations for large water systems when it switched its source for drinking water.
- Flint Mayor Dayne Walling and challenger Karen Weaver agreed that water is the No. 1 issue with voters -- there is no close second.
- The City of Flint has reportedly started channeling its water from Detroit as of 5 p.m. Friday, in what one official said was an "extraordinary move" and that may bring an end to the city's water crisis, at least for the short-term.
- But it'll be about three weeks before all of the city's pipes are clear of water from the Flint River, city officials said Friday.
- The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has established a special task force to provide technical assistance to the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality and the City of Flint to ensure safe drinking water for residents in the wake of high lead levels.
- Michigan's top environmental official acknowledged the state made mistakes in its handling of Flint's long-running water crisis, and said changes would be made, including reassigning a top official responsible for the safety of drinking water.
- FlintWaterStudy.org reports that MDEQ's Brad Wurfel leaked FOIA documents requested by the organization regarding the Flint water system crisis.
- Independent Newsgroup reports that Shiawassee County's proposed budget for 2016 will decrease funding for the Emergency Management department and reduce hours to 29 per week for Emergency Manager Richard Warner.
- Hawaii governor on Friday signed an emergency proclamation to tackle homelessness in the state, saying the measure will help turn around the lives of young and old.
- Shiawassee County Emergency Management Coordinator Richard Warner, of Corunna, recently graduated from the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Emergency Management Basic Academy.
- On Sunday, first responders and the community gathered together to honor Lansing Firefighter Dennis Rodeman and Michigan State Police Trooper Chad Wolf and support the loved ones they leave behind.

- Mich. State Sen. Jim Stamas, along with Roxanne Affholter of the Michigan Crisis Response Association and Midland Fire Department Chief Chris Coughlin, shared with members of the Senate Health Policy Committee on Tuesday about the need to support Michigan's Critical Incident Stress Management teams.
- Emergency Management Magazine reports on a new app that warns emergency responders of toxic chemicals.
- Governor Rick Snyder is facing a tough sell today as he tries to re-start the conversation on fixing Detroit's schools and that's just one of the political tough sells the Second Term Nerd is facing, Michigan Radio reports.
- National Weather Service Forecast updates.
- TV clips: State did not follow federal rules for Flint water; Water crisis fallout.

Analysis:

- Media coverage is neutral and negative.
- Negative coverage towards Flint water crisis as MDEQ announces the state did not follow federal rules designed to keep lead out of water.
- Detroit Free Press and MLive reports that it will take about 3 weeks for the city of Flint's pipes to be clear of water from the Flint River as they transition back to Detroit water.
- FlintWaterStudy.org reports the MDEQ leaked FOIA information documents requested by the organization regarding the Flint water system crisis.
- Independent Newsgroup reports that Shiawassee County's proposed 2016 budget will reduce the emergency management department and cut hours to 29 per week for Shiawassee County Emergency Manager Richard Warner.
- Will continue to monitor the situation.

State admits Flint did not follow federal rules designed to keep lead out of water

Michigan Radio, October 18, 2015

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality says Flint did not follow federal regulations for large water systems when it switched its source for drinking water.

"It's increasingly clear there was confusion here, but it also is increasingly clear that DEQ staff believed they were using the proper federal protocol and they were not," MDEQ Director Dan Wyant said.

Internal emails show staff in the department misinterpreted the federal Lead and Copper Rule applying to larger water systems, which are required to "maintain" corrosion control.

Flint water crisis is tidal wave issue in city's mayoral election

MLive, October 19, 2015

FLINT, MI -- The city's crisis with lead in drinking water is dominating the mayoral election conversation in Flint, and this isn't happy talk.

Both incumbent Mayor Dayne Walling and challenger Karen Weaver agreed that water is the No. 1 issue with voters -- there is no close second.

In less than three weeks, they will find out how that concern and anger translate when voters head to the ballot box on Election Day.

Michigan official: Federal water rules not followed in Flint

ABC 12 News, October 19, 2015

Flint, Mich. (AP) - (10/19/2015) - The head of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality says federal rules governing drinking water weren't followed properly in Flint, where problems with lead prompted officials to declare a public health emergency.

DEQ Director Dan Wyant on Sunday acknowledged mistakes by the state in its handling of the situation and says "necessary changes" are being made.

Flint taps Detroit water; it'll take 3 weeks for safe use

Detroit Free Press, October 16, 2015

The City of Flint has reportedly started channeling its water from Detroit as of 5 p.m. Friday, in what one official said was an "extraordinary move" and that may bring an end to the city's water crisis, at least for the short-term.

But even as the water began to flow and officials heralded the development, the transition in water quality would not be complete for about three weeks.

Flint reconnects to Detroit water, may take 3 weeks to clear all pipes

MLive, October 17, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Water from Detroit is flowing into Flint again.

But it'll be about three weeks before all of the city's pipes are clear of water from the Flint River, city officials said Friday.

Mayor Dayne Walling announced Friday afternoon the city was reconnecting to Detroit Department of Water and Sewerage as a water source at 5 p.m.

EPA to create task force on Flint water system

WSGW 790, October 17, 2015

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has established a special task force to provide technical assistance to the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality and the City of Flint to ensure safe drinking water for residents in the wake of high lead levels.

The Flint Safe Drinking Water Task Force will be made up of scientists and technical experts from the EPA Region 5 office in Chicago, the National Risk Management Research Lab in Cincinnati and the EPA drinking water program.

Schools taking no chance in face of Flint crisis

The Times Herald, October 17, 2015

What used to be considered an irrational fear of contaminated drinking water has become a reality in Flint Schools.

Water samples recently taken from three Flint schools had lead levels in excess of federal government standards. The findings have reverberated throughout the state, serving as a wakeup call for Blue Water Area schools.

Flint reconnects to Detroit water system

Detroit News, October 16, 2015

Flint is now reconnected to Detroit's water system — a move local residents hope will eventually solve longstanding concerns about the safety of the city's water.

Officials with the city of Flint and the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department made the announcement Friday afternoon, but also stressed that it may take time for all of the lingering issues with the water to be resolved.

Michigan DEQ vows changes in Flint water crisis

Detroit News, October 19. 2015

Michigan's top environmental official acknowledged the state made mistakes in its handling of Flint's long-running water crisis, and said changes would be made, including reassigning a top official responsible for the safety of drinking water.

Dan Wyant, director of Michigan's Department of Environmental Quality, said late Sunday that staff members applied the wrong standards of the Lead and Copper Rule that governs testing and monitoring for drinking water. The result was that proper controls regarding corrosion were not put in place when the city began drawing its water from the Flint River in spring 2014.

MDEQ "leaked" FlintWaterStudy FOIAS to...reporters

Flintwaterstudy.org, October 18, 2015

You cannot make this stuff up folks.

FLINTWATERSTUDY submitted a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request back in early September for certain documents related to the Flint Water Crisis. We paid MDEQ $400 for MDEQ to produce the documents. After waiting and waiting, and pressuring MDEQ to stop wasting time, we finally received the documents at 5 pm on Wednesday October 14th. We promptly sent MDEQ Director Dan Wyant a series of questions on the content of the FOIAs at 11 am on October 15th and again on October 16th. Our questions to MDEQ have gone unanswered.

We had had the FOIA documents for a grand total of 46 hours, when to our surprise we discovered that MDEQ's Brad Wurfel was leaking those very documents to reporters!

New Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request documents to answer our earlier question: Where is the US EPA?

Flintwaterstudy.org, October 19, 2015

While it is true that no one gets up in the morning intending to lead poison children, we previously argued that the agencies who created the Flint drinking water crisis worked awfully hard covering up their incompetence and Flint's lead-in-water problems—in the process, they repeatedly left Flint's children in harm's way.

Two recent Freedom of Information act (FOIA) requests confirmed our worst fears as to what was occurring behind the scenes all of these months. Sadly, the e-mails also provided a disappointing answer to our earlier question: Where is the EPA?

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Shiawassee County Commissioners to approve 2016 budget

Independent Newsgroup, October 19, 2015

The Shiawassee County Board of Commissioners will vote during the 4 p.m. Oct. 21 meeting to approve the county's proposed 2016 budget. There was not a quorum Oct. 15 for the board, so the Oct. 21 meeting was set. The board expects to have a balanced budget with modest revenue growth (1.3 percent). Board Chair Hartmann Aue noted in his Budget Message that "only one" department, that of the Emergency Management department, will be reduced this year due to a decrease in grant funding.

The county's proposed General Fund Budget is $15,372,654 for 2016, with $50,424 salaries designated for the County Clerk, Drain Commissioner, Register of Deeds and the Treasurer; $76,846 for the Sheriff; $83,846 for the Prosecutor; and $6,065 for each County Commissioner. The county will transfer $560,808 from the Delinquent Tax Revolving Fund, which is just slightly more than in 2015.

Some of the more notable department budgets include the Sheriff's Office, which was allotted $2,076,616 and the Sheriff's Secondary Road Patrol, which will receive $112,440. The ever-important court system will receive $3,455,745 in 2016, with Circuit Court at $567,657 and 66th District Court receiving $1,073,797. Emergency Manager Richard Warner's hours were cut to 29 per week. Warner expressed his displeasure with the cut to his position during the Wednesday Committee of the Whole meeting, but Chairman Aue said the county can only pay what it receives for the "grant-funded" department.

"I was hoping you would have a little more discussion on the budget, specifically my department," said Emergency Manager Warner during the Wednesday meeting. "My department is a 24/7 department. I'm always available. With this budget, my department will be cut from 165 hours per week to 29 hours per week. There are a lot of things that aren't going to get done and there will be a lot of grant funds that we aren't going to get. I just want everyone to know that there are consequences to our decisions."

Chairman Aue responded to the somewhat emotional Warner by saying that "this wasn't done willy-nilly. We looked at historical numbers from 2009 up until the present time, and previous director hours were in the 1,600 to 1,800 range. This would put Rich around 1,500 hours. This is a grant-funded position and when grant funds dry up, it changes the scope of what you can do."

On a positive note, the county stands to save roughly $20,000 by employing the Shiawassee Regional Educational Service District (SRESD) Information Technology (IT) for a cost of just over $96,000 per year. The county was planning to hire one full-time and two part-time employees to replace departed IT Director Chris Newell, which could have cost the county $116,000. The board has been delighted by the service the SRESD has provided since taking over in September, though they acknowledge they are still in the "honeymoon period."

Homeless emergency declared in Hawaii

County emergency management coordinator completes FEMA course

Argus Press, September 30, 2015

CORUNNA — Shiawassee County Emergency Management Coordinator Richard Warner, of Corunna, recently graduated from the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Emergency Management Basic Academy.

At the Basic Academy, according to FEMA, students learn to understand the roles, responsibilities and legal boundaries associated with emergency management. It is the first of a three-level Academy series in the Emergency Management Professional Program.

He completed the training June 24 at the Emergency Management Institute in Emmitsburg, Maryland. The five courses in the Basic Academy include Foundations of Emergency Management; Science of Disaster; Planning: Emergency Operations; Exercise Design; and Public Information and Warning.

"FEMA's National Emergency Management Basic Academy is the entry-point for individuals pursuing a career in emergency management," according to a press release from FEMA. "Basic Academy offers the tools to develop comprehensive foundational skills needed in emergency management. For those who are new to emergency management or for those who are transferring from another profession, the Basic Academy also provides a unique opportunity to build camaraderie and establish professional contacts."

Community honors Dennis Rodeman and Chad Wolf

WLNS 6, October 19, 2015

LANSING, MI (WLNS)- Police, firefighters and the community stand together to honor the two men who put their lives on the line.

Trooper Chad Wolf, was killed in August, after being hit and dragged by vehicle on I-75 in Oakland County.

Lansing fire fighter Dennis Rodeman was killed just last month, when he was hit by a car while collecting donations for the MDA.

Today first responders and the community gathered together to honor their sacrifice and to support the loved ones they leave behind.

Stamas bill supports critical incident stress management teams

Midland Daily News, October 18, 2015

State Sen. Jim Stamas, along with Roxanne Affholter of the Michigan Crisis Response Association and Midland Fire Department Chief Chris Coughlin, shared with members of the Senate Health Policy Committee on Tuesday about the need to support Michigan's Critical Incident Stress Management teams.

"Our CISM teams assist our emergency service providers — like our police, firefighters and EMS workers — in dealing with critical stress, especially following a traumatic event," said Stamas, R-Midland. "People in high-stress professions are often vital to our public safety and they have found these services to be very helpful. However, without assurances of confidentiality, these service are not being utilized by many emergency service providers who could be helped."

Senate Bill 444 would define CISM and its key components, as well as outline confidentiality provisions. Critical Incident Stress is defined as the actual or perceived event or situation that involves crisis, disaster, trauma or emergency.

New app warns emergency responders of toxic chemicals

Emergency Management, October 16, 2015

(MCT) - When the Sleepy Hollow Fire hit an industrial area in Wenatchee in June, the state Department of Ecology's spill response team came armed with a new tool: their cellphones.

Equipped with a new smartphone app, their cellphones give immediate access to the latest data showing exactly what chemicals and how much of each are being stored at facilities across the state.

Snyder faces 6 big headaches as his second term unfolds

MLive, October 19, 2015

The governor may not realize it yet, but he has contracted a severe case of second-term-itis, which may require an extra-heavy booster shot of Relentless Positive Action.

Every governor in recent memory caught the disease, and how each of them handled it contributed to the kind of record he or she left behind.

Gov. Rick Snyder is not even close to worrying about his legacy with three more years to go, but he's got enough on his platter to prove the second term is never as easy as the first.

Governor Snyder has faced a hard few months, and there's little relief in sight

Michigan Radio, October 19, 2015

Governor Rick Snyder is facing a tough sell today as he tries to re-start the conversation on fixing Detroit's schools. And, that's just one of the political tough sells the Second Term Nerd is facing.

State House approves plan to help fund Flint's reconnect to Detroit water

WJRT-TV 12, October 14, 2015

The city of Flint is one step closer to being able to pay for the $12 million dollar cost of pumping safe, clean water in from Detroit.

Late Wednesday, the state House made a big move approving a contribution of $9.3 million to help make the critical transition possible.

The plan includes $6 million for reconnecting the city to Detroit water; $1 million for water testing; $1 million for water filters; $850,000 for childhood lead program follow-up; and $500,000 to help DEQ and LARA address the crisis.

The Senate is expected to follow suit Thursday.

It's a critical step in finalizing negotiations between Flint and Detroit for the water transition.

Another step forward also happened Wednesday evening. Flint's Receivership Transition Advisory Board gave their approval to the city's spending plan of contributing $2 million to the overall cost.

The transition to the Detroit Water Supply is expected to happen before month's end and residents should be getting better water sometime in early November.

Help support the United Way's Flint Water Project

WJRT-TV 12, Date

ABC12 is teaming up with CK105 and NASH FM to help raise funds for the Flint Diaper Bank and United Way of Genesee County's Flint Water Project.

We'll be taking your calls and donations during an ABC12 phone bank this Thursday, Oct. 15, from 12-6:30 p.m.

Money raised will be used by the United Way and Flint Diaper Bank to make sure Flint Schools and residents get water filters, as well as bottled water for mother's and others in need.

One day. One mission. One community in need.

Why lawsuit over Flint water is a long shot

Detroit Free Press, October 15, 2015

If residents of Flint were harmed by lead-tainted water, can they sue the city?

Experts say maybe, though it's not an easy case to make because government agencies are typically immune from lawsuits related to the performance of required government functions.

"If it's a governmental function, the government itself has almost total immunity," said John Mogk, a law professor at Wayne State University. "But the employees can be liable if they are grossly negligent."

Mogk said Michigan law defines gross negligence as "conduct so reckless as to demonstrate a substantial lack of concern for whether an injury results."

The law does provide exceptions to that immunity, said Larry Dubin, a law professor at the University of Detroit Mercy.

"One exception is when a governmental entity performs a proprietary function — which means an activity for the primary purpose of making a profit," Dubin said. "The law seems to favor this exception when the activity is not supported by taxes."

DEQ recommends all schools be tested for lead in drinking water

WNEM-TV 5, October 14, 2015

SAGINAW COUNTY, MI (WNEM) -A state official said Flint's water crisis might not be just a Flint problem.

I'm concerned that they want to test all the water," said Cristina Campos, a Saginaw resident.

In light of lead being found in Flint's drinking water, Saginaw residents said they couldn't help but fear - it could be a possible in their own backyards.

"I think it's a disgrace for the state of Michigan to allow this to have happened," said Helen Scott, a Saginaw resident.

Campos said she's shocked but not surprised the Department of Environmental Quality is now recommending all schools should be tested for lead in their drinking water.

"We really got to look into it," Campos said.

That appears to be the state's intention, test the water as well as children who live in areas most at risk.

But for Scott, she's wondering who should pay for the added expense.

"We shouldn't have to pay for it," Scott said.

So who should pay for lead testing in children or testing for lead in the drinking water in public schools? Pamela Pugh with the state Board of Education is not siding with the state on this matter.

"Absolutely the state should pay for that, without a doubt," Pugh said. "Not only should they pay for it but they should make it convenient for parents."

Perchlorate found in Evart's drinking water

Cadillac News, October 15, 2015

EVART — Evart city officials are moving the annual fireworks display from the fairgrounds because of fears the pyrotechnics displays are contaminating the groundwater in the vicinity of the nearby city wells.

Perchlorate, often found in fireworks, has been detected in the city's drinking water after testing by Ice Mountain, said Evart City Manager Zack Szakacs.

For decades, Evart has launched its Fourth of July fireworks near a field of water wells that supplies the city's residents with drinking water.

The perchlorates were first discovered in April when testing done for Ice Mountain revealed their presence. The city has 11 wells. Two of them had been designated for Ice Mountain's use. The company stopped using one well after it tested for trace amounts of perchlorates. Ice Mountain continues to use another well, but that well has tested clean, Szakacs said. Ice Mountain tests for the substance because the company sells water in all 50 states, Szakacs said.

Delay in construction of KWA Pipeline

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, October 14, 2015

LAPEER COUNTY (WJRT) - (10/14/15) - People living along the KWA pipeline route in Lapeer County have spoken - and county leaders have taken action.

The Lapeer County Road Commission has stopped one of the contractors, D'Agostini and Sons, from laying new water pipe until they clean up areas where pipeline has already been installed.

The area under the spotlight is near Churchill and Clear Lake roads on the border of Burnside and Goodland townships.

The road commission said the delay could last until the end of the month and argued it was needed in order to prevent the project from getting out of control.

"Very messy, and a pain in the butt getting into our driveways and down our road," said Goodland Township resident Theresa Wright, as she described the conditions outside her home.

Senate approves, Snyder signs cash for Flint water fix

Detroit Free Press, October 15, 2015

LANSING — Residents of Flint got another step closer to cleaner water Thursday when Gov. Rick Snyder signed a bill sending $9.35 million to help the beleaguered city reconnect to the Detroit water and sewer system.

The state Senate voted 37-0 Thursday to approve the funds after the House of Representatives unanimously approved the same appropriation Wednesday night. Snyder said Thursday that the swift action by the Legislature was only the first step in dealing with the water crisis.

FLINT, MI — A Lapeer contractor working on theKaregnondi Water Authority pipeline to bring lake water to Flint ran into a hitch, but Genesee County Drain Commissioner Jeff Wright says the project is still underway without major delays.

The Lapeer County Road Commission temporarily stopped the work of D'Agostin and Sons, one of five contractors working on the KWA pipeline, scheduled to be completed in mid-2016.

Ananich on Flint water funds: 'This by no means is over'

Gongwer, October 16, 2015

Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich was both heartened and relieved Thursday to have a supplemental appropriations bill unanimously approved in the Senate to provide $9.35 million to help his city of Flint get better water faster, but it was a cautious optimism as there is much left to do, he said.

Of the money, $6 million will go toward switching from the Flint River as the city's source for drinking water back to the Detroit system. Insufficient corrosion control for the river water caused lead in the service lines and pipes to leach into the water, leading to led levels above federal standards for remediation and rising levels of lead in Flint children's blood.

"As soon as we switch over to Detroit, we're not going to automatically have clean, drinkable water. We're still going to have to use the filters, still going to have to make sure they take precautions, because it takes a while to rebuild the corrosion controls against the pipes," Mr. Ananich (D-Flint) told the press after session. "I'm not an expert by any means, but it could be a few months.

UpNorthLive (7&4), October 14, 2015

Manistee County — A crew from Coast Guard Station Manistee spent time Wednesday morning training with their Canadian counterparts.

The Royal Canadian Air Force 424 Squadron is based in Trenton, Ontario.

This week, members are training with Coast Guard stations in northern Michigan, including Station Manistee and Air Station Traverse City.

Wednesday morning, the two agencies practiced maneuvers in the waters off Manistee.

"In certain areas of the country, that are a little bit closer proximity to Canada (you see this a lot in the Soo and the Detroit area) the Canadians and the Americans work hand-in-hand on anything from maritime interdiction to search and rescue and maritime law enforcement operations," says Petty Officer Adrian Ledesma of USCG Station Manistee. "In this case we did search and rescue operations with them, training to do that. And try to increase the inter-operability of agencies."

Mark Hansen, now retired, was a specialist in emergency management with Michigan State University.

"Different agencies have different roles," says Hansen. "We need to make sure those roles mesh when an emergency occurs so we aren't duplicating efforts and each person knows what to do. It's kind of like a football team; each person has his or her role to play. And we need to make sure we're being as efficient as we can."

Audit: FEMA should recover $3.2M for Sandy boardwalk repair

Associated Press, October 13, 2015

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) - The Federal Emergency Management Agency should recover nearly half of the $7 million grant it gave to a New Jersey shore town to fix its boardwalk after it was damaged by Superstorm Sandy, a government audit found.

Spring Lake's two-mile long boardwalk was toppled by waves and debris during the storm. Repairs were initially estimated at $5.5 million, but the work was finished for $3.5 million.

NJ.com (http://bit.ly/1PqBGSb) reported the Homeland Security Department's inspector general found that the town spent another $798,317 on equipment, labor and miscellaneous expenses, and $431,507 was covered by insurance.

According to the audit, the town could not properly account for all of the equipment used, and the labor hours reported did not match those on employees' timesheets. Some invoices for engineering services did not contain supportive documents, the audit said.

Spring Lake administrator W. Bryan Dempsey said he believed the matter would soon be resolved. He noted that the town never actually received the $2 million that was budgeted for the boardwalk project but not spent, so the money is not owed to FEMA, an opinion shared by the state's Office of the Inspector General.

FEMA should recover $3.2 million and divert it for other purposes, the audit said. FEMA has 90 days to respond.

Countywide grant to buy new fingerprint scanners for Marysville, other departments

The Voice, October 15, 2015

St. Clair County law enforcement agencies, including the Marysville Public Safety Department, have won a Homeland Security grant to purchase new live scan fingerprint systems.

The Marysville Public Safety Department will buy the unit from the Courts and Law Enforcement Management Information System, which is based in Pontiac, for $8,000.

"We are here tonight to seek permission to buy a new live scan unit," said Public Safety Chief Tom Konik, addressing the city council at its regular meeting on Sept. 28. "What a live scan unit does is digitally capture fingerprints – unlike the old latent prints which we would roll in ink. Our current live scan machine is approaching end of life. We've looked at ways to reduce the cost to replace our outdated unit. We were successful in joining the other law enforcement agencies in the county to receive a law enforcement grant that will replace eight units – (ours) and those of the other law enforcement agencies. This will allows us to better integrate (ourselves) and share suspect data between the agencies."

The agencies are purchasing the new live scan units from CLEMIS, which will also manage the records.

States are cracking down on 'sanctuary cities'

USA Today, October 15, 2015

States around the country are on the verge of passing laws to crack down on "sanctuary cities" that protect undocumented immigrants from being deported.

The efforts are a broad response to the July death ofKathryn Steinle, the San Francisco woman shot by an alleged undocumented immigrant who had been released from a local jail instead of handed over to federal immigration officials.

Former MI5 director optimistic about cyber security

Computer Weekly, October 15, 2015

Former MI5 director Jonathan Evans is not pessimistic about cyber security in the long term.

The seriousness with which governments are treating the cyber threat and using all aspects of state power to address, augurs well, he told the Good Exchange Cyber Security Summit 2015 in London.

Cyber security is becoming a major international issue that is discussed at the highest levels of government, said Evans.

This means cyber security is well on its way to maturing into a recognised threat, he said, with established ways of managing.

Evans noted that there are "serious discussions" in the US around using sanctions against companies or individuals involved in cyber threats in the same way that has been successful in other international disputes.

"I am also relatively encouraged by the level of awareness of this issue, which just wasn't there five years ago. There are now a lot of serious people focused on cyber security and there is a lot of investment, not only in resilience, but also by venture capitalists in cyber security startups.

$200M 'Grand Strategy' flood protection sought by Kent County, Grand Rapids

MLive, October 16, 2015

GRAND RAPIDS, MI — The city already is putting rain gardens on streets through a local income tax, planning to swap out Grand River flood walls for vegetated terraces, pursuing acquisition of riverfront land and looking to take dams out of the water.

Now, Grand Rapids is asking the feds to pony up about $200 million to help pay for those projects.

Official scramble for funding to replenish storm-damaged beaches

Emergency Management, October 15, 2015

(MCT) - Severe weather events this summer pummeled Grand Strand beaches and washed away hundreds of acres of sand, ripped apart walkways and stairs leading over fragile dunes, and caused significant erosion to the natural barriers that protect inland areas from coastal flooding.

The historically early arrival of a tropical storm in May took a significant swipe of sand, but it was the rare trifecta in recent weeks of storm surge from Hurricane Joaquin, king tides, and nearly 2 feet of record rainfall that contributed to the loss of nearly 80 percent of the sand that replenished North Myrtle Beaches during the last renourishment project in 2008.

MSP gives safety tips for cybersecurity awareness month

Already this year, Michigan residents and businesses have lost more than $20 million to cybercriminals, according to data from the FBI Internet Crime Complaint Center. With the average loss per victim at $4,500, it's more important than ever to practice good cyber hygiene to safeguard your personal information while online, experts state.

"Cybersecurity threats continue to advance and cybercriminals are constantly evolving their tactics, which means we must take appropriate steps to protect our personal and business information when we're online," Col. Kriste Kibbey Etue, director of the Michigan State Police, stated in a media release.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

Lawmakers have lost their minds, and it's time to call them out

Michigan Radio (Jack Lessenberry), October 14, 2015

There is such a thing as public service journalism. They award a Pulitzer Prize for it every year. And so, in the interest of public service, and without the usual niceties, I would like you to permit me to draw your attention to a problem Michigan faces today.

Namely our legislative leaders seem to have lost their minds, any sense of the public good, and it is time to stop treating their raving lunacy as if it deserved respect.

Consider this: Yesterday, negotiations to try to find a way to fix our dreadfully crumbling roads again broke down. We need to spend way over $1 billion a year to do this. The longer we wait the greater the cost, the more our cars are damaged, the more business and opportunities the state loses. Everybody knows this.

The governor has been trying to do something about this for years. Polls show it is voters' top priority. Yet the ideologues running the legislature don't care.

They say the only way they will agree to new money for the roads is to cut taxes at the same time. Well, we don't need to cut taxes, we need to raise them. We need to pay more taxes, for the same reason young mothers need to buy diapers instead of dancing shoes.

We have a statewide emergency here, and our infrastructure is falling apart. We are paying for this in terms of broken axles, polluted water and lead-poisoned babies, without getting anything but misery in return. Our leaders need to stop playing games, mumbling about curves on napkins and pretending to be in Ayn Rand novels.

Former President Bill Clinton to speak at Michigan State University in November

MLive, October 15, 2015

LANSING, MI -- Former President Bill Clinton will speak at Michigan State University next month and receive the university's first Spartan Statesmanship Award for Distinguished Public Service.

The award was established through a $1 million gift from former Michigan Gov. Jim Blanchard and his wife, Janet. Awards will go to leaders in politics, diplomacy, public service and journalism. Students will get "a chance to meet them and be energized by them," according to Blanchard.

Legal fight could mean longer lines to renew licenses

Detroit Free Press, October 16, 2015

GRAND RAPIDS - A fight between the Michigan Secretary of State's Office and the contractor who built its Express SOS website could result in much longer lines at branch offices to renew driver licenses, the state has warned in a court filing that asks a judge to order the contractor back to work.

The state fired Hewlett-Packard Enterprise Services LLC in August, saying the company had missed too many deadlines on the $35.6-million contract it has held since 2005 and that much of the work HP did complete was defective.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

The first snow of the season is hitting the ground today and will continue into Saturday night. While snow will generally be light, 1 to 3 inches is possible tonight over inland areas between Marquette and Grand Marais.

Gaylord

North and northwest winds will continue to usher in the coldest air yet this season, resulting in plenty of lake enhanced showers today through Saturday night. Temperatures will get cold enough for snow to mix with rain today, especially across eastern Upper and interior sections of northern lower Michigan. This mixture will transition over to all snow in these locations tonight, and again Saturday evening, with perhaps enough snow to coat the ground at times. Temperatures will rebound rather quickly to start next work week, with highs returning to near, or even slightly above, normal levels.

Detroit

Published on: 10/15/2015 at 5:01AM

Much colder air will overspread the region today in the wake of last night's cold front. This cold air will reside over the region through the entire weekend. A warm front will move through on Monday, bringing much warmer temperatures for the first half of next week.

Grand Rapids

Published on: 10/15/2015 at 5:05PM

Scattered showers thunderstorms especially in Central to Northern Michigan this evening. Small hail and gusty winds are possible within the storms. Scattered showers will continue Friday. Waterspouts are possible on the Great Lakes into Saturday. The first frost or freezing temperatures for many locations (especially away from Lake Michigan) will be Saturday morning and Sunday morning.

Northern Indiana

Skies will clear this evening as a fast moving disturbance exits the area. A cold front passing through the area tonight will allow cooler air to filter back into the region on Friday, with highs only expected in the low to mid 50's Friday afternoon. In addition to the cooler air, the chances of lake effect rain showers will increase late tonight into Friday. Lake effect clouds will keep most areas above freezing late Friday night, although portions of northwest Indiana, extreme northeast Indiana, northwest Ohio, and south central lower Michigan may see temperatures drop below freezing. A more widespread frost or freeze is expected Saturday night into early Sunday morning.

FLINT WATER

State House approves plan to help fund Flint's reconnect to Detroit water

WJRT-TV 12, October 14, 2015

The city of Flint is one step closer to being able to pay for the $12 million dollar cost of pumping safe, clean water in from Detroit.

Late Wednesday, the state House made a big move approving a contribution of $9.3 million to help make the critical transition possible.

The plan includes $6 million for reconnecting the city to Detroit water; $1 million for water testing; $1 million for water filters; $850,000 for childhood lead program follow-up; and $500,000 to help DEQ and LARA address the crisis.

The Senate is expected to follow suit Thursday.

It's a critical step in finalizing negotiations between Flint and Detroit for the water transition.

Another step forward also happened Wednesday evening. Flint's Receivership Transition Advisory Board gave their approval to the city's spending plan of contributing $2 million to the overall cost.

The transition to the Detroit Water Supply is expected to happen before month's end and residents should be getting better water sometime in early November.

Help support the United Way's Flint Water Project

WJRT-TV 12, Date

ABC12 is teaming up with CK105 and NASH FM to help raise funds for the Flint Diaper Bank and United Way of Genesee County's Flint Water Project.

We'll be taking your calls and donations during an ABC12 phone bank this Thursday, Oct. 15, from 12-6:30 p.m.

Money raised will be used by the United Way and Flint Diaper Bank to make sure Flint Schools and residents get water filters, as well as bottled water for mother's and others in need.

One day. One mission. One community in need.

Why lawsuit over Flint water is a long shot

Detroit Free Press, October 15, 2015

If residents of Flint were harmed by lead-tainted water, can they sue the city?

Experts say maybe, though it's not an easy case to make because government agencies are typically immune from lawsuits related to the performance of required government functions.

"If it's a governmental function, the government itself has almost total immunity," said John Mogk, a law professor at Wayne State University. "But the employees can be liable if they are grossly negligent."

Mogk said Michigan law defines gross negligence as "conduct so reckless as to demonstrate a substantial lack of concern for whether an injury results."

The law does provide exceptions to that immunity, said Larry Dubin, a law professor at the University of Detroit Mercy.

"One exception is when a governmental entity performs a proprietary function — which means an activity for the primary purpose of making a profit," Dubin said. "The law seems to favor this exception when the activity is not supported by taxes."

DEQ recommends all schools be tested for lead in drinking water

WNEM-TV 5, October 14, 2015

SAGINAW COUNTY, MI (WNEM) -A state official said Flint's water crisis might not be just a Flint problem.

I'm concerned that they want to test all the water," said Cristina Campos, a Saginaw resident.

In light of lead being found in Flint's drinking water, Saginaw residents said they couldn't help but fear - it could be a possible in their own backyards.

"I think it's a disgrace for the state of Michigan to allow this to have happened," said Helen Scott, a Saginaw resident.

Campos said she's shocked but not surprised the Department of Environmental Quality is now recommending all schools should be tested for lead in their drinking water.

"We really got to look into it," Campos said.

That appears to be the state's intention, test the water as well as children who live in areas most at risk.

But for Scott, she's wondering who should pay for the added expense.

"We shouldn't have to pay for it," Scott said.

So who should pay for lead testing in children or testing for lead in the drinking water in public schools? Pamela Pugh with the state Board of Education is not siding with the state on this matter.

"Absolutely the state should pay for that, without a doubt," Pugh said. "Not only should they pay for it but they should make it convenient for parents."

Perchlorate found in Evart's drinking water

Cadillac News, October 15, 2015

EVART — Evart city officials are moving the annual fireworks display from the fairgrounds because of fears the pyrotechnics displays are contaminating the groundwater in the vicinity of the nearby city wells.

Perchlorate, often found in fireworks, has been detected in the city's drinking water after testing by Ice Mountain, said Evart City Manager Zack Szakacs.

For decades, Evart has launched its Fourth of July fireworks near a field of water wells that supplies the city's residents with drinking water.

The perchlorates were first discovered in April when testing done for Ice Mountain revealed their presence. The city has 11 wells. Two of them had been designated for Ice Mountain's use. The company stopped using one well after it tested for trace amounts of perchlorates. Ice Mountain continues to use another well, but that well has tested clean, Szakacs said. Ice Mountain tests for the substance because the company sells water in all 50 states, Szakacs said.

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, October 14, 2015

LAPEER COUNTY (WJRT) - (10/14/15) - People living along the KWA pipeline route in Lapeer County have spoken - and county leaders have taken action.

The Lapeer County Road Commission has stopped one of the contractors, D'Agostini and Sons, from laying new water pipe until they clean up areas where pipeline has already been installed.

The area under the spotlight is near Churchill and Clear Lake roads on the border of Burnside and Goodland townships.

The road commission said the delay could last until the end of the month and argued it was needed in order to prevent the project from getting out of control.

"Very messy, and a pain in the butt getting into our driveways and down our road," said Goodland Township resident Theresa Wright, as she described the conditions outside her home.

Senate approves, Snyder signs cash for Flint water fix

Detroit Free Press, October 15, 2015

LANSING — Residents of Flint got another step closer to cleaner water Thursday when Gov. Rick Snyder signed a bill sending $9.35 million to help the beleaguered city reconnect to the Detroit water and sewer system.

The state Senate voted 37-0 Thursday to approve the funds after the House of Representatives unanimously approved the same appropriation Wednesday night. Snyder said Thursday that the swift action by the Legislature was only the first step in dealing with the water crisis.

FLINT, MI — A Lapeer contractor working on theKaregnondi Water Authority pipeline to bring lake water to Flint ran into a hitch, but Genesee County Drain Commissioner Jeff Wright says the project is still underway without major delays.

The Lapeer County Road Commission temporarily stopped the work of D'Agostin and Sons, one of five contractors working on the KWA pipeline, scheduled to be completed in mid-2016.

Ananich on Flint water funds: 'This by no means is over'

Gongwer, October 16, 2015

Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich was both heartened and relieved Thursday to have a supplemental appropriations bill unanimously approved in the Senate to provide $9.35 million to help his city of Flint get better water faster, but it was a cautious optimism as there is much left to do, he said.

Of the money, $6 million will go toward switching from the Flint River as the city's source for drinking water back to the Detroit system. Insufficient corrosion control for the river water caused lead in the service lines and pipes to leach into the water, leading to led levels above federal standards for remediation and rising levels of lead in Flint children's blood.

"As soon as we switch over to Detroit, we're not going to automatically have clean, drinkable water. We're still going to have to use the filters, still going to have to make sure they take precautions, because it takes a while to rebuild the corrosion controls against the pipes," Mr. Ananich (D-Flint) told the press after session. "I'm not an expert by any means, but it could be a few months.

Audit: FEMA should recover $3.2M for Sandy boardwalk repair

Associated Press, October 13, 2015

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) - The Federal Emergency Management Agency should recover nearly half of the $7 million grant it gave to a New Jersey shore town to fix its boardwalk after it was damaged by Superstorm Sandy, a government audit found.

Spring Lake's two-mile long boardwalk was toppled by waves and debris during the storm. Repairs were initially estimated at $5.5 million, but the work was finished for $3.5 million.

NJ.com (http://bit.ly/1PqBGSb) reported the Homeland Security Department's inspector general found that the town spent another $798,317 on equipment, labor and miscellaneous expenses, and $431,507 was covered by insurance.

According to the audit, the town could not properly account for all of the equipment used, and the labor hours reported did not match those on employees' timesheets. Some invoices for engineering services did not contain supportive documents, the audit said.

Spring Lake administrator W. Bryan Dempsey said he believed the matter would soon be resolved. He noted that the town never actually received the $2 million that was budgeted for the boardwalk project but not spent, so the money is not owed to FEMA, an opinion shared by the state's Office of the Inspector General.

FEMA should recover $3.2 million and divert it for other purposes, the audit said. FEMA has 90 days to respond.

Countywide grant to buy new fingerprint scanners for Marysville, other departments

The Voice, October 15, 2015

St. Clair County law enforcement agencies, including the Marysville Public Safety Department, have won a Homeland Security grant to purchase new live scan fingerprint systems.

The Marysville Public Safety Department will buy the unit from the Courts and Law Enforcement Management Information System, which is based in Pontiac, for $8,000.

"We are here tonight to seek permission to buy a new live scan unit," said Public Safety Chief Tom Konik, addressing the city council at its regular meeting on Sept. 28. "What a live scan unit does is digitally capture fingerprints – unlike the old latent prints which we would roll in ink. Our current live scan machine is approaching end of life. We've looked at ways to reduce the cost to replace our outdated unit. We were successful in joining the other law enforcement agencies in the county to receive a law enforcement grant that will replace eight units – (ours) and those of the other law enforcement agencies. This will allows us to better integrate (ourselves) and share suspect data between the agencies."

The agencies are purchasing the new live scan units from CLEMIS, which will also manage the records.

States are cracking down on 'sanctuary cities'

USA Today, October 15, 2015

States around the country are on the verge of passing laws to crack down on "sanctuary cities" that protect undocumented immigrants from being deported.

The efforts are a broad response to the July death ofKathryn Steinle, the San Francisco woman shot by an alleged undocumented immigrant who had been released from a local jail instead of handed over to federal immigration officials.

Former MI5 director optimistic about cyber security

Computer Weekly, October 15, 2015

Former MI5 director Jonathan Evans is not pessimistic about cyber security in the long term.

The seriousness with which governments are treating the cyber threat and using all aspects of state power to address, augurs well, he told the Good Exchange Cyber Security Summit 2015 in London.

Cyber security is becoming a major international issue that is discussed at the highest levels of government, said Evans.

This means cyber security is well on its way to maturing into a recognised threat, he said, with established ways of managing.

Evans noted that there are "serious discussions" in the US around using sanctions against companies or individuals involved in cyber threats in the same way that has been successful in other international disputes.

"I am also relatively encouraged by the level of awareness of this issue, which just wasn't there five years ago. There are now a lot of serious people focused on cyber security and there is a lot of investment, not only in resilience, but also by venture capitalists in cyber security startups.

$200M 'Grand Strategy' flood protection sought by Kent County, Grand Rapids

MLive, October 16, 2015

GRAND RAPIDS, MI — The city already is putting rain gardens on streets through a local income tax, planning to swap out Grand River flood walls for vegetated terraces, pursuing acquisition of riverfront land and looking to take dams out of the water.

Now, Grand Rapids is asking the feds to pony up about $200 million to help pay for those projects.

Official scramble for funding to replenish storm-damaged beaches

Emergency Management, October 15, 2015

(MCT) - Severe weather events this summer pummeled Grand Strand beaches and washed away hundreds of acres of sand, ripped apart walkways and stairs leading over fragile dunes, and caused significant erosion to the natural barriers that protect inland areas from coastal flooding.

The historically early arrival of a tropical storm in May took a significant swipe of sand, but it was the rare trifecta in recent weeks of storm surge from Hurricane Joaquin, king tides, and nearly 2 feet of record rainfall that contributed to the loss of nearly 80 percent of the sand that replenished North Myrtle Beaches during the last renourishment project in 2008.

MSP gives safety tips for cybersecurity awareness month

Midland Daily News, October 15, 2015

Already this year, Michigan residents and businesses have lost more than $20 million to cybercriminals, according to data from the FBI Internet Crime Complaint Center. With the average loss per victim at $4,500, it's more important than ever to practice good cyber hygiene to safeguard your personal information while online, experts state.

"Cybersecurity threats continue to advance and cybercriminals are constantly evolving their tactics, which means we must take appropriate steps to protect our personal and business information when we're online," Col. Kriste Kibbey Etue, director of the Michigan State Police, stated in a media release.

Lawmakers have lost their minds, and it's time to call them out

Michigan Radio (Jack Lessenberry), October 14, 2015

There is such a thing as public service journalism. They award a Pulitzer Prize for it every year. And so, in the interest of public service, and without the usual niceties, I would like you to permit me to draw your attention to a problem Michigan faces today.

Namely our legislative leaders seem to have lost their minds, any sense of the public good, and it is time to stop treating their raving lunacy as if it deserved respect.

Consider this: Yesterday, negotiations to try to find a way to fix our dreadfully crumbling roads again broke down. We need to spend way over $1 billion a year to do this. The longer we wait the greater the cost, the more our cars are damaged, the more business and opportunities the state loses. Everybody knows this.

The governor has been trying to do something about this for years. Polls show it is voters' top priority. Yet the ideologues running the legislature don't care.

They say the only way they will agree to new money for the roads is to cut taxes at the same time. Well, we don't need to cut taxes, we need to raise them. We need to pay more taxes, for the same reason young mothers need to buy diapers instead of dancing shoes.

We have a statewide emergency here, and our infrastructure is falling apart. We are paying for this in terms of broken axles, polluted water and lead-poisoned babies, without getting anything but misery in return. Our leaders need to stop playing games, mumbling about curves on napkins and pretending to be in Ayn Rand novels.

Former President Bill Clinton to speak at Michigan State University in November

MLive, October 15, 2015

LANSING, MI -- Former President Bill Clinton will speak at Michigan State University next month and receive the university's first Spartan Statesmanship Award for Distinguished Public Service.

The award was established through a $1 million gift from former Michigan Gov. Jim Blanchard and his wife, Janet. Awards will go to leaders in politics, diplomacy, public service and journalism. Students will get "a chance to meet them and be energized by them," according to Blanchard.

Detroit Free Press, October 16, 2015

GRAND RAPIDS - A fight between the Michigan Secretary of State's Office and the contractor who built its Express SOS website could result in much longer lines at branch offices to renew driver licenses, the state has warned in a court filing that asks a judge to order the contractor back to work.

The state fired Hewlett-Packard Enterprise Services LLC in August, saying the company had missed too many deadlines on the $35.6-million contract it has held since 2005 and that much of the work HP did complete was defective.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

The first snow of the season is hitting the ground today and will continue into Saturday night. While snow will generally be light, 1 to 3 inches is possible tonight over inland areas between Marquette and Grand Marais.

Gaylord

North and northwest winds will continue to usher in the coldest air yet this season, resulting in plenty of lake enhanced showers today through Saturday night. Temperatures will get cold enough for snow to mix with rain today, especially across eastern Upper and interior sections of northern lower Michigan. This mixture will transition over to all snow in these locations tonight, and again Saturday evening, with perhaps enough snow to coat the ground at times. Temperatures will rebound rather quickly to start next work week, with highs returning to near, or even slightly above, normal levels.

Detroit

Published on: 10/16/2015 at 5:01AM

Much colder air will overspread the region today in the wake of last night's cold front. This cold air will reside over the region through the entire weekend. A warm front will move through on Monday, bringing much warmer temperatures for the first half of next week.

Grand Rapids

Published on: 10/15/2015 at 5:05PM

Scattered showers thunderstorms especially in Central to Northern Michigan this evening. Small hail and gusty winds are possible within the storms. Scattered showers will continue Friday. Waterspouts are possible on the Great Lakes into Saturday. The first frost or freezing temperatures for many locations (especially away from Lake Michigan) will be Saturday morning and Sunday morning.

Northern Indiana

Skies will clear this evening as a fast moving disturbance exits the area. A cold front passing through the area tonight will allow cooler air to filter back into the region on Friday, with highs only expected in the low to mid 50's Friday afternoon. In addition to the cooler air, the chances of lake effect rain showers will increase late tonight into Friday. Lake effect clouds will keep most areas above freezing late Friday night, although portions of northwest Indiana, extreme northeast Indiana, northwest Ohio, and south central lower Michigan may see temperatures drop below freezing. A more widespread frost or freeze is expected Saturday night into early Sunday morning.

Flint city council Oks $2 million for reconnection to Detroit water

MLIVE, October 12, 2015

FLINT, MI -- The City Council has approved spending $2 million to pay part of the bill for buying Lake Huron water from the Detroit water system for the next nine months.

Council voted unanimously Monday, Oct. 12, to make the move, clearing the way for Flint's Receivership Transition Advisory Board to consider the same move when it meets Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Flint Oks $2M for return to Detroit water

Aljazeera, October 12, 2015

The Flint City Council has approved spending $2 million toward temporarily reconnecting with Detroit's water system amid a health emergency.

The Flint Journal reports the council on Monday unanimously approved contributing to the $12 million tab. Gov. Rick Snyder is asking lawmakers for half of that, while a foundation has committed $4 million.

The council's action paves the way for Flint's Receivership Transition Advisory Board to consider the same move Wednesday.

Living through the Flint water crisis

Michigan Radio, October 12, 2015

Govenor Snyder last week announced the city of Flint will be switching back to Detroit water.

This comes after months of complaints by Flint residents; tests showing the water was unsafe; and most recently, reports of elevated lead levels in some Flint children. Jennifer White sat down with three women raising kids in Flint to hear their experiences. She'a Cobb, Amber Hasan and Laura MacIntyre shared their anger and frustration with state and local officials' handling of the water crisis. They also expressed deep concern about what this chapter in Flint's history means for the city and its residents.

What happens to Flint kids poisoned with lead?

Detroit Free Press, October 12, 2015

"Just take little sips."

That's what some parents in Flint are telling their kids.

The water crisis in Flint is a national disgrace and an abject failure of leadership. In Michigan — a state surrounded by 80% of our nation's fresh water — communities have every right to believe that their drinking water is clean and safe. Instead, the citizens of one of our oldest urban centers have been poisoned by their tap water and officials in Lansing are responsible.

Gov. Rick Snyder has not yet said the words, but one thing is clear: he and his administration made some huge mistakes. When Snyder's appointed emergency manager moved the City of Flint off the Detroit water system and began drawing water from the Flint River to help balance the budget, he put the lives of Flint's most vulnerable citizens on the line. When the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) said in July, "...Anyone who is concerned about lead in the drinking water in Flint can relax," officials brushed off a public health crisis that has caused irreparable damage.

Flint: The cheapskate city that poisoned its children

Newsweek, October 12, 2015

The city of Flint, Michigan, has just learned a hard and tragic lesson about the value of clean water.

In the winter of 2014, after years of escalating prices for the water it was purchasing from the Detroit drinking water system, Flint decided to change its water source to the Flint River.

It made this decision despite the fact that the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality had classified the Flint River source water intake as having "a very high susceptibility to potential contaminant sources", its worst rating.

Lawmaker's lawsuit claims Flint, state withheld documents on water safety

MLIVE, October 12, 2015

FLINT, MI — A Flint-area lawmaker says he is filing a lawsuit claiming the state and city of Flint refuse to hand over documents related to thecity's water system switch to use the Flint River.

State Rep. Phil Phelps, D-Flushing, announced Monday, Oct. 12, that he is filing the lawsuit to force the city and state to turn over documents he sought under the state's Freedom of Information Act.

Sorry seems to be the hardest word for the state to say to Flint

MLIVE, October 12, 2015

FLINT, MI -- It's one of the first phrases we learn when we are children.

I am sorry.

Three little words that don't change anything but send a message that we know we screwed up.

So why are they so hard for anyone in power to say to the people of Flint?

Michael Moore says governor took over Flint, made citizens drink sewage

MLIVE, October 12, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Filmmaker Michael Moore hasn't said much about Flint's water crisis but he made it clear where he thinks the blames lies in a Twitter message Sunday, Oct. 11.

"Republican governor took over the city and then made its citizens drink their own sewage from the Flint River ..., " Moore said in his tweet.

The Flint native posted his message in response to a Detroit News story about Flint's problem drinking water. The story quotes a Flint resident as saying her water looked "like urine," smelled "like the sewer."

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Shooter training planned in Michigan college security

Monroe News, October 13, 2015

DETROIT (AP) — Some of Michigan's larger universities and community colleges say they have plans for police officers to deal with gunmen on their campuses and measures in place to keep students and staff safe.

Nine schools surveyed by The Associated Press following the Oct. 1 killing of nine people at Umpqua Community College in Roseburg, Ore., said campus police officers routinely train for such threats.

Campus shooting: you are on your own for the first five minutes

Western Herald, October 12, 2015

The Oct. 1 mass shooting at Umpqua Community College in Oregon, and the Oct. 9 shooting at Northern Arizona University that killed one student and injured three are more chilling examples of how chaos can strike at any moment.

There are plans in place at Western Michigan University to keep students safe, but these plans are rarely told to students.

Preparing for an active shooter on college campuses

Upper Michigan Source, October 12, 2015

MARQUETTE — Since 2013 there have been 149 school shootings across the country according to an Everytown for Gun safety study. Several of those happening on college campuses including two last Friday. With the threat growing, Northern Michigan University and Michigan Tech are preparing in case of a possible active shooter scenario.

"It's not just because of something that happened recently," said Guy LaPlante, detective lieutenant at Northern Michigan University's public safety department. "We've been doing it for years; we're just adapting and changing our training habits as things kind of fall apart."

Why the earth's past has scientists so worried about the Atlantic Ocean's circulation

Washington Post, October 12, 2015

In the last month, there's been much attention to a cool patch in the North Atlantic Ocean, where record cold temperatures over the past eight months present a stark contrast to a globe that is experiencing record warmth. And although there is certainly no consensus on the matter yet, some scientists think this pattern may be a sign of one long-feared consequence of climate change — a slowing of North Atlantic ocean circulation, due to a freshening of surface waters.

The cause, goes the thinking, would be the rapidly melting Greenland ice sheet, whose large freshwater flows may weaken ocean "overturning" by reducing the density of cold surface waters (colder, salty water is denser). If cold, salty waters don't sink in the North Atlantic and flow back southward toward Antarctica at depth, then warm surface waters won't flow northward to take their place. The result could be a significant change to northern hemisphere climate, as less ocean-borne heat reaches higher latitudes.

Train to be a disaster service volunteer

Traverse Ticker News, October 12, 2015

The Traverse City Salvation Army is holding a training for individuals interested in becoming an Emergency Disaster Service (EDS) volunteer. The volunteers help coordinate emergency relief operations and deliver support to disaster survivors and first responders. Following the storm on August 2, Salvation Army Disaster Services provided more than 1,700 meals to individuals and first responders and in the following weeks continued to work with the county emergency management teams providing meals to workers from around the region and country who came to help.

The EDS training will take place Sat., Oct. 24, 9am-3pm. Persons can sign up by calling 946.4644 or emailing volunteer coordinator Mary Vollink.

MICHIGAN WEATHER

Winter home heating prices to be lower in Michigan

Detroit News, October 12, 2015

Michiganians who heat their homes with natural gas may experience extra padding in their pockets as prices drop just in time for winter.

The state's two major energy providers, DTE Energy and Consumers Energy, said consumers will see double-digit reductions in their bills, saving them from $40 to more than $100 this winter season, which is from November to March.

Waves of chilly air in Midwest, Northeast may set stage for weekend snow showers

AccuWeather, October 13, 2015

After waves of cool air progress through the Midwest and Northeast this week, some areas will be cold enough for the first snow showers of the season by this weekend.

Temperatures have averaged 2-5 degrees Fahrenheit above average since early September from Minneapolis to Chicago, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, New York City and Boston.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

Guns in Michigan churches? Bars? Schools? Maybe

Detroit Free Press, October 13, 2015

LANSING — A packed hearing is expected at the Capitol today as state lawmakers take up the issue of guns and a bill that would allow concealed-pistol-license holders to carry weapons in places now off-limits, such as schools, churches and taverns.

Senate Bill 442 is up for debate less than two weeks after the nation's latest deadly mass shooting incident, at a community college in Oregon, and one week after a nationally publicized Michigan incident in which a CPL holder opened fire on suspected shoplifters fleeing a Home Depot in Auburn Hills. Nobody in the crowded parking lot was struck by bullets.

Seeking money for roads, Detroit and Flint, Snyder has his hands full

MLIVE, October 13, 2015

Gov. Rick Snyder survived his leg blood clot, but now he needs another operation — a hand transplant, because he is one short.

The governor has one hand out for money for the roads. He will soon have his second hand out for money for the deficit in the Detroit school system, and his third hand, if the operation is successful, is for state dollars for the water system in Flint.

As you might expect, he is not getting much of a helping hand from some recalcitrant lawmakers on all three fronts.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

A return of much colder weather is expected by the end of the week, with the coldest conditions Wednesday night through Thursday night.

Gaylord

Cool and showery over the next few days.

Detroit

Breezy westerly winds will continue today in the wake of the cold front last evening. Wind gusts of up to 30 mph will be possible. A weak ridge of surface high pressure will build into the state on Wednesday. This will lead to a weakening of the winds across the area. Another cold front will slide through the area on Thursday. Conditions will be mild in advance of the front with temperatures reaching the 60s. Strong westerly winds are expected to ramp up during the late afternoon.

Grand Rapids

Scattered showers and highs in the mid 50s are expected today, along with breezy conditions.

Northern Indiana

The remainder of the work week will feature mainly dry conditions and near normal temperatures under persistent northwest flow aloft.

State under mounting scrutiny for Flint's water crisis

Oakland Press, October 12, 2015

LANSING (AP) >> Gov. Rick Snyder and his administration face mounting scrutiny for Flint's drinking water crisis, which began when a state emergency manager switched the supply source to save money and has culminated with high lead levels in some children.

Flint's switch back to a Detroit-area system after more than 17 months is vindication for residents and others who complained for months about the safety, smell, taste and appearance of water from the city's river. The about-face — which came after the state corroborated outside findings of elevated lead levels in children despite initially doubting the results — raises questions about the state's role.

Trust needed for Flint to rebound from water crisis, say those who know

Flint, October 11, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Life has mostly returned to normal nearly two years after a disastrous chemical spill thrust Charleston, W.V., into the national spotlight.

Leaders of the small town nestled in the Appalachian Mountains say the same will eventually be true of Flint as it heals from a water crisis that was reported nationwide -- as long as leaders and residents face the truth of their problem.

Legislature likely to act on Flint water crisis this week

WMUK 102.1 FM, October 12, 2015

(MPRN-Lansing) State lawmakers hope to act quickly this week to help resolve Flint's water problems.

Gov. Rick Snyder is asking the Legislature to approve about $10 million to address the city's water contamination crisis. A number of top Republican lawmakers say they're on board with the governor's request.

Flint water crisis doesn't change KWA pipeline plan to finish in June or July

MLive, October 10, 2015

GENESEE COUNTY, MI – Flint is dealing with a water crisis, but there are no plans to speed up work on the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline to Flint.

Genesee County Drain Commissioner Jeff Wright says "only Mother Nature knows" exactly how fast contractors will be able to wrap up work on the pipeline that will bring Lake Huron water to the Vehicle City and surrounding areas.

Flint doctor makes state tell truth about lead in water

Detroit Free Press, October 12, 2015

Under the steady gaze of a watercolor giraffe and tissue paper butterflies, a Flint pediatrician and mother of two last month forced the state of Michigan to snap to attention.

But getting the state to concede the probability that Flint's water is poisoning its children with lead — after months of assurances from both city and state officials that the water is safe — was far from easy.

Chemical testing could have predicted Flint's water crisis

Detroit Free Press, October 11, 2015

Chemical tests could have predicted the corrosion in the pipes that is now being blamed for endangering the health of thousands of vulnerable Flint residents by elevating lead levels in their water supply, experts say.

As the city scrambles to reconnect to the Detroit water system, the absence of such testing on the Flint River water is one of many missed opportunities that might have lessened or avoided the crisis, they say.

Many missed opportunities in Flint's water crisis

Lansing State Journal, October 11, 2015

Chemical tests could have predicted the corrosion in the pipes that is now being blamed for endangering the health of thousands of vulnerable Flint residents by elevating lead levels in their water supply, experts say.

As the city scrambles to reconnect to the Detroit water system, the absence of such testing on the Flint River water is one of many missed opportunities that might have lessened or avoided the crisis, they say.

Why are lead levels in children higher in 2 Flint zip codes?

Detroit Free Press, October 10, 2015

Two Flint ZIP codes — 48503 and 48504 — stand out for the high levels of lead in the blood of their youngest residents. It's not clear why, but most likely, it's a combination of reasons, experts say.

Lead pipes and lead solder are common in underground service lines to homes throughout the city, but residents in some neighborhoods have replaced lead pipes in their homes over the years while others have not. Additionally, water moves through the system at different rates, depending on usage and even the size of the pipes. The slower the water moves, the more time it has to pick up lead, increasing exposure.

Thousands of water filters available for Flint residents

ABC 12, October 7, 2015

FLINT (WJRT) - (10/07/15) - There is still time for Flint residents to pick up a free water filter from the state.

Just stop by the GCCARD offices on Lippincott or on North Saginaw, or stop by the Department of Health and Human Services offices in downtown Flint or on Clio Road.

Aging and underfunded: America's dam safety problem, in 4 charts

NPR, October 11, 2015

That was the case in and around South Carolina's capital this week, when at least 20 dams collapsed during catastrophic floods.

Active shooter training part of college security plans

CT Post, October 10, 2015

DETROIT (AP) — Some of Michigan's larger universities and community colleges say they have plans for police officers to deal with gunmen on their campuses and measures in place to keep students and staff safe.

Nine schools surveyed by The Associated Press following the Oct. 1 killing of nine people at Umpqua Community College in Roseburg, Oregon, said campus police officers routinely train for such threats.

Coast Guard, Enbridge to stage full-scale oil spill exercise on St. Clair River in 2016

The Voice, October 9, 2015

The U.S. Coast Guard will lead a full-scale exercise in the St. Clair River next spring designed to test the readiness of first responder agencies to deal with a significant oil spill from an Enbridge pipeline running under the river.

The exercise will be similar to the one held by the USCG, Enbridge and numerous other local, state and federal agencies in the Straits of Mackinac in late September. About two dozen boats deployed an array of absorbent and containment booms, oil skimmers, vacuum trucks and other equipment in an effort to respond to the hypothetical spill.

Open house to bring together emergency personnel, community

Sentinel-Standard, October 9, 2015

IONIA - Members of the Ionia County Central Dispatch team want the community to know who they're speaking with when reporting an emergency.

As a way to familiarize community members with emergency personnel, the staff at Ionia County Central Dispatch will be holding the second annual 911 Open House. According to Vanessa Booth of Ionia County Central Dispatch, the event was a tremendous success in its first year.

MICHIGAN ENVIRONMENTAL

Where does the Line 5 oil pipeline go from here?

Detroit Free Press, October 10, 2015

A controversial 62-year-old oil pipeline at the bottom of the Straits of Mackinac has a future that's up in the air.

Canadian oil transport giant Enbridge's Line 5 pipeline carries up to 23 million gallons per day of light crude oil and liquid natural gas through the Upper Peninsula, then south through the Lower Peninsula before reaching a hub in Sarnia, Ontario. But raising both public and governmental concern is the section of the line where twin, 20-inch pipelines rest at the bottom of the Straits of Mackinac, where Lakes Michigan and Huron connect.

Is nuclear the key to Michigan's carbon-free future?

Detroit Free Press, October 10, 2015

For those who dream of weaning Michigan off fossil fuels, most visions for the future have solar panels and wind turbines blanketing the state.

But could the key to low-carbon nirvana lie in a less popular power source that has been here and operational for over 50 years?

Nuclear energy currently produces about 23% of total power generation in Michigan from just four commercial reactors. That is more than double the much-heralded 10% figure achieved across the state from renewable sources such as wind, biomass and solar.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

One more day of warm temperatures before sharply cooler conditions move in with chances of showers for the rest of this week

Detroit

Breezy southwesterly winds and temperatures some 10 to 15 degrees above normal are expected today ahead of an approaching cold front. The cold front is expected to pass through southeastern Michigan precipitation-free during the evening hours. A colder airmass is expected to lead to extensive cloud cover on Tuedsay which will keep temperatures in the 50s.

Grand Rapids

Increasing clouds are expected today with a few showers possible. Cooler temperatures arrive for Tuesday. A stronger cold front will come through at the end of the week, making for a chilly weekend.

Northern Indiana

Another warm day is in store today, with highs ranging from the mid 70s to 80 F. Clouds will be on the increase as a cold front moves into the area. Expect a cool down for the rest of the week, with highs only reaching into the 50s and 60s.

Uber to collect bottled water donations for Flint

Detroit News, October 6, 2015

Uber is the latest business to collect bottled water for students in the Flint Community Schools as the city deals with concerns about the quality of its drinking water.

On Tuesday, Uber drivers began collecting donations of bottled water. Drivers will pick up donations from homes, offices and schools between 2-7 p.m. through Thursday, said Leor Reef, a representative for Uber.

State begins distributing water filters in Flint

Detroit Free Press, October 7, 2015

FLINT — The state is starting to distribute free water filters to Flint residents confronting increased blood lead levels in children after a change in the city's water source.

The filters will be available beginning today through a partnership between the Michigan Department of Health Human Services and the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department.

Public health emergency declared in Flint, Michigan, due to contaminated water

CBS News, October 6, 2015

OCTOBER 6, 2015, 6:46 PM | When Flint, Michigan, disconnected their water supply from Detroit and started drawing from the Flint River, they were thinking of $15 million in savings. But they may have gotten more than they bargained for, reports Dean Reynolds.

Michigan providing water filters in Flint after high lead readings

Reuters, October 6, 2015

Michigan on Tuesday began distributing free water filters to residents of Flint, a week after confirming that some children had elevated levels of lead in their blood since the city began taking water from a nearby river.

The state last week confirmed a recent study at Hurley Children's Hospital that found increased lead levels in blood tests for children living in two Flint ZIP codes.

Michigan distributes water filters to residents of Flint

The Toledo Blade, October 6, 2015

FLINT, Mich. — Residents of Flint confronting increased lead levels in children after a change in the Michigan city's water source are getting free water filters from the state along with donations of bottled water, as local officials take steps to ensure safe drinking water.

Filters are available beginning today through a partnership between the Michigan Department of Health Human Services and the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department. Residents on public assistance and others are encouraged to bring their ID and water bill to one of four local offices.

Statewide donations of clean water pour in for Flint students, residents

MLive, October 6, 2015

FLINT, MI – What started as smaller attempts to bring clean water to Flint residents has turned into an outpouring of support as businesses, individuals and charities send thousands of bottles of water to the city, mostly for Flint Community Schools.

The recent donations stem from the Genesee County Public Health Department's warning for residents to not drink city of Flint water after Hurley Medical Center doctors found elevated lead levels in children since the city switched to the Flint River.

Poisoning people, the future and the public interest in Flint, Michigan

Huffington Post, October 6, 2015

Lead is a devastating toxin. It ravages the brain. Robs children of IQ points and brain function. And deprives our society of vast potential. It has cast a huge, destructive shadow across human civilization.

That's why Americans eliminated it from paint. From gasoline. And have struggled mightily to ban it from toys. The continuing negative impact of lead remains in soil, homes and infrastructure exposed to lead in the past, before we were able to ban it from products.

And in Flint, Michigan, its concentration in the drinking water is shockingly high.

Flint must change its water source, the sooner the better, Ananich says

MLive, October 6, 2015

FLINT, MI — The city of Flint must switch its water source from the Flint River quickly to stop compounding its lead-in-water problem, state Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich said.

Appearing on the podcast of the Michigan Information & Research Service, Ananich, D-Flint, said that in addition to lead-clearing filters and water giveaways, the city's water source must be changed — the sooner the better.

Flint water woes put rush on Lake Huron waterline

The Times Herald, October 6, 2015

The state's 10-point action plan to fix Flint's water includes expediting construction of a water line tearing up the roadway between St. Clair and Sanilac counties.

The state wants to find ways to speed up the construction of the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline.

The Flint water line will bring water from Lake Huron through 74 miles of pipeline running through St. Clair, Sanilac, Lapeer and Genesee counties to the city of Flint.

Washington Examiner, October 7, 2015

The water coming from the faucets of homes in Flint, Mich., is brown and tainted with lead, but the federal government isn't coming to the rescue.

The problems stem from the city's April 2014 decision to start drawing water itself from the Flint River instead of relying of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, a move expected to save the city of about 100,000 people about $1 million a month.

But, while the savings from that decision might be in the millions, the costs are already being noticed.

Lead levels in Mich. city have moms avoiding tap water

FLINT, Mich. — Outside a taco shop on Fifth Street,Estella Walker balances a gallon jug of water on top of the stroller that holds her 3-month-old son, DeWayne.

She's mixing bottles of formula for DeWayne and his 19-month-old sister Vanessa.

Nadene Strickland sits outside her home on the city's north side, watching her grandsons play basketball. She still drinks the water. She can't afford bottled.

An update on Flint's water crisis as 'technical committee' is set to meet tomorrow

Michigan Radio, October 6, 2015

One of the biggest questions of the Flint water crisis centers on corrosion control.

As we heard from Virginia Tech water specialist Marc Edwards, federal rules dictate that communities have measures in place to prevent water from leaching lead out of old pipes.

The very thing that happened when the city of Flint stopped taking treated water from Detroit and began drawing its water from the Flint River.

Rep. Kildee calls for "greater urgency" on lead in Flint water

WKAR, October 6, 2015

Michigan officials are admitting they have "changed paths" regarding the safety of drinking water in Flint. A state government effort is now underway to address unsafe levels of lead in the city's drinking water.

Late last week, Genesee County health authorities declared a public health emergency after learning that drinking water in some parts of the city contains several times the levels of lead it should. Lead poses a variety of serious health risks, especially to young people.

Reports say tens of thousands of homes in the city have lead issues.

Democratic Rep. Dan Kildee represents Michigan's fifth congressional district, which includes the cities of Flint, Saginaw and Bay City. He backs the state plan to improve Flint's water. But, Kildee has asked all parties to adopt more urgency to solve the problem.

Why strict federal oversight is needed to safeguard Flint's water

Detroit Metro Times, October 5, 2015

In the past few weeks, the problem of lead in Flint's drinking water has quickly gone from being a story largely ignored by the mainstream media to a scandal that's making headlines nationally.

Faced with overwhelming evidence, state and local officials who adamantly insisted for months that there was no problem have been forced to admit that their unequivocal assurances were completely false.

For that reason, the U.S. EPA needs to quickly respond to last week's formal petition calling upon the agency to step in and take a greater role in assuring that Flint's water is safe. Also needed is an investigation by an outside entity with subpoena powers to determine if laws were broken and, if so, who broke them.

This American Town's drinking water will make you permanently dumber

The Vice, October 2, 2015

It's 2015 and believe it or not, it's only been roughly five years since the geopolitical powers deigned it time to finally pass a UN resolution calling access to drinking water a "basic human right." That being said, things rarely play out as one would wish—especially in Flint, Michigan. That beleaguered city has learned the hard way that just because you have a right, it doesn't necessarily mean you'll actually get to exercise it.

In fact, drinking tap water in Flint may leave you living out a real life version of Idiocracy.

That's right. Doctors are now warning that drinking the tap water of the city that General Motors almost abandoned could actually permanently lower your IQ. Somebody needs to get Michael Moore back over to Flint for another documentary, ASAP.

People concerned over Brita water filters

ABC 12, October 6, 2015

FLINT (WJRT) - (10/06/15)- Several viewers are concerned that the Brita filters they received are not removing lead.

Here are some things to remember when receiving or purchasing a filter for lead removal:

-If you've received a filter or bought one yourself, it must have the certified NSF logo. It's important to note the initials always appear inside of a circle, which is a must when you look at the packaging.

FLINT (WJRT) - (10/06/15) - For the first time, Erin Brockovich is talking about Flint's Water Emergency.

The well-known water activist is weighing-in in an interview exclusively with ABC12 News.

Brockovich has been following Flint's Water Emergency closely. She even sent one of her colleagues to Flint in the winter to offer advice to city leaders.

"These people need clean water. They don't need it tomorrow, they need it today, they needed it yesterday," Brockovich said.

(MCT) - Ten years ago, Hurricane Katrina obliterated the political career of then-Federal Emergency Management Agency Director Michael Brown with the same savage brutality that it crushed the city of New Orleans.

"Truthfully, it was devastating," said Brown, a Guymon native who resigned as director of the agency that coordinates federal disaster relief efforts in 2005 after being pilloried in the media for the government's response to Hurricane Katrina's destruction.

Millions of dollars in California fire prevention money goes unspent

Emergency Management, October 5, 2015

(MCT) - Amid a drought that has created bone-dry conditions across much of California's wildland area, a state fire prevention account has ended recent fiscal years with tens of millions of dollars unspent.

The money has been generated by a contentious, four-year-old fee pushed through by Gov. Jerry Brown and legislative Democrats over the objections of Republicans and rural property owners. The state collected more than $300 million through June and spent about $260 million, including roughly $228 million on administration and statewide prevention activities, vegetation clearing, defensible space inspections and other programs. About $22 million went to a state tax agency to cover collection costs.

Detroit Free Press, October 6, 2015

Clarification: A headline on a previous version of this should have made clear that the pipeline in question is Enbridge Line 5.

The 62-year-old segment of Canadian oil transport giant Enbridge's Line 5 pipeline underwater, at the bottom of the Straits of Mackinac, has been generating the most buzz and concern lately over how a spill from it would harm the Great Lakes.

But it's another segment of that same pipeline, out of the water and running through the Upper Peninsula along U.S.-2 highway for nearly 90 miles between Manistique and St. Ignace, that poses a more immediate — and just as dire — threat to the lakes, according to a U.S. Coast Guard oil spill contingency specialist. The 30-inch-diameter transmission line runs under at least 20 rivers and creeks that feed into northern Lake Michigan, and at points is within a half-mile of the lake.

Marquette

Published on: 10/07/2015 at 5:00 AM

Morning clouds and possibly drizzle along Lake Superior will give way to a partly cloudy to mostly sunny sky today as high pressure builds into the area. Expect temperatures today to be around 10 degrees lower than what was experienced Tuesday, topping out in the 50s. A big change will be underway tonight. Nearing low pressure from the west will bring widespread showers to western Upper Michigan overnight tonight, which will spread across central and eastern Upper Michigan through the day Thursday. Total rainfall will range from over 0.3 inches across the Keweenaw Peninsula, to over 0.75 inches south across Menominee County. Looking ahead, temperatures will jump well above normal by the end of the weekend.

FLINT WATER

Uber to collect bottled water donations for Flint

Detroit News, October 6, 2015

Uber is the latest business to collect bottled water for students in the Flint Community Schools as the city deals with concerns about the quality of its drinking water.

On Tuesday, Uber drivers began collecting donations of bottled water. Drivers will pick up donations from homes, offices and schools between 2-7 p.m. through Thursday, said Leor Reef, a representative for Uber.

State begins distributing water filters in Flint

Detroit Free Press, October 7, 2015

FLINT — The state is starting to distribute free water filters to Flint residents confronting increased blood lead levels in children after a change in the city's water source.

The filters will be available beginning today through a partnership between the Michigan Department of Health Human Services and the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department.

Public health emergency declared in Flint, Michigan, due to contaminated water

CBS News, October 6, 2015

OCTOBER 6, 2015, 6:46 PM | When Flint, Michigan, disconnected their water supply from Detroit and started drawing from the Flint River, they were thinking of $15 million in savings. But they may have gotten more than they bargained for, reports Dean Reynolds.

Michigan providing water filters in Flint after high lead readings

Reuters, October 6, 2015

Michigan on Tuesday began distributing free water filters to residents of Flint, a week after confirming that some children had elevated levels of lead in their blood since the city began taking water from a nearby river.

The state last week confirmed a recent study at Hurley Children's Hospital that found increased lead levels in blood tests for children living in two Flint ZIP codes.

Michigan distributes water filters to residents of Flint

The Toledo Blade, October 6, 2015

FLINT, Mich. — Residents of Flint confronting increased lead levels in children after a change in the Michigan city's water source are getting free water filters from the state along with donations of bottled water, as local officials take steps to ensure safe drinking water.

Filters are available beginning today through a partnership between the Michigan Department of Health Human Services and the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department. Residents on public assistance and others are encouraged to bring their ID and water bill to one of four local offices.

Statewide donations of clean water pour in for Flint students, residents

MLive, October 6, 2015

FLINT, MI – What started as smaller attempts to bring clean water to Flint residents has turned into an outpouring of support as businesses, individuals and charities send thousands of bottles of water to the city, mostly for Flint Community Schools.

The recent donations stem from the Genesee County Public Health Department's warning for residents to not drink city of Flint water after Hurley Medical Center doctors found elevated lead levels in children since the city switched to the Flint River.

Poisoning people, the future and the public interest in Flint, Michigan

Huffington Post, October 6, 2015

Lead is a devastating toxin. It ravages the brain. Robs children of IQ points and brain function. And deprives our society of vast potential. It has cast a huge, destructive shadow across human civilization.

That's why Americans eliminated it from paint. From gasoline. And have struggled mightily to ban it from toys. The continuing negative impact of lead remains in soil, homes and infrastructure exposed to lead in the past, before we were able to ban it from products.

And in Flint, Michigan, its concentration in the drinking water is shockingly high.

Flint must change its water source, the sooner the better, Ananich says

MLive, October 6, 2015

FLINT, MI — The city of Flint must switch its water source from the Flint River quickly to stop compounding its lead-in-water problem, state Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich said.

Appearing on the podcast of the Michigan Information & Research Service, Ananich, D-Flint, said that in addition to lead-clearing filters and water giveaways, the city's water source must be changed — the sooner the better.

Flint water woes put rush on Lake Huron waterline

The Times Herald, October 6, 2015

The state's 10-point action plan to fix Flint's water includes expediting construction of a water line tearing up the roadway between St. Clair and Sanilac counties.

The state wants to find ways to speed up the construction of the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline.

The Flint water line will bring water from Lake Huron through 74 miles of pipeline running through St. Clair, Sanilac, Lapeer and Genesee counties to the city of Flint.

Washington Examiner, October 7, 2015

The water coming from the faucets of homes in Flint, Mich., is brown and tainted with lead, but the federal government isn't coming to the rescue.

The problems stem from the city's April 2014 decision to start drawing water itself from the Flint River instead of relying of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, a move expected to save the city of about 100,000 people about $1 million a month.

But, while the savings from that decision might be in the millions, the costs are already being noticed.

Lead levels in Mich. city have moms avoiding tap water

FLINT, Mich. — Outside a taco shop on Fifth Street,Estella Walker balances a gallon jug of water on top of the stroller that holds her 3-month-old son, DeWayne.

She's mixing bottles of formula for DeWayne and his 19-month-old sister Vanessa.

Nadene Strickland sits outside her home on the city's north side, watching her grandsons play basketball. She still drinks the water. She can't afford bottled.

An update on Flint's water crisis as 'technical committee' is set to meet tomorrow

Michigan Radio, October 6, 2015

One of the biggest questions of the Flint water crisis centers on corrosion control.

As we heard from Virginia Tech water specialist Marc Edwards, federal rules dictate that communities have measures in place to prevent water from leaching lead out of old pipes.

The very thing that happened when the city of Flint stopped taking treated water from Detroit and began drawing its water from the Flint River.

Rep. Kildee calls for "greater urgency" on lead in Flint water

WKAR, October 6, 2015

Michigan officials are admitting they have "changed paths" regarding the safety of drinking water in Flint. A state government effort is now underway to address unsafe levels of lead in the city's drinking water.

Late last week, Genesee County health authorities declared a public health emergency after learning that drinking water in some parts of the city contains several times the levels of lead it should. Lead poses a variety of serious health risks, especially to young people.

Reports say tens of thousands of homes in the city have lead issues.

Democratic Rep. Dan Kildee represents Michigan's fifth congressional district, which includes the cities of Flint, Saginaw and Bay City. He backs the state plan to improve Flint's water. But, Kildee has asked all parties to adopt more urgency to solve the problem.

Detroit Metro Times, October 5, 2015

In the past few weeks, the problem of lead in Flint's drinking water has quickly gone from being a story largely ignored by the mainstream media to a scandal that's making headlines nationally.

Faced with overwhelming evidence, state and local officials who adamantly insisted for months that there was no problem have been forced to admit that their unequivocal assurances were completely false.

For that reason, the U.S. EPA needs to quickly respond to last week's formal petition calling upon the agency to step in and take a greater role in assuring that Flint's water is safe. Also needed is an investigation by an outside entity with subpoena powers to determine if laws were broken and, if so, who broke them.

This American Town's drinking water will make you permanently dumber

The Vice, October 2, 2015

It's 2015 and believe it or not, it's only been roughly five years since the geopolitical powers deigned it time to finally pass a UN resolution calling access to drinking water a "basic human right." That being said, things rarely play out as one would wish—especially in Flint, Michigan. That beleaguered city has learned the hard way that just because you have a right, it doesn't necessarily mean you'll actually get to exercise it.

In fact, drinking tap water in Flint may leave you living out a real life version of Idiocracy.

That's right. Doctors are now warning that drinking the tap water of the city that General Motors almost abandoned could actually permanently lower your IQ. Somebody needs to get Michael Moore back over to Flint for another documentary, ASAP.

People concerned over Brita water filters

ABC 12, October 6, 2015

FLINT (WJRT) - (10/06/15)- Several viewers are concerned that the Brita filters they received are not removing lead.

Here are some things to remember when receiving or purchasing a filter for lead removal:

-If you've received a filter or bought one yourself, it must have the certified NSF logo. It's important to note the initials always appear inside of a circle, which is a must when you look at the packaging.

MEDIA MONITORING REPORT

10/05/2015

Issues:

- Flint water issues continue to simmer.
- WDIV-TV 4 in Detroit reported that the "state has declared a public health emergency." No known declaration has been made.

Summary:

- Nancy Kaffer opines in the Detroit Free Press about avoiding tap water has become a way of life in Flint.
- The Detroit Free Press looks at the Flint water issue in an editorial.
- The state is convening a technical panel this week that's supposed to come up with a plan to respond to the Flint drinking water emergency. The group is made up of state and federal environmental officials, as well as outside experts.
- After weeks, and in some cases months of worrying about their water, there was finally some relief Saturday for people living in Flint. More than 2,700 water filters were handed out to Flint residents.
- Michigan will spend $1 million to buy water filters and immediately test water in public schools in Flint after testing showed elevated levels of lead in the city's children, the governor said Friday, a day after local health officials declared a public health emergency.
- Donations continue to pour in to Flint Community Schools to help students and staff handle the 'Water Worries'.
- In Flint, lead levels in some children's blood have spiked dramatically, and scientists believe a new drinking water source is to blame. They're pointing to lapses in oversight from state regulators, who they say should've seen the problem coming.
- A U.S. Coast Guard official has more concern over Enbridge's Line 5 pipeline under the ground in the Upper Peninsula rather than the under the Straits of Mackinac.
- Bermuda was lashed Sunday by gusting winds and pelting rains from a weakening Hurricane Joaquin as its spinning center tracked just west of the wealthy financial haven and tourist destination after plowing through the Bahamas as a major storm.
- A student at Monroe Middle School has been diagnosed with viral meningitis.

Analysis:

FLINT WATER

Nancy Kaffer: Avoiding tap water has become a way of life in Flint

Detroit Free Press, Oct. 3, 2015

Outside a taco shop on Flint's Fifth Street, Estella Walker balances a gallon jug of water on top of the stroller that holds her 3-month-old son, DeWayne. She's mixing bottles of formula for DeWayne and his 19-month-old sister Vanessa.

Nadene Strickland sits outside her home on the city's north side, watching her grandsons play basketball. She still drinks the water. She can't afford bottled.

Shopping at the local farmers market with five of her seven children, Tena Fransioli says she hasn't used tap water in a long time.

Across town, it's bath night for LeeAnne Walters' kids. She heats bottled water in the microwave and carries it to the bathroom, slowly filling the tub. In Melissa Mays' bathroom, there's a reminder taped to the wall: To brush your teeth, use the bottled water on the bathroom counter.

This is life in Flint, where you really should not drink the water.

And no one, not in this country in the year 2015, should have to live this way.

For more than a year, Flint residents have been screaming that their water wasn't OK, that it smelled bad, tasted bad, looked bad, and was making them sick.

Few listened. The state told them, again and again, that the water was safe — that contamination had been handled, and that the water was within acceptable levels.

It wasn't until last week that Gov. Rick Snyder finally acknowledged the profound problems with Flint's water. Lead, from aging water service pipes, is leaching into the water the city pumps from the Flint River, exacerbated by a local treatment plant's failure to add appropriate chemicals.

But he still won't call it an emergency.

Editorial: For Flint, vindication -- for Snyder, more questions

Detroit Free Press, Oct. 2, 2015

Lead flows through Flint's water system and out of taps in people's homes.

Children have been drinking that water, and suffering the consequences.

And controls that should have prevented this from happening were nonexistent or inadequate.

After months of denial, we finally heard Gov. Rick Snyder and members of his cabinet validate the mounting data that confirms beyond reasonable doubt what Flint residents have known for months: Their water is not safe to drink.

In April 2014 -- while under state oversight -- Flint began to draw its water from the Flint River, a temporary measure until a new regional water authority comprising Flint, Genesee, Sanilac and Lapeer counties is complete next year. For decades, the city had purchased its water from the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

By June last year, residents began to complain that their tap water was the wrong color, that it had a troubling odor and taste. Many reported rashes and other health problems, likely linked to a disinfectant added to the water after tests showed it contained coliform bacteria.

By the start of this year, some residents began to suspect the water also contained lead and other heavy metals, leached from Flint's aging infrastructure by more-corrosive Flint River water, exacerbated by an inadequate water treatment plan.

Friday, Snyder and his cabinet announced a plan to improve corrosion controls that should have prevented lead from contaminating drinking water. They'll dedicate $1 million in state funds to purchase water filters for Flint residents, and to pay for expanded water testing and additional health and community resources.

In the long term, Snyder must find state funds to help Flint replace its aging service lines.

For Flint families, it should be the first step toward some semblance of normalcy, to a basic standard of living all Americans take for granted -- that the water running from our taps is clean, and drinkable.

Repairing Flint's water system will be complicated and costly. But the difficulty of that task pales in comparison to the work that must be done to repair the public trust, in both the systems meant to safeguard our health, and in the governor who is meant to oversee those safeguards.

Snyder's acknowledgement comes after repeated assurances that Flint water was safe, even as evidence mounted that this could not be true. An MDEQ spokesman denounced tests performed by a Virginia Tech University researcher -- a MacArthur genius grant recipient -- who evaluated hundreds of water samples, writing to one reporter that "this group specializes in looking for high lead problems. They pull that rabbit out of that hat everywhere they go. Nobody should be surprised when the rabbit comes out of the hat, even if they can't figure out how it is done."

When a hospital researcher announced last week a growing number of Flint children had elevated blood-lead levels, the MDEQ disparaged the researcher's work, calling it not "irresponsible," but "unfortunate," and saying that Flint's water situation had reached "near-hysteria" -- despite state data that showed both increased amounts of lead in the water supply, and a greater number of children with elevated blood-lead levels. Lead poisoning is irreversible; children affected by it suffer from behavioral and developmental problems.

As late as Wednesday, Snyder spokesperson Sara Wurfel questioned the test data, insisting that the lead levels in Flint's water did not reach levels considered actionable by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The next day, Snyder admitted that in making the switch to Flint River water, that there were "probably things that weren't fully understood when the switch was made."

So we are left with questions that need answers. Not merely because this saga unfolded while Flint was under state oversight, a succession of emergency managers appointed by and answerable to Snyder, but also because the governor oversees the state agencies charged with preventing just this type of crisis.

What was the science that allowed the MDEQ to approve the switch to Flint River water? What was not "fully understood," and in the absence of that information, why did the switch proceed? MDEQ chief Dan Wyant referred to tests that indicated elevated lead levels -- when did were those tests performed?

We -- along, we're confident, with other news agencies in this state -- have filed requests to obtain information that will help answer these questions, through the state's Freedom of Information Act.

But we shouldn't even have to.

Snyder, as the state's chief executive, ought to be riding herd on the autopsy over the process that led to this public health crisis. And in addition to repairing what went wrong -- or defending the state's actions and oversight -- the governor needs to be up front with the public about what he finds.

This should never have happened to the people in Flint. Children, drinking tap water polluted by lead. It reads like something out of an impoverished, technologically deprived nation.

It's up to Snyder to assure that it never happens again.

Detroit men take water to Flint

WDIV-TV 4 in Detroit, Oct. 4, 2015

The Flint water problem has caused the state to declare a public health emergency.

While the state tries to find a permanent solution to the problem, two Detroit men are taking it upon themselves to help Flint families.

Anthony Scales was disturbed by the water crisis and he started collecting cases of bottled water and taking them to Potter Elementary School in Flint.

Tech panel to make recommendation on reconnecting Flint to Detroit

WMUK-FM 102.1, Oct. 5, 2015

The state is convening a technical panel this week that's supposed to come up with a plan to respond to the Flint drinking water emergency. The group is made up of state and federal environmental officials, as well as outside experts.

Dan Wyant directs the state Department of Environmental Quality. He says one of the first decisions is whether to reconnect Flint to the Detroit water system.

"The question is whether we'd be better if we want to Detroit water, and I'd like science to make that determination," Wyant says.

Flint Mayor Dane Walling says he'd ask the state to pick up the cost of one and a half to two million dollars a month if the city re-connects to the Detroit system.

The state is already distributing water filters to city residents, and has promised to step up testing of water in homes and schools.

Water filters given out to Flint residents

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, Oct. 5, 2015

After weeks, and in some cases months of worrying about their water, there was finally some relief Saturday for people living in Flint.

More than 2,700 water filters were handed out to Flint residents.

The beginning of the day started with those most at risk for lead contamination.

Then the health department quickly opened it up to all city residents.

"I'm very happy I got here," said Sierra Booker, who has a one-year-old daughter.

After filter distribution, why some couldn't make it to get relief

2,700 hundred water filters were given out yesterday at U of M Flint's Recreation Center.

At first, only those most at risk were given filters - but by a couple hours in any Flint resident could come.

Still, there were 1,300 filters left at the end of the day, leading some to ask, why?

At River Park Apartments in Flint, a public housing complex, we found many people just didn't know the filter distribution was going on.

"Well we didn't hear about it until the last minute," said resident Natia Anderson.

"I didn't hear about it until a few minutes ago," said resident Lonnie Williams.

The Genesee County Health Department made the announcement late Friday morning, less than 24 hours before the actual event. Organizations like the United Way of Genesee County, and U of M Flint worked tirelessly with the Health Department, to make sure Saturday's giveaway went smoothly.

State and health officials address Flint water crisis, introduce plan of action

WXYZ-TV 7, Oct. 2, 2015

Michigan will spend $1 million to buy water filters and immediately test water in public schools in Flint after testing showed elevated levels of lead in the city's children, the governor said Friday, a day after local health officials declared a public health emergency.

A plan of action was outlined at a news conference, and includes:

*Testing in Flint public schools immediately to ensure that drinking water is safe, with testing also available at no cost to any other school in Flint.

Water filter giveaway open to all Flint residents held at UM-Flint

MLive, Oct. 3, 2015

Local organizations came together Saturday to distribute 4,000 water filters to Flint residents worried about lead in their water.

The filter giveaway was held at the University of Michigan-Flint at the Recreation Center on Saturday, Oct. 3. Originally organizers were focusing on low-income families with children, pregnant women, and the elderly, but opened it up to all residents in the afternoon. The giveaway began at 10 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m.

The United Way, University of Michigan-Flint, city of Flint, and other local agencies and businesses partnered to help distribute the filters.

The 4,000 filters distributed Saturday is only a fraction of the 20,000 estimated filters needed for Flint residents.

Thousands of water filters handed out

WNEM-TV 5 in Saginaw, Oct. 5, 105

FLINT, MI (WNEM) - Following tests that show elevated levels of lead in the Flint water system, thousands of filters were given away over the weekend.

The filters, certified by the National Sanitation Foundation, were handed out Saturday at the University of Michigan-Flint.

People like Margret Brown stood in line to get one. "My daughter is pregnant, she needed a water filter."

That makes Brown's daughter a top priority to receive the help. That's because tests have shown children with elevated levels of lead.

The lead began showing up after Flint switched off the Detroit water system, and started taking water from the Flint River. That water is causing lead in old pipes to flow into homes.

On Friday the state said it will contribute at least $1 million to buy home water filters.

Water filter distribution to start for residents in Flint

Associated Press/WEYI-TV 25 in Flint, Oct. 3, 2015

FLINT — Officials are scheduled to start distributing filters to some Flint residents receiving water from the city's water system.

"It's not good for him to drink that growing up, his body's not fully developed," parent Maxine Gray said of her one month old son.

Tests have shown children with elevated levels of lead, months after Flint began drawing and treating water from the Flint River. The water is stirring up lead in old pipes in thousands of homes.

About 4,000 filters certified by the National Sanitation Foundation will be handed out Saturday morning at the University of Michigan-Flint.

"I'm very excited," said Takisha Moller who's soon expecting her first child. "Glad I'll get to drink healthy water."

Receiving priority will be pregnant women, families where infants are on formula or being breastfed, and Children Special Health Care Services households. Only one filter will be available per home.

The state said Friday it's chipping in at least $1 million to buy home water filters for Flint.

Water donations pour in for Flint Community Schools

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, Oct. 5, 2015

FLINT (WJRT) - (10/05/15) - Donations continue to pour in to Flint Community Schools to help students and staff handle the 'Water Worries'.

Word has spread throughout the state about the problem with high lead levels in the Flint water system.

As a precaution, water fountains in the Flint schools have been turned off.

Monday morning, two large deliveries were made to the Flint Community Schools. Twenty-four thousand bottles of Aquafina water were donated by the owners of Auto City Service. The truck arrived at the Flint Schools Maintenance and Operations Building on East Court Street and the cases were unloaded.

Walgreens is also donating 4,000 bottles of water to Flint schools. A delivery truck loaded up with 150 cases from the store at Beecher and Ballenger.

The water will be distributed to the 11 active school buildings in the Flint district.

School officials have said the two high schools need extra water because of extra school activities and athletics.

"We really appreciate all the donations we received thus far. Currently, we're able to meet the needs of our students at this point and we're starting to have more conversations on a long-term plan moving forward...we still welcome all donations. You can deliver donations to our maintenance warehouse and also we're accepting donations on the school level," said Bilal Tawwab, Flint Schools superintendent.

Last Friday, the DEQ sampled water from all Flint schools. Results are not back yet.

Sorting out accountability in Flint water issues is "relatively complex"

Michigan Radio, Oct. 5, 2015

In Flint, lead levels in some children's blood have spiked dramatically, and scientists believe a new drinking water source is to blame. They're pointing to lapses in oversight from state regulators, who they say should've seen the problem coming.

Flint's water problems began about a year ago, not long after the city stopped drawing water from Detroit's system. To save money, Flint began getting its water from the Flint River.

But since the switch, doctors and researchers say cases of elevated blood levels in kids under five have doubled in some parts of the city. Lead can cause irreversible health damage, especially in young children.

"It was not my decision. I raised a number of concerns about it throughout the process," Flint Mayor Dayne Walling has said.

He was mayor when the city switched from Detroit's water system to the Flint River. But Mayor Walling wasn't in charge.

"The governor has a substantial responsibility here," he said.

Gov. Rick Snyder had appointed an emergency manager to run Flint.

By law, Michigan cities in danger of going bankrupt can get emergency managers--who have all kinds of power that elected leaders don't. In Flint, they decided the city couldn't afford Detroit's water bill anymore.

The city had been planning to join a new county system, which is under construction. State bean counters decided the Flint River could do until then.

Virginia Tech researcher Marc Edwards says Michigan's environmental regulators should have known Flint's new water source was much more corrosive than the water Detroit piped up from Lake Huron.

He says testing the water in the lab would've been a good start. Other consultants I spoke with said setting up a small scale, mock system inside Flint's water plant would have been a wise move. That would have given them a test period with the new water source before switching the whole system.

Edwards, who's been studying lead in water issues for decades, says Flint should also have had a corrosion control plan in place to treat the water, so that it didn't leach lead from old pipes.

"How on earth this was allowed to happen, or people believed it was ok for it to happen, I don't even know where to get started on that," Edwards said last week.

In February, officials at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency found lead levels at one woman's home that were high enough to be considered toxic waste.

Edwards says that should've set off alarms for state regulators.

"Instead what they did is they took action after action to cover this problem up, and essentially leave Flint residents in harm's way. So at some point what might be attributed to an honest, perhaps innocent mistake...it changed into something completely different," Edwards said.

Emails show concerned federal officials asked the state if Flint was treating to control corrosion. State officials said yes. When the EPA asked what kind of treatment, there seemed to be a reversal. One email says plainly: "Flint is currently not practicing corrosion control treatment."

When asked if Flint broke federal rules by not having a corrosion control treatment plan, the U.S. EPA said the question was "relatively complex." Emails show at least one EPA employee believes Flint was required to treat the water to help prevent lead corrosion. But EPA spokespeople haven't been willing to say, plainly, that Flint broke federal rules.

Here's the written response from EPA Region 5 Administrator Susan Hedman:

"Actions that the State of Michigan and the City of Flint announced (Friday) are important steps to protect public health. The immediate steps being taken to implement corrosion control will reduce lead in drinking water, as required by the Safe Drinking Water Act. US EPA will continue to provide technical assistance to the State of Michigan and the City of Flint to support their joint effort."

On Friday afternoon, protestors lined up outside a university building, where city and state officials announced their latest plan to fix Flint's water.

"We survived bacteria. We've had boil-water advisories as a result. They put too much chloride in the water. And it's just been one disaster after another," Flint resident Claire McClinton said.

Elizabeth Taylor, another Flint resident, places blame on Gov. Snyder. Why?

"Well, because he put us in this emergency manager situation. They just do whatever he tells them to do," Taylor said.

Taylor is disappointed no officials have been willing to "man up and apologize."

"These men, they're just like...excuse me, but it's like their genitalia have fallen off. They have nothing left in their brains. And you can't run a city or a state like that. They have to be more responsible," she said.

Inside the building, state officials made yet another reversal, telling reporters that, actually, Flint has been treating the water for lead.

"State government, and the federal government for that matter, or any government, can only make decisions on the information we've got," Michigan Department of Environmental Quality spokesman Brad Wurfel said.

"We'll also concede that we've been learning as we go. So as we've learned more, we've changed paths here," Wurfel said.

Now state officials say they'll start a new corrosion control treatment plan for Flint by next month.

Until then, they've budgeted $1 million to give people free lead filters for their homes.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Great Lakes face threat from another Enbridge line

Detroit Free Press, Oct. 4, 2015

The 62-year-old segment of Canadian oil transport giant Enbridge's Line 5 pipeline underwater, at the bottom of the Straits of Mackinac, has been generating the most buzz and concern lately over how a spill from it would harm the Great Lakes.

But it's another segment of that same pipeline, out of the water and running through the Upper Peninsula along U.S.-2 highway for nearly 90 miles between Manistique and St. Ignace, that poses a more immediate — and just as dire — threat to the lakes, according to a U.S. Coast Guard oil spill contingency specialist. The 30-inch-diameter transmission line runs under at least 20 rivers and creeks that feed into northern Lake Michigan, and at points is within a half-mile of the lake.

"Quite frankly, we see a spill in the straits as a very low probability," said Steven Keck, who's based at the Coast Guard's Sault Ste. Marie station. "But that corridor along U.S.-2 we see as a much higher probability.

"We don't seem to get a lot of attention on that stretch between Manistique and St. Ignace, but it's still the Great Lakes."

A joint team of the Coast Guard; other federal, state, and local agencies; Enbridge officials, and representatives of Marine Pollution Control, an oil spill response contractor for Enbridge, conducted a walking line survey of Line 5 where it crosses streams, creeks and rivers along the U.S.-2 corridor earlier this year.

Bermuda whipped by weakening Hurricane Joaquin

Associated Press, Oct. 5, 2015

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) - Bermuda was lashed Sunday by gusting winds and pelting rains from a weakening Hurricane Joaquin as its spinning center tracked just west of the wealthy financial haven and tourist destination after plowing through the Bahamas as a major storm.

Residents of the mid-Atlantic British dependency mostly hunkered down at home after securing patio furniture and stocking up on gas and batteries as the hurricane whipped the mid-Atlantic British territory. All flights to L.F. Wade International Airport were cancelled and ferry service was closed due to rough seas.

Emergency service agencies were placed on alert and there were scattered power outages by early evening.

"I think it's going to be bad, and last year I lost a lot of stuff to the storms," said retiree Susan DeSilva, whose son-in-law helped her secure her windows and doors as the storm approached.

Others were far less worried in the tiny territory accustomed to rough weather. At least one bar in the capital of Hamilton was packed with people riding out the hurricane with drinks and friends.

"I can think of worse places to be," said Derrick Tucker in the crowded Robin Hood Pub and Restaurant as the wind whistled outside.

Case of viral meningitis reported in Montrose School District

MLive, Oct. 5, 2015

MONTROSE, MI -- Another student at a Genesee County school has contracted meningitis.

A student at a Montrose middle school has been diagnosed with viral meningitis, according to a letter the district sent to parents Monday morning, Oct. 5.

Common areas at Keuhn-Haven Middle School were disinfected over the weekend, and additional staff will be brought in to help regularly disinfect surfaces in all the district's buildings, according to Superintendent Edward Graham's letter.

Meningitis is an infection of the lining of the brain and spinal cord.

"As we begin the new week, in addition to our normal cleaning routine, we will be bringing in additional help to assist in the regular disinfecting of surfaces in all buildings," the letter reads.

High pressure will slowly expand into the area through the middle of the week, providing quiet weather for Southeast Michigan. A few showers will be possible today along and north of the I-69 corridor, but otherwise, dry weather is expected.

Grand Rapids

A band of scattered, very light showers continues to track northeast across Central Lower Michigan this morning. Any light rain should be out of the area by early afternoon. It will be a dreary day with overcast skies.

Northern Indiana

Pleasant weather can be expected through Thursday with mild temperatures. Highs will be around 70 to the upper 70s. Lows should be in the low to mid 50s. The next chance for rain is Thursday afternoon.

While I do not make blanket recommendations... ever... this is the recommendation I made for Flint almost 8 months ago. I am a "less is more" when it comes to adding chemical to Drinking Water... but the Flint system used one water quality for decades before switch to another... and a corrosion control chemical is really their best alternative. (They can turn off the ammonia feed and the fluoride feed - immediately) The chemical cost may range from less than 1 cent to 10 cents per thousand gallons of water treated depending upon the systems water quality.

The damage caused by corrosion within Drinking Water distribution systems is one of the largest problems for the water utility industry. The effects on the safety and health throughout a community, as well as the associated costs resulting from corrosion, are indeed a major concern for water quality managers.

The byproducts of corrosion in the distribution system can protect, harbor and support bacteria, yeasts and other microorganisms by forming a glycocalyx. Over time a depressed pH forms, due to anaerobic conditions, beneath this glycocalyx causing increased corrosion in the form of pin hole leaks. Additional problems can also result causing odor, bad tastes and slime.

All of these corrosion caused problems add to the cost of water treatment thru increased pumping costs, loss of water or water pressure, and the need for the replacement of water heaters. Typically, an increase in customer complaints due to colored water, bad taste or staining also adds to the overall expense of a drinking water district.

All waters are corrosive to some degree. Chloramine make water much more corrosive... while the disinfection is weaker, the ammonia breaks free and feeds the biofilm growth (nitrification) which make every year a system continues to use chloramine a compounding problem. Most utilities conduct free chlorine "burnouts"... which just makes the situation that much worse.

The corrosivity of the water affects the infrastructure of a distribution system by attacking the piping, concrete and pumps which are often very difficult to budget for a municipality. Factors that affect the corrosive nature of water are: pH, oxygen content, total hardness, total dissolved solids, temperature and alkalinity. The selection of the proper corrosion inhibitor is critical to resolve the corrosion tendency of a water system.

There are numerous corrosion inhibitors that have been used in water over the years, such as: zinc, molybdates, nitrite-borate blends, silicates and phosphates. From a Drinking Water standpoint only two of the above mentioned inhibitors are used, sodium silicates and inorganic phosphates, and usually phosphates are the obvious choice due to treatment costs. Silicates are used at a significantly higher treatment levels whereas a blend of phosphates can typically result in treatment levels as low as 1.0 ppm.

The consistent feed of the corrosion is essential to the success of a corrosion control program. Interruptions if chemical feed can result in the loss of the protective film established on the system piping. Finally, the flow rates of a system are critical in a reliable corrosion control program to provide continuously transport the inhibitor to all areas of the system metallurgy; otherwise an effective protective film will not be established on the metal surfaces of the piping.

Blended phosphate technology has proven to be the most cost effective means of treating Drinking Water systems. The treatment levels for a successful treatment program are usually fed within a 1.0 to 2.0 ppm range. This technology provides a tenacious protective coating at the cathodic and anodic sites. This film forming action develops through a controlled deposition process via a "threshold treatment concept".

This controlled deposition process is a result of the water chemistry combining with the orthophosphate in the product formulation. The key in controlling this deposition is in blending in a variety of polyphosphate compounds. These polyphosphates provide a scrubbing action on the metal surfaces which limits the amount of protective coating being laid down. This is a terrific method of providing a strong protective film while scrubbing away old deposits and biofilm formations.

Some municipalities have tried to feed orthophosphate alone, in the form of phosphoric acid. The phosphoric acid typically has to be fed at a much higher concentration to achieve the same corrosion inhibition results of a blended phosphate program. In addition to this, there is no means of controlling the amount of deposition that will occur often resulting into an adverse effect on "C" factors or possibly increasing the potential for biofilm development. Blended phosphate technology eliminates the concern over these possible problems.

In addition to providing corrosion control of systems metallurgy, blended phosphate products also have the ability to sequester hardness salts, iron and manganese. The damage that can result from hardness, iron and manganese has been well documented over the years and is significant in terms of revenue while certainly adding to the frustration of a community. The proper sequestration of iron and manganese tremendously improves the appearance of the water preventing these metals from oxidizing and depositing/staining on fixtures and clothing. This ability of ortho and polyphosphates working together, results in stabilized water quality while minimizing color, scale, deposits, corrosion and chlorine demand in drinking water systems.

Benefits of Blended Phosphate Technology

1. Inhibits corrosion of metallurgy within a distribution piping system.
2. Decreases iron tuberculation within a distribution system.
3. Reduces lead and copper levels in the drinking water to meet the 1991 Lead and Copper rule, allowing municipalities to maintain levels of lead < 15 ppb and copper < 1.3 ppm.
4. Decreases biofilm development thereby increasing system life thru reduced MIC.
5. Decreases chlorine demand which improves overall disinfection.
6. Reduces discoloration, staining and mineral build-up on customer fixtures and clothing, resulting in fewer customer complaints.
7. Decreases calcium scale deposits usually seen in hot water heaters.
8. Municipality saves revenue thru reduced corrosion and scale which reduces system failures in terms of leaks and ruptures while also conserving water via reduced hydrant directional flushing.

Blended phosphate technology has been used for over 60 years within the drinking water industry. It remains one of the most cost effective means of controlling corrosion due to the low chemical feedrate required. With this low dosage rate the actual chemical cost may range from less than 1 cent to 10 cents per thousand gallons of water treated depending upon the systems water quality. These blended phosphate cost are offset by the operational and maintenance savings to the utility and consumer.

Public health emergency declared due to lead in Flint water

Associated Press, October 2, 2015

DETROIT (AP) — Officials in Michigan declared a public health emergency Thursday over the city of Flint's water, after months of resident complaints about its smell and taste, in response to tests that showed children with elevated levels of lead.

A day after Gov. Rick Snyder said the consequences of using the Flint River for the city's drinking water weren't "fully understood," Genesee County Commissioners recommended that people not use the water unless it first goes through an approved filter at taps.

Legislators take action to fix Flint water supply

Detroit Free Press, October 1, 2015

LANSING — The Michigan Legislature is beginning to take notice of the ongoing controversy surrounding Flint's water system, which has been plagued by problems with discoloration and foul smells since the city disconnected from the Detroit water system and began pulling its water supply from the Flint River.

The state Senate approved a supplemental appropriations bill that included a $100 placeholder while the state looks for a solution to the water issue.

Our Editorial: Get Flint residents drinkable water

Detroit News, October 1, 2015

It doesn't matter if official reports say Flint's water is safe to drink. If residents turn on the tap and the water that comes out is oddly colored — or any color but clear — and stinky, they aren't going to drink it. Nor should they have to.

Flint water customers have been complaining about the smell, taste and color of their water since the spring of 2014, after the city cut its ties to the Detroit Water system and started treating and delivering its own supply.

MLive, October 1, 2015

FLINT, MI — Local, state and federal officials are set to announce a plan for addressing concerns with lead in Flint's drinking water at a news conference Friday, Oct. 2.

An advisory from the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality said leaders will announce the plan at 1:30 p.m. at Kettering University.

Flint resident: Water looks like urine, smells like sewer

Detroit News, October 1, 2015

Flint — The questionable quality of the city's drinking water made headlines again this week, but not much of it has been news to Ashley Holt.

For almost a year, the water from her faucet has looked "like urine," smelled "like the sewer" and, if you're brave enough to sip it, hasn't tasted "normal," the 25-year-old Flint resident said. It's why she's limited for months how often her children — ages 5, 6 and 12 — come in contact with it.

Who's to blame for Flint's water crisis? Virginia Tech researchers points the finger at MDEQ

Michigan Radio, October 1, 2015

Yesterday, Gov. Rick Snyder admitted that the decision to switch the city of Flint's water supply from Detroit's system over to the Flint River was not well planned.

"In terms of a mistake, what I would say is, is there are probably things that were not as fully understood as when that switch was made," Snyder said.

At the direction of the state-appointed emergency manager, the city made the switch in April 2014, and problems with the drinking water started soon after.

Don't drink Flint's water, Genesee County leaders warn

MLive, October 1, 2015

GENESEE COUNTY, MI — Don't drink the water. That's one message Genesee County officials are pushing to residents who get their water supply from the city of Flint.

Genesee County Commissioners Brenda Clack, Jamie Curtis and Bryant Nolden, along with Genesee County Health Officer Mark Valacak, held a news conference Thursday, Oct. 1, urging residents to not drink the city's water until it is checked for lead or they have installed an approved water filter.

Flint mayor to state: Approve plan "as fast as humanly possible" to help keep lead out of water

Interlochen Public Radio, October 1, 2015

Flint hasn't been using any corrosion-control method since it switched from Detroit's water system in April 2014. Corrosion-control treatment helps keep lead out of drinking water. Since the switch, more kids are showing up with elevated levels of lead in their blood.

Flint Mayor Dayne Walling says he wants to put corrosion-control treatment back in place, but he needs state approval first. The state says it's going to take a little while to implement.

An ACLU of Michigan investigation has found a stream of irregularities in Flint's water tests

ACLU Michigan, September 14, 2015

Despite claims by city and state officials that the water supply in Flint is safe to drink, independent expert tests have conclusively shown that the city's residents are being exposed to dangerously high levels of lead.

Given those findings, the question now is: How were the city and state able to produce test results that showed the city was in compliance with federal drinking water standards?

Residents reach boiling point over Flint's water woes

NBC 25 News, October 1, 2015

FLINT, MI — Flint's water woes reached a new flood stage as protesters and security guards clashed at the Flint Farmer's Market Thursday afternoon. Punches were thrown, words were exchanged, but nothing has changed.

Multiple agencies have issued warnings to stop drinking Flint water because of high amounts of lead. City of Flint Public Works Director Howard Croft says the city relies on the guidelines from the Department of Environmental Quality for its testing.

MEDIA MONITORING REPORT

10/01/2015

Issues:

- Several Flint area media outlets are reporting that the Michigan Legislative Black Caucus is asking Gov. Rick Snyder to declare a "state of emergency" to open federal assistance for Flint's water issues. No local state of emergency has been declared by Genesee County.

Summary:

- Almost a week after news broke that more Flint kids have been lead poisoned, two weeks after state data confirmed that lead levels in Flint's water had spiked, more than a year after residents first noticed something was hinky with the water coming out of their taps, Gov. Rick Snyder has publicly acknowledged that Flint's water supply "appears" to have problems.
- The consequences of using the Flint River for the city's drinking water weren't "fully understood," Gov. Rick Snyder said Wednesday as he again pledged to take action later this week in response to significant levels of lead.
- Water is on the minds of every voter in the upcoming mayoral election in Flint.
- Fewer and fewer people are paying their water bills in Flint.
- Flint hasn't been using any corrosion-control method since it switched from Detroit's water system in April 2014. Corrosion-control treatment helps keep lead out of drinking water. Since the switch, more kids are showing up with elevated levels of lead in their blood.
- The Michigan Legislative Black Caucus is putting pressure on Gov. Rick Snyder to issue a state of emergency for the city of Flint's water problems.
- A long-time Flint tavern is offering free drinks, both alcoholic and non-alcoholic, for water donations.
- Donations have started to pour in -- some from across the state -- after the Flint School District requested bottled water for students because of a local lead advisory.
- If you have concerns about what may be in your city water, City of Flint officials want you to know you can get your water tested for free.
- Governors up and down the East Coast are warning residents to prepare for drenching storms as flooding killed one person Thursday in South Carolina.
- Disaster assistance would benefit from oversight through regular federal evaluation so Congress should consider creating an independent, external oversee of the American Red Cross, according to a new report by the Government Accountability Office (GAO).

- The Department of Homeland Security is demanding the return of a $32.4 FEMA grant awarded to a Houston hospital to repair damages from Hurricane Ike in 2008 after a new audit revealed most of the grant money had been misused.
- Weather across the state: Cool with highs in the 60s, rain possible this weekend.
- TV/Radio Reports: Flint water issues.

Analysis:

- Flint water issues continue to escalate. Members of the Michigan Legislative Black Caucus are asking for the Governor to declare a "state of emergency" for assistance.
- Social media chatter is mobilizing under the #flintwater and #waterworries hashtags on Twitter.
- We will continue to closely monitor the situation.

Kaffer: Snyder finally says lead in Flint water may be a problem

Detroit Free Press, Sept. 30, 2015

Almost a week after news broke that more Flint kids have been lead poisoned, two weeks after state data confirmed that lead levels in Flint's water had spiked, more than a year after residents first noticed something was hinky with the water coming out of their taps, Gov. Rick Snyder has publicly acknowledged that Flint's water supply "appears" to have problems.

Publicly, because despite his office's repeated efforts to downplay the severity of the situation, an anonymous water-filter distribution to Flint residents shepherded by Snyder's office earlier this month, suggests that privately, the governor may have understood that something was amiss in this impoverished town.

It's a welcome, if weak, concession from Snyder.

Gov. Rick Snyder: Consequences of using Flint River water weren't 'fully understood' in 2014

Associated Press, Sept. 30, 2015

FLINT, Michigan — The consequences of using the Flint River for the city's drinking water weren't "fully understood," Gov. Rick Snyder said Wednesday as he again pledged to take action later this week in response to significant levels of lead.

Separately, The Flint Journal reported that Snyder's office worked with a donor last month to arrange 1,500 water filters for Flint, which were distributed free to people by churches. The governor's involvement was never publicized, the newspaper reported, because pastors said they were told to stay quiet.

"If the water was OK, why would the governor work with someone to provide the filters?" the Rev. Alfred Harris told the newspaper. "I think the state working with the private donor is an admission the people needed some help."

City's water woes may play big role in upcoming mayoral election

WNEM-TV 5 (Saginaw), Oct. 1, 2015

FLINT, MI (WNEM) -

No doubt about it. Water is on the minds of every voter in the upcoming mayoral election in Flint.

"Flint's water problem is the number one issue that everyone is talking about," said Flint Mayor Dayne Walling.

Numerous problems with Flint River water have plagued the vehicle city since 2014. Now residents are living with high amounts of lead in their tap water.

Many of those people have pinned the blame on Walling including former emergency manager Darnell Early.

In a statement he said he was only implementing the plan laid out by the mayor and city council and said the decision to switch to Flint River water was made long before he became EFM.

Walling disagrees.

"The decision about the flint river was made by prior emergency managers. It was before the time of Darnell Early, he's accurate on that point. But city council and I were just simply not involved," Walling said.

Walling's opponent, Karen Weaver, paints a much different picture.

"He wants to say that it wasn't his decision to do that," Weaver said. "Well, if it wasn't, he sure never spoke out about it not being his decision. He was the one that said it was fine. He was the one that said we could stay with the flint water. He was the one that said brown water was OK to drink."

Fewer Flint water customers are paying their bills

Michigan Radio, Oct. 1, 2015

Fewer and fewer people are paying their water bills in Flint.

Flint's water bill collections are down by $1.75 million since a judge issued an injunction in August rolling back rates and ordering an end to disconnections.

Judge Archie Hayman ruled that Flint illegally raised rates by 35% in 2011.

In his order, the judge told the city to roll back the rate hike on future bills, stop disconnecting customers who are delinquent on the bills through August 2015, and stop placing liens on property owned by delinquent customers.

The water bills with the new rate schedule went out this month.

Flint mayor to state: Approve plan "as fast as humanly possible" to help keep lead out of water

Stateside with Cynthia Canty (Michigan Radio), Sept. 30, 2015

Flint hasn't been using any corrosion-control method since it switched from Detroit's water system in April 2014. Corrosion-control treatment helps keep lead out of drinking water. Since the switch, more kids are showing up with elevated levels of lead in their blood.

Flint Mayor Dayne Walling says he wants to put corrosion-control treatment back in place, but he needs state approval first. The state says it's going to take a little while to implement.

"One of my requests to (Michigan's) Department of Environmental Quality director is that (approval) be accelerated as fast as humanly possible," Walling said.

"Whatever decisions are coming next, we need that corrosion control in the water treatment process that we have now," he said.

Walling was a guest today on Stateside with Cynthia Canty.

Flint water woes seep into city, state politics

The Detroit News, Sept. 30, 2015

Flint — The questionable quality of the city's drinking water made headlines again this week, but not much of it has been news to Ashley Holt.

For almost a year, the water from her faucet has looked "like urine," smelled "like the sewer" and, if you're brave enough to sip it, hasn't tasted "normal," the 25-year-old Flint resident said. It's why she's limited for months how often her children — ages 5, 6 and 12 — come in contact with it.

But following last week's revelation that Flint children are showing higher amounts of lead in their blood, the situation has escalated for her cash-strapped family.

In a city where 41.5 percent of the population is below the poverty line, a lack of money is the reason Holt was walking instead of driving downtown this week to pick up her children from school. She scrambles to find enough to buy them bottled water.

"The only option I've got is just to not drink the water and stick with pop and juice," Holt said. "(I) go to the store and get a gallon of water a day, if I can afford it at the time."

The hardships experienced by residents here are having public health and political ripple effects that are being felt from city hall to the governor's office. Gov. Rick Snyder said Tuesday he could unveil "more action steps" as early as the end of this week.

Legislative Black Caucus urges state of emergency for Flint water

MLive, Sept. 30, 2015

FLINT, MI — The Michigan Legislative Black Caucus is putting pressure on Gov. Rick Snyder to issue a state of emergency for the city of Flint's water problems.

The organization announced in a Wednesday, Sept. 30, release that its members are concerned about the residents of Flint and lead exposure from the city's water.

The release cited blood samples from Genesee County children that show lead levels have increased since the city severed ties from the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department and began using water from the Flint River last year.

According to the release, state Rep. Sheldon Neeley, D-Flint, is working with local, state and federal officials to find solutions and resources.

"Issuing a health emergency is the most responsible thing to do," said Neeley, first vice chairman of the Legislative Black Caucus. "This is a public health crisis, and our children are most at risk. We urge Gov. Snyder to issue the state of emergency so the city of Flint can get immediate monetary relief."

If Snyder declares a state of emergency, the city could gain access to federal funding, the caucus said.

Flint tavern offering free drinks for water donations

MLive, Sept. 30, 2015

FLINT, MI -- A long-time Flint tavern is offering free drinks, both alcoholic and non-alcoholic, for water donations.

A Facebook post from the West Court Street bar reads as follows:

"Let's bring clean water to Flint Schools!

Starting today through Friday (Oct 2) - Bring in a case of water between 4 and 7pm, receive your favorite drink on the house*! All donations will be delivered to Durant Tuuri Mott Elementary School. Thank you for your support!

*Qualifying beverages include beer bottles, draft beer, wine, liquor (single pour) and all non-alcoholic beverages."

Chris Poulos, an owner at the West Court Street bar, said his daughter put up the post after they came up with the idea upon hearing about other donation drives taking place in the city.

"I hope to be able to deliver them 20, 25 cases next week," he said, with the business in the process of making some changes to their filtering system for everyday use.

Water donations start to pour in for Flint schools after lead advisory

MLive, Sept. 30, 2015

FLINT, MI – Donations have started to pour in -- some from across the state -- after the Flint School District requested bottled water for students because of a local lead advisory.

The city and county have issued lead advisories related to the city's drinking water. A recent study by a Hurley Medical Center doctor says infants and children are being found with elevated levels of lead in their blood since the city switched to using the Flint River as its water source.

On Monday, Superintendent Bilal Tawwab asked for the community to donate bottled water to aid the cash-strapped district, which has stopped using tap water in the buildings.

The Flint School District is in the midst of a $16.4 million deficit and all of its spending is guided through its deficit elimination plan.

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, the district received more than 4,000 bottles of water from the 1st Congregational United Church of Christ in Kalamazoo.

How to get your water tested in Flint

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, Sept. 30, 2015

FLINT (WJRT) - (09/30/15) - If you have concerns about what may be in your city water, City of Flint officials want you to know you can get your water tested for free.

Mike Glasgow, utilities administrator for the City of Flint Water Plant, tells ABC12 more than 250 people have asked to get their water tested just in the past week.

If you're worried about Flint treating the water, this fact might give you some peace of mind.

"We don't do any of the testing here. We're kind of acting as a middle man just to pay and fill out the all the paperwork for the residents to get this testing done," Glasgow said.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Hurricane Joaquin could add to rainy mess along East Coast

Associated Press, Oct. 1, 2015

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - Governors up and down the East Coast are warning residents to prepare for drenching storms as flooding killed one person Thursday in South Carolina.

The rains could cause power outages and close roads in a region already walloped by rain. Hurricane Joaquin's approach could intensify the damage, but rain is forecast across the region regardless of the storm's path.

"Our state has seen the damage that extreme weather can cause time and time again - and I am urging New Yorkers to take precautions for more heavy storms in the coming days," New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo said in a news release Wednesday.

Red Cross Targeted in Federal Oversight Legislation

The Nonprofit Times, Sept. 16, 2015

Disaster assistance would benefit from oversight through regular federal evaluation so Congress should consider creating an independent, external oversee of the American Red Cross, according to a new report by the Government Accountability Office (GAO).

The 57-page report released today was in response to a request by Rep. Bennie Thompson (D-Miss.), ranking member of the House Committee on Homeland Security, to examine the agency's involvement in disaster relief. The Washington, D.C.-based, federally-charted nonprofit has come under fire in recent months after stories by NPR and ProPublica have raised questions regarding its effectiveness in response to disasters such as the 2010 Haiti earthquake and Hurricane Sandy in 2012.

Evaluation of the Red Cross could be performed by a federal agency such as Department of Homeland Security (DHS), by an Inspector General (IG) office such as the DHS IG, or by a private research firm under contract to a federal agency, according to the report's recommendations.

Thompson also has introduced legislation today that would require audits at least once every three years by the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA), Homeland Security Inspector general, and USAID Inspector General; annual reports by DHS to Congress about its partnerships with the Red Cross; and the Red Cross to provide information on its website about how to contact the Office of the Ombudsman.

Houston hospital squandered $32.4M FEMA grant meant for rebuilding after hurricane: report

The Washington Times, Oct. 1, 2015

The Department of Homeland Security is demanding the return of a $32.4 FEMA grant awarded to a Houston hospital to repair damages from Hurricane Ike in 2008 after a new audit revealed most of the grant money had been misused.

Officials at Riverside General Hospital could not account for Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) grant funds when it spent $17.6 million of the $32.4 million, according to the report from DHS' Office of Inspector General released Wednesday.

Hospital management used the money to pay for normal operating expenses, legal fees, federal taxes, insurance, gift cards, a new grant management system and fire alarm repairs — all unrelated to the 2008 hurricane damage, the audit said.

"This is an unconscionable misuse of Federal disaster resources. The entire amount of this grant should be recovered to protect these funds from further abuse," Inspector General John Roth wrote in a statemen

FLINT WATER

Rep. Neeley asks attorney general to investigate Flint's water worries

ABC 12, September 29, 2015

LANSING (WJRT) - (09/29/15) - Democratic State Representative Sheldon Neeley is calling on the attorney general to look into issues behind Flint's water worries.

In a letter to Bill Schuette he asks that the attorney general's office "explore the many facets of this situation and the possible corruption surrounding the water problems plaguing the City of Flint to determine if there have been improprieties and maleficence committed against this historical community".

Neeley serves the 34th District covering Flint.

Read his full letter by checking out the document with this story.

High lead levels in Michigan kids after city switches water source

NPR, September 29, 2015

Doctors are finding elevated levels of lead in the children in Flint, Mich., and local tap water is the likely cause.

That's the latest alarming news to come out of the city, which switched its water source about a year and a half ago.

A pediatrician with Hurley Medical Center analyzed lead levels of hundreds of children. She compared blood tests before and after April 2014. That's when Flint, unable to come to an agreement on a short-term contract with Detroit, quit buying water from its system, and signed on with a new system that will draw water from Lake Huron.

Gov. Snyder says action coming on Flint's water woes

Detroit Free Press, September 29, 2015

LANSING — Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder said Tuesday the drinking water situation in Flint is a serious issue and he expects the state to come forward with "action steps" by early next week.

Snyder did not answer directly when asked if he thinks the drinking water in Flint is contributing to elevated lead levels in children there.

But he told reporters "a large team of people" in state government is working hard on the Flint drinking water issue.

"During the course of the week or early next week we hopefully will be coming out with more public action steps," some of which are already under way, and others to be implemented, Snyder said.

Governor helped hush-hush delivery of water filters to Flint pastors

MLive, September 29, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Gov. Rick Snyder quietly helped deliver 1,500 water filters to Flint last month -- even as state officials gave assurances that the city's tap water was safe and meeting all regulatory standards.

Dave Murray, a spokesman for Snyder, confirmed that the filters, distributed by the Concerned Pastors for Social Action, came from a "corporate donor that does not wish to be recognized but cares deeply about the community."

Genesee County joins city in issuing health advisory on lead in Flint water

MLive, September 29, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Genesee County has issued a public health advisory for people using water supplied by the city of Flint because of concerns about lead.

County Board of Commissioners Chairman Jamie Curtis said Tuesday, Sept. 29, that he hopes the advisory helps get the attention of Gov. Rick Snyder and expedites reconnecting Flint to the Detroit water system.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Snyder in talks on resettling Syrian refugees in Mich.

Detroit News, September 29, 2015

Lansing — Gov. Rick Snyder said Tuesday his administration is in talks with the federal government about resettling refugees from war-torn Syria in Michigan.

Snyder disclosed the discussions are underway Tuesday while addressing the first meeting of the Commission on Middle-Eastern American Affairs the governor created earlier this year.

Terrorism response is part of the lesson at Crossroads Village

MLive, September 29, 2015

GENESEE TWP, MI -- A group of Genesee County law enforcement officers swoop in with guns drawn after a suspect pops up from a tree line outside Crossroads Village Tuesday morning in Genesee Township.

The officers call out a plan to each other in the quaint village, one jumping on the radio, while another checks the suspect for weapons and two others reminding the group to look themselves over for potential injuries.

FEMA promotes emergency preparedness for National Preparedness Day

WSFA, September 29, 2015

HOUSTON CO., AL (WSFA) - Would you be prepared in case of a disaster?

FEMA is working with emergency management representatives around the nation to promote emergency readiness. Wednesday is declared National Emergency Preparedness Day.

Several tropical storms have been named so far, but none of them have posed a threat to land. We've received some rain at the most and a little flooding.

Santa Ana Winds likely to cause explosive wildfire season in Southern California

Emergency Management, September 29, 2015

(TNS) -- With thousands of homes burned and at least a half-dozen people dead, 2015 is already shaping up to be one of California's most challenging fire seasons.

But so far, much of the action has been in Northern California, where several destructive fires have marched through large swaths of drought-parched lands.

Now, the fire season moves to Southern California, which tends to have its biggest fires in the fall as Santa Ana winds kick up.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

Michigan AG Bill Schuette backs civil asset forfeiture reform package

MLive, September 29, 2015

LANSING, MI — Attorney General Bill Schuette, Michigan's top law enforcement officer, is backing legislation that would begin to reform the state's civil asset forfeiture laws, which allow police to seize property linked to a crime even if charges are never filed.

House-approved bills awaiting action in the Michigan Senate would not eliminate civil asset forfeiture entirely, but they would require more transparency by law enforcement agencies and increase the burden of proof required to keep seized property.

Former county administrator takes plea, will see jail time

Argus-Press (Owosso), September 29, 2015

CORUNNA — Former county administrator T.J. Clark agreed to a plea deal Monday that will see him spend at least 25 days in jail and pay $5,000 in fines and restitution for using a Shiawassee County government credit card for personal expenses.

Ingham County Deputy Chief Assistant Prosecutor John J. Dewane today said Clark agreed to plea to a charge related to safekeeping of public moneys for "using public money for personal use, contrary to state law."

Eight other charges against Clark were dismissed in exchange for the plea to the high court misdemeanor.

Clark will be sentenced at 9 a.m. Nov. 13 in 35th Circuit Court before Judge Matthew Stewart.

The agreement calls for Clark to receive 30 days in jail with credit for time served, to pay $2,500 in restitution to the county, and to pay $2,500 in fines and costs.

In addition, he will be placed on probation for a period of time at the judge's discretion.

Dewane, whose office was assigned the case by the Michigan Attorney General's Office due to a conflict of interest with the local prosecutor's office, said if the judge doesn't agree to the terms of the deal, Clark may withdraw his plea.

Clark, who was fired in December 2014, is accused of making hundreds of dollars of charges on a county-issued credit card that were outside the scope of county spending rules. Dewane said the purchases included electronics and hotel rooms that served no work-related purpose.

"What I could prove was less than $1,000, but there were enough questionable purchases so we could round it off to $2,500 (restitution)," Dewane said. "One of the goals in making a plea deal was restitution and I wanted to make sure Shiawassee County could get as whole as it could get."

In 2014, The Argus-Press reported, based on documents received via the Freedom of Information Act, that spending on Clark's county-issued credit card reached more than $10,700 between September and October 2014 — for both business and personal expenses.

At Clark's preliminary exam before 66th District Court Judge Terrance P. Dignan in June, defense attorney Michael J. Cronkright had argued other Shiawassee County officials had made similar charges and that there was "no published policy to tell when expenses are approved and when they are not approved."

County Board of Commissioners Chairman Hartmann Aue said today that the plea agreement proves otherwise.

"Since this started, we've looked at all the policies and procedures to see if there's something we can make more stringent, but fraud is fraud. The policies are in place, and we don't know who's going to abuse them. We had a bad apple, not a cultural problem," Aue said.

Since Clark's termination, the county has operated without an administrator, instead relying upon commissioners and department heads to fill the role. Aue said he would like to see a new administrator hired, but efforts to do so have been met with resistance from other commissioners.

"It's been difficult to get anything through, because rather than look for the validity or the positive factor the position can bring to the county, the commissioners see him (Clark)," Aue said. "It's watered down what we're trying to do."

According to Clark's profile on the social networking website LinkedIn, he has since moved to La Jolla, California, where he works as a real estate agent.

Clark's attorney could not be reached for comment.

Are state lawmakers running on your dime? Courser, Gamrat staffs weren't the only ones blurring that line

MLive, September 29, 2015

LANSING, MI -- Emails released as part of a House investigation of now-ousted Reps. Todd Courser and Cindy Gamrat show staff mix political and official work. But an MLive investigation found those blurred lines, far from being isolated to the offices of two members, trace throughout the Michigan House of Representatives.

The House as of Sept. 1 employed 426 staff members, costing taxpayers $18.3 million in fiscal year 2015. The average salary of a House staffer is $45,212.

In toxic Lake Erie algae battle, Michigan shows a sign of progress

MLive, September 30, 2015

MONROE COUNTY, MI — New data indicates that harmful algal bloom-fueling phosphorus in a Lake Erie tributary has been reduced by nearly 50 percent in the past seven years, a drop that state officials are attributing to conservation farming practices.

Jamie Clover Adams, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD), credited techniques like installing soil buffer strips and subsurface drainage controls at farms in the Western Lake Erie basin for the 49 percent total drop in phosphorus in the River Raisin since 2008.

Michigan works to rid Lake Erie of Phosphorus

The Toledo Blade, September 30, 2015

MONROE — Michigan is doing its part to reduce algae-growing phosphorus from its side of western Lake Erie, officials said during an all-day media tour Tuesday in southeastern Monroe County.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, the Michigan Department of Agriculture & Rural Development, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Natural Resources Conservation Service spelled out initiatives they say will help Michigan live up to its commitment for a 40-percent reduction in phosphorus discharges over 2008 levels by 2025.

FLINT WATER

Study suggests Flint's water causing increased lead poisoning

Michigan Radio, September 29, 2015

Last year, Flint ended five decades of service from the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department. The city's going to take its water from a new pipeline from Lake Huron, but that won't be ready until some time next year.

In the meantime, Flint decided that rather than continuing to pay for Detroit water, it would get its drinking water from the Flint River. Almost immediately after making that change, residents began complaining about the way their drinking water looked, smelled and tasted. There were issues with the chemicals used to treat the river water.

And now a study performed by pediatrician Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha of the Hurley Medical Center has found an increase in the number of Flint children who have been lead poisoned since the switch to the Flint River water.

Flint schools chief seeking water donations for students after lead warning

MLive, September 28, 2015

FLINT, MI – The Flint School District is seeking donations for bottled water for students following last week's decision to stop using tap water at the schools, the superintendent said.

Donations and support have already started pouring in, but it's not enough, Flint Superintendent Bilal Tawwab said Monday, Sept. 28.

Snyder urged to help Flint reconnect to Detroit water

Detroit News, September 29, 2015

Lansing — Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich urged Gov. Rick Snyder on Monday to help Flint switch back to Detroit's water system after medical researchers found elevated levels of lead in children who consumed water from the Flint River over the past year.

Ananich, a Democrat who represents Flint, said the city of 99,000 residents faces a "public health crisis" after pediatricians at Hurley Medical Center discovered higher levels of lead in the blood of Flint children tested since the city stopped buying drinking water from Detroit 18 months ago.

City of Flint considers tapping back into Detroit water

WNEM, September 29, 2015

FLINT, MI (WNEM) -The water faucet is off limits for 4-year old Kamari Gaines.

"Don't drink it, it's bad for you, spit it out," is what Darnella Gaines said she tells her son when he tries to drink from it.

Darnella Gaines isn't taking any chances as dangerously high levels of lead have been detected in the city's system.

"I just fear that if I let him drink it, he'll get sick," she said.

City restaurants address concerns over water

WNEM, September 28, 2015

FLINT, MI (WNEM) - Businesses are making adjustments to protect the health of their customers.

Tracey Whelpley owns the Lunch Studio. The eatery located in the heart of downtown Flint on Saginaw Street. Whelpley is like many in the Vehicle City concerned about the water coming out of her tap.

"I'm not letting any of them drink it right now until i know for sure that it's safe," Whelpley said.

Parents making adjustments after city water warning

WNEM, September 28, 2015

FLINT, MI (WNEM) - Neshiah Bradshaw and her mother Twila Bradshaw packed an extra item in her lunch box today: a water bottle.

This comes after the Flint school district told parents the water fountains are now off limits

"I pack her lunch every day," Twila Bradshaw said. "She don't drink Flint water period no more after this whole water thing, I just can't deal with it."

But asking parents to bring water bottles for their kids is putting a strain on some parents, especially on their wallets.

Governor says he's "working hard" to resolve Flint water problems

Michigan Radio, September 28, 2015

Governor Snyder says the state is "working hard" and doing its best to resolve Flint's water issues.

Recent tests have raised alarms about high lead levels in city water — and in some Flint children's blood.

Snyder wouldn't offer specifics about possible action, but he will soon.

"There's actions going on," he said. "But I think we'd rather make sure I can give you a longer list of the comprehensive actions we're taking sometime during the week."

State senator urges Snyder to help Flint switch water

9 & 10 News, September 29, 2015

FLINT, Mich. (AP) - Michigan Senate Democratic leader Jim Ananich is urging Gov. Rick Snyder to help Flint reconnect to Detroit's water system after doctors found high levels of lead in the blood of Flint children.

The Flint River has been Flint's water source since 2014. The water is treated, but is corrosive and causes lead to leach from old pipes and service lines. Snyder's administration has said the water meets state and federal standards.

Snyder must act on Flint lead crisis

Detroit Free Press, September 27, 2015

It's hard to understand the resounding yawn that seems to have emanated from the governor's office, following news that an increasing percentage of Flint kids have been lead poisoned after a switch in the city's water supply.

A spokeswoman for the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services sent a Free Press data analyst a chart she claimed would refute a report issued by a Hurley Medical Center researcher, who found that since the city started pumping water from the Flint River last April, the percentage of Flint kids with elevated blood-lead levels has more than doubled in some ZIP codes.

Flint mayor: We've talked to state about switching water

Elkhart Truth, September 25, 2015

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint students were told Friday to bring bottled water to school, while the mayor said he's talked to state officials about switching the water supply, the latest developments related to the risk of lead.

Mayor Dayne Walling acknowledged an increased risk from drinking water from the Flint River, the city's source since 2014. The water is treated, but it is corrosive and causing lead to leach from old pipes and service lines.

Ananich looking to Snyder, state for action in Flint

Gongwer, September 28, 2015

As the city of Flint continues to see problems with the safety of its water, and specifically with increased levels of lead in children, Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich is calling on Governor Rick Snyderand the state to assist.

"My constituents and I believe the state must act urgently to provide concrete solutions to the public health crisis in the city of Flint. In speaking with Governor Snyder and his key aides today, I stressed the need to work together on a number of initiatives that will ensure safe water for Flint residents," he said in a statement.

Mr. Ananich (D-Flint) continued, "My formal request included immediate and long-term solutions, including strong consideration for switching back to the Detroit water source until the Karegnondi Pipeline Authority project is complete. Anything less than an aggressive, comprehensive approach is simply unacceptable."

Mr. Ananich sounded the alarm last week when health professionals from area medical centers gave a presentation suggested that the water is having a direct impact on Flint's residents (See Gongwer Michigan Report, September 24, 2015). Flint began drawing water out of the Flint River as a cost-saving measure while under a state-appointed emergency manager. The city had previously drawn water from the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

The Karegnondi pipeline will eventually draw water from Lake Huron.

Mr. Ananich has set up a website where residents can go to get more information if they are concerned that they or their children have been exposed to lead from the water.

Snyder deputy press secretary Dave Murray said the governor has been and will continue to work with Mr. Ananich on the situation. He said the two spoke this morning about how the state can continue working with Flint city leaders, but the governor is still reviewing Mr. Ananich's suggestions.

"We deeply share the senator's commitment to making sure all state residents have access to clean and safe water. The governor and state agencies have been closely working with Flint leaders on their infrastructure challenges for months, including about providing $4.2 million in grants and restructured loan financing to provide resources needed to locate and fix infrastructure problems and add the carbon filtration system," Mr. Murray said.

"It's important that people have accurate information about their health and water. The Department of Environmental Quality and the Department of Health and Human Services are testing water and working with Flint residents on issues related to what they can do if they have concerns about the pipes in their homes," he said.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

DNR: Straits pipeline drill successful

ISurfPaducah, September 28, 2015

The Line 5 drill simulated a three-minute break that released about 4,500 barrels. The exercise included many operations involved in an emergency response to an oil spill including the creation of a Unified Command, establishing the incident planning, finance, logistics, and public information components, multi-agency coordination, and oil recovery strategies.

While at present no crude oil is transported by vessel on the Great Lakes, the legislation would write such a prohibition into federal law, turning back a number of plans to potentially ship oil by barges or tankers across the Lakes because of limited pipeline capacity. "The reason we come together and do an exercise is to make sure that we're testing the plan and making any improvements that need to be made so we can effectively respond to an incident".

Homeland Security ranks dead last in morale – again- but Jeh Johnson's morale is high

Washington Post, September 29, 2015

It has become a depressing ritual for Department of Homeland Security leaders: each year employee morale sinks further, and each year DHS does its best to put a good face on a seemingly intractable problem.

DHS Secretary Jeh Johnson engaged in the latest round of rallying the troops on Monday after the 2015 Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey again showed the department at the bottom of the pack. DHS ranked last among large agencies with a 53 percent "employee engagement" score and a 47 percent in "global satisfaction." That compared to engagement and satisfaction scores of 61 percent and 62 percent, respectively, in 2010.

As firefighting costs explode, fire prevention loses out

Emergency Management, September 25, 2015

(MCT) - Fighting wildfires isn't cheap, not with all the boots on the ground, the engines and dozers, the airplanes and fuel. And this year's fire season — which is shaping up to be one of the most destructive in the modern history of the West — is also on track to be the costliest.

That's a problem, particularly for those writing checks in Washington, who are having to move millions from one part of the federal budget to another to balance the books.

In a potentially dangerous paradox, the U.S. Forest Service, which covers the bulk of the nation's firefighting costs, is paying the tab in part by cutting programs that can limit the spread of wildfires in the first place, a top agency official said in an interview.

Democrats urge tax credits for families, students

Lansing State Journal, September 28, 2015

LANSING House and Senate Democrats on Monday unveiled a $1-billion proposal to expand tax credits and deductions for families and college students, saying it would help reverse a shift in taxes away from corporations onto the middle class.

House Minority Leader Tim Greimel, joined by Sen. Curtis Hertel, D-Meridian Twp. and Rep. Tom Cochran, D-Mason, called for new or expanded tax credits for dependent children, seniors, paying for child care or elderly care, home ownership, and college loans.

Democrats propose $1B in tax credits

Detroit News, September 28, 2015

Lansing — Democrats said Monday they plan to introduce legislation that would give an array of income tax credits for higher education, child care and home ownership to senior citizens and working-class families in Michigan.

Tabbed a "Blueprint for America's Families," the plan would be funded with $1 billion in renegotiated tax credits the state has granted to corporations for plant expansions and job creation during the past decade.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

Canadian high pressure building east into the Upper Great Lakes the middle of the week and then into eastern Canada the end of the week will bring a stretch of dry and cooler weather to Upper Michigan. As the

Lansing firefighter's funeral expected to draw thousands

Lansing State Journal, September 14, 2015

LANSING — Firefighters from around the country and Canada are likely to attend Wednesday's funeral for Lansing firefighter Dennis Rodeman at Michigan State University's Breslin Center.

"That's one of the reasons we're using the Breslin Center is because of how many people it holds," Lansing firefighter Steve Babcock said. "We want to leave the family in awe because it's all about the memories."

Emergency preparedness event held in Howell

WHMI 93.5 FM, September 13, 2015

Representatives from six local agencies gave presentations Friday night at the Masonic Lodge in Howell on how to be ready in case of disaster or weather emergency.

The Red Cross, Do 1 Thing, 911 Dispatch, Livingston County Sheriff, Emergency Medical Services and DTE offered suggestions to be prepared in many situations.

Organizer Jay Drick says the Masonic Lodge offered the event as a way to help the community. The community service project was a way to help friends, family and neighbors be prepared for the many disasters that happen in Michigan.

Bubonic plague case confirmed in Michigan

Detroit Free Press, September 14, 2015

A Michigan resident has contracted the rare, life-threatening bubonic plague — the first documented case in Michigan's public health history, state officials confirmed.

The Marquette County adult is recovering after apparently contracting the flea-borne illness during a trip to Colorado. Officials are reassuring the public there is no cause for alarm, despite the disease's connection to the microorganism that caused the Black Death plague in Europe in the 1300s, killing millions and reshaping history.

Michigan resident diagnosed with plague, state's 1st case

Sun Herald, September 14, 2015

LANSING, MICH. — Michigan health officials say they have confirmed the first case of the plague by a Michigan resident.

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services said Monday a Marquette County resident is recovering after being treated for the bubonic plague. The resident recently returned from an area of Colorado that had reported plague activity.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

Warm late summer weather will continue for the next few days. Although temperatures will fall back to around normal late this week after a cold front passes, warmer weather will develop again early next week. The passing cold front will bring the best chance of showers and thunderstorms Thursday night.

Gaylord

Warm today and a little more humid than Monday. Dangerous swim conditions will exist once again on Lake Michigan today...and will probably continue on Wednesday as well. Next threat for rain is on track for Thursday night through Saturday.

Detroit

High pressure will keep dry and quiet weather over the area through the week. Temperatures will climb above 80 degrees across all of southeastern Michigan for each of the next three days. These daytime temperatures will be some 10 degrees above mid September averages.

Grand Rapids

Expect another pleasant early fall day with warm readings and plenty of sunshine. High temperatures will top out around 80 at most locations, which is about 5 degrees above normal. A southwestly breeze of 10 to 20 mph will cool it off just a bit. Large waves and dangerous currents are expected on Lake Michigan today from roughly South Haven northward where 3 to 6 foot waves will be found.

Northern Indiana

A stationary high pressure system centered over the eastern U.S. will continue to provide mild conditions across our area over the next couple of days. Highs today will be around 80 with lows tonight in the 50s. The next chance of showers is late this week as a cold front moves across the area.

AUG. 2 SEVERE STORMS

Leelanau County debris drop-off site closing

UP North Live, September 11, 2015

The debris drop-off site in Leelanau County is now closing more than a month after the Aug. 2 storm devastated the area.

The site located at Myles Kimmerly Park (1397 W. Burdickville Road, in Maple City) is closing Saturday Sept. 12.

"This is our final push," said Matt Ansorge, Leelanau County Emergency Management Coordinator. "If you have tree debris from the August storm, take it to the drop off site. After Saturday, the site will be closed to the public."

Leelanau County debris site to close

Record-Eagle, September 11, 2015

TRAVERSE CITY — Saturday is the last day for Leelanau County residents to drop storm debris at a collection site in Maple City.

Residents can continue to drop off debris at Myles Kimmerly Park on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., said Matt Ansorge, the Leelanau County emergency management director. They can also pick up free wood and wood chips until that time.

Leelanau County debris drop-off site closing Saturday

9 & 10 News, September 11, 2015

Cleanup from last month's storm is winding down in Northern Michigan.

The debris drop-off site in Leelanau County will close Saturday.

The site is at the Myles Kimmerly Park in Maple City.

On Friday crews worked to break down all the debris left from the storm.

Northern Michigan emergency response team trains at Camp Grayling

Up North Live, September 11, 2015

The Northern Michigan Mutual Aid Emergency Response Team, which is essentially northern Michigan's SWAT team, held a training at Camp Grayling Friday.

The training involved responding to two different scenarios. One of them involved a mock shooter that simulated shooting a police officer and two people in front of a building. The other involved a mock scenario where a soldier came home, was diagnosed with PTSD, and fired shots in a home with his wife inside.

Michigan State announces new one-button emergency system

WXYZ, September 11, 2015

EAST LANSING, Mich. (WXYZ) - Michigan State University is launching a new emergency system on Monday that is quicker and more efficient.

It's a one-button system, that will enable the MSU Police Department to send phone, e-mail, text and Facebook messages within minutes.

State of emergency declared in Northern California blaze; thousands flee

USA Today, September 14, 2015

Two fast-moving fires have scorched more than 100,000 acres in Northern California, killing at least one person, forcing thousands to flee their homes and injuring firefighters struggling to contain the flames.

California Gov. Jerry Brown declared a state of emergency Sunday in Lake and Napa counties after the Valley Fire, which started Saturday afternoon northwest of Sacramento, continued to grow. That fire had burned at least 50,000 acres as of Sunday, according to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, or CalFire.

Tip line lets California residents report irresponsible drone pilots

CBS Sacramento, August 21, 2015

SACRAMENTO (CBS13) — After more than a dozen instances of firefighting operations being slowed by drones in the air, California is giving the public a chance to report irresponsible drone users.

"It's much like a crime tip line where if you know something about a crime that has occurred or have information that might help investigators, same thing except this applies to people who are irresponsibly operating drones," said Kelly Huston.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

Michigan State leaders release statements on Courser Gamrat exits

WILX, September 11, 2015

Leaders from around the state of Michigan have released statements on the resignation and expulsion of former Representatives Todd Courser and Cindy Gamrat. The Michigan State Police will be opening an investigation into the possibility of criminal activity by the pair, in an attempt to hide their extramarital affair.

Gov. Rick Snyder:

"I support the Michigan State Police in opening an investigation into any criminal activity by state Reps. Courser and Gamrat as requested by the Legislature in House Resolutions 141 & 145. This matter needs to be resolved and an investigation by MSP will provide even further clarity. I hope this investigation helps bring closure to the issue for all involved."

The latest: Special election set to replace 2 lawmakers

New York Times, September 11, 2015

EAST LANSING, Mich. — The latest on Michigan lawmakers embroiled in an extramarital affair cover-up (all times local):

4:40 p.m.

Special primary and general elections will be held Nov. 3 and March 8 to replace two Michigan lawmakers forced out of office for attempting to conceal their extramarital affair.

Lt. Gov. Brian Calley announced Friday that the elections will coincide with already-scheduled elections to minimize costs. The general elections in the 80th and 82nd House districts will occur the same day as Michigan's presidential primary.

Michigan legislature: Gun, abortion bills introduced

Detroit Free Press, September 12, 2015

LANSING — While most of the Legislature's attention was focused on expulsion hearings for two lawmakers, representatives and senators still managed to introduce 68 new bills in the first full week of their fall session after being off most of the summer.

And the hot-button issues were predominant: from banning abortions after 20 weeks to closing the open carry loophole in Michigan's gun laws.

Legislators also proposed exemptions for religious officials who refuse to perform marriages based on religious objections and comprehensive sex education in schools.

The final lesson from whatever this was: End term limits

Gongwer, September 11, 2015

I am old. I am cranky. I am cynical. Yet, I still am possessed with a sense of wonder and awe and simple adoration. I marvel at the night sky, at the dawn breaking over the ocean's horizon. I delight in a baby's laugh and am a sucker for videos of puppies and kitties.

And for the first time in more than 40 years of observing, reporting, analyzing and yes, respecting Michigan government and politics, I sat Thursday and into Friday slack-jawed, eyes wide as saucers, my brain a cauldron of synaptic overuse in wondering awe at whatever the bloody hell was going on at the Michigan House of Representatives in regards to expelling – or maybe not – Rep. Todd Courser (R-Silverwood) and Rep. Cindy Gamrat (R-Plainwell).

CYBERSECURITY

Energy Dept. computers breached 159 times since 2010: Report

Washington Times, September 10, 2015

Department of Energy computers have been breached more than 150 times in the past five years, a new investigation reveals, once again raising questions about the vulnerability of critical government networks amid a wave of attacks.

Documents obtained by USA Today through Freedom of Information Act requests indicate the department's systems were attacked 1,131 times between 2010 and 2014.

Where next for government cybersecurity?

Emergency Management, September 11, 2015

Everyone in America remembers where they were on September 11, 2001. As we think back over the years, there have been physical attacks thwarted and numerous close calls.

Over the past few years, the number of serious online incidents impacting national security has skyrocketed. We live in a far different online world today than most people imagined back when the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) wasformed back in 2003.

And while the DHS leadership team has changed, the cyberthreat landscape has also grown dramatically, along with a new determination to strengthen our digital defenses. Meanwhile, The OPM data breach and several Whitehouse data breaches have propelled cybersecurity to the top of national security priority list.

Environmental groups pledge to continue the fight against a 20-year license extension for DTE Energy's Fermi 2 nuclear power plant despite a ruling Tuesday.

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission overturned a request from three environmental groups — Don't Waste Michigan, Citizens Environmental Alliance of Southwestern Ontario, and Beyond Nuclear — requesting a hearing challenging DTE's application.

Hazardous waste facility in Detroit wants to expand, neighbors want more information

Michigan Radio, September 11, 2015

Plans to expand a hazardous waste facility have sparked worries from residents in a Detroit neighborhood.

The US Ecology facility site has been processing and temporarily storing hazardous waste on Detroit's east side for decades.

That includes toxic chemicals and other byproducts from nearby industrial facilities.

Michigan unique in Clean Water Rule debate due to 1984 wetland program

MLive, September 14, 2015

LANSING, MI — Has the new, hotly-debated federal Clean Water Rule issued by the Obama Administration taken effect in Michigan?

Short answer: Yes, but it's complicated.

The long answer, say officials, involves a unique state and federal partnership on the books since 1984 that insulates Michigan, to a degree, from the feared regulatory hurdles and expanded bureaucracy that opponents to the new "Waters of the United States" definitions have seized upon as a rallying cry.

State DEQ to answer questions about Flint's water woes

Michigan Radio, September 14, 2015

The head of Michigan's Department of Environmental Quality plans to respond Monday to a demand for answers about Flint's water woes.

Last week, State Sen. Jim Ananich, D-Flint, state Rep. Sheldon Neeley, D-Flint, and state Rep. Phil Phelps, D-Flushing, senta letter to DEQ director Dan Wyant demanding answers to a list of questions about the safety and treatment of Flint's drinking water.

Ananich says the public needs answers to growing concerns about the quality of the city's tap water.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

Marquette

Late summer warmth will be the rule through at least the middle of the week with high temperatures in the 70s to the lower 80s. The next potential of showers and thunderstorms will arrive Wednesday over western Upper Michigan, but the better chance of precipitation for all of Upper Michigan will hold off until Thursday.

Gaylord

Warm and dry weather is expected across northern Michigan through midweek. High waves are expected to result in an enhanced risk for rip currents and dangerous swimming conditions on northern Lake Michigan today and Tuesday.

Detroit

Surface high pressure will migrate from the mid Mississippi River Valley to the Carolinas by late Tuesday. The influence of this surface high pressure will be felt through much of the week as humidity will be slow to arrive. Temperatures will warm each of the next few days with temperatures above 80 degrees expected Wednesday and Thursday.

Grand Rapids

Published on: 09/14/2015 at 5:38AM

Pleasant early fall weather is expected today with sunny skies and near normal temperatures in the middle 70s. It will be breezy, with southwest winds of 15 to 25 mph. A few gusts around 30 mph are expected, especially towards Lake Michigan. Large waves and dangerous currents will make for hazardous swimming conditions Today through Tuesday at Lake Michigan beaches. Largest waves are expected from Holland north up the shore where 4 to 8 foot waves are forecast from this afternoon into Tuesday morning.

Northern Indiana

Abundant sunshine and temperatures in the 70s today may make you want to head for the beach. You may want to rethink that today as south winds will increase to 15-20 mph with some gusts to 25 mph this afternoon and early evening. This will cause waves along the shores of Lake Michigan will build to 3-5 feet before slowly subsiding this evening. Life threatening waves and currents are expected at the beaches in Berrien and LaPorte counties. People visiting the beaches this afternoon and Saturday should stay out of the water! See our beach forecast page at www.weather.gov/greatlakes/beachhazards for more details.

The United States Army Corps of Engineers has developed a typing standard for PODS. These types are Tier II resource typing definitions and, although accepted throughout most of the nation, are not yet nationally recognized.

The smallest of the PODs is a Type III. A Type III POD serves 5,000 people a day based on one vehicle representing a household of 3 people. A Type III POD is 150 feet by 300 feet and requires a staff of 19 per day and 4 per night.

A Type III POD has three loading points and only one vehicle lane.

Pastor Ellison, Harris, and Overton,

Below is a list of churches that have volunteered to be Church Distribution Hubs. I had direct contact with the pastors and their point of contacts. I have also conducted site assessments at their facilities.

It was conveyed to them that this initial plan was a collaborative effort, and may change with input from all parties involved.

It was discussed, and agreed that the HUB churches would network with the surrounding churches, and set up their own agreed upon distribution schedule. It was requested that the HUB church provide a list of churches that are obtaining their water from the HUB church. This list can be sent via email to Lt. Roach at Roachb@michigan.gov.

Hopefully this plan will further assist and augment our initiative of getting water to our residents more efficiently.

Request for Water

At this time the Church HUB point of contact is Lt. Roach The Church HUB will call and provide the quantity of water, and schedule the delivery time. This should be scheduled at least 24 hours in advance.

Deliveries

The deliveries will be conducted by a Mi DTMB driver, and truck. They have a pallet jack and the capability of moving pallets from their truck to a staging area. If the water needs to be transported to an upper or lower level, there needs to be people to assist off-loading.

Church Distributions

The Church Distribution HUB would be responsible to network with the surrounding churches, and set up a distribution schedule, along with amounts of water needed.

Tomorrow morning is good.

I'm editing the description for the closing statement to make it live tonight.

I also created a playlist for Flint videos so we can house them there once they're ready to go.

Thanks again!

Hi Eric,

Thank you for editing these! We reviewed them and have a couple changes, if possible.

For the lengthy Captain Kelenske video, is it possible to remove the first 20 seconds and start with his statement "The process..." He pauses just before this statement so hopefully this will work and it removes the stumble portion.

For Dr. Wells' video, is it possible to edit out the portion 1:32-1:47 (or around there) to remove the issue with the call on hold? Maybe a brief fade to help transition?

No changes to the closing statement.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Tuesday, Jan. 5, 2016

Editor's note: A copy of the official declaration is available at the link below.

Gov. Snyder declares emergency for Genesee County

State Emergency Operations Center activated to assist with relief efforts

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today declared a state of emergency for Genesee County due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

By declaring a state of emergency, Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations. The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) to coordinate state efforts.

"The health and welfare of Flint residents is a top priority and we're committed to a coordinated approach with resources from state agencies to address all aspects of this situation," Snyder said. "Working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, we will find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents."

In addition to the emergency declaration, Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center to coordinate state response and recovery activities. State agencies will report to the center to coordinate resources, assess the situation and begin providing assets to assist with local relief operations.

"Our staff recognizes the urgency of this situation and is already working closely with local officials," said Capt. Chris A. Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the MSP/EMHSD. "We will continue to collaborate with state, city and county leaders to coordinate relief efforts, streamline communication and use all available resources to help residents."

On Jan. 4, Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency," which activated local emergency response and recovery plans. By requesting a governor's declaration, the county has determined local resources are insufficient to address the situation and state assistance is required to protect public health, safety and property to lessen or avert the threat of a crisis.

The city of Flint has been under a local emergency declaration since Dec. 14, 2015.

The SEOC is the emergency operations center for the state of Michigan. Located in Lansing, the center is overseen by the MSP/EMHSD and coordinates response and recovery efforts by state agencies and local government. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in the state of Michigan.

- The SEOC is working in close coordination with the local Emergency Operations Center to streamline communications, coordinate response efforts, and ensure the efficient use of resources.
- As part of the emergency management process, local and state agencies are sharing information using the Michigan Critical Incident Management System, known as MI-CIMS, which is an online system to share timely and accurate information.
- Bringing all state resources to bare; need more info before determining if Stafford Act request will be made
- Process of local EOC and SEOC coordination; tried and true system in place

Current Actions/Priorities

- Water distribution system process and needs
- Filters- where distributed, needed, GIS
- Deploying additional EMHSD personnel to the local EOC; DC engaged with locals from the onset
- Coordinate local/state action plans
- Damage assessment of infrastructure
- Public can call 211 for assistance needs- filters

JIC moving to Flint?

Will the Governor request a Presidential Declaration under the Stafford Act?

- Because infrastructure issues are unlikely to be declared disasters through the Stafford Act, other options must be examined for assistance, like through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (Community Development Block Grants), the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, the Environmental Protection Agency, or legislative action.

State of Michigan Joint Information Center Now Operational

LANSING, Mich. – Today the State of Michigan launched its Joint Information Center (JIC) to coordinate public information from the State Emergency Operations Center, set up to help with health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water. The emergency operations center was activated after Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County on Jan. 5.

Public information and updates, including resources for residents such as how to obtain free water filters and lead testing, are available at www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

The JIC will serve as the state's central communications hub for this emergency and is staffed by public information officers (PIO) from several state agencies. Hours of operation will be 9 a.m. – 5 p.m., Monday – Friday, until further notice.

It is operating out of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division in Lansing. State officials have been in contact with Flint and Genesee County officials to move the JIC to the city of Flint to better partner and coordinate with local agencies.

The declaration makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency" on Jan. 4, activating local emergency response and recovery plans. By requesting a governor's declaration, the county has determined local resources are insufficient to address the situation and state assistance is required to protect public health, safety and property to lessen or avert the threat of a crisis.

The city of Flint has been under a local emergency declaration since Dec. 14, 2015.

Michigan's State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC)

In the event of an emergency or disaster, response and recovery efforts may require resources and assistance from multiple state agencies. Depending on the situation, the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) may be activated to facilitate the coordination of all state agency activities and resources ensuring an effective and efficient state response. The Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) is responsible for overseeing the SEOC. During activation, the SEOC is typically staffed by members of the MSP/EMHSD, state agencies, nonprofit organizations, as well as other entities that may be involved in the situation.

Governor Jennifer M. Granholm today announced that the state has partially activated the state's Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) and the Joint Information Center (JIC) in its efforts to protect citizens and provide information on the human outbreak of swine flu being reported around the country.

Our primary focus remains ensuring public health and safety by providing the public with the most up-to-date information and precautionary measures.

State Emergency Operations Center

- The SEOC is partially activated as a precautionary effort to ensure a collaborative response to any future swine flu cases.
- The SEOC is partially activated, rather that a full activation, because there is not a Governor's emergency declaration and no anticipation for a Governor's declaration.
- The State Emergency Operations Center is staffed by members of several state agencies to monitor the ongoing situation with local, state and federal agencies.
- The SEOC coordinates response and recovery efforts of state agencies and local government.
- The Michigan Department of State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division oversees the SEOC.
- The last full-activation of the SEOC was following the blackouts in 2003.
- The SEOC was partially activated and the Joint Information Center was fully operational in response to the Influenza A (H1N1) outbreak in April and May, 2009.

Joint Information Center

- The purpose of the Joint Information Center is to serve as the state's central communications hub.
- The JIC is staffed by public information officers from the various state agencies.
- JIC staff are responsible for gathering, monitoring and disseminating information to keep the public aware of any and all developments relating to the outbreak.

There are common-sense steps everyone can take right now to avoid spreading any type of influenza, including:

- Avoid close contact with people who are coughing or otherwise appear ill.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth.
- Wash hands frequently to lessen the spread of respiratory illness.
- As always, people with respiratory illness should stay home from work or school to avoid transmitting infections, including influenza, to others in the community.
- People experiencing severe symptoms, including cough, fever, fatigue, sore throat, chills, headaches, body aches, along with possible diarrhea and vomiting, should contact their physician.

Chelsea, there's a chance Tiffany will be working away from the office parts of next week so you may want to get with her on Friday for anything you/she need for the Recognition Ceremony.

I'll be available via email and cell if you need anything.

Also, Jessica is on annual leave on Friday.

I told him about all the information on the web site, but he still wanted a simple document prepared and just have the website noted at the bottom. Do we already have something like this prepared?

You can use these documents to write the memo. I don't think we need to attach them to the memo, although it wouldn't hurt to share them with Mike and Dave so they have some background for situational awareness.

At this time, the state is focused on abating the immediate crisis with the water supply in the City of Flint.

If so, will the support come in the form of professional development or grant funding? The state will be working with a number of federal, state, and local resources and partners to assist the children of Flint.

- Does the department know of other districts, past or present, in the state that face similar challenges with a potentially high number of children with levels of lead in their blood entering or already enrolled in the school system? We are not aware, at this time, of any other school districts that are facing similar challenges.
- Will the state provide extra funding to the Flint Community Schools for water purification systems, or offer some other type of assistance to help allay fears that parents and students may have? (I would leave this response up to the JIC)

Martin,
Is the state Department of Education developing a response to the Flint water crisis and its potential fallout? Numerous studies detail the significant negative consequences of lead toxicity on learning and educational attainment.
I have a number of related questions:

- Is the state preparing for the possibility of increased special education enrollment in the Flint Community Schools, and charter schools in the city, for developmentally delayed students and the costs that would come along with that?
- Will the state provide support to the Flint Community Schools, and charter in the city, as they work to identify children suffering from developmental disabilities due to high levels of lead in their blood? If so, will the support come in the form of professional development or grant funding?

I spoke to Laura and gave her an update on our actions. She asked about the status of a Pres declaration and I advised locals are still gathering damage assessment info, identifying specific needed resources to submit to state, etc. I confirmed FEMA liaisons are here and state is making free resources available to residents (filters, water, water testing kits) that do not require a Pres declaration.

I'll be working tomorrow. Let me know if you need anything from us.

The state government is working closely with the city of Flint, Genesee County and community groups as part of a coordinated effort to disseminate bottled water, water filters and home water testing kits to get safe, clean water into the hands of Flint residents. All of these will be available seven days a week at locations throughout the city, with additional information being released on Saturday.

The state government has been distributing free filters and replacement cartridges since October, and that work is ongoing. As of Thursday, 11,587 filters and more than 1,700 replacement cartridges have been distributed through the state Department of Health and Human Services, and thousands more through local partners in the community. Part of the emergency response is to begin mapping homes where filters have been distributed so far, the first steps in a plan to go door-to-door, if necessary, to make sure people have the devices and that they are installed properly.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/8/16

SitRep 3 attached.

There is a significant difference in what is being presented by the media and what the local EOC is relaying to us at the SEOC. It is also being driven by the media that this is a state versus local response (who is providing more and quicker versus a coordinated effort between all). That said, I advised SEOC personnel that perception is reality in some eyes and we are to move forward to address items that typically are addressed at the local level. I have ordered the SEOC open all weekend due to make the quick wins that we need and continue to get the coordination and collaboration in place that is needed (but make gains on our own as needed).

Items to Note

- Two FEMA LNO's arrived today and are in the SEOC. A third LNO was requested from FEMA due to some unique issues with this event to include having to deploy more or my staff to the local EOC to get more structure and/or find out why there is an issue with the message the media is showing versus what we are hearing from the local EOC.

- We finally received from the local EOC 8 locations (we were told originally early in the week they had 80-90) that are their Points of Distribution (PODs) for water in conjunction with the local food bank. The PODs are not getting water from the food bank even though the food bank has water. We are going to resolve this issue as we can help deliver the water to the PODs but we were not aware of this. 8 PODs is not enough locations if water needs to be distributed to citizens. Speaking with the ARC Regional Administrator later today, I believe ARC got water to those locations but I need to confirm that in the morning. The food bank reported they had 376 cases of water.

- We have learned that a low number of residents are testing their water when DEQ can test 400 kits per day. This is an added focus that we believe can be increased through dissemination of test kits with the filters and any water.

- I found out the Mayor was okay with using fire stations as distribution points for water, filters, and water test kits. While this did not come to me through the local EOC, I advised we needed to get water, filters, and test kits to these locations for tomorrow. The distribution at 5 Flint Fire Department stations has been coordinated to be in place by 10:00 am tomorrow morning.

    - DTMB has provided a truck and driver to pick up water test kits from DEQ lab in Lansing, water from the Food Bank and water filters and replacement cartridges from GCARD in Genesee County.
    - 10 American Red Cross (ARC) volunteers will meet the DTMB truck at GCARD at 9:00 am to be provided information about filters. Instructions will be included in water test kits. They will then report to the 5 fire stations to assist in distribution of resources to the public and track addresses of same.
    - Residents will be told where they can drop off their water test kits, or that they can return them to the fire station the next day. Coordination will occur on pick up of water test kits daily to be taken to the Flint City Hall, who will then delivery them to the DEQ testing lab.

- STILL FINALIZING - We have made available 2,000 Filters for distribution on Sunday as parishioners leave mass/services. This will be 200 filters for 10 churches in Flint. While this is a small number of churches, we do not want to waste an opportunity to hand out filters and this seems like a quick way to so. The filters will be put on the DTMB truck on Saturday for delivery to TBD locations for distribution. Logistics remain undetermined as I am still waiting on a list of the churches, pastors/reverends/hours or services/etc. The DTMB truck will be returning to Lansing approximately 11:00 a.m. so we need to finalize this quickly on Saturday. We may utilize ARC to assist with this.

- The Recovery branch is working with the JIC to develop a door hanger card. DTMB is working on the printing portion of the hanger card. Recovery will also be finalizing logistics over the weekend for neighborhood canvasing to occur early next week. 40 volunteers have signed up to attend training on Monday afternoon to complete this task. The mission will be to deliver water sample kits along with water filters/replacement cartridges, and water.

- It appears that 211 has become overloaded. DHHS is researching ways to increase capacity for calls.

- A Volunteer Management Coordinator is in the Genesee County EOC as of today.

- A Donations Management Coordinator has been requested and she will be in the Genesee County EOC Saturday.

- DHHS had a conference call with GM today; they indicated they can provide cash, and supplies, but primarily manpower. No commitments were made at this point. We inquired as to availability of warehouse space and trucks. It was left as GM being a major resource pool that we can tap into as we determine missions. Further conversations will occur, but primarily GM just wanted us to know they are there if needed.

- An additional EMHSD staff member was sent to the Genesee County EOC to act as Operations Section Chief and obtain awareness of the situation there.

- GIS staff met with various parts of Genesee County/Flint personnel to try to get a handle on data available.

- GIS continues to work with local GIS personnel with three GIS staff going to Flint today to work with them. GIS staff is working with U of M on how best to proceed with digitizing water lines for long term recovery.

UPDATE 1/7/16

A summary of some of today's SEOC activities is provided below. Attached is the following:

- Today's SitRep which contains more information than below.
- The resource request/task assignment sheet for your situational awareness. This is how locals request resources as well as how we track resources and any assignments and/or tasks that are to be completed.
- JIC Task Tracking – for your situational awareness on how we are tracking requests and assignments. Once someone is assigned a task or resource request it allows them to document what work has been or will be done as shown at the bottom of the document.

Items to note:

- I received a document this evening from Genesee County which appears to be damage assessment information. Analysis of this will occur tomorrow. It appears to be infrastructure and costs to fix it and no other impacts.
- I spoke with Jamie Curtis, Genesee County Commissioner, this evening. A very good relationship is in place with him, especially with our District Coordinator (DC). I also have our DC working on developing stronger relationships with the Mayor/Mayor's office.

- GIS staff continue to obtain data and work with County and City personnel to get a picture of where resources have been provided, need to be provided, as well as infrastructure locations (pipes) that could be affected.
- Personnel and agencies have been tasked with developing a plan to get people in the community to deliver information, hand out filters, etc. This would target those areas we are showing minimal or no filter distribution based on the data we are collecting. The plan is to get them in the field by Tuesday and the plan will be provided to me tomorrow.
- Filters can be obtained at the following locations:
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 125 E. Union St., Flint, MI 48502
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 4809 Clio Road, Flint, MI 48504
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 2727 Lippincott, Flint, MI 48507
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 601 N. Saginaw, Flint, MI 48502
- Conducted briefing with local EOC and county executive.
- Conducted briefing with state agencies (daily updates).
- Began work to schedule legislative/congressional conference calls. Tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday.
- JIC continued to develop messaging.
- Provided input to local EOC regarding best methods of identifying health and non-structural impacts for damage assessment process.
- Deployed two EMHSD/SEOC liaisons to assist the local EOC.
- Published the Incident Action Plan and continued assignment of objectives/tasks.
- FEMA Liaison Officers just arrived in Lansing to assist command and general staff.
- I spoke with Harvey a few times and he should have talking points later tonight or tomorrow a.m. for his use and also for others who may speak to media outside of state government who may benefit from our messaging.
- We held a media round table at 1 P.M. at the SEOC. Dr. Wells and I spoke and answered questions to numerous media outlets.
- Local agencies and NGOs continue to provide water and filters to citizens.
- The website, www.michigan.gov/flintwater, was update with information and links to assistance to include 211. Additional recommendations were provided to include information on the testing water in homes.

EMHSD GIS:

Accomplished Today:

- Reproduced Socio-Economic Status Map
- Reproduced Predicted Affected Populations Map
- Cleansed old data and reports for water filter distributions
- Created draft map of water filter distributions (Refinement needed before releasing final product)
- Scheduled on-site visit with Flint GIS Department and Genesee County GIS Department
- Formatted databases to host content

- Researched service line database creation and scheduled meeting with U of M Flint to discuss timelines and resource needs
- Generated water infrastructure map (does not include building service lines)

Tasks for Tomorrow:

- Meet with Flint City GIS
- Meet with Genesee County GIS
- Meet with U of M Flint GIS
- Finalize water filter distributions map
- Finalize plan for data distribution methods

UPDATE 1/6/16

A summary of today's SEOC activities is provided below. I tried to distill this as best I could but there has been a lot of activity and discussion to get an accurate assessment of the situation. Attached is the final draft of objectives and tactics for the operational period and agency situation report (SitRep) which has more SEOC agency information. I have implemented weekly operational periods.

Advise if you want anyone else copied or off this distribution.

Daily Update

- Set goals for SEOC and identified response/recovery emphasis
- Requested FEMA liaison officers (LNO) from FEMA Region V. Two LNOs will be on site by ~3 p.m. 1/7/16. Both are known contacts to me and some staff and one has worked extensively with me during the SE MI flooding in a command and control position. These personnel have been specifically tasked with this mission. THEY ARE NOT HERE TO ASSIST WITH A PRESIDENTIAL DECLARATION REQUEST BUT TO ASSIST ME.
- PIOs from multiple agencies were here and established the Joint Information Center (JIC). News released pushed out on this. I am very happy with the PIO work and movement toward coordinated messaging.
- Held briefing for State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators, which included presentations from DEQ and DHHS subject matter experts to ensure situational awareness and to develop a common operating picture.
    - I opened the briefing by identifying our initial goals, items to think about while subject matter experts were briefing us, and how we are to move forward, find quick wins, and regain trust.
    - MDHHS – Elevated Blood Lead Levels
        - Dr. Elizabeth Wells gave an in depth summary of lead poisoning and what has occurred in terms of health monitoring throughout the Flint crisis.
    - MDEQ – Water Testing Protocols
        - Mr. George Krisztian of MDEQ gave an in depth summary of the testing protocols and summary results that as they have developed throughout the emerging crisis.
- Developed Incident objectives, strategy and tactics (see attached)
- Identified SEOC and state agency staff positions

- Assigned work tasks for SEOC operation period from 0800 January 6, 2016 to 1700 January 8, 2016
- Reviewed planned actions, prepared final draft Incident Action Plan
- Made contact with the Genesee County Emergency Manager first thing in the morning and held a conference call mid-day to discuss roles. Daily 0830 command conference calls with local EOC command staff starts tomorrow. Tomorrows call will include the County Commissioner and the City Administrator (both invited). Topics include the incident action plan objectives and establishing better local coordination, command and control to facilitate integration with the SEOC. The local EOC is not functioning as it needs to with personnel and local coordination and we are working on that issue.
- I will be in Flint tomorrow for a 2 p.m. media round table with local officials that was set up by the JIC.
- The attached initial objectives will be updated at least every operational period and as needed. I listed the objectives below but the tactics to accomplish them is in the attached if you want further information.
  1. Activate the State Recovery Task Force (SRTF).
  2. Establish and maintain coordination between the City of Flint, Genesee County, state and federal agencies, and appropriate medical experts.
  3. Obtain and maintain situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
  4. Establish SEOC operational period and hours of operations.
  5. Investigate and identify all available programs for assistance with direct or related impacts, including the federal Lead Pipe Replacement Program.
  6. Develop a comprehensive GIS strategy.
  7. Coordinate response and recovery activities with MIVOAD and identify potential mission areas.
  8. Establish and coordinate routine communication between SMEs and coordinate technical assistance among state agencies and to local agencies.
  9. Provide technical assistance to the local Damage Assessment process.
  10. Establish a Joint Information Center (JIC) and develop a public information strategy.
  11. Monitor MI CIMS for resource requests and address as appropriate.
  12. Establish and disseminate cost center information for the incident.
- Additional tasks include:
  - Determine what federal agencies are already involved and their status
  - Identify potential water supplies
  - Determine where affected homes are located, where filters/pitchers (and replacements) were installed/provided, and determine who needs filters, etc.
  - Determine how filter distribution is handled, and if it can be handled more efficiently and effectively
  - Determine what mechanisms are in place for nutrition supplementation

EMHSD GIS Accomplishments:

- Hosted a conference call to begin coordination with Flint City and Genesee County GIS departments and the SEOC
- Established a daily call with county and city GIS personnel to synchronize GIS efforts in support of the Flint water crisis at 8:30 A.M.
- Began consolidating local data from local GIS practitioners into a consolidated database, to include:

    - Water Pipeline Locations
    - Filter Distribution Locations
    - November 25, 2015 Water Monitoring Results (Partial, some data remains to be digitized)
    - Affected School Locations
    - Predictive analysis of blood lead levels for affected area
    - Updated Parcels
    - Demographics
    - Block Groups
- Produced a map for the filter distribution locations
- Began contacting specialists who developed historic maps depicting the Flint Water Crisis to obtain the data

Subject: Update - Genesee County Declaration

Below are some key points for your situational awareness (FYSA) that have taken place or will take place within the next 15 hours.

- I was on the phone with Sean Kammer, Assistant to the Flint City Administrator, when the declaration hit the news so I advised him immediately. He was going to let the City Administrator know.
- I contacted MSP Lt. Roach, 3rd District Coordinator, who was at the Genesee County EOC and advised her to let the County EM know the declaration status.
- State Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMCs) were notified via our notification system with additional information in an email.
    - This included information on the SEOC activation and a 0900 briefing for SEMCs.
    - Some subject matter experts will provide us an update to establish a common operating picture.
- We have been in contact with FEMA Region V watch desk ... they will be on the call tomorrow and continue to monitor the situation.
- I have been in contact with the FEMA Region V Administrator to keep him updated.
- Operational period for the SEOC will be M-F, 0800 to 1700 at this time.
- Situation Reports (SitReps) will be provided in the evenings.
- An Incident Action Plan will be developed tomorrow.

Call me with any concerns or questions.

Subject: SEOC Update 1/8/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/8/16

SitRep 3 attached.

There is a significant difference in what is being presented by the media and what the local EOC is relaying to us at the SEOC. It is also being driven by the media that this is a state versus local response (who is providing more and quicker versus a coordinated effort between all). That said, I advised SEOC personnel that perception is reality in some eyes and we are to move forward to address items that typically are addressed at the local level. I have ordered the SEOC open all weekend due to make the quick wins that we need and continue to get the coordination and collaboration in place that is needed (but make gains on our own as needed).

Items to Note

- Two FEMA LNO's arrived today and are in the SEOC. A third LNO was requested from FEMA due to some unique issues with this event to include having to deploy

- STILL FINALIZING - We have made available 2,000 Filters for distribution on Sunday as parishioners leave mass/services. This will be 200 filters for 10 churches in Flint. While this is a small number of churches, we do not want to waste an opportunity to hand out filters and this seems like a quick way to so. Recovery will also be finalizing logistics over the weekend for neighborhood canvasing to occur early next week. 40 volunteers have signed up to attend training on Monday afternoon to complete this task. The mission will be to deliver water sample kits along with water filters/replacement cartridges, and water.

- It appears that 211 has become overloaded. DHHS is researching ways to increase capacity for calls.

- A Volunteer Management Coordinator is in the Genesee County EOC as of today.

Subject: Update - Genesee County Declaration

Below are some key points for your situational awareness (FYSA) that have taken place or will take place within the next 15 hours.

- I was on the phone with Sean Kammer, Assistant to the Flint City Administrator, when the declaration hit the news so I advised him immediately. He was going to let the City Administrator know.
- I contacted MSP Lt. Roach, 3rd District Coordinator, who was at the Genesee County EOC and advised her to let the County EM know the declaration status.
- State Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMCs) were notified via our notification system with additional information in an email.
    - This included information on the SEOC activation and a 0900 briefing for SEMCs.
    - Some subject matter experts will provide us an update to establish a common operating picture.
- We have been in contact with FEMA Region V watch desk ... they will be on the call tomorrow and continue to monitor the situation.
- I have been in contact with the FEMA Region V Administrator to keep him updated.
- Operational period for the SEOC will be M-F, 0800 to 1700 at this time.
- Situation Reports (SitReps) will be provided in the evenings.
- An Incident Action Plan will be developed tomorrow.

Call me with any concerns or questions.

Paul,

Below is the news release I mentioned. I've made sure you will receive all releases moving forward.

Capt. Chris Kelenske made a request on January 6 to the FEMA Region V Administrator in Chicago for two FEMA Liaison Officers to assist the state with disaster response and recovery efforts. Captain Kelenske has been communicating with the two Liaison Officers since January 6, who have been in the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) since January 8. In addition, a third Liaison Officer arrived in the SEOC on January 9 at the request of Captain Kelenske.

Water resource sites established in Flint with bottled water, filters and testing kits
State and local officials coordinating resource distribution

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 9, 2016
Release #: 02
For more information contact: Joint Information Center: 888-EMD-TODAY (888-363-8632)

LANSING, Mich. – The State of Michigan has partnered with local officials in a coordinated approach to establish five water resource sites in Flint where residents can pick-up bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits.

The water resource sites are now open and will be open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Flint fire stations located at:

Fire Station #1

310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5
3402 Western Rd.
Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Rd.
Flint, MI 48507

"The water resource sites serve as a one-stop location where residents can pick-up all of the resources they need to ensure their drinking water is safe, including bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits," said Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management & Homeland Security Division. "The state continues to work in coordination with local officials to ensure the daily needs of residents are met."

Water filters and replacement cartridges continue to be available Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the following locations:

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office
125 E. Union St.
Flint, MI 48502

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office
4809 Clio Road
Flint, MI 48504

Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office
2727 Lippincott
Flint, MI 48507

Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office
601 N. Saginaw
Flint, MI 48502

Flint City Hall
1101 S. Saginaw St.
Flint, MI 48502

Residents who need transportation or any other assistance can call 211.

Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

In addition to the water resource sites, home water testing kits are available at Flint City Hall, the Flint Water Treatment Plant or Flint Fire Department locations.

Visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater or call 2-1-1 for more information.

I hope that I did not overlook this email on Friday, but I am requesting specific information,brief, that I can relay to my congregation on Sunday as it relates to allowing the Sheriff Department's workers to at least be able to deliver the water and filter system. I have an advantage to be able to hear discussions that you may not. Many, particularly the elderly, still fear the law. Now they are being told that some inmates are delivering the filters. So what do I say to allay the concerns to the citizens to at least feel safe opening the doors. I also fear that in some situations where there are incapacitated seniors, a caregiver who may not necessarily have their concerns as a priority, may take it and become a street entrepreneur.

Paul,

As an update, the Flint water resource sites will now be open until 9 p.m. daily, rather than 4 p.m. as initially scheduled. The hours are now expanded to be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. to help make the process of picking up water resources as convenient as possible for Flint residents. Available resources include free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits. Locations are available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

I wanted you to have this updated information tonight since you wrote an article on this topic earlier today (which I greatly appreciate).

We're also planning a media avail Sunday afternoon in Flint to discuss the water resource sites. We'll send an advisory in the morning with additional details.

Also, thanks for adding the information from our discussion to your article about the FEMA liaisons.

If you have any questions tomorrow, please call the Joint Information Center at 888-363-8632 or at jicnews@michigan.gov.

Frequently Asked Questions

Flint Water Situation and Declaration Process

What is a local state of emergency?

- The chief executive official of a community, like a mayor or county board chair, can declare a "local state of emergency" during an emergency or disaster. A local declaration enables a community to activate its emergency operations plans and administer local aid and assistance. Directives may be issued too.

- A local emergency declaration is not an automatic call for state or federal assistance. A local declaration is a mechanism to cope with an emergency or disaster.

- A local declaration typically complements the activation of a county's or a municipality's emergency operations center and public information operations.

Why does Flint depend on Genesee County for emergency declarations?

- The city of Flint has opted to be incorporated into the Genesee County Emergency Management program. The city has an emergency support plan that complements Genesee County's emergency operations plan.

- When the city of Flint exhausts its resources during an incident, they may call upon Genesee County for resources. It's a mutual agreement where both help each other out when it's needed most.

- The city of Flint's Fire Chief and Genesee County's Emergency Management Coordinator are designated as the officials to manage an emergency situation.

What is a Governor's declaration?

- When a designated Michigan Emergency Management Act program exhausts its resources during an emergency or disaster, they may request specific resources from the state of Michigan. Resources include contracts, equipment and personnel.

- All requests for a governor's declaration are submitted to the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division, which reviews the request and provides a recommendation to the Governor's Office. The Governor may approve or deny the request.

- The Governor can declare a "state of disaster" or "state of emergency" that makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

What state resources are available under a Governor's declaration?

- The Governor may provide state resources, like contracts, equipment, and personnel, to support and assist during the emergency or disaster.

- For the situation in Flint, state resources were deployed even before the disaster declaration. For example, the Michigan Legislature provided $9.35 million to lessen the threat of a catastrophe by reconnecting the city water to the Detroit Water and Sewer System. Funding was also provided for lead testing, case management for children with elevated blood levels, and water filters.

What is a Presidential declaration?

- When a state exhausts its resources during an emergency or disaster, a Governor may request assistance through the Stafford Act. Requests from Michigan are submitted to the President through the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Region V Office in Chicago.

- FEMA reviews all requests and provides a recommendation to the President. Ultimately, the President decides whether to make an emergency or major disaster declaration.

Is a Presidential declaration possible for the Flint water situation?

- A Presidential declaration requires a state to prove the incident is beyond the capabilities and resources of both local and state response and recovery efforts.

- A Presidential major disaster declaration provides long-term recovery resources after an emergency or disaster. Federal law and regulations define a major disaster as being any natural catastrophe, any fire, flood or explosion.

- A Presidential emergency declaration provides supplemental aide during an incident. Federal law outlines an emergency where federal assistance is needed to supplement state and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and to protect public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe. Up to $5 million in assistance is available. Amounts over that dollar figure require notification to Congress.

Will the Governor request a Presidential Declaration under the Stafford Act?

- All options are being examined for assistance, such as through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (Community Development Block Grants), the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, the Environmental Protection Agency, or legislative action. The Stafford Act is one mechanism to obtain assistance.

Talking Points

Flint Water Emergency Response

State of Emergency Declaration

- On Jan. 5, Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

- By declaring a state of emergency, Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

- The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) to coordinate state efforts.

- In addition to the emergency declaration, Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center to coordinate state departments, the state's response, resources, and relief and recovery activities.

- The SEOC is the emergency operations center for the state of Michigan. Located in Lansing, the center is overseen by the MSP/EMHSD and coordinates response and recovery efforts by state agencies and local government. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in the state of Michigan.

- On Jan. 6, the Joint Information Center was opened to lead the state's messaging and information response in coordination with the local Emergency Operations Center, Genesee County, and the City of Flint.

- The state of Michigan is working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, to find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents.

Background

- In response to elevated lead levels found in drinking water in the city of Flint, the state of Michigan is collaborating with local government, and water and health experts to protect the health of residents.

- On Oct. 2, 2015, Gov. Snyder released a comprehensive action plan to address elevated blood lead levels and lead rates in drinking water in the city of Flint. This plan included the following action steps:

    - Test Flint public schools drinking water, with testing also available at no cost to any other school in Flint.
    - Offer free water testing to Flint residents.
    - Provide free water filters to residents.
    - Expanded health exposure testing of individual homes.
    - Accelerate corrosion controls in the Flint drinking water system.
    - Accelerate water system improvements to address replacing lead service lines.
    - Expedite the completion of the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline.
    - Expand a Safe Drinking Water Technical Advisory Committee.
    - Named Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive for the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, as the Flint drinking water public health adviser.
    - Boosted a comprehensive lead education program to make sure residents have detailed information about how to protect themselves and their homes.

- On Oct. 16, 2015, the city of Flint reconnected with the Great Lakes Water Authority as the source of the city's drinking water until the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline is completed.

- On Oct. 21, 2015, Gov. Snyder announced the creation of the independent Flint Water Advisory Task Force charged with reviewing actions regarding water use and testing in Flint and offer recommendations for future guidelines to protect the health and safety of all state residents.

- The city of Flint declared a local emergency on Dec. 14, 2015, and partially opened their Emergency Operations Center.

- On Jan. 4, Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency," which activated local emergency response and recovery plans, and requested a governor's emergency declaration.

Next Steps

- As a result of the state of emergency declaration and the activation of the State Emergency Operations Center, the Joint Information Center will be coordinating the state's public information response and collaborating with the local Emergency Operations Center.

- Going forward, to better coordinate the health and safety of the residents of Flint and to ensure they are aware of and have access to the resources available within their community, the State Emergency Operations Center will serve as a central point of coordination between the local and state response efforts.

Water resource sites established in Flint with bottled water, filters and testing kits

State and local officials coordinating resource distribution

LANSING, Mich. – The State of Michigan has partnered with local officials in a coordinated approach to establish five water resource sites in Flint where residents can pick-up bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits.

The water resource sites are now open and will be open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Flint fire stations located at:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5
3402 Western Rd.
Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Rd.
Flint, MI 48507

"The water resource sites serve as a one-stop location where residents can pick-up all of the resources they need to ensure their drinking water is safe, including bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits," said Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management & Homeland Security Division. "The state continues to work in coordination with local officials to ensure the daily needs of residents are met."

MORE

Water filters and replacement cartridges continue to be available Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the following locations:

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office
125 E. Union St.
Flint, MI 48502

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office
4809 Clio Road
Flint, MI 48504

Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office
2727 Lippincott
Flint, MI 48507

Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office
601 N. Saginaw
Flint, MI 48502

Flint City Hall
1101 S. Saginaw St.
Flint, MI 48502

Residents who need transportation or any other assistance can call 211.

Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

In addition to the water resource sites, home water testing kits are available at Flint City Hall, the Flint Water Treatment Plant or Flint Fire Department locations.

Visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater or call 2-1-1 for more information.

NOTE:

A media availability is being planned for later today in Flint. Additional details will be provided once confirmed.

ALL MEDIA INQUIRIES ARE BEING HANDLED BY THE JOINT INFORMATION CENTER AT 888-EMD-TODAY (888-363-8632) or JICNews@michigan.gov.

All,

So you're aware, I've been asked to work in Flint beginning Monday in the Joint Information Center to coordinate public information. I'm not sure when I'll be back in the office (hopefully soon).

Shanon will be your point person in my absence. I've updated her on outstanding projects as best as I can remember.

Chelsea, please get with Shanon to review the ceremony program and letters for the Col. I sent her the draft program. Printed letters are still in my office (I think they're left of my keyboard). If Shanon's not in the office this week and you need urgent review, let me know.

Jessica, Linda will provide you with the action plans for MiResults. Shanon and Linda are also aware of Frank's request for verifying crime stats. Please follow up with Linda on Tuesday to see if she needs your assistance with this (I also sent you a separate email on this). You may also be asked to help with the metric forms due the 15th for the LPI firearms and Northville Lab projects. Linda has the form now. Please work on drafting the quarterly Gov objectives and Scorecard (priority over SP snapshots).

David, the Intranet homepage video will need to be updated to take down the appreciation video. Please discuss with Shanon. Ideas welcome! Forms will take a back burner, but please work with Shanon and Lt. Maike as needed on urgent forms or questions. Also, happy birthday in advance if I'm not in on Thursday.

My apologies if I missed anything.

Hope you have a good week.

Jessica,

So you're aware, I'll be in Flint this week. Not sure when I'll be back in the office.

I appreciate your assistance with working on the metric tasks in my absence. And thanks for monitoring emails on Monday.

For the SOS request, can you contact Wendy Easterbrook on Monday about her question with what the categories are to identify what the specific numbers represent? There's no top row in the chart that Frank sent to explain the number categories. Maybe check the PS Dashboard to figure this out? I'm giving Linda a heads up about the request. The info from Wendy and any changes need to be sent to Linda for review before going to Frank. If you can't work on this on Monday since you're out, please email Linda and explain the issue so she can contact Frank.

I won't be available this week to discuss your training dates, but we will make it work. Please contact Mary Beth Seppala with HR regarding the annual leave question. . Keep me posted as you learn more.

The first of these is scheduled for January 15th from 9-1:30 for SPSS Modeler training. The next is January 29th from 9-3 for SAS certification. Will this be an issue that we cannot work out or will we be able to work around this? I know there is a lot going on within the next two weeks and the next few months from the Action plan, to the Strategic plan phase III, the Scorecard and the Governors Objectives. So I will optimize my time in the office and use time out of the office in order to make the process of submission of these flow as smoothly as possible.

Linda,

So you're aware, I've been assigned to the JIC in Flint this week so I'll be out of the office.

F/Lt. Beth Clark sent me the attached LPI form thats due to OGG by the 15th. I have not had a chance to review this yet.

If possible, can you review this and get it to OGG? Jessica will be in the office on Tuesday and can assist with this and other metric tasks as needed.

I have not received anything on the firearms project yet.

I appreciate your help.

Subject: SEOC Update 1/10/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/10/16

Attached Documents:

* SitRep 5
* Door card (English version but Spanish version will be ready for Tuesday)

I have a local EOC section listed below but state personnel are heavily engage in management of both locations. We occasionally hit some road bumps with this event but all personnel are working well together to accomplish our goals (especially state agency personnel).

I have had good discussion with FEMA LNOs. Two statements have been developed from our discussions that hopefully helps put this in more context but if it is more confusing I apologize:

1. In the immediate response, the State, in collaboration and coordination with city of Flint and county of Genesee are working to get water, water filters, and testing kits to the affected population. In conjunction, the state will coordinate with federal agencies to ascertain what resources can come to bear to help mitigate the issue.

1. If asked about a federal declaration from FEMA, we need to articulate the definition of major and emergency declaration and state or note to ourselves that it appears to not qualify; however, there may exist opportunities to leverage federal assistance from some agencies (i.e....EPA) under their own authority to help address this issue.

· We need to really manage expectations on the potential for a federal declaration...not that we will not go after one but it will be difficult to get.
· A major disaster is defined in the Stafford Act as any "nature catastrophe (including hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, windriven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought) or, regardless of cause any fire, flood, or explosion.....causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude, to warrant major disaster assistance.....to supplement the efforts and available resources of States, and local government....."
· An emergency declaration is "is any occasion or instance for which, in determination .....assistance is needed to supplement State and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and protect property and public health and safety or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe....."
o This is limited to immediate and short-term assistance (I hate to put times on this but short-term is like 3 weeks), essential to save lives, protect public health and safety and property.
· Severity of the situation is "A finding that the situation is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capability the state and affected local governments, and that the state requires supplementary federal emergency assistance to save and to protect property....
· Nature of assistance for Emergency Declaration is for "Debris removal, emergency protective measures, direct federal assistance...."
o Debris Removal = self-explanatory and we do not have this o Emergency Protective measures = water, commodities, transportation (remember ... to supplement what the locals and state are already doing if we need more) o Direct federal assistance= what specific type of work is requested, and what are the reasons why the state/local government cannot perform or contract for performance. Essentially what is the need that state/local govt cannot provide. I can see this being something we need but we may be able to get this outside a federal declaration under the federal agencies own authority to help address this issue.

Back to the update...

Key items for tomorrow to note are:
· Training is occurring for the door to door teams scheduled for Tuesday morning.
· Deploying an additional MSP District Coordinator to the local EOC for command and control support.

· Deploying two DTMB trucks and two drivers for sustained logistical support for the week.
· Media event with the Governor in Flint.
· New Incident Action Plan starts (1/11 0800 -1/13 0800 operational period). Our objectives are as follows:

1. Ensure all households within impacted community have required resources.
2. Ensure accurate tracking and accounting of all commodities.
3. Improve and maintain public information strategy.
4. Develop a long term public health and services plan.
5. Ensure adequate staffing to support operational requirements.
6. Identify possible assistance programs.
7. Develop an approved GIS strategy.
8. Maintain coordination between partner agencies and organizations.
9. Enhance situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
10. Develop a comprehensive Recovery Plan.

Items to Note

· All 9 churches had filter systems/replacement filters, information sheets, and water test kits delivered as requested by each pastor/reverend on Sunday. We did not think we could get them water due to the limited time but we did end up getting water to all 9 churches with the other items.
· Fire station resource locations stayed open from 9a to 9p and will continue with those hours until further notice (Staffing is in place until Saturday). ARC is staffing these locations.
· The media event was held at Fire Station No. 1 and report back is that it went well and the spirit of collaboration between local, state, non-governmental partners is strong was relayed.
· The four door to door teams will have the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. o Each will have logistics support from DTMB, security from MSP, and contact personnel from DHHS.
o The door card is attached that will be left if no one is home.
· Worked to identify a storage location within the City of Flint for water and supplies. G-CARD is identified as temporary location but we are moving toward a state run warehouse operation (looking at private sector partners to assist, especially with the warehouse management side).
o GCCard is large enough, centrally located and comes staffed. GCCard has 75,000 sq ft with warehouse managers to assist with tracking resources coming in and out.
· GIS will provide us daily updates of how much was distributed each day but note we have a delay in data entry from delivery to entry in the GIS system. Over the weekend there was a problem locally with staffing to get this completed. A solution is in place and will be implemented so we get timely data. Distributed to date (as of 1/8/16).
o 12,386 filters
o 1,985 replacement filters o 354 Pitchers
o 2500 Lead Testing Kits
· Establishing and tracking of resources is a priority. Staffing has been assigned to get a good handle on these to ensure distribution sites maintain an appropriate level of inventory. I have requested trigger points get put in place so we do not get below certain levels in the main warehouse location.
o Contacts with some large water distributors have been made and their and our logistics chiefs will connect first thing this week.
o We have ordered an additional (expedited delivery with ETAs tomorrow)
§ 40,000 Brita Filters
§ 40,000 Brita Replacement Filters

§ 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
§ 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
§ 2000 PUR Replacement Filters
§ 93 Pallets of water (about 6700 cases)
· GIS continues to produce multiple maps for use.
· JIC Items
o Requested PSA on the radio. Media has been approved and working with MAB.
o Requested JIC to contact Comcast and Dish Network for availability for continuous running of filter install/replacement and test kit video.
o A news release will likely going out tomorrow regarding canvassing in neighborhoods. Continued social media messaging.
§ Tuesday – embed state PIO with one of the canvassing teams to liaison with media.
§ JIC moving tomorrow to Flint.

Local Emergency Operations Center

I am providing you some information on some issues we ran into at the PODs. This has been addressed with additional state resources and processes put in place so we do not run out of resources. Public concerns/complaints have not been brought to my attention at this time. Staff is working very hard to ensure we do not run out of supplies at the PODs and they understand the consequences. No one in the Local EOC or State EOC is happy the follwoing occurred and I felt you should know in case it is brought up. Again, I believe we have fixed this and I take full responsibility for any supplies not being on site.

Fire Station Inventory Levels:
Station 1:

* Only time without supplies - 15 minutes without water while the truck was unloaded.
Station 3:

* Ran out of replacement filters around 7:00, replacement filters delivered around 7:30. Had to pick up replacement filters from Home Depot and deliver.
Station 5:

* Ran out of water around 5:00, water was delivered around 6:30. We needed to find additional trucks because DTMB drivers were over hours. The ARC stepped up and found a truck to go and pick up a pallet of water and deliver.
* Somewhere between 4:00-6:00 they ran out of lead test kits. No way to restock these because City facilities were closed and could not reach anyone.
Station 6:

* Around 5:00 ran out of water, filters, and replacement kits. Replacement kits were delivered around 7:30. Additional water and filters were delivered after 9:00 due to the DTMB drivers heading back to Lansing. Food Bank was called and had to get drivers in to operate trucks, pick up water from the School District, load and deliver to all sites. Delays occurred with weather conditions and needing to use last minute sheriff EOC staff to load due to issues with City workers. City workers were scheduled to help and left around 7:00 without helping.
* 2 pallets of water were dropped off in the afternoon and within 1 hour were gone. This was much faster than we expected. On 1/9 they didn't go through 2 pallets of water at any station for the hours 9:00-4:00.
* We received news that a reverse 9-1-1 call notified residents of water which caused an unanticipated amount of people obtaining water. There was also a report of 1 person walking out with 2 cases of water and trying to sell in the parking lot.

Station 8:

* Around 7:00 ran out of filters and lead tests. Filters were delivered around 8:00 from the food bank trucks.
* Hourly reports were requested in the morning from volunteers but this information was not received as to the status throughout the day. Early inventory of supplies took between 1 hour-1.5 hours to receive in the EOC. We were not advised of low counts, just zero numbers.
* Reports received that the last couple of hours were slow.
* Residents were advised of the other sites and the opportunity to obtain supplies.

Restocking Plan

* United Way set up meeting with Food Bank to discuss.
* Had EOC meeting on this topic to discuss options.

Churches:

* All 9 churches received waters, filters, and informational bulletins.
* Lt Roach received positive feedback from 3 of the pastors.
* No complaints were received.

Signage:

* Provided information to SEOC on signage requirements at the fire stations.

Storage:

* Researched storage spaces; established temporary site at GCCARD.

Personnel:

* Lack of local EOC leadership (seems somewhat checked out) with IC and Deputy IC (doing an okay job).
* Captain TaFoya (Genesee County) helped tremendously today with all the plans outlined above and attended the press conference.
* Tina Martinez at the Food Bank and Matt Purcell at GCCARD were extremely helpful in getting last minute operations set up.

Update 1/9/16

SitRep 4 attached for more in depth information. The below only contains some items worked on today and while the format in the attached SitRep is not perfect (it is created automatically by MICIMS) it does contain a lot more information you may want to read. I also attached one of our maps. It is our filter distribution map. All filters handed out by anyone working with us feeds into this now. We are continuing to refine these and at this time there is a delay in the upload of address data but we are working on it. We have a ways to go to get filters in every home but this will help direct us to those who need still them. We also are working on identifying abandoned homes.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 9 churches will have ARC volunteers and filters for distribution. Some may also get water.
- 5 fire stations are a distribution point for water, filter systems/replacement filters, and water test kits. While only open today until 4 p.m., tomorrow and until further notice they are open from 9a to 9p.
- Media event will take place on the above tomorrow.

Items to Note

- 211 has some issues with call load but it is being worked on. 2-1-1 Director contacted MDHHS PIO to discuss/resolve caller wait times and messaging. We anticipate an increase in activity tomorrow in 211 calls so we requested and received an increase to staff 211.
- We are shifting tasks the SEOC took on that are handled more effectively and efficiently at the local EOC. We have established command and control in their EOC. We are running things there but that is not being made public. We are doing this in partnership but we are clearly handling the operation with state personnel oversight.

- A 3rd FEMA LNO arrived today upon my request. This has nothing to do with a Presidential request for a declaration but support for some other items I want worked on for long term recovery.

- We continue morning calls with the local EOC leadership and local emergency manager on what our goals for the day are as well as any issues/concerns.

- Five 5 fire stations have received water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits with American Red Cross personnel at each location to assist with delivery of resources and collection of addresses receiving them. These locations will be open from 9a – 9p daily until determined they are no longer needed. Those picking up water testing kits will be advised that they can return the test kits to the fire departments (where they will be picked up and taken to the Flint City Hall), the Flint Water Treatment Plant, or they can take them directly to the Flint City Hall. For those unable to return the kits, 211 can make arrangements for pick up the kits. We understand response to these sites has been positive thus far. The Genesee County EOC will be monitoring these supplies and request replacement of products as needed.

    - A call is going out tomorrow morning to advise this information … I do not believe it was every resident but Tori Sachs has that info if needed.

- I approved a press release today to advise the public that all levels are working together to ensure delivery of filters, test kits and water; noting that all of these items were delivered to the 5 Flint fire department stations. It was stressed that the public should be aware that the local and state agencies have been working cooperatively to assist the residents - and will continue to do so. This was done to hopefully end or at least minimize the "who can get water and filters out first" when all of this has been connected with the state and coordinated since the state declaration was put in place.

- The arrangement of 2,000 filters, to be taken to 9 local churches on Sunday, January 10, is ongoing. The filters have been secured; they are now in the possession of the DTMB. DTMB will return to Flint on Sunday morning to deliver these to necessary locations. The American Red Cross will be on site at each church to assist with distribution and recording addresses (for GIS). The local EOC is working to ensure these arrangements are complete and run smoothly. Future engagement with the faith based community will occur to assist with additional distribution.

- A Flint City liaison has not been in the EOC but starting Monday this will be in place to keep the Flint Mayor appraised of activities being conducted in the city. She also has been advised she can call me at any time if she needs anything.

- Training has been confirmed for the door-to-door operation scheduled to start Tuesday. Four teams are initially scheduled with more to potentially be put in place. These are the teams that will be handing out water, filter systems/replacement filters, test kits and information. If nobody is home, a door hanger with information is being left. DHHS personnel and one MSP trooper will be on these teams.
    - Training will take place at 1 p.m. on Monday afternoon at the DHHS office on Clio Road. DEQ and DHHS will provide the training.
        - Training is so those going door to door can explain what the filters do, how to install them, if they need install help to call 211 who has a list of people who can install the filters, and answer any other questions versus just handing them the filter.
    - Hours of operation will be Tuesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. AT THIS TIME. I am reevaluating these times to increase contact with someone versus just leaving information.
    - Logistics are being finalized for the teams and trucks to handle stocking and re-stocking of materials during daily operations.
    - GIS maps will provide guidance on deployment locations for these teams and other teams in the field.
- A pilot project at Freeman Elementary with LARA and DEQ has been initiated to see if replacing certain plumbing components in faucets at the school will drop the lead level.

MSP/EMHSD GIS Section Updates

Accomplished Today (January 9):

- Produced a Point of Distribution Map. Contains four types of distribution points; Churches, Water Resource Sites, Filter Distribution Sites, Water Distribution Sites.
- Produced Filter Distribution Map.
- Developed process of how best to handle geocoding the household filter locations, worked on processing the data.
- Worked on map of franchise customers outside of Flint City.
- Produced maps for MDARD on food establishments and Local Health Departments.

- Produced map of Church Filter Distribution map for DTMB.

Local Emergency Operations Center

- The state has deployed 10 personnel to the Genesee County EOC to ensure we have command and control at the local level. On 1/8/15 The state personnel took over the incident management functions of the Genesee County EOC (not public). The arrival of additional staff allowed the local Emergency Management Coordinator to delegate tasks which relieved a tremendous amount of stress.

- Additional Sherriff staff (2-positions) will be shadowing the state incident management team to allow for transition to the county personnel later in the incident when we are comfortable with them handling things. Not sure when that will be but we have secured a direct bill hotel for staff to stay in Flint as long as needed.

- With the additional staff, the Local EOC will be able to take over functions previously handled by the SEOC including:

    - Logistical activities to support church operations.
    - Logistical activities to support fire stations operations.
    - Coordinate Donations Management activities and draft donations management plan
    - Coordinate Volunteer Management activities
    - Identify local storage/staging facilities
    - Overall inventory tracking
    - Tracking of Points of Distribution (PODs)

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/8/16

SitRep 3 attached.

There is a significant difference in what is being presented by the media and what the local EOC is relaying to us at the SEOC. It is also being driven by the media that this is a state versus local response (who is providing more and quicker versus a coordinated effort between all). That said, I advised SEOC personnel that perception is reality in some eyes and we are to move forward to address items that typically are addressed at the local level. I have ordered the SEOC open all weekend due to make the quick wins that we need and continue to get the coordination and collaboration in place that is needed (but make gains on our own as needed).

Items to Note

- Two FEMA LNO's arrived today and are in the SEOC. A third LNO was requested from FEMA due to some unique issues with this event to include having to deploy more or my staff to the local EOC to get more structure and/or find out why there is an issue with the message the media is showing versus what we are hearing from the local EOC.

- We finally received from the local EOC 8 locations (we were told originally early in the week they had 80-90) that are their Points of Distribution (PODs) for water in conjunction with the local food bank. The PODs are not getting water from the food bank even though the food bank has water. We are going to resolve this issue as we can help deliver the water to the PODs but we were not aware of this. 8 PODs is not enough locations if water needs to be distributed to citizens. Speaking with the ARC Regional Administrator later today, I believe ARC got water to those locations but I need to confirm that in the morning. The food bank reported they had 376 cases of water.

- We have learned that a low number of residents are testing their water when DEQ can test 400 kits per day. This is an added focus that we believe can be increased through dissemination of test kits with the filters and any water.

- I found out the Mayor was okay with using fire stations as distribution points for water, filters, and water test kits. While this did not come to me through the local EOC, I advised we needed to get water, filters, and test kits to these locations for tomorrow. The distribution at 5 Flint Fire Department stations has been coordinated to be in place by 10:00 am tomorrow morning.

- DTMB has provided a truck and driver to pick up water test kits from DEQ lab in Lansing, water from the Food Bank and water filters and replacement cartridges from GCARD in Genesee County.

- 10 American Red Cross (ARC) volunteers will meet the DTMB truck at GCARD at 9:00 am to be provided information about filters. Instructions will be included in water test kits. They will then report to the 5 fire stations to assist in distribution of resources to the public and track addresses of same.

- Residents will be told where they can drop off their water test kits, or that they can return them to the fire station the next day. Coordination will occur on pick up of water test kits daily to be taken to the Flint City Hall, who will then delivery them to the DEQ testing lab.

- STILL FINALIZING - We have made available 2,000 Filters for distribution on Sunday as parishioners leave mass/services. This will be 200 filters for 10 churches in Flint. While this is a small number of churches, we do not want to waste an opportunity to hand out filters and this seems like a quick way to so. The filters will be put on the DTMB truck on Saturday for delivery to TBD locations for distribution. Logistics remain undetermined as I am still waiting on a list of the churches, pastors/reverends/hours or services/etc. The DTMB truck will be returning to Lansing approximately 11:00 a.m. so we need to finalize this quickly on Saturday. We may utilize ARC to assist with this.

- The Recovery branch is working with the JIC to develop a door hanger card. DTMB is working on the printing portion of the hanger card. Recovery will also be finalizing logistics over the weekend for neighborhood canvasing to occur early next week. 40 volunteers have signed up to attend training on Monday afternoon to complete this task. The mission will be to deliver water sample kits along with water filters/replacement cartridges, and water.

- It appears that 211 has become overloaded. DHHS is researching ways to increase capacity for calls.

- A Volunteer Management Coordinator is in the Genesee County EOC as of today.

- A Donations Management Coordinator has been requested and she will be in the Genesee County EOC Saturday.

- DHHS had a conference call with GM today; they indicated they can provide cash, and supplies, but primarily manpower. No commitments were made at this point. We inquired as to availability of warehouse space and trucks. It was left as GM being a major resource pool that we can tap into as we determine missions. Further conversations will occur, but primarily GM just wanted us to know they are there if needed.

- An additional EMHSD staff member was sent to the Genesee County EOC to act as Operations Section Chief and obtain awareness of the situation there.

- GIS staff met with various parts of Genesee County/Flint personnel to try to get a handle on data available.

- GIS continues to work with local GIS personnel with three GIS staff going to Flint today to work with them. GIS staff is working with U of M on how best to proceed with digitizing water lines for long term recovery.

Chris

UPDATE 1/7/16

A summary of some of today's SEOC activities is provided below. Attached is the following:

- Today's SitRep which contains more information than below.
- The resource request/task assignment sheet for your situational awareness. This is how locals request resources as well as how we track resources and any assignments and/or tasks that are to be completed.
- JIC Task Tracking – for your situational awareness on how we are tracking requests and assignments. Once someone is assigned a task or resource request it allows them to document what work has been or will be done as shown at the bottom of the document.

Items to note:

- I received a document this evening from Genesee County which appears to be damage assessment information. Analysis of this will occur tomorrow. It appears to be infrastructure and costs to fix it and no other impacts.
- I spoke with Jamie Curtis, Genesee County Commissioner, this evening. A very good relationship is in place with him, especially with our District Coordinator (DC). I also have our DC working on developing stronger relationships with the Mayor/Mayor's office.
- GIS staff continue to obtain data and work with County and City personnel to get a picture of where resources have been provided, need to be provided, as well as infrastructure locations (pipes) that could be affected.
- Personnel and agencies have been tasked with developing a plan to get people in the community to deliver information, hand out filters, etc. This would target those areas we are showing minimal or no filter distribution based on the data we are collecting. The plan is to get them in the field by Tuesday and the plan will be provided to me tomorrow.
- Filters can be obtained at the following locations:
    - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 125 E. Union St., Flint, MI 48502
    - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 4809 Clio Road, Flint, MI 48504

- Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 2727 Lippincott, Flint, MI 48507

- Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 601 N. Saginaw, Flint, MI 48502

- Conducted briefing with local EOC and county executive.
- Conducted briefing with state agencies (daily updates).
- Began work to schedule legislative/congressional conference calls. Tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday.
- JIC continued to develop messaging.
- Provided input to local EOC regarding best methods of identifying health and non-structural impacts for damage assessment process.
- Deployed two EMHSD/SEOC liaisons to assist the local EOC.
- Published the Incident Action Plan and continued assignment of objectives/tasks.
- FEMA Liaison Officers just arrived in Lansing to assist command and general staff.
- I spoke with Harvey a few times and he should have talking points later tonight or tomorrow a.m. for his use and also for others who may speak to media outside of state government who may benefit from our messaging.
- We held a media round table at 1 P.M. at the SEOC. Dr. Wells and I spoke and answered questions to numerous media outlets.
- Local agencies and NGOs continue to provide water and filters to citizens.
- The website, www.michigan.gov/flintwater, was update with information and links to assistance to include 211. Additional recommendations were provided to include information on the testing water in homes.

EMHSD GIS:

Accomplished Today:

- Reproduced Socio-Economic Status Map
- Reproduced Predicted Affected Populations Map
- Cleansed old data and reports for water filter distributions
- Created draft map of water filter distributions (Refinement needed before releasing final product)
- Scheduled on-site visit with Flint GIS Department and Genesee County GIS Department
- Formatted databases to host content
- Researched service line database creation and scheduled meeting with U of M Flint to discuss timelines and resource needs
- Generated water infrastructure map (does not include building service lines)

Tasks for Tomorrow:

- Meet with Flint City GIS
- Meet with Genesee County GIS
- Meet with U of M Flint GIS
- Finalize water filter distributions map
- Finalize plan for data distribution methods

Chris

UPDATE 1/6/16

A summary of today's SEOC activities is provided below. I tried to distill this as best I could but there has been a lot of activity and discussion to get an accurate assessment of the situation. Attached is the final draft of objectives and tactics for the operational period and agency situation report (SitRep) which has more SEOC agency information. I have implemented weekly operational periods.

Advise if you want anyone else copied or off this distribution.

Daily Update

- Set goals for SEOC and identified response/recovery emphasis
- Requested FEMA liaison officers (LNO) from FEMA Region V. Two LNOs will be on site by ~3 p.m. 1/7/16. Both are known contacts to me and some staff and one has worked extensively with me during the SE MI flooding in a command and control position. These personnel have been specifically tasked with this mission. THEY ARE NOT HERE TO ASSIST WITH A PRESIDENTIAL DECLARATION REQUEST BUT TO ASSIST ME.
- PIOs from multiple agencies were here and established the Joint Information Center (JIC). News released pushed out on this. I am very happy with the PIO work and movement toward coordinated messaging.
- Held briefing for State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators, which included presentations from DEQ and DHHS subject matter experts to ensure situational awareness and to develop a common operating picture.

- I opened the briefing by identifying our initial goals, items to think about while subject matter experts were briefing us, and how we are to move forward, find quick wins, and regain trust.
- MDHHS – Elevated Blood Lead Levels
  - Dr. Elizabeth Wells gave an in depth summary of lead poisoning and what has occurred in terms of health monitoring throughout the Flint crisis.
- MDEQ – Water Testing Protocols
  - Mr. George Krisztian of MDEQ gave an in depth summary of the testing protocols and summary results that as they have developed throughout the emerging crisis.

- Developed Incident objectives, strategy and tactics (see attached)
- Identified SEOC and state agency staff positions
- Assigned work tasks for SEOC operation period from 0800 January 6, 2016 to 1700 January 8, 2016

- Reviewed planned actions, prepared final draft Incident Action Plan
- Made contact with the Genesee County Emergency Manager first thing in the morning and held a conference call mid-day to discuss roles. Daily 0830 command conference calls with local EOC command staff starts tomorrow. Tomorrows call will include the County Commissioner and the City Administrator (both invited). Topics include the incident action plan objectives and establishing better local coordination, command and control to facilitate integration with the SEOC. The local EOC is not functioning as it needs to with personnel and local coordination and we are working on that issue.
- I will be in Flint tomorrow for a 2 p.m. media round table with local officials that was set up by the JIC.

- The attached initial objectives will be updated at least every operational period and as needed. I listed the objectives below but the tactics to accomplish them is in the attached if you want further information.

  1. Activate the State Recovery Task Force (SRTF).

  2. Establish and maintain coordination between the City of Flint, Genesee County, state and federal agencies, and appropriate medical experts.

  3. Obtain and maintain situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.

  4. Establish SEOC operational period and hours of operations.

  5. Investigate and identify all available programs for assistance with direct or related impacts, including the federal Lead Pipe Replacement Program.

  6. Develop a comprehensive GIS strategy.

7. Coordinate response and recovery activities with MIVOAD and identify potential mission areas.

8. Establish and coordinate routine communication between SMEs and coordinate technical assistance among state agencies and to local agencies.

9. Provide technical assistance to the local Damage Assessment process.

10. Establish a Joint Information Center (JIC) and develop a public information strategy.

11. Monitor MI CIMS for resource requests and address as appropriate.

12. Establish and disseminate cost center information for the incident.

- Additional tasks include:
    - Determine what federal agencies are already involved and their status
    - Identify potential water supplies
    - Determine where affected homes are located, where filters/pitchers (and replacements) were installed/provided, and determine who needs filters, etc.
    - Determine how filter distribution is handled, and if it can be handled more efficiently and effectively
    - Determine what mechanisms are in place for nutrition supplementation

EMHSD GIS Accomplishments:

- Hosted a conference call to begin coordination with Flint City and Genesee County GIS departments and the SEOC
- Established a daily call with county and city GIS personnel to synchronize GIS efforts in support of the Flint water crisis at 8:30 A.M.
- Began consolidating local data from local GIS practitioners into a consolidated database, to include:
    - Water Pipeline Locations
    - Filter Distribution Locations
    - November 25, 2015 Water Monitoring Results (Partial, some data remains to be digitized)
    - Affected School Locations
    - Predictive analysis of blood lead levels for affected area
    - Updated Parcels
    - Demographics
    - Block Groups
- Produced a map for the filter distribution locations
- Began contacting specialists who developed historic maps depicting the Flint Water Crisis to obtain the data

Subject: Update - Genesee County Declaration

Below are some key points for your situational awareness (FYSA) that have taken place or will take place within the next 15 hours.

- I was on the phone with Sean Kammer, Assistant to the Flint City Administrator, when the declaration hit the news so I advised him immediately. He was going to let the City Administrator know.
- I contacted MSP Lt. Roach, 3rd District Coordinator, who was at the Genesee County EOC and advised her to let the County EM know the declaration status.
- State Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMCs) were notified via our notification system with additional information in an email.
    - This included information on the SEOC activation and a 0900 briefing for SEMCs.
    - Some subject matter experts will provide us an update to establish a common operating picture.
- We have been in contact with FEMA Region V watch desk … they will be on the call tomorrow and continue to monitor the situation.

- I have been in contact with the FEMA Region V Administrator to keep him updated.
- Operational period for the SEOC will be M-F, 0800 to 1700 at this time.
- Situation Reports (SitReps) will be provided in the evenings.
- An Incident Action Plan will be developed tomorrow.

Call me with any concerns or questions.

It's not the JIC. I believe it's a room next to the county EOC. In the county office building.

Exact details in MICIMS request.

Wendy,

Ron submitted a task assignment today that we need for the media briefing on Monday- livestreaming requests. As a heads up, the priority is Ethernet capabilities at the Genesee County building for the media event. Not sure if a local EOC contact can get this for us.

I wanted you to be aware this is urgent for Monday morning.

Specific details are in MiCIMS.

State PIOs:

Thank you for responding with your availability to work in the Joint Information Center (JIC) this week. I truly appreciate your efforts to arrange your schedules to work in the JIC.

Please refer to the attached staffing schedule for daily shifts and assignments. Please note that JIC staffing needs and hours of operation are subject to change and you will be notified should this occur. We will be staffing the JIC in Flint for the foreseeable future so please provide your ongoing availability and that of your agency's other PIOs.

The JIC is operational each day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., unless otherwise noted on the schedule. Please report to the JIC no later than 9 a.m. for a morning staff briefing and you should expect to work to at least until 5 p.m. The media hotline is open daily from 9 a.m.

Laptops are available at the JIC, however, PIOs are encouraged to bring their own laptops to help avoid firewall issues. Office supplies, phones, etc., are set-up in the JIC.

Attire is business casual and lunch will be provided.

Daily staffing on-site includes the following positions:

- Governor's Representative
- JIC PIO Leader
- Department of Environmental Quality PIO
- Department of Health and Human Services PIO
- Information Gathering Leader
- Information Dissemination Leader
- Media Hotline Operator
- Writer

The JIC is located at:

State of Michigan Office Building
125 E. Union St.
Flint, MI 48502
https://goo.gl/maps/HuiQQc31JkB2

When you arrive at the State of Michigan Office Building, please park in the visitor parking garage across the street from the main entrance. Parking is free. When you enter the building, show your state ID to the security guard and take the elevator to the fifth floor. Your State of Michigan ID should get you access into the work area. (Use the door to the left of the elevator to enter the work area.) In the event you cannot access the building, please call Mr. Ron Leix at

Arrangements have been made with a local hotel for PIOs who wish to stay in the Flint area to avoid commuting each day (no charge to PIOs). The weather is supposed to be bad Monday night, so you're encouraged to stay the night if you're working on Tuesday. Please contact Ms. Nicole Lisabeth for details on arranging a hotel room.

Thank you again for your assistance to work in the JIC during this ongoing effort.

Please feel free to contact me via cell or email if you have any questions. Questions can also be directed to Mr. Ron Leix

I will see you all in the JIC!

State of Michigan to deploy water resource teams in city of Flint
Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 10, 2016
Release #: 03
For more information contact: Joint Information Center: 888-EMD-TODAY (888-363-8632)

LANSING, Mich. – In its immediate response efforts, the state of Michigan is stabilizing the situation on the ground to ensure all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water. In addition to the water resource sites, water resource teams will be in Flint neighborhoods beginning Tuesday to distribute clean water resources door to door.

The water resource teams consisting of state personnel, including Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits. If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Once the state is beyond the immediate response phase, state officials will work with the federal government to determine what additional resources are available under their own authority. Currently, three FEMA liaison officers are in the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) to provide technical guidance as needed at the request of Capt. Chris Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the MSP Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits are currently available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the following locations:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5
3402 Western Rd.
Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Rd.
Flint, MI 48507

The state of Michigan is coordinating response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County, and local community organizations.

Visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater or call 211 for more information. Residents who need transportation or any other assistance can call 211.

I am still working on getting some things set up - not many managers around on Sunday. However, I did talk to a manager at Panera in Flint and am scheduled to get the direct billing set up tomorrow morning so you should be able to have that in Tuesday.

I'll keep you posted on this and make sure you have the necessary information.

Capt Kelenske reviewed Kaiser's talking points and has a few changes; see below. Also, he wants the county to talk about their responsibility as the emergency management office at the local level and what that role entails.

He also wants to discuss state actions since the Gov's declaration (which we've talked about- actions since, current, future).

For Kaiser:
-Remove water pitches as being distributed by teams; limited avail as needed (if asked)
-For the teams, change wording about MSP troops to be:
Further, beginning on Tuesday we will have water resource teams, consisting of state personnel including MSP troopers, who will be...

For the paragraph starting with 'the bulk of our actions..." remove the word 'target' in the last line to be 'focus'. -- This will allow us to focus our actions...

Subject: JIC staffing/to do

Tiff,

Sorry we didn't get a chance to go over the items you wanted to discuss. Let's make sure we get together before you head to Flint- time flies in the JIC. I have an 8:30a and 9:30a briefing.

As a heads up, I believe Meegan has been asked to staff the media event as well to represent the Govs comm office (not speaking). She mentioned she's never staffed a media event before (only been on the press side) so she'll be looking to you for guidance.

Before you leave, I'd also like to get an idea from you on what staff you think you'll need for info gathering come Monday and next week. As I mentioned, I'd like you to serve as the info gathering leader next week (which I know may be a new JIC position for you). Your skills will do you well in this role!

You'll need at least one writer from a non-lead agency and maybe more. In the morning, please ask Ron for the binder with the Info Gathering Leader procedures that outline what your position and info gathering team are responsible for doing (talking points, fliers, web content, photos, bilingual materials, etc). You don't need to fill each position that's listed, just the key ones you'll need.

Once I know what you think you need, I'll reach out to PIOs to get staff for Monday.

Hope this makes sense. And I really appreciate your help in the JIC and the media events- we need your PIO expertise!

Before I send this to MAB for them to record, I'm sending you the draft PSA script for the JIC's review. It's at an 8th grade reading level, trying to keep it down:

If you live in Flint, you can help to keep yourself and your family healthy and safe from lead poisoning. You can get FREE water filters, bottled water, home water testing, and blood testing. And there are efforts underway to help you access these things as quickly and as easily as possible. To learn more about where to go and what you can do, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater or call 211 today.

Once the JIC has approved it, I'll send it to MAB to record and work with them on placement/air dates within Flint. I know there are pieces of this that the SEOC may still be working out but we can always have this ready to air once we're ready to announce it.

Thank you,

Can you please work with eMichigan to provide Christie Christman with access to update/modify the Flint water website (mi.gov/flintwater)?

Thinking ahead, it would be beneficial for her to have the ability to update/modify the site in case you or eMichigan are unavailable.

Please let me know if you think this will be an issue.

Also, feel free to contact Christie on Monday to discuss the site if there are any particular instructions she should know in order to update it since it's not housed under MSP.

State of Michigan to deploy water resource teams in city of Flint

Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

LANSING, Mich. – In its immediate response efforts, the state of Michigan is stabilizing the situation on the ground to ensure all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water. In addition to the water resource sites, water resource teams will be in Flint neighborhoods beginning Tuesday to distribute clean water resources door to door.

The water resource teams consisting of state personnel, including Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits. If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Once the state is beyond the immediate response phase, state officials will work with the federal government to determine what additional resources are available under their own authority. Currently, three FEMA liaison officers are in the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) to provide technical guidance as needed at the request of Capt. Chris Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the MSP Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits are currently available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the following locations:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5
3402 Western Rd.
Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.
Flint, MI 48505

MORE

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Rd.
Flint, MI 48507

The state of Michigan is coordinating response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County, and local community organizations.

Visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater or call 211 for more information. Residents who need transportation or any other assistance can call 211.

Subject: JIC staffing & location details

State PIOs:

Thank you for responding with your availability to work in the Joint Information Center (JIC) this week. I truly appreciate your efforts to arrange your schedules to work in the JIC.

Please refer to the attached staffing schedule for daily shifts and assignments. Please note that JIC staffing needs and hours of operation are subject to change and you will be notified should this occur. We will be staffing the JIC in Flint for the foreseeable future so please provide your ongoing availability and that of your agency's other PIOs.

The JIC is operational each day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., unless otherwise noted on the schedule. Please report to the JIC no later than 9 a.m. for a morning staff briefing and you should expect to work to at least until 5 p.m. The media hotline is open daily from 9 a.m.

Laptops are available at the JIC, however, PIOs are encouraged to bring their own laptops to help avoid firewall issues. Office supplies, phones, etc., are set-up in the JIC.

Attire is business casual and lunch will be provided.

Daily staffing on-site includes the following positions:

- Governor's Representative
- JIC PIO Leader
- Department of Environmental Quality PIO
- Department of Health and Human Services PIO
- Information Gathering Leader
- Information Dissemination Leader
- Media Hotline Operator
- Writer

The JIC is located at:

State of Michigan Office Building
125 E. Union St.
Flint, MI 48502
https://goo.gl/maps/HuiQQc31JkB2

When you arrive at the State of Michigan Office Building, please park in the visitor parking garage across the street from the main entrance. Parking is free. When you enter the building, show your state ID to the security guard and take the elevator to the fifth floor. Your State of Michigan ID should get you access into the work area. (Use the door to the left of the elevator to enter the work area.) In the event you cannot access the building, please call Mr. Ron Leix at

Arrangements have been made with a local hotel for PIOs who wish to stay in the Flint area to avoid commuting each day (no charge to PIOs). The weather is supposed to be bad Monday night, so you're encouraged to stay the night if you're working on Tuesday. Please contact Ms. Nicole Lisabeth for details on arranging a hotel room.

Thank you again for your assistance to work in the JIC during this ongoing effort.

Please feel free to contact me via cell or email if you have any questions. Questions can also be directed to Mr. Ron Leix

I will see you all in the JIC!

-Nicole

Subject: ACTION ITEMS

Captain Kelenske and team:

We had a good meeting with Comcast this morning. We have several deliverable action items from that meeting that we should implement as soon as possible.

ACTION ITEMS:
1. PSA: Comcast will put a PSA on cable TV in Flint. Governor's Comms office to record PSA today in Flint and deliver to Comcast tomorrow. We need JIC to develop an approved script.
2. Logistics:
- Need to get flyers, water, filters, refill cartridges and water testing kits to the comcast office in Flint. The comcast trucks can have the materials in them while they make service calls to customers in Flint. In addition to the materials, need to send someone to train comcast workers on filter installation. Will also need a way for them to let us know who they give filers too.

NEED: who is your lead? Let's put them in contact with Comcast ASAP
- Comcast has said they can have employees who can go door to door on the weekend
3. Additional Public Info:
- Comcast can put up a video on On Demand with how to install water filters. Need to have a video for that. Perhaps the video that is on the mi.gov/flintwater website. Can we ask whoever made that video to add a graphic overlay that says: Call 211 for water resource center locations
- Comcast Call: We have asked comcast to look into calling their customers with a PSA on where water resource centers are
- After these are implemented need a press release saying the partners who have helped us and what they have done

OTHER ITEMS TO CONSIDER
- Do we need assistance coordinating the logistics? (Volunteers, water distribution, and partnering/tracking how outside groups are helping. i.e Comcast)
- We should do a Reverse 911 call to all houses tomorrow morning from MSP with information on where the centers are and to call 211

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
Tori Sachs

Filters provide best access to safe drinking water in Flint
Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LANSING, Mich. – Flint residents are encouraged to use water filters as their primary source for water consumption and cooking needs.

"The best way to ensure safe drinking water in your home is to have a water filter properly installed on your tap," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. "Filters make your water safe to consume, and provide the most sustainable solution for having access to safe water in your home."

Donated water continues to be distributed to the five water resource sites at Flint fire stations. Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water. Free filters and replacement cartridges are available at the water resource sites.

"We recognize the urgency of getting water resources to the residents of Flint," Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "To help ensure the necessary resources continue to be available at the water resource sites, the state is expanding their partnership with the American Red Cross to utilize their warehousing and inventory management capabilities for stored water resources."

In addition, water resource teams will begin going door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods on Tuesday to distribute clean water resources. The water resource teams, consisting of state personnel and Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be distributing bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Additional resources, including a video on how to install filters, are available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater and by calling 2-1-1.

Channel 4 says there's no water at the fire station. On Aferton drive - can we check on status? There's a sign in window saying no water.

> Since Saturday, five water resource sites have been established Flint fire stations where residents can receive the resources they need to ensure their drinking water is safe. These sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and serve as a one-stop location where residents can pick up free bottled water, water filters, water filter replacement cartridges, and free household water testing kits.

To date, the water resources sites have distributed over 43,000 bottles of water; 1,200 water filters; 800 water replacement cartridges; and 750 water testing kits to Flint residents.

We are making every effort to ensure the water resource sites are stocked with these supplies. We recognize at times that some of the sites may be running low on resources, but I ensure you that we are doing all that we can to meet the needs of residents.

Residents who may need transportation assistance can call 2-1-1.

Also, beginning tomorrow, four water resource teams, comprised of state personnel and Michigan State Police troopers, will be going door-to-door throughout Flint neighborhoods to ensure residents have the resources they need. The water resource teams will be handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

If by chance a resident is not at home when the teams stop by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence. And calling 2-1-1- is always a great resource for citizens to learn more information.

The bulk of our actions continue to be identifying where specific resource needs are, where the gaps in recovery are, and ensuring we are coordinating closely with the city and county on any actions. This will allow us to target our actions and ensure we are not duplicating efforts.

A lot of great efforts are already underway by many local agencies; public, private, non-profit, etc.

I would especially like to thank the American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1 and the many other organizations that have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process. We have also received an outpouring of support from volunteers and organizations who want to help with this effort. Individuals looking to volunteer or donate water should call 211.

We're working as fast as we can to identify what is being done already and what still needs to be done.

One of the most important messages and priorities for us is making sure residents are aware of the information and free resources currently available to them. The one-stop shop for all these resources is www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

This entire operation is about making sure Flint residents receive the resources and information they need, and we're 100% committed to doing what needs to be done until all needs are met.

If asked:

The efforts by the State of Michigan is to supplement the efforts being done by the City of Flint and Genesee County. If needed, the Federal Emergency Management Agency will help supplement state efforts to ensure city of Flint residents have the water resources they need.

Three Federal Emergency Management Agency liaisons are here providing technical guidance, but we will need a comprehensive and throughout assessment of the situation before we can approach FEMA.

Reporters will be receiving information about how to get video of the water resource teams distributing resources in neighborhoods will receive information from the JIC yet today.

Flint Water Issue

WJBK, January 10, 2016

State employees will go door-to-door handing out bottled water. Five city fire stations will also serve as water resources for the residents. Also three FEMA officials are in Michigan to provide technical assistance and a preliminary damage assessment. The state has switched back to the Detroit water system. The water is still not safe to drink without a filter. Last week Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County.

Filters provide best access to safe drinking water in Flint

Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

LANSING, Mich. – Flint residents are encouraged to use water filters as their primary source for water consumption and cooking needs.

"The best way to ensure safe drinking water in your home is to have a water filter properly installed on your tap," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. "Filters make your water safe to consume, and provide the most sustainable solution for having access to safe water in your home."

Donated water continues to be distributed to the five water resource sites at Flint fire stations. Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water. Free filters and replacement cartridges are available at the water resource sites.

"We recognize the urgency of getting water resources to the residents of Flint," Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management & Homeland Security Division. "To help ensure the necessary resources continue to be available at the water resource sites, the state is expanding their partnership with the American Red Cross to utilize their warehousing and inventory management capabilities for stored water resources."

In addition, water resource teams will begin going door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods on Tuesday to distribute clean water resources. The water resource teams, consisting of state personnel and Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be distributing bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Additional resources, including a video on how to install filters, are available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater and by calling 2-1-1.

Filters provide best access to safe drinking water in Flint

Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

LANSING, Mich. – Flint residents are encouraged to use water filters as their primary source for water consumption and cooking needs.

"The best way to ensure safe drinking water in your home is to have a water filter properly installed on your tap," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. "Filters make your water safe to consume, and provide the most sustainable solution for having access to safe water in your home."

Can you please get more specific information about whether the state has already purchased water today, if so how many cases of bottled water? Or, will they begin to do this moving forward? I need to be prepared for what the media will ask me- they need more details.

All water leading up to today has been donations, from today on the water is coming from donations and purchased by the state.
The filters and the water testing kits are purchased by the state.

Dave can I also clarify this: Of the water and filters being distributed by the state, are they all donated, or are some purchased by the state? How much has the state allocated for this effort so far (water, filters, overtime, etc)?

First, do you know if any state agencies conducted any testing or gave any approval before the 2014 switch from Lake Huron to the Flint River, and if any testing was done in the weeks or months after that switch? If so, can you please point me toward those reports.

Secondly, would Mr. Creagh at DEQ and Mr. Lyon at DHHS be available for interviews this week about their agencies' roles in Flint to this point, where they've done well, where they could have done better and how they plan to be involved in the coming months and years?

Subject: Flint water crisis impacts

Good morning all,

We are preparing the draft of the letter from the governor to the president to request assistance. We are attempting to send this as quickly as humanly possible.

What we need from each agency is a complete but as brief as possible summary of the impacts to the people and economy of Flint resulting from the water crisis, prepared by the best qualified person in your agency.

This would include quantification of past, current, and future or potential future impacts including:

Health Economic
Insurance (is there any coverage on the part of individuals, or the city or state that might help to cover damages?)
Contributions of voluntary agencies
Environmental; and Infrastructure

There will be an opportunity to review the entire draft as it is pieced together, to make sure we are including every potential impact that will help to describe the severity of this crisis to the City of Flint and State of Michigan.

If there's any chance of getting summaries by the end of today (let me know what the minimum timeline is that you need), that would be great.

Thanks very much for your assistance,

I was just made aware from Michelle Kuzera that Rep. Ananich is going to the local EOC after lunch today.

Rep's office talked to Chris, the local EM coordinator.

Michelle is looking for direction on if anyone from the state should meet with the rep.

Please advise.

New York Times Interview Request:
I'm a New York Times reporter working on a story about the water situation in Flint and was hoping you could help with a few different points.

First, do you know if any state agencies conducted any testing or gave any approval before the 2014 switch from Lake Huron to the Flint River, and if any testing was done in the weeks or months after that switch? If so, can you please point me toward those reports.

Secondly, would Mr. Creagh at DEQ and Mr. Lyon at DHHS be available for interviews this week about their agencies' roles in Flint to this point, where they've done well, where they could have done better and how they plan to be involved in the coming months and years?

Hello. I'm Captain Chris Kelenske with the Michigan State Police.

If you live in the city of Flint, there are things you can do to keep you and your family safe from lead.

Every Flint resident is able to receive a water filter and replacement filters, bottled water, home water testing, and blood testing: all for free.

Additionally, 2-1-1 is set up to answer your questions and help you access these things as quickly and as easily as possible, including finding distribution sites near you.

To get you or your child's blood tested, contact your doctor.

For more information about where to go and what you can do, including finding a free water filter or bottled water, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater, or call 211 today.

As an option, a 211 liaison is welcome to be in the JIC with us to provide ongoing info on rumors, questions, and share our news release and messages with dispatchers. This has been done in previous JICs and was very helpful for us and 211. We can discuss more.

Subject: 2-1-1 Update on caller needs/reports

Ron, Richard and Jennifer:

You are the PIO's in Flint who have given me your contact information, so I wanted provide a quick update on what's been happening today with 2-1-1. As long as it is useful I will plan to provide a daily wrap-up each afternoon.

CALL VOLUME:
Call volume today was manageable. The queue for water-related calls peaked at 5 calls immediately following the governor's press conference.

Central Michigan 2-1-1 and Michigan 2-1-1 have asked the other seven 2-1-1 partners across the state identify their capacity to lend staff to take water calls. Three partners have committed up to 25 additional staff, including two who are available to supplement the overnight shift – I expect more, but the formal request only went out at 3:00 pm this afternoon.

SPECIAL NEEDS/REQUESTS

☐ 2-1-1 needs a designated contact where we can forward requests for transportation assistance.

- Based on the governor's press conference that referred people to 2-1-1 for transportation assistance there have been several requests for help from seniors, people with disabilities and people without a driver's licenses. 2-1-1 is keeping a list of these requests. I heard a report that the sheriff's office has declared a "Code Red" that allows them to provide transportation assistance. Do you have any additional information on this? Who can take action to serve these callers?
- An apartment complex manager asked if there was a way to pick up water filters for all the units (47 total). We only have information for individual households to get filters. A coordinated initiative for property managers to acquire and install filters could facilitate use.

RUMOR CONTROL

- There have been two calls to 2-1-1 about a rumor that the bottled water being distributed is contaminated with lead. How would you like 2-1-1 to respond? We would like to have a standard response that aligns with the state's messaging to address this misinformation. What do you think of something like, "All donated water is bottled and sealed by private companies like Absopure that meet federal guidelines to ensure the water is safe to drink"?

OTHER

☐ Jennifer Eisner shared that five digital billboards around Flint will be going up in the next 24 hours with a message to call 2-1-1 for information. Thank you for the advance notice. Is it possible to get a copy of the billboard or exact message for reference?

Thank you all for your help coordinating the response. I am available 24/7 at 206-619-5711 if you need to reach me.

> > Subject: 2-1-1 Update on caller needs/reports

Ron, Richard and Jennifer:

You are the PIO's in Flint who have given me your contact information, so I wanted provide a quick update on what's been happening today with 2-1-1. As long as it is useful I will plan to provide a daily wrap-up each afternoon.

CALL VOLUME:
Call volume today was manageable. The queue for water-related calls peaked at 5 calls immediately following the governor's press conference.

Central Michigan 2-1-1 and Michigan 2-1-1 have asked the other seven 2-1-1 partners across the state identify their capacity to lend staff to take water calls. Three partners have committed up to 25 additional staff, including two who are available to supplement the overnight shift – I expect more, but the formal request only went out at 3:00 pm this afternoon.

SPECIAL NEEDS/REQUESTS

- ☐ 2-1-1 needs a designated contact where we can forward requests for transportation assistance.
- Based on the governor's press conference that referred people to 2-1-1 for transportation assistance there have been several requests for help from seniors, people with disabilities and people without a driver's licenses. 2-1-1 is keeping a list of these requests. I heard a report that the sheriff's office has declared a "Code Red" that allows them to provide transportation assistance. Do you have any additional information on this? Who can take action to serve these callers?
- An apartment complex manager asked if there was a way to pick up water filters for all the units (47 total). We only have information for individual households to get filters. A coordinated initiative for property managers to acquire and install filters could facilitate use.

RUMOR CONTROL

- There have been two calls to 2-1-1 about a rumor that the bottled water being distributed is contaminated with lead. How would you like 2-1-1 to respond? We would like to have a standard response that aligns with the state's messaging to address this misinformation. What do you think of something like, "All donated water is bottled and sealed by private companies like Absopure that meet federal guidelines to ensure the water is safe to drink"?

OTHER

- ☐ Jennifer Eisner shared that five digital billboards around Flint will be going up in the next 24 hours with a message to call 2-1-1 for information. Thank you for the advance notice. Is it possible to get a copy of the billboard or exact message for reference?

Thank you all for your help coordinating the response. I am available 24/7 if you need to reach me.

Best regards,

Tom Page | Executive Director

Subject: FYI- Flint JIC logistics

Jeannette and Penny,

I wanted to thank you both for all of your hard work to make the JIC facility happen and ensure the needs of our staff are met, including IT, food and hotels. The JIC room is perfect and the location is very convenient. Our staff are also very happy to have lunches delivered to us with direct billing, especially since our busiest times are around lunch.

Ron continues to be our on-site logistics person and I know you're both working with him to get our needs met when they arise.

Ron- the Flint JIC wouldn't have happened without your pre-planning, setup, IT coordination, building access requests, etc. Great work!

This couldn't have happened without all of your efforts.

Thanks much!

FOIA coordinator
Department of Health and Human Services
P. O. Box 30037
Lansing, MI 48909

Dear FOIA coordinator:

Under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act § 15.231 et seq., I am requesting an opportunity to inspect or obtain copies of the following public records:

- Any subpoenas, letters or emails sent by federal, state or local investigators to the Department of Health and Human Services or any of its employees related in any way to the City of Flint's water. Please also include any search warrant receipts or records related to this issue, and any responses sent by the DHHS to investigators' inquiries. This request is inclusive of any criminal, civil or regulatory investigations related to Flint's water from April 1, 2014, through Jan. 11, 2016.
- All emails and letters sent or received by DHHS director Nick Lyon between Sept. 29, 2015, and Jan. 11, 2016, including one or more of the following words: "Flint," "lead," "crisis" and "subpoena."
- Any studies, reports or memos by the Department of Health and Human Services related to the switch of Flint's drinking water source in 2014 from Lake Huron to the Flint River. Please include all responsive documents from calendar years 2013, 2014, 2015 and 2016.

If there are any fees for searching or copying these records, please inform me if the cost will exceed $250. However, I would also like to request a waiver of all fees in that the disclosure of the requested information is in the public interest and will contribute significantly to the public's understanding of the water situation in Flint. I am a member of the news media and this request is part of my reporting.

The Michigan Freedom of Information Act requires a response to this request within five days. If access to the records I am requesting will take longer than this amount of time, please contact me with information about when I might expect copies or the ability to inspect the requested records.

If you deny any or all of this request, please cite each specific exemption you feel justifies the refusal to release the information and notify me of the appeal procedures available to me under the law.

I would prefer to receive these documents via email at mitch.smith@nytimes.com or through other electronic means. If that is not possible, you may mail them to the address above.

Thank you for considering my request.

Sincerely,

Mitch Smith

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services

Steps Taken Since October 1, 2015

Water Filters

- The state began distributing free waters to Flint residents in early October. Free water filters and replacement cartridges are currently available to all Flint at multiple locations.
    - The state has distributed 11,415 free water filters and 235 pitchers as of Dec. 31.
    - Free replacement cartridges are also available to residents – 1,475 have been distributed as of Dec. 31.
    - Water filters are available at four locations Monday – Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
        - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services offices
          125 E. Union St. and 4809 Clio Road
        - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department offices
          2727 Lippincott and 601 N. Saginaw
- In addition to the water filters purchased and distributed by the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, many local organizations and community partners including the United Way have held evening and weekend events to distribute water filters to Flint residents.

Enhanced Blood Lead Level Testing

- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services is working closely with local partners to ensure that all children, especially those younger than six years of age, are being tested for elevated blood lead levels.
- The Michigan Medicaid and WIC programs require testing for children at ages one and two. To promote and increase testing in the community, MDHHS issued a Health Alert Network notification for local Flint providers recommending blood lead testing for all children younger than six years of age who have not previously been tested.
- MDHHS is working closely with the local primary care provider community and WIC clinics to emphasize the importance of blood lead level screening for children.
- Many children in Flint have health benefits through the Medicaid program. MDHHS is coordinating with the Michigan Medicaid Health Plans to promote lead testing efforts.
- Additionally, a technical workgroup comprised of Medicaid data and public health surveillance experts are meeting to develop Medicaid specific EBLL testing goals.
- MDHHS Chief Medical Executive Dr. Eden Wells is in regular communication with Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha and other local and national experts regarding the Flint Water Crisis.

Blood Lead Level Testing Reports

- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services has updated its data surveillance methods for blood lead level testing to ensure the most up-to-date, accurate information is being reviewed.

- Results are made available through summary reports on the www.michigan.gov/flintwater website. The report shows how many tests have been completed and how many people tested had elevated blood lead levels.
- On Dec. 3, 2015, the first MDHHS BLL Summary Report was released and posted to Flint water website.
- On Dec. 11, MDHHS issued the second BLL Summary Report and posted to Flint water website.
- On Dec. 23, MDHHS the third BLL Summary Report was issued, noting change in method.
- The reports include data from the city of Flint, Genesee County, and the State levels.
- Between Oct. 1 and Dec. 18, 2,182 children and adults in Flint had their blood lead levels tested.
- Of those 2,182 individuals, 23 children 5 years of age or younger had a test greater than or equal to 5 micrograms per deciliter. Seven children ages 6 to 17 had an elevated blood lead level test, and tests for 13 adults exceeded the federal action level.

Case Management

- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services is partnering with the Genesee County Health Department to ensure families are being offered case management support.
- Additional state funds were allocated to the Genesee County Health Department to supplement their case management efforts. These state dollars paid for two and half full-time employees – nurses who are trained to provide education and assistance to families of Flint children with elevated blood lead levels – to work directly in the community.
- Through Dec. 18, a total of 192 contacts have been attempted to start case management.
- Of those, 115 were reached and offered case management.
- 26 children are currently receiving case management.
- MDHHS holds weekly status calls with the GCHD Case Management staff

Environmental EBL Investigations

- Another resource being offered to families where an elevated blood lead level has been detected is environmental investigations.
- Environmental investigations help identify potential lead exposures which could be from water, paint, soil, plumbing and other sources.
- 12 EBL investigations have been completed and five EBL investigation reports have been received. Of those, the following exposures have been found:
    - Four homes with lead dust hazards
    - Three homes with lead in soil hazards
    - Five homes with lead-based paint hazards
    - Two homes with lead detected in tap water

Communications and Education

- MDHHS and DEQ coordinated with the governor's office to launch the www.michigan.gov/flintwater website.
- In October, MDHHS, in partnership with the Genesee County Health Department, developed and distributed 8,500 packets with educational materials for parents and families in Flint. An additional 3,500 were distributed to GCHD in November.
- Education materials were distributed to all children in Flint schools and discussed the importance of blood lead level testing and the effects of lead exposure. The materials also outlined who should be tested and how to get children tested.
- FAQs: Lead in Flint Water – this document details when one should use filtered water versus unfiltered water. Available at: http://www.michigan.gov/documents/deq/2015-10-21_-_Lead_-_Flint_Water_FINAL_504265_7.pdf?20151207171149
- FAQs: Lead and Your Body – this document explains the potential health effects of lead poisoning through all life stages, and includes information about exposure pathways of lead from water. Available at: http://www.michigan.gov/documents/deq/2015-10-29_-_Lead_and_your_Body_-_Flint_-_no_background_507727_7.pdf?20151207171149
- Adding Phosphates to Flint Water – this document explains the process by which adding extra phosphates can potentially reduce the lead levels in Flint homes' water and the health implications of the phosphates at the levels they're being added. Approved for publication by GCHD, MDHHS approval and posting pending.

WIC and Medicaid

- MDHHS monitoring of Ready to Feed formula use and coordinating with Ready to Feed manufacturer and WIC retailers to proactively address any supply or distribution issues with infant formula availability.
- Information on Ready to Feed formula (including Talking Points, WIC Provider Letter, and infographic on Ready to Feed formula) was shared with Medicaid to share with the Medicaid Health Plans.
- Met with MSA to develop specifications for production of Medicaid population based blood lead testing reports for children in Flint exposed to Flint city water source
- MSA issues L 15-73 – Blood Lead Guidelines to Address the City of Flint Residents' Potential Exposure to Lead. This letter was sent to Practitioners, Clinics, Laboratories and Maternal Infant Health Program (MIHP) Providers in the City of Flint.

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
Flint Water: Timeline of Key Events

1 PRE JULY 2015

- Fall 2014 – Genesee County Health Department (GCHD) identified increase in cases of Legionella; MDHHS assisted GCHD in Epidemiologic analysis
- January 2015: MDHHS assisted with case interviews
- 6-4-15 Final Legionellosis outbreak report sent to Genesee County Health Department and discussed with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. There were 45 cases laboratory confirmed cases of legionella. Healthcare-associated Legionella was suspected for a subset of cases. Results demonstrated that over half (27/45) of the cases had a healthcare facility exposure in the two weeks prior to their illness onset. In response, the healthcare facility has implemented multiple environmental and procedural measures to alleviate the situation.
    - The source of water at the primary residence was evaluated for all cases. Twenty-one of 45 (47%) cases occurred in people whose residence received City of Flint water. Of the 18 persons that did not report healthcare visits, 8 (44%) were exposed to Flint water at their home.
    - Ten cases had no exposure to a Flint hospital in the 2 weeks prior to illness nor were their homes on the Flint water system.
    - Other possible exposures were evaluated and no other known community exposures were identified.
    - Enhanced surveillance has continued for the remainder of 2015.
- 2-26-2015 - (2 calls) initiated by s. Contacted Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program-CLPPP (Karen Lishinski) – Ms. expressed concern about Flint water quality and provider refusing to test her children; during second call she related that provider agreed to testing
- 3-4-2015 - (1 call) ; contacted CLPPP because child had elevated blood lead level; city officials wouldn't talk to her about her water; Karen provided EPA contact information

2 JULY 2015

- 7-22-15 Contact from Mark Johnson U.S. Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR) to L. Dykema regarding Flint drinking water status; asking if Environmental Health was engaged
- 7-23-15 Director office inquiry forwarded to Population Health Administration for review/response
- 7-23-15 Division of Environmental Health (Dykema) contacted DEQ for update on drinking water testing/status. S. Busch relates that city in compliance with lead copper rule; one house with high lead level in water was an anomaly as house was connected to old water main but had since been corrected. This home was the residence of , from 3-4-15 calls.

- 7-24-15 Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program (CLPPP) requests assistance from Epidemiology to assess magnitude of change in 2014 Blood Lead Levels (in children) for city of Flint
    - Results indicate percentage of Elevated Blood Lead Levels (EBLs) for summer 2014, followed seasonal trends and the levels showed decrease by October. Further analysis would be needed to establish causation.
- 7-28-15 Response sent to Director's office

3 AUGUST 2015

- 8-4-15 Meeting with Governor's office and Flint pastors. Flint pastors had information provided to Director in response to 7-23-15 inquiry
- 8-6-15 Informal request from Liane Shekter Smith (DEQ) to Kory Groetsch MDHHS-Division of Environmental Health (DEH) after a meeting (unrelated to Flint situation) to assist with health education regarding lead in drinking water. MDHHS-DEH-supervisor made aware of request.
- 8-24-15 Dr. Mona Hanna Attisha contacts Genesee County Health Department for Blood Lead Level data/information
- 8-31-15 DEH staff meet to discuss communication plan for Flint/DEQ per request from DEQ

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services

Steps Taken Since October 1, 2015

Water Filters

- The state began distributing free waters to Flint residents in early October. Free water filters and replacement cartridges are currently available to all Flint at multiple locations.
    - The state has distributed 11,415 free water filters and 235 pitchers as of Dec. 31.
    - Free replacement cartridges are also available to residents – 1,475 have been distributed as of Dec. 31.
    - Water filters are available at four locations Monday – Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
        - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services offices
          125 E. Union St. and 4809 Clio Road
        - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department offices
          2727 Lippincott and 601 N. Saginaw
- In addition to the water filters purchased and distributed by the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, many local organizations and community partners including the United Way have held evening and weekend events to distribute water filters to Flint residents.

Enhanced Blood Lead Level Testing

- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services is working closely with local partners to ensure that all children, especially those younger than six years of age, are being tested for elevated blood lead levels.
- The Michigan Medicaid and WIC programs require testing for children at ages one and two. To promote and increase testing in the community, MDHHS issued a Health Alert Network notification for local Flint providers recommending blood lead testing for all children younger than six years of age who have not previously been tested.
- MDHHS is working closely with the local primary care provider community and WIC clinics to emphasize the importance of blood lead level screening for children.
- Many children in Flint have health benefits through the Medicaid program. MDHHS is coordinating with the Michigan Medicaid Health Plans to promote lead testing efforts.
- Additionally, a technical workgroup comprised of Medicaid data and public health surveillance experts are meeting to develop Medicaid specific EBLL testing goals.
- MDHHS Chief Medical Executive Dr. Eden Wells is in regular communication with Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha and other local and national experts regarding the Flint Water Crisis.

Blood Lead Level Testing Reports

- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services has updated its data surveillance methods for blood lead level testing to ensure the most up-to-date, accurate information is being reviewed.

- Results are made available through summary reports on the www.michigan.gov/flintwater website. The report shows how many tests have been completed and how many people tested had elevated blood lead levels.
- On Dec. 3, 2015, the first MDHHS BLL Summary Report was released and posted to Flint water website.
- On Dec. 11, MDHHS issued the second BLL Summary Report and posted to Flint water website.
- On Dec. 23, MDHHS the third BLL Summary Report was issued, noting change in method.
- The reports include data from the city of Flint, Genesee County, and the State levels.
- Between Oct. 1 and Dec. 18, 2,182 children and adults in Flint had their blood lead levels tested.
- Of those 2,182 individuals, 23 children 5 years of age or younger had a test greater than or equal to 5 micrograms per deciliter. Seven children ages 6 to 17 had an elevated blood lead level test, and tests for 13 adults exceeded the federal action level.

Case Management

- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services is partnering with the Genesee County Health Department to ensure families are being offered case management support.
- Additional state funds were allocated to the Genesee County Health Department to supplement their case management efforts. These state dollars paid for two and half full-time employees – nurses who are trained to provide education and assistance to families of Flint children with elevated blood lead levels – to work directly in the community.
- Through Dec. 18, a total of 192 contacts have been attempted to start case management.
- Of those, 115 were reached and offered case management.
- 26 children are currently receiving case management.
- MDHHS holds weekly status calls with the GCHD Case Management staff

Environmental EBL Investigations

- Another resource being offered to families where an elevated blood lead level has been detected is environmental investigations.
- Environmental investigations help identify potential lead exposures which could be from water, paint, soil, plumbing and other sources.
- 12 EBL investigations have been completed and five EBL investigation reports have been received. Of those, the following exposures have been found:
    - Four homes with lead dust hazards
    - Three homes with lead in soil hazards
    - Five homes with lead-based paint hazards
    - Two homes with lead detected in tap water

Communications and Education

- MDHHS and DEQ coordinated with the governor's office to launch the www.michigan.gov/flintwater website.
- In October, MDHHS, in partnership with the Genesee County Health Department, developed and distributed 8,500 packets with educational materials for parents and families in Flint. An additional 3,500 were distributed to GCHD in November.
- Education materials were distributed to all children in Flint schools and discussed the importance of blood lead level testing and the effects of lead exposure. The materials also outlined who should be tested and how to get children tested.

- FAQs: Lead in Flint Water – this document details when one should use filtered water versus unfiltered water. Available at: http://www.michigan.gov/documents/deq/2015-10-21_-_Lead_-_Flint_Water_FINAL_504265_7.pdf?20151207171149

- FAQs: Lead and Your Body – this document explains the potential health effects of lead poisoning through all life stages, and includes information about exposure pathways of lead from water. Available at: http://www.michigan.gov/documents/deq/2015-10-29_-_Lead_and_your_Body_-_Flint_-_no_background_507727_7.pdf?20151207171149

- Adding Phosphates to Flint Water – this document explains the process by which adding extra phosphates can potentially reduce the lead levels in Flint homes' water and the health implications of the phosphates at the levels they're being added. Approved for publication by GCHD, MDHHS approval and posting pending.

WIC and Medicaid

- MDHHS monitoring of Ready to Feed formula use and coordinating with Ready to Feed manufacturer and WIC retailers to proactively address any supply or distribution issues with infant formula availability.

- Information on Ready to Feed formula (including Talking Points, WIC Provider Letter, and infographic on Ready to Feed formula) was shared with Medicaid to share with the Medicaid Health Plans.

- Met with MSA to develop specifications for production of Medicaid population based blood lead testing reports for children in Flint exposed to Flint city water source

- MSA issues L 15-73 – Blood Lead Guidelines to Address the City of Flint Residents' Potential Exposure to Lead. This letter was sent to Practitioners, Clinics, Laboratories and Maternal Infant Health Program (MIHP) Providers in the City of Flint.

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
Flint Water: Timeline of Key Events

1 PRE JULY 2015

- Fall 2014 – Genesee County Health Department (GCHD) identified increase in cases of Legionella; MDHHS assisted GCHD in Epidemiologic analysis
- January 2015: MDHHS assisted with case interviews
- 6-4-15 Final Legionellosis outbreak report sent to Genesee County Health Department and discussed with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. There were 45 cases laboratory confirmed cases of legionella. Healthcare-associated Legionella was suspected for a subset of cases. Results demonstrated that over half (27/45) of the cases had a healthcare facility exposure in the two weeks prior to their illness onset. In response, the healthcare facility has implemented multiple environmental and procedural measures to alleviate the situation.
    - The source of water at the primary residence was evaluated for all cases. Twenty-one of 45 (47%) cases occurred in people whose residence received City of Flint water. Of the 18 persons that did not report healthcare visits, 8 (44%) were exposed to Flint water at their home.
    - Ten cases had no exposure to a Flint hospital in the 2 weeks prior to illness nor were their homes on the Flint water system.
    - Other possible exposures were evaluated and no other known community exposures were identified.
    - Enhanced surveillance has continued for the remainder of 2015.
- 2-26-2015 - (2 calls) initiated by . Contacted Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program-CLPPP (Karen Lishinski) – ' , expressed concern about Flint water quality and provider refusing to test her children; during second call she related that provider agreed to testing

I'm Captain Chris Kelenske with the Michigan State Police. If you live in the city of Flint, there are things you can do to keep you and your family safe from lead. Every Flint resident is able to receive a water filter and replacement filters, bottled water, home water testing, and blood testing: all for free. Additionally, 2-1-1 is set up to answer your questions and help you access these things as quickly and as easily as possible, including finding distribution sites near you. To get you or your child's blood tested, contact your doctor. For more information about where to go and what you can do, including finding a free water filter or bottled water, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater, or call 211 today.

Shanon,

I may not be in the JIC by 8a. It's been a long day! Tiff should be here at 8a if you get here early.

If you are in by 8:30a, you can call into the call with Kelenske and locals at EOC to get idea of what's going on. The 9:30a SEOC call we need to be on to provide JIC update. I'll be in by then, but in case I'm not I wrote our task list on the wall. I'll send you appointments with the call-in details (different for each call). Meegan should be invited to listen in if she wants. Not a big deal if we're not on 8:30 call. I've told SEOC we may not be.

I also left a task list for JIC Manager at head of the table by large window view.

As a heads up, we may need to plan a media avail with National Guard personnel on Wednesday once they're at the water resource sites. Media will want this. Kaiser should be there with Natl Guard PIO (probably Tiff too).

We'll need a state photo/video person to get footage.

We also have several pending materials that we need to review and approve at the JIC Manager level, including an MDHHS fact sheet (that I don't think we should approve), MDARD food establishment info, and MDE school child info. These are in the JIC Manager folders at head of table that I created tonight.

Website and social content needs to be worked on. Need to promote water filter video on social.

Meegan and Kari may not be in at 8 a.m. either since they worked late, too.

Call if you need me. I expect I'll be in by 8:30-9a.

PIOs,

So you are aware, the Federal Emergency Management Agency has approved the Governor's request for support to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint. The details of this are still being worked on. Various federal agencies and support programs may be made available. PIOs may need to provide subject matter expertise as state agencies become involved and have knowledge of these federal programs.

In addition, the Governor activated the National Guard with personnel beginning in Flint on Wednesday.

Additional details are in the below news release.

The Joint Information Center will continue to provide updates as we become aware. For questions, please email JICmanager@michigan.gov or call the JIC

Governor Snyder Requests Support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency

National Guard Activated to Assist with Flint's Water Emergency

LANSING, MI - Gov. Rick Snyder today requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.

This request will identify federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, Snyder today issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said. "The Michigan National Guard is trained and ready to assist the citizens of Flint."

Members of the National Guard are expected to start arriving in Flint as early as Wednesday to assist with response efforts and plan to increase to over 30 personnel by Friday. The support of the National Guard will enable American Red Cross volunteers, who have been staffing the water resource sites since Jan. 9, to join the efforts of the water resource teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

This is the second time Snyder has activated the National Guard. The first was for the massive Duck Lake Fire in the Upper Peninsula in May 2012.

Under Executive Order 2016-02, the active state service units and individuals in the Michigan National Guard are authorized to assist in maximizing all state efforts to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

Flint residents can continue to pick up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits at the water resource sites.

On Jan. 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency in the City of Flint at the request of Flint and Genesee County officials.

In accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the director of the Michigan State Police, or her designee, is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County.

Additional information about available resources can be found at www.michigan.gov/flintwater and by calling 2-1-1.

Subject: SEOC Update 1/12/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/12/16 – 8th Day (7th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

I apologize in advance for the length of this report. With the supply issues we had the last couple of days I wanted to share our inventory plus what we anticipate to ensure we do not have supply issues.

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Fine-tune logistics
- Increase and deploy door to door teams (4 state teams added to teams from the Sheriff's Department)
- Increase collaboration and messaging of collaboration with local agencies (specifically the Sheriff's Department)

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 7
- Executive Order Activating the National Guard

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The Governor signed an Executive Order activating the National Guard. Mission will be to relieve ARC volunteers at the PODs (Fire Stations) which will free up the ARC volunteers for door to door activities.
    - I have briefed the ARC Disaster Officer on this plan.
- The Governor requested, through FEMA Region V, support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to bring together and identify other federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of an interagency recovery plan. One of the existing LNOs has been identified as the POC for this. He will be a great liaison for the FWIACC.
- The door to door teams will continue at 0830 Wednesday morning and continue through the weekend and ramp up door to door operations with additional teams. Teams are focusing on the high lead level areas.
- We will look at all commodities and see where we are and where we need to be while working with the ARC logistics specialist.

Items to Note

- PSA video sent out to Flint citizens on resources available.

- Water
    - Today's numbers - 7,824 cases of water arrived today, 1/12/16 (109 pallets)

        - 117,600 – PUR replacement filter

- Test Kits
    - 6601 unassembled kits arrived at GCCARD today, 1/12/16.
    - 500 have been assembled and are ready for distribution
    - 1000 additional unassembled kits have been ordered to be delivered at GCCARD (no ETA yet)
    - 10,142 unassembled kits to arrive at GCCARD early next week

- Second warehouse – Located in Flint
    - 100, 000 square feet of secure warehouse obtained.
    - Accepting commodities beginning Wednesday, January 13

- Logistics Support
    - The American Red Cross Logistics Planner arrived from DC today as requested. I outlined what her mission was and how I saw the progression forward. This logistics planner will assist in streamlining the inventory and distribution process now and into the future.
- Door to Door Numbers
    - Today the app implementation for the field went extremely well. There were a few issues that were quickly addressed. One related to how form fields should be filled out. Another was getting styluses for teams so that they don't have to remove their gloves in the cold. All very simple to fixes.
    - We are working on version 2.0 so this can be used at the PODs
    - We should be able to greatly optimize distribution in the near future as we mapped the active water subscribers from Flint's DPW and are adding them to the field team members apps. Of the ~56,000 possible addresses, this reduces the number of possible homes to visit down to ~29,000.
    - Notes from the field commander:
        - "Today we started out the day using two groups that consisted of approximately 10 people in each group. We eventually combine groups with Genesee County Sheriff's group and they brought two more groups with approx. 10 people (Local UAW) in each group. This made us a lot more efficient and we were able to set up a game plan. Tomorrow I feel we will be more efficient and we will have a better plan in place to get the maximum output out of our resources."
    - In the end, there were 394 total home visits with the following breakdowns:
        - 217 Door Hangers

        - 152 Vacant Homes
        - 117 Water Distributions
        - 112 Filters
        - 3 Pitchers
        - 48 Water Test Kits
- 211
    - CALL VOLUME:
        - 185 calls for water-related issues had been received as of 4:45 pm.

- Logistics made contact with Comcast and will be supplying them with filters and replacement cartridges for their deliveries in their work trucks as they make services calls. They will follow our procedures for reporting (our checklist).

Chris

Update 1/11/16

The focus today was the media event and getting the supplies and logistics on track. Most of the activity today was working on logistics for the water and other supplies.

Attached Documents:
- SitRep 6

Key items for tomorrow to note are:
- The door to door teams will start at 0830 Tuesday morning. It is reported that troopers are going to the door but DHHS employees are the lead with a troop car nearby.
    - State and local GIS created an App today for the teams to use tomorrow but I see potential use at distribution sites.
    - The App data will be used for our maps as we survey the public/distribute supplies and we will be getting real time metrics through the site from the field send back to the SEOC. We are using Android tablets tomorrow but in the future can use any mobile device for this.

Items to Note
- It was reported that only one POD (Station 5) was out of water longer than 30-45 minutes. This site was ~2 hours without water and part of that was the truck went to the wrong station. Trucks were sent as soon as the local EOC was notified.
- We also did not receive a DHHS shipment that was to come in which caused some filter delivery issues.
- Supplies are limited at this time; however, we are getting our shipments starting at 0630 tomorrow.
- We have Home Depot giving us 12,768 cases (this was a late development so the SitRep indicates half the amount) of water every day starting tomorrow. We are still working with other distributors too.
- ARC is flying in a logistics planner tomorrow. Three additional staff with be with her to shadow and help. We are turning warehouse logistics over to ARC logistics. We are moving tomorrow to a process that has a distribution center (GCCARD) and a warehouse that is 100,000 square that will maintain mass quantities. Staff has continually been placing orders for supplies to ensure we get a head of this. The intent is to keep the warehouse full so we do not have these continual issues of supplies.

- Began mapping lead service lines (anticipate having draft of lead service lines Friday).
- Coordinated with local IT managers overseeing filter tracking system to streamline data collection.

Local Emergency Operations Center

• Working to coordinate resources at the local level to maintain adequate supplies at all PODs.
• Demand has exceeded supplies and supplies are moving rapidly from PODs today. Working to make sure POD managers notify us when they start running low.
• Working to establish a warehouse for local resource storage.
• Established trigger points for resources at PODs and hourly inventory reporting from the PODs.
• Discussed potential long term water sources between local EOC and SEOC.
• Established planning cycle/meeting scheduled for 1/12/16.
• Local EOC EMHSD staff with Natasha Henderson to request deployment of City representative at local EOC.

Update 1/10/16

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 5
- Door card (English version but Spanish version will be ready for Tuesday)

I have a local EOC section listed below but state personnel are heavily engage in management of both locations. We occasionally hit some road bumps with this event but all personnel are working well together to accomplish our goals (especially state agency personnel).

I have had good discussion with FEMA LNOs. Two statements have been developed from our discussions that hopefully helps put this in more context but if it is more confusing I apologize:

1. In the immediate response, the State, in collaboration and coordination with city of Flint and county of Genesee are working to get water, water filters, and testing kits to the affected population. In conjunction, the state will coordinate with federal agencies to ascertain what resources can come to bear to help mitigate the issue.

2. If asked about a federal declaration from FEMA, we need to articulate the definition of major and emergency declaration and state or note to ourselves that it appears to not qualify; however, there may exist opportunities to leverage federal assistance from some agencies (i.e....EPA) under their own authority to help address this issue.

- We need to really manage expectations on the potential for a federal declaration...not that we will not go after one but it will be difficult to get.
- A major disaster is defined in the Stafford Act as any "nature catastrophe (including hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, windriven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought) or, regardless of cause any fire, flood, or explosion.....causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude, to warrant major disaster assistance.....to supplement the efforts and available resources of States, and local government....."
- An emergency declaration is "is any occasion or instance for which, in determination .....assistance is needed to supplement State and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and protect property and public health and safety or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe....."
    - This is limited to immediate and short-term assistance (I hate to put times on this but short-term is like 3 weeks), essential to save lives, protect public health and safety and property.
- Severity of the situation is "A finding that the situation is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capability the state and affected local governments, and that the state requires supplementary federal emergency assistance to save and to protect property....
- Nature of assistance for Emergency Declaration is for "Debris removal, emergency protective measures, direct federal assistance...."
    - Debris Removal = self-explanatory and we do not have this
    - Emergency Protective measures = water, commodities, transportation (remember ... to supplement what the locals and state are already doing if we need more)
    - Direct federal assistance= what specific type of work is requested, and what are the reasons why the state/local government cannot perform or contract for performance. Essentially what is the need that state/local govt cannot provide. I can see this being something we need but we may be able to get this outside a federal declaration under the federal agencies own authority to help address this issue.

Back to the update...

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Training is occurring for the door to door teams scheduled for Tuesday morning.
- Deploying an additional MSP District Coordinator to the local EOC for command and control support.
- Deploying two DTM8 trucks and two drivers for sustained logistical support for the week.
- Media event with the Governor in Flint.
- New Incident Action Plan starts (1/11 0800 -1/13 0800 operational period). Our objectives are as follows:
    1. Ensure all households within impacted community have required resources.
    2. Ensure accurate tracking and accounting of all commodities.
    3. Improve and maintain public information strategy.
    4. Develop a long term public health and services plan.
    5. Ensure adequate staffing to support operational requirements.
    6. Identify possible assistance programs.

7. Develop an approved GIS strategy.
8. Maintain coordination between partner agencies and organizations.
9. Enhance situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
10. Develop a comprehensive Recovery Plan.

Items to Note

- All 9 churches had filter systems/replacement filters, information sheets, and water test kits delivered as requested by each pastor/reverend on Sunday. We did not think we could get them water due to the limited time but we did end up getting water to all 9 churches with the other items.
- Fire station resource locations stayed open from 9a to 9p and will continue with those hours until further notice (Staffing is in place until Saturday). ARC is staffing these locations.
- The media event was held at Fire Station No. 1 and report back is that it went well and the spirit of collaboration between local, state, non-governmental partners is strong was relayed.
- The four door to door teams will have the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
    - Each will have logistics support from DTMB, security from MSP, and contact personnel from DHHS.
    - The door card is attached that will be left if no one is home.
- Worked to identify a storage location within the City of Flint for water and supplies. G-CARD is identified as temporary location but we are moving toward a state run warehouse operation (looking at private sector partners to assist, especially with the warehouse management side).
    - GCCard is large enough, centrally located and comes staffed. GCCard has 75,000 sq ft with warehouse managers to assist with tracking resources coming in and out.
- GIS will provide us daily updates of how much was distributed each day but note we have a delay in data entry from delivery to entry in the GIS system. Over the weekend there was a problem locally with staffing to get this completed. A solution is in place and will be implemented so we get timely data. Distributed to date (as of 1/8/16).
    - 12,386 filters
    - 1,985 replacement filters
    - 354 Pitchers
    - 2500 Lead Testing Kits
- Establishing and tracking of resources is a priority. Staffing has been assigned to get a good handle on these to ensure distribution sites maintain an appropriate level of inventory. I have requested trigger points get put in place so we do not get below certain levels in the main warehouse location.
    - Contacts with some large water distributors have been made and their and our logistics chiefs will connect first thing this week.
    - We have ordered an additional (expedited delivery with ETAs tomorrow)
        - 40,000 Brita Filters
        - 40,000 Brita Replacement Filters
        - 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
        - 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
        - 2000 PUR Replacement Filters
        - 93 Pallets of water (about 6700 cases)
- GIS continues to produce multiple maps for use.
- JIC Items

- Requested PSA on the radio. Media has been approved and working with MAB.
- Requested JIC to contact Comcast and Dish Network for availability for continuous running of filter install/replacement and test kit video.
- A news release will likely going out tomorrow regarding canvassing in neighborhoods. Continued social media messaging.
    - Tuesday – embed state PIO with one of the canvassing teams to liaison with media.
    - JIC moving tomorrow to Flint.

Local Emergency Operations Center

I am providing you some information on some issues we ran into at the PODs. This has been addressed with additional state resources and processes put in place so we do not run out of resources. Public concerns/complaints have not been brought to my attention at this time. Staff is working very hard to ensure we do not run out of supplies at the PODs and they understand the consequences. No one in the Local EOC or State EOC is happy the follwoing occurred and I felt you should know in case it is brought up. Again, I believe we have fixed this and I take full responsibility for any supplies not being on site.

Fire Station Inventory Levels:

Station 1:

- Only time without supplies - 15 minutes without water while the truck was unloaded.

Station 3:

- Ran out of replacement filters around 7:00, replacement filters delivered around 7:30. Had to pick up replacement filters from Home Depot and deliver.

Station 5:

- Ran out of water around 5:00, water was delivered around 6:30. We needed to find additional trucks because DTMB drivers were over hours. The ARC stepped up and found a truck to go and pick up a pallet of water and deliver.
- Somewhere between 4:00-6:00 they ran out of lead test kits. No way to restock these because City facilities were closed and could not reach anyone.

Station 6:

- Around 5:00 ran out of water, filters, and replacement kits. Replacement kits were delivered around 7:30. Additional water and filters were delivered after 9:00 due to the DTMB drivers heading back to Lansing. Food Bank was called and had to get drivers in to operate trucks, pick up water from the School District, load and deliver to all sites. Delays occurred with weather conditions and needing to use last minute sheriff EOC staff to load due to issues with City workers. City workers were scheduled to help and left around 7:00 without helping.
- 2 pallets of water were dropped off in the afternoon and within 1 hour were gone. This was much faster than we expected. On 1/9 they didn't go through 2 pallets of water at any station for the hours 9:00-4:00.
- We received news that a reverse 9-1-1 call notified residents of water which caused an unanticipated amount of people obtaining water. There was also a report of 1 person walking out with 2 cases of water and trying to sell in the parking lot.

Station 8:

- Around 7:00 ran out of filters and lead tests. Filters were delivered around 8:00 from the food bank trucks.
- Hourly reports were requested in the morning from volunteers but this information was not received as to the status throughout the day. Early inventory of supplies took between 1 hour-1.5 hours to receive in the EOC. We were not advised of low counts, just zero numbers.
- Reports received that the last couple of hours were slow.
- Residents were advised of the other sites and the opportunity to obtain supplies.

Restocking Plan

- United Way set up meeting with Food Bank to discuss.
- Had EOC meeting on this topic to discuss options.

Churches:

- All 9 churches received waters, filters, and informational bulletins.
- Lt Roach received positive feedback from 3 of the pastors.
- No complaints were received.

Signage:

- Provided information to SEOC on signage requirements at the fire stations.

Storage:

- Researched storage spaces; established temporary site at GCCARD.

Personnel:

- Lack of local EOC leadership (seems somewhat checked out) with IC and Deputy IC (doing an okay job).
- Captain TaFoya (Genesee County) helped tremendously today with all the plans outlined above and attended the press conference.
- Tina Martinez at the Food Bank and Matt Purcell at GCCARD were extremely helpful in getting last minute operations set up.

Chris

Update 1/9/16

SitRep 4 attached for more in depth information. The below only contains some items worked on today and while the format in the attached SitRep is not perfect (it is created automatically by MICIMS) it does contain a lot more information you may want to read. I also attached one of our maps. It is our filter distribution map. All filters handed out by anyone working with us feeds into this now. We are continuing to refine these and at this time there is a delay in the upload of address data but we are working on it. We have a ways to go to get filters in every home but this will help direct us to those who need still them. We also are working on identifying abandoned homes.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 9 churches will have ARC volunteers and filters for distribution. Some may also get water.
- 5 fire stations are a distribution point for water, filter systems/replacement filters, and water test kits. While only open today until 4 p.m., tomorrow and until further notice they are open from 9a to 9p.
- Media event will take place on the above tomorrow.

Items to Note

- 211 has some issues with call load but it is being worked on. 2-1-1 Director contacted MDHHS PIO to discuss/resolve caller wait times and messaging. We anticipate an increase in activity tomorrow in 211 calls so we requested and received an increase to staff 211.
- We are shifting tasks the SEOC took on that are handled more effectively and efficiently at the local EOC. We have established command and control in their EOC. We are running things there but that is not being made public. We are doing this in partnership but we are clearly handling the operation with state personnel oversight.
- A 3rd FEMA LNO arrived today upon my request. This has nothing to do with a Presidential request for a declaration but support for some other items I want worked on for long term recovery.
- We continue morning calls with the local EOC leadership and local emergency manager on what our goals for the day are as well as any issues/concerns.
- Five 5 fire stations have received water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits with American Red Cross personnel at each location to assist with delivery of resources and collection of addresses receiving them. These locations will be open from 9a – 9p daily until determined they are no longer needed. Those picking up water testing kits will be advised that they can return the test kits to the fire departments (where they will be picked up and taken to the Flint City Hall), the Flint Water Treatment Plant, or they can take them directly to the Flint City Hall. For those unable to return the kits, 211 can make arrangements for pick up the kits. We understand response to these sites has been positive thus far. The Genesee County EOC will be monitoring these supplies and request replacement of products as needed.
    - A call is going out tomorrow morning to advise this information ... I do not believe it was every resident but Tori Sachs has that info if needed.
- I approved a press release today to advise the public that all levels are working together to ensure delivery of filters, test kits and water; noting that all of these items were delivered to the 5 Flint fire department stations. It was stressed that the public should be aware that the local and state agencies have been working cooperatively to assist the residents - and will continue to do so. This was done to hopefully end or at least minimize the "who can get water and filters out first" when all of this has been connected with the state and coordinated since the state declaration was put in place.
- The arrangement of 2,000 filters, to be taken to 9 local churches on Sunday, January 10, is ongoing. The filters have been secured; they are now in the possession of the DTMB. DTMB will return to Flint on Sunday morning to deliver these to necessary locations. The American Red Cross will be on site at each church to assist with distribution and recording addresses (for GIS). The local EOC is working to ensure these arrangements are complete and run smoothly. Future engagement with the faith based community will occur to assist with additional distribution.
- A Flint City liaison has not been in the EOC but starting Monday this will be in place to keep the Flint Mayor appraised of activities being conducted in the city. She also has been advised she can call me at any time if she needs anything.
- Training has been confirmed for the door-to-door operation scheduled to start Tuesday. Four teams are initially scheduled with more to potentially be put in place. These are the teams that will be handing out water, filter systems/replacement filters, test kits and information. If nobody is home, a door hanger with information is being left. DHHS personnel and one MSP trooper will be on these teams.

- Training will take place at 1 p.m. on Monday afternoon at the DHHS office on Clio Road. DEQ and DHHS will provide the training.
    - Training is so those going door to door can explain what the filters do, how to install them, if they need install help to call 211 who has a list of people who can install the filters, and answer any other questions versus just handing them the filter.
- Hours of operation will be Tuesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. AT THIS TIME. I am reevaluating these times to increase contact with someone versus just leaving information.
- Logistics are being finalized for the teams and trucks to handle stocking and re-stocking of materials during daily operations.
- GIS maps will provide guidance on deployment locations for these teams and other teams in the field.

- A pilot project at Freeman Elementary with LARA and DEQ has been initiated to see if replacing certain plumbing components in faucets at the school will drop the lead level.

MSP/EMHSD GIS Section Updates

Accomplished Today (January 9):

- Produced a Point of Distribution Map. Contains four types of distribution points; Churches, Water Resource Sites, Filter Distribution Sites, Water Distribution Sites.
- Produced Filter Distribution Map.
- Developed process of how best to handle geocoding the household filter locations, worked on processing the data.
- Worked on map of franchise customers outside of Flint City.
- Produced maps for MDARD on food establishments and Local Health Departments.
- Produced map of Church Filter Distribution map for DTMB.

Local Emergency Operations Center

- The state has deployed 10 personnel to the Genesee County EOC to ensure we have command and control at the local level. On 1/8/15 The state personnel took over the incident management functions of the Genesee County EOC (not public). The arrival of additional staff allowed the local Emergency Management Coordinator to delegate tasks which relieved a tremendous amount of stress.
- Additional Sherriff staff (2-positions) will be shadowing the state incident management team to allow for transition to the county personnel later in the incident when we are comfortable with them handling things. Not sure when that will be but we have secured a direct bill hotel for staff to stay in Flint as long as needed.
- With the additional staff, the Local EOC will be able to take over functions previously handled by the SEOC including:
    - Logistical activities to support church operations.
    - Logistical activities to support fire stations operations.
    - Coordinate Donations Management activities and draft donations management plan
    - Coordinate Volunteer Management activities

- Identify local storage/staging facilities
- Overall inventory tracking
- Tracking of Points of Distribution (PODs)

Chris

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/8/16

SitRep 3 attached.

There is a significant difference in what is being presented by the media and what the local EOC is relaying to us at the SEOC. It is also being driven by the media that this is a state versus local response (who is providing more and quicker versus a coordinated effort between all). That said, I advised SEOC personnel that perception is reality in some eyes and we are to move forward to address items that typically are addressed at the local level. I have ordered the SEOC open all weekend due to make the quick wins that we need and continue to get the coordination and collaboration in place that is needed (but make gains on our own as needed).

Items to Note

- Two FEMA LNO's arrived today and are in the SEOC. A third LNO was requested from FEMA due to some unique issues with this event to include having to deploy more or my staff to the local EOC to get more structure and/or find out why there is an issue with the message the media is showing versus what we are hearing from the local EOC.

- We finally received from the local EOC 8 locations (we were told originally early in the week they had 80-90) that are their Points of Distribution (PODs) for water in conjunction with the local food bank. The PODs are not getting water from the food bank even though the food bank has water. We are going to resolve this issue as we can help deliver the water to the PODs but we were not aware of this. 8 PODs is not enough locations if water needs to be distributed to citizens. Speaking with the ARC Regional Administrator later today, I believe ARC got water to those locations but I need to confirm that in the morning. The food bank reported they had 376 cases of water.

- We have learned that a low number of residents are testing their water when DEQ can test 400 kits per day. This is an added focus that we believe can be increased through dissemination of test kits with the filters and any water.

- I found out the Mayor was okay with using fire stations as distribution points for water, filters, and water test kits. While this did not come to me through the local EOC, I advised we needed to get water, filters, and test kits to these locations for tomorrow. The distribution at 5 Flint Fire Department stations has been coordinated to be in place by 10:00 am tomorrow morning.

    - DTMB has provided a truck and driver to pick up water test kits from DEQ lab in Lansing, water from the Food Bank and water filters and replacement cartridges from GCARD in Genesee County.

- 10 American Red Cross (ARC) volunteers will meet the DTMB truck at GCARD at 9:00 am to be provided information about filters. Instructions will be included in water test kits. They will then report to the 5 fire stations to assist in distribution of resources to the public and track addresses of same.
- Residents will be told where they can drop off their water test kits, or that they can return them to the fire station the next day. Coordination will occur on pick up of water test kits daily to be taken to the Flint City Hall, who will then delivery them to the DEQ testing lab.

- STILL FINALIZING - We have made available 2,000 Filters for distribution on Sunday as parishioners leave mass/services. This will be 200 filters for 10 churches in Flint. While this is a small number of churches, we do not want to waste an opportunity to hand out filters and this seems like a quick way to so. The filters will be put on the DTMB truck on Saturday for delivery to TBD locations for distribution. Logistics remain undetermined as I am still waiting on a list of the churches, pastors/reverends/hours or services/etc. The DTMB truck will be returning to Lansing approximately 11:00 a.m. so we need to finalize this quickly on Saturday. We may utilize ARC to assist with this.

- The Recovery branch is working with the JIC to develop a door hanger card. DTMB is working on the printing portion of the hanger card. Recovery will also be finalizing logistics over the weekend for neighborhood canvasing to occur early next week. 40 volunteers have signed up to attend training on Monday afternoon to complete this task. The mission will be to deliver water sample kits along with water filters/replacement cartridges, and water.

- It appears that 211 has become overloaded. DHHS is researching ways to increase capacity for calls.

- A Volunteer Management Coordinator is in the Genesee County EOC as of today.

- A Donations Management Coordinator has been requested and she will be in the Genesee County EOC Saturday.

- DHHS had a conference call with GM today; they indicated they can provide cash, and supplies, but primarily manpower. No commitments were made at this point. We inquired as to availability of warehouse space and trucks. It was left as GM being a major resource pool that we can tap into as we determine missions. Further conversations will occur, but primarily GM just wanted us to know they are there if needed.

- An additional EMHSD staff member was sent to the Genesee County EOC to act as Operations Section Chief and obtain awareness of the situation there.

- GIS staff met with various parts of Genesee County/Flint personnel to try to get a handle on data available.

- GIS continues to work with local GIS personnel with three GIS staff going to Flint today to work with them. GIS staff is working with U of M on how best to proceed with digitizing water lines for long term recovery.

Chris

UPDATE 1/7/16

A summary of some of today's SEOC activities is provided below. Attached is the following:

- Today's SitRep which contains more information than below.
- The resource request/task assignment sheet for your situational awareness. This is how locals request resources as well as how we track resources and any assignments and/or tasks that are to be completed.
- JIC Task Tracking – for your situational awareness on how we are tracking requests and assignments. Once someone is assigned a task or resource request it allows them to document what work has been or will be done as shown at the bottom of the document.

Items to note:

- I received a document this evening from Genesee County which appears to be damage assessment information. Analysis of this will occur tomorrow. It appears to be infrastructure and costs to fix it and no other impacts.
- I spoke with Jamie Curtis, Genesee County Commissioner, this evening. A very good relationship is in place with him, especially with our District Coordinator (DC). I also have our DC working on developing stronger relationships with the Mayor/Mayor's office.
- GIS staff continue to obtain data and work with County and City personnel to get a picture of where resources have been provided, need to be provided, as well as infrastructure locations (pipes) that could be affected.
- Personnel and agencies have been tasked with developing a plan to get people in the community to deliver information, hand out filters, etc. This would target those areas we are showing minimal or no filter distribution based on the data we are collecting. The plan is to get them in the field by Tuesday and the plan will be provided to me tomorrow.
- Filters can be obtained at the following locations:
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 125 E. Union St., Flint, MI 48502
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 4809 Clio Road, Flint, MI 48504
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 2727 Lippincott, Flint, MI 48507
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 601 N. Saginaw, Flint, MI 48502
- Conducted briefing with local EOC and county executive.
- Conducted briefing with state agencies (daily updates).
- Began work to schedule legislative/congressional conference calls. Tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday.
- JIC continued to develop messaging.
- Provided input to local EOC regarding best methods of identifying health and non-structural impacts for damage assessment process.

- Deployed two EMHSD/SEOC liaisons to assist the local EOC.
- Published the Incident Action Plan and continued assignment of objectives/tasks.
- FEMA Liaison Officers just arrived in Lansing to assist command and general staff.
- I spoke with Harvey a few times and he should have talking points later tonight or tomorrow a.m. for his use and also for others who may speak to media outside of state government who may benefit from our messaging.
- We held a media round table at 1 P.M. at the SEOC. Dr. Wells and I spoke and answered questions to numerous media outlets.
- Local agencies and NGOs continue to provide water and filters to citizens.
- The website, www.michigan.gov/flintwater, was update with information and links to assistance to include 211. Additional recommendations were provided to include information on the testing water in homes.

EMHSD GIS:

Accomplished Today:

- Reproduced Socio-Economic Status Map
- Reproduced Predicted Affected Populations Map
- Cleansed old data and reports for water filter distributions
- Created draft map of water filter distributions (Refinement needed before releasing final product)
- Scheduled on-site visit with Flint GIS Department and Genesee County GIS Department
- Formatted databases to host content
- Researched service line database creation and scheduled meeting with U of M Flint to discuss timelines and resource needs
- Generated water infrastructure map (does not include building service lines)

Tasks for Tomorrow:

- Meet with Flint City GIS
- Meet with Genesee County GIS
- Meet with U of M Flint GIS
- Finalize water filter distributions map
- Finalize plan for data distribution methods

Chris

UPDATE 1/6/16

A summary of today's SEOC activities is provided below. I tried to distill this as best I could but there has been a lot of activity and discussion to get an accurate assessment of the situation. Attached is the final draft of objectives and tactics for the operational period and agency situation report (SitRep) which has more SEOC agency information. I have implemented weekly operational periods.

Advise if you want anyone else copied or off this distribution.

Daily Update

- Set goals for SEOC and identified response/recovery emphasis
- Requested FEMA liaison officers (LNO) from FEMA Region V. Two LNOs will be on site by ~3 p.m. 1/7/16. Both are known contacts to me and some staff and one has worked extensively with me during the SE MI flooding in a command and control position. These personnel have been specifically tasked with this mission. THEY ARE NOT HERE TO ASSIST WITH A PRESIDENTIAL DECLARATION REQUEST BUT TO ASSIST ME.
- PIOs from multiple agencies were here and established the Joint Information Center (JIC). News released pushed out on this. I am very happy with the PIO work and movement toward coordinated messaging.
- Held briefing for State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators, which included presentations from DEQ and DHHS subject matter experts to ensure situational awareness and to develop a common operating picture.
    - I opened the briefing by identifying our initial goals, items to think about while subject matter experts were briefing us, and how we are to move forward, find quick wins, and regain trust.
    - MDHHS – Elevated Blood Lead Levels
        - Dr. Elizabeth Wells gave an in depth summary of lead poisoning and what has occurred in terms of health monitoring throughout the Flint crisis.
    - MDEQ – Water Testing Protocols
        - Mr. George Krisztian of MDEQ gave an in depth summary of the testing protocols and summary results that as they have developed throughout the emerging crisis.
- Developed Incident objectives, strategy and tactics (see attached)
- Identified SEOC and state agency staff positions
- Assigned work tasks for SEOC operation period from 0800 January 6, 2016 to 1700 January 8, 2016
- Reviewed planned actions, prepared final draft Incident Action Plan
- Made contact with the Genesee County Emergency Manager first thing in the morning and held a conference call mid-day to discuss roles. Daily 0830 command conference calls with local EOC command staff starts tomorrow. Tomorrows call will include the County Commissioner and the City Administrator (both invited). Topics include the incident action plan objectives and establishing better local coordination, command and control to facilitate integration with the SEOC. The local EOC is not functioning as it needs to with personnel and local coordination and we are working on that issue.
- I will be in Flint tomorrow for a 2 p.m. media round table with local officials that was set up by the JIC.
- The attached initial objectives will be updated at least every operational period and as needed. I listed the objectives below but the tactics to accomplish them is in the attached if you want further information.
    1. Activate the State Recovery Task Force (SRTF).
    2. Establish and maintain coordination between the City of Flint, Genesee County, state and federal agencies, and appropriate medical experts.
    3. Obtain and maintain situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
    4. Establish SEOC operational period and hours of operations.
    5. Investigate and identify all available programs for assistance with direct or related impacts, including the federal Lead Pipe Replacement Program.
    6. Develop a comprehensive GIS strategy.

7. Coordinate response and recovery activities with MIVOAD and identify potential mission areas.
8. Establish and coordinate routine communication between SMEs and coordinate technical assistance among state agencies and to local agencies.
9. Provide technical assistance to the local Damage Assessment process.
10. Establish a Joint Information Center (JIC) and develop a public information strategy.
11. Monitor MI CIMS for resource requests and address as appropriate.
12. Establish and disseminate cost center information for the incident.

- Additional tasks include:
    - Determine what federal agencies are already involved and their status
    - Identify potential water supplies
    - Determine where affected homes are located, where filters/pitchers (and replacements) were installed/provided, and determine who needs filters, etc.
    - Determine how filter distribution is handled, and if it can be handled more efficiently and effectively
    - Determine what mechanisms are in place for nutrition supplementation

EMHSD GIS Accomplishments:

- Hosted a conference call to begin coordination with Flint City and Genesee County GIS departments and the SEOC
- Established a daily call with county and city GIS personnel to synchronize GIS efforts in support of the Flint water crisis at 8:30 A.M.
- Began consolidating local data from local GIS practitioners into a consolidated database, to include:
    - Water Pipeline Locations
    - Filter Distribution Locations
    - November 25, 2015 Water Monitoring Results (Partial, some data remains to be digitized)
    - Affected School Locations
    - Predictive analysis of blood lead levels for affected area
    - Updated Parcels
    - Demographics
    - Block Groups
- Produced a map for the filter distribution locations
- Began contacting specialists who developed historic maps depicting the Flint Water Crisis to obtain the data

Subject: Update - Genesee County Declaration

Below are some key points for your situational awareness (FYSA) that have taken place or will take place within the next 15 hours.

- I was on the phone with Sean Kammer, Assistant to the Flint City Administrator, when the declaration hit the news so I advised him immediately. He was going to let the City Administrator know.
- I contacted MSP Lt. Roach, 3rd District Coordinator, who was at the Genesee County EOC and advised her to let the County EM know the declaration status.
- State Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMCs) were notified via our notification system with additional information in an email.
    - This included information on the SEOC activation and a 0900 briefing for SEMCs.
    - Some subject matter experts will provide us an update to establish a common operating picture.
- We have been in contact with FEMA Region V watch desk ... they will be on the call tomorrow and continue to monitor the situation.
- I have been in contact with the FEMA Region V Administrator to keep him updated.
- Operational period for the SEOC will be M-F, 0800 to 1700 at this time.
- Situation Reports (SitReps) will be provided in the evenings.
- An Incident Action Plan will be developed tomorrow.

Call me with any concerns or questions.

Governor Snyder Requests Support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency

National Guard Activated to Assist with Flint's Water Emergency

LANSING, MI - Gov. Rick Snyder today requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.

This request will identify federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, Snyder today issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said. "The Michigan National Guard is trained and ready to assist the citizens of Flint."

Members of the National Guard are expected to start arriving in Flint as early as Wednesday to assist with response efforts and plan to increase to over 30 personnel by Friday. The support of the National Guard will enable American Red Cross volunteers, who have been staffing the water resource sites since Jan. 9, to join the efforts of the water resource teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

This is the second time Snyder has activated the National Guard. The first was for the massive Duck Lake Fire in the Upper Peninsula in May 2012.

Under Executive Order 2016-02, the active state service units and individuals in the Michigan National Guard are authorized to assist in maximizing all state efforts to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

Flint residents can continue to pick up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits at the water resource sites.

On Jan. 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency in the City of Flint at the request of Flint and Genesee County officials.

In accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the director of the Michigan State Police, or her designee, is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County.

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) Blood Lead Level Test Results for Flint Zip Codes 48501-48507, Genesee County, and the State of Michigan Summary as of January 8, 2016

Executive Summary

This report is generated by MDHHS to track Blood Lead Level test results in Flint, Michigan.

- Counts on this report include both capillary and venous blood tests.
- People who have had multiple tests are counted only once per year. People counted in 2015 who were tested again after 1/1/2016 are counted in both years.
- Between 10/1/2015 and 1/8/2016, an additional 2,642 people were tested in Flint.
- Continued testing efforts by Genesee County Health Department, MDHHS and local medical personnel have identified 35 children with blood lead levels greater than or equal to 5 mcg/dL (micrograms lead per deciliter of blood) since 10/1/2015.
- Blood lead level testing is an important part of our efforts to identify people who have been harmed by drinking water that contained lead. However, MDHHS recognizes that the full community of Flint must be the focus of the public health response.
- 2.3 percent of Flint children younger than 6 years old tested between 10/1/2015 and 1/8/2016, had blood lead levels greater than or equal to 5 mcg/dL.
- After refining our methods to identify age, some people are now counted in a different age group than on previous reports. The total counts for each year have not changed.

* Data for Quarter 4 of 2015 and Quarter 1 of 2016 are incomplete and subject to change.

JIC- To Do on 1/17

- Determine time for Congressional call (2 or 2:30 p.m.) and time for legislative call (tentatively 3 or 3:30 p.m.)
- Finalize Kelenske's talking points for the Congressional/legislative calls
- Finalize American Red Cross/United Way news release on volunteer reception center; the draft provided by Ron with ARC needs to be vetted and content is unclear; Tiffany was working on it
- Chad Livengood sent us an email with multiple questions at 6:30 p.m., which we didn't get to today. Email is in the action items folder.
- Post National Guard photos of Vadnais event on website; Vega will provide
    - Trevor might be out of the office so photo gallery will need to be on hold
- Finalize new layout/content for Flint water website; Jason Moon has been working on this
    - Some flyers/documents were posted below the social media section, but they were taken off today when the PDFs were posted of the Gov/Pres declaration letters. Michelle Stiffler posted these documents, so she may know why the others disappeared. Also, we put the Gov/Pres letters below social media because there was not another place for them; this can be changed.
- Determine external affairs strategy with FEMA
    - Dan Shulman, Congressiona
    - Cassie Ringsdorf, External Affairs, 3 ?
- Issue daily activity numbers; SEOC will provide by 5 p.m.
    - Some concerns were raised today that the Sheriff's Office is not being recognized as part of the water response teams. Until tonight, we were told the teams we were receiving numbers on were for SOM employee/MSP teams and Red Cross. Apparently the sheriff's personnel are with the SOM teams. Some SEOC members wanted us to indicate the teams were led by the Sheriff's Office in partnership with the MSP, but I was able to change this to the teams are comprised of local and state personnel, ARC, and volunteers. This may be a topic to clarify on Sunday; Kelenske wasn't in the SEOC so he wasn't aware of these issues when I called him to discuss my concerns. Tiff is aware if you need more details.
    - Several churches are being given water resources to distribute to their parishioners again on Sunday. This information could be included in the daily activity release.
- Ensure staff monitor the JICnews and JICmanager accounts. The JICmanager account has a serious amount of emails in it. I asked staff the other day to start moving completed emails to a folder for Flint water, but I don't think that's happened to date.
- There is still media interest in getting footage of the new warehouse on Clio Rd. Per the ARC PIO, the warehouse manager is adamant that he doesn't want media there. A state photog could be sent to get b-roll to share, or work with the SEOC to coordinate a media avail. The warehouse opened on Saturday.

So you're aware, the JIC will be finalizing the draft talking points for Kelenske to review for the Congressional/Legislative calls in the afternoon.

We have a solid draft and will do a final review in the morning.

Shanon,

Attached are tasks for the JIC and updates on a few items. Tiff and Sierra are both up to speed on these topics if you need more details.

I left a printed copy and the action items at your seat.

Good luck, and I hope you are out of the JIC by 9 p.m. each night (wishful thinking).

Joint Information Center 888-EMD-TODAY (888-363-8632)
Release # 6

FLINT, Mich. – Today, the water response teams distributed resources to nearly 4,000 Flint homes providing residents with free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

To date, more than 11,300 homes have been visited by the water response teams, comprised of local and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers. Over the course of the holiday weekend, Flint residents and approximately 300 state employees and their family members are volunteering to help increase door to door efforts.

In addition, the Michigan National Guard is dedicating more personnel to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites. Beginning on Monday, January 18, approximately 70 National Guard members will be handing out resources at the fire stations, which is more than double the current commitment.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams, in addition to donations:
•Nearly 20,900 cases of water
•Nearly 48,000 filters
•More than 3,300 water testing kits

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:
•Nearly 57,500 cases of water
•More than 108,500 filters
•Nearly 29,000 water testing kits

To help enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

The water resource sites will remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:
Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5
3402 Western Road
Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Road
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Road
Flint, MI 48507

Today, President Barack Obama declared a federal emergency in Flint, based on Gov. Rick Snyder's request made on Thursday, January 14, providing resources to help provide residents access to safe, clean water

The state of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater or by calling 211.

Hi Cassie,

Thanks for the heads up. We're working on compiling talking points for Captain Kelenske for the call. I'll share these with you when they're ready. Also, Kelenske wants to have a call with Michigan's legislative delegation for the Flint area immediately following the Congressional call. I imagine the FCO will also be on this call.

So you're aware, Shanon Banner with the Michigan State Police will be the JIC leader on Sunday and Monday, then I'll be in the JIC again on Tuesday. I'm copying Shanon on this email and her cell is [redacted] Feel contact her tomorrow for anything you need.

You can also send emails to JICmanager@michigan.gov to ensure one of us sees it.

Also, below is the location of the JIC in Flint. We can provide more details if/when you come here. The JIC is staffed beginning at 8 a.m. daily and we've been working until 9-11 p.m. The media hotline is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the number is 888-363-8632. You can also call the JIC hotline to reach one us here.

JIC location:

Hi Nicole,

Dan and I are on the way to Lansing tonight.

I believe you've already spoken to Dan, but I wanted to check in--if there are any immediate needs from me--media monitoring, messaging, etc., let me know. We'll start out in Lansing, but if it's more beneficial for me/us to be in Flint, I think we can make that work.

Talk to you soon,

1. 11,324 homes visited by the FWRTs to date. We believe we have ~24,000 homes with filters; still trying to validate. This is form the data we received from prior to the SEOC activation plus the PODs and door to door operations since activation.

2. Distributed:
    a. Number of cases of water 20,876
    b. Filters 47,935
    c. Filter cartridges 167,401
    d. Test kits 3,322

3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
    a. 29,944 paying customers
    b. 45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)
    c. 39,000 includes apartment complexes (The is the low end target #)

4. Resources purchased:
    a. Cases of water 57,456 (additional 12,884 donated)
    b. Filters 108,520
    c. Filter cartridges 239,081
    d. Test kits 28,901

a. 10 State (6-9 folks) type 3 teams---Goal tomorrow 300 homes per team

Hi Nicole

Shanon is not eligible for overtime but the exception is running through the process now. Hopefully it will be through for this pay period still. If not we'll have to do an adjustment. I'll have Nancy see if she can help it move.

We'll get coding to Nicole for timekeeping.

Thanks

Release # 6

FLINT, Mich. – Today, the water response teams distributed resources to nearly 4,000 Flint homes providing residents with free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

To date, more than 11,300 homes have been visited by the water response teams, comprised of local and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers. Over the course of the holiday weekend, Flint residents and approximately 300 state employees and their family members are volunteering to help increase door to door efforts.

In addition, the Michigan National Guard is dedicating more personnel to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites. Beginning on Monday, January 18, approximately 70 National Guard members will be handing out resources at the fire stations, which is more than double the current commitment.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams, in addition to donations:
•Nearly 20,900 cases of water
•Nearly 48,000 filters
•More than 3,300 water testing kits

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:
•Nearly 57,500 cases of water
•More than 108,500 filters
•Nearly 29,000 water testing kits

To help enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

The water resource sites will remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:
Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.

I started responding but didn't get a chance to finish; came in when Pres declaration was made.

Can you please follow up on Sunday? Email was from the head of the agency Jessi works for as part of DHHS; I can't remember the name.

Sorry for leaving this with you! Let me know if this doesn't make sense and I can clarify. Thanks!

For news release 6, please verify that it was sent to our partner PIOs including the city, Red Cross and 211. I sent it to FEMA.

I'm not sure if the release was just sent to the contact spreadsheet tab for media only, or if it went out to our partners, too.

City shared the Mayor's statement about the pres decl, which was good to receive.

When the Gov's Office sends releases, we should probably forward it to our partners who are most likely not on their list.

I think the request about adding in lead in other parts of the country is not of concern to this particular event and undermines what we are doing specifically for Flint. The flyer is labeled with the Flint Water Response Team logo, I don't think we need to worry about other areas outside of Flint.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RED CROSS AND COMMUNITY PARTNERS ORGANIZE VOLUNTEER EFFORTS FOR WATER EMERGENCY
"Anybody can serve." - Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Media availability this afternoon

FLINT, MI, JANUARY 18, 2016 – It is appropriate on Martin Luther King, Jr. Day to remember the Rev. King's words on volunteer service. "Everybody can be great. Because anybody can serve."

Those wishing to serve the people of Flint with ongoing work to distribute water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and test kits, can join the efforts by visiting the Volunteer Reception Center at the Red Cross office, 1401 S. Grand Traverse St. in Flint. The United Way of Genesee County, the Michigan Community Service Commission and the American Red Cross of East Central Bay-Michigan have come together to operate the center.

"This collaboration is a great example of the community coming together to meet the needs of our citizens," said Jamie Gaskin, CEO of United Way of Genesee County.

The Volunteer Reception Center is open today, Martin Luther King Day, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

On Tuesday, January 19, hours return to:
•Monday – Friday, 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.
•Saturday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
•Sunday, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.

"It is expected that this distribution effort will continue for some time and it will take a lot of volunteers to help," says Tony Lasher, Executive Director of the East Central Bay- Michigan office. "The Red Cross has a long history and experience in mobilizing and training volunteers to respond to emergencies and we'll use that experience to bring together [illegible] part of the current community response in Flint."

People coming to the Volunteer Reception Center will receive a brief training and orientation. Volunteers should plan on being available for a minimum three-hour assignment. While many assignments will be made on the same day the person comes to register at the Volunteer Reception Center, some assignments for tasks such as data entry, warehousing, operations support, and water testing kit assembly (kid and family friendly!) may begin on other days. New requests come in daily so job type and opportunities vary.

"We are grateful to any and all Michigan residents who are willing to give their time and resources to help during this time of need," said Ginna Holmes, executive director of the Michigan Community Service Commission. "As the state's lead agency for volunteerism, we are working side-by-side with our partners in Flint to mobilize volunteers to help with outreach efforts."

The United Way of Genesee County and United Way 2-1-1 will be supporting the Volunteer Reception Center. Anyone wanting more information about volunteering can call 2-1-1.

About United Way of Genesee County: Founded in 1922, United Way of Genesee County currently supports more than 43 programs with direct grants, helping more than 57,000 people in Genesee County. The agency's investment model is based on Education, Health, Financial Stability and Basic Needs. In 2014, the total economic impact through direct and leveraged funds exceeded $11.6 million.

About the Michigan Community Service Commission: The Michigan Community Service Commission utilizes service as a strategy to address the state's most pressing issues and empowers volunteers to strengthen communities. The MCSC is housed in the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. For more information visit www.michigan.gov/volunteer or call 517-335-4295.

About the American Red Cross: The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides emotional support to victims of disasters; supplies about 40 percent of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; provides international humanitarian aid; and supports military members and their families. The Red Cross is a not-for-profit organization that depends on volunteers and the generosity of the American public to perform its mission. For more information, please visit redcross.org or visit us on Twitter at @RedCross.

Media Advisory: A media availability is being planned for 3 p.m. at the Volunteer Reception Center, 1401 S. Grand Traverse St., Flint.

FLINT, Mich. – Today, the water response teams distributed resources to nearly 4,000 Flint homes providing residents with free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

To date, more than 11,300 homes have been visited by the water response teams, comprised of local and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers. Over the course of the holiday weekend, Flint residents and approximately 300 state employees and their family members are volunteering to help increase door to door efforts.

In addition, the Michigan National Guard is dedicating more personnel to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites. Beginning on Monday, January 18, approximately 70 National Guard members will be handing out resources at the fire stations, which is more than double the current commitment.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams, in addition to donations:

- Nearly 20,900 cases of water
- Nearly 48,000 filters
- More than 3,300 water testing kits

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- Nearly 57,500 cases of water
- More than 108,500 filters
- Nearly 29,000 water testing kits

To help enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

DECLARED JANUARY 16, 2016

SUMMARY

STATE: Michigan

NUMBER: FEMA-3375-EM

INCIDENT: Contaminated Water

INCIDENT PERIOD: April 25, 2014, and continuing

DATE REQUESTED BY GOVERNOR: January 14, 2016

FEDERAL COORDINATING OFFICER: David G. Samaniego
National FCO Program

DESIGNATIONS AND TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

The Department of Homeland Security, Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), is authorized to provide appropriate assistance for required emergency measures, authorized under Title V of the Stafford Act, to save lives and to protect property and public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe in the designated area. Specifically, FEMA is authorized to provide emergency protective measures (Category B), limited to direct federal assistance, under the Public Assistance program at 75 percent federal funding.

This emergency assistance is to provide water, water filters, water filter cartridges, water test kits, and other necessary related items for a period of no more than 90 days for Genesee County.

OTHER: Additional designations may be made at a later date if requested by the state and warranted by the results of further evaluation.

Note: This is an emergency declaration.

7. Incident Period: Beginning Date Apr 25, 2014 End Date _____ or ☒ Continuing

If requesting a "continuing" incident period, enclose an official statement from a qualified Federal Government agency acknowledged as a national authority in a specific incident field (e.g., United States Geological Survey for seismic incidents, the National Weather Service for flooding).

7b. Type of Incident (Check all that apply)

☐ Drought ☐ Earthquake ☐ Explosion ☐ Fire ☐ Flood ☐ Hurricane ☐ Landslide ☐ Mudslide

☐ Severe Storm (rain, high water, wind-driven rain, hail, lightning) ☐ Snowstorm (Must include Enclosure D: Historic and Current Snowfall Data) ☐ Straight-Line Winds

☐ Tidal Wave ☐ Tornado ☐ Tropical Depression ☐ Tropical Storm ☐ Tsunami ☐ Volcanic Eruption ☐ Winter Storm

☒ Other (please specify) Contamination and Damage to Public Water System

8. Description of damages (Short description of impacts of disaster on affected area and population). Include additional details in enclosed Governor's or Tribal Chief Executive's cover letter.

On April 25, 2014, the City of Flint switched from the Detroit Water System (DWSD) to water from its own water treatment plant drawn from the Flint River as its primary water source. The different characteristics of the water resulted in leaching of lead from lead pipes in the city's water infrastructure into the water supply. Increased exposure to lead can cause immediate negative health effects. However, the main health concerns are long-term effects in children such as developmental and cognitive delays, and behavioral disorders. Increased water lead levels and elevated blood lead levels in young children were observed in the City of Flint and confirmed by the State Chief Medical Executive. Based on U.S. census data, the population of the City of Flint is 99,002. Census data puts the percentage of the total population under the age of 5 at 8% or approximately 8,200. Children under age 6 are in a high-risk stage of growth for lead exposure. Approximately 2,642 residents have been tested for lead blood levels as a result of this incident with 50 exhibiting elevated blood lead levels. The 2010 census data identifies 40,017 households and 51,321 housing units within the City of Flint. All of these households obtain their potable water from the city.

9. Description of the nature and amount of State and local or Indian tribal government resources which have been or will be committed. Include additional details in enclosed Governor's or Tribal Chief Executive's cover letter.

All appropriate local, regional and state resources were used to their maximum in responding to and recovering from this public health emergency. This included equipment, personnel, materials and supplies, facilities, technical expertise (including emergency contracting, as appropriate), and financial resources. When local and regional resources (including partner voluntary relief organizations and other community-based organizations) were not sufficient to address incident conditions, or very specialized resources were required to perform specialized response and/or recovery functions, State of Michigan resources were activated to address capability shortfalls. State agencies actively involved in the response and recovery activities in the SEOC and/or field include the Michigan Departments of State Police, Agriculture and Rural Development, Attorney General, Civil Rights, Corrections, Education, Environmental Quality, Health and Human Services, Insurance and Financial Services, Licensing and Regulatory Affairs, Military and Veterans Affairs, Natural Resources, and Talent and Economic Development. Details are in the cover letter.

Indemnification for Debris Removal Activity

☐ I do not anticipate the need for debris removal.

☒ I anticipate the need for debris removal, which poses an immediate threat to lives, public health and safety. Pursuant to Sections 403 and 407 of the Stafford Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 5170b & 5173, the State or Indian tribal government agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the United States of America for any claims arising from the removal of debris or wreckage for this disaster. The State or Indian tribal government agrees that debris removal from public and private property will not occur until the landowner signs an unconditional authorization for the removal of debris.

Request for Direct Federal Assistance

☐ I do not request direct Federal assistance at this time.

☒ I request direct Federal assistance for work and services to save lives and protect property, and:

a. I request the following type(s) of assistance:
Emergency work and protective measures to save lives, protect public health and safety and to protect property, for state and local governments; including but not limited to the provision of food, water and other consumable commodities. Assistance from CDC, EPA, HHS, HUD, SBA and any other agencies with responsibilities related to health, nutrition, and water infrastructure.

b. List of reasons why State and local or Indian tribal government cannot perform, or contract for, required work and services.
State and local resources can not meet the demand for filters, cartridges, water, and water testing at each residence; or the physical and mental health or nutrition needs of the affected population of 40,509 households with approximately 99,002 residents. The city is not able to repair its water system and the state has responded, but the response needs far exceed the state's capability, in addition to continuing response to other disasters, including the 2014 flooding in metro Detroit.

c. In accordance with 44 C.F.R. § 206.208, the State or Indian tribal government agrees that it will, with respect to direct Federal assistance: (1) Provide without cost to the United States all lands, easements, and rights-of-ways necessary to accomplish the approved work; (2) Hold and save the United States free from damages due to the requested work, and shall indemnify the Federal Government against any claims arising from such work; (3) Provide reimbursement to FEMA for the non-Federal share of the cost of such work in accordance with the provisions of the FEMA-State or FEMA-Tribe Agreement ; and (4) Assist the performing Federal agency in all support and local jurisdictional matters.

Not Required for Emergency Declaration Request

RICK SNYDER
GOVERNOR

STATE OF MICHIGAN
EXECUTIVE OFFICE
LANSING

BRIAN CALLEY
LT. GOVERNOR

January 14, 2016

The Honorable Barack Obama
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Through: Mr. Andrew Velasquez III, Regional Administrator
FEMA Region V
536 South Clark Street, 6th Floor
Chicago, IL, 60605

Dear Mr. President:

Under the provisions of Titles IV and V of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 5121 et seq. (Stafford Act), I request that you declare an Expedited Major Disaster with a Preliminary Damage Assessment to follow if a disaster declaration occurs, and an Emergency for the State of Michigan as a result of the elevated blood lead levels of citizens, especially children, within the City of Flint, which was demonstrated in October, 2015.

Impact and Trauma

The City of Flint switched its water source from the Detroit system to the Flint River on April 25, 2014. Thereafter, in 2015, through cooperative monitoring efforts by the City of Flint, State of Michigan, and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)—and the painstaking work of physicians at Hurley Medical Center—elevated blood lead levels (EBLLs) were discovered in the City of Flint. As a consequence, Genesee County issued a "Do Not Drink" advisory on October 1, 2015. Blood lead level testing is an important part of our efforts to identify people who have been harmed by drinking water that contained lead. However, we recognize that the full community of Flint must be the focus and the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) is treating this as a population-wide exposure in its public health response. As of the most recent update 2,642 Flint residents have been tested for blood lead levels. Of those tested, fifty residents have exhibited elevated blood lead levels. Twenty eight of the persons found to have elevated blood lead levels are children under the age of six, the most likely age group to experience a long-term impact from lead exposure. One child was hospitalized, treated, and released. No other hospitalizations and no deaths have been associated with this emergency.

The MDHHS has also observed a spike of Legionella in the Flint area, which occurred in roughly the same time frame. This too will be investigated for any potential link to the water system.

This emergency has had a significant economic and psychological impact on the community. While water is flowing through the tap, it is considered unusable for any purposes by a large percentage of the population. Mistrust in government is at a heightened level. Thus, while the tap water is safe for non-consumptive uses, people are understandably concerned, and we are assuming it cannot be used for potable purposes. Special populations are especially vulnerable in this emergency as they are often unable to access vital nutrition or water resources. Assistance with the Individuals Assistance Program will be essential to recovery.

Voluntary Efforts

Voluntary agencies have been assisting since early in the emergency. United Way and 2-1-1 are the central call bank and donation resource for people needing assistance or wishing to donate.

The American Red Cross has established a Disaster Recovery Operation and also is providing warehousing management. On January 13, 2016, a Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) was established, and the Michigan Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (MI-VOAD) conducted a conference call to determine how it can more fully activate. Several of its member organizations have already activated. Numerous local voluntary organizations including the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department and the Food Bank of Eastern Michigan are serving key roles in the acquisition and distribution of water.

Pursuant to Michigan's Public Act 390, the City of Flint and the County of Genesee declared local states of emergency on December 14, 2015 and January 4, 2016, respectively. I then declared a State of Emergency on January 5, 2016, for the County of Genesee and City of Flint. This emergency assumes that there has been the loss of potable water for the entire City of Flint. This includes its residents, businesses and worker population. It includes those who live outside and travel in to take advantage of work, school, or recreational activities.

While we do not currently know the extent of any permanent damage to the City of Flint's water supply infrastructure, it has estimated the cost of replacing its water supply infrastructure at $767,419,500. Of that, $54,619,500 is private and $712,800,000 is public. These numbers are based on an estimate compiled by the Genesee County Department of Equalization, which assumes a cost of $25 per linear foot to remove and replace private service lines. Both Individual Assistance, and Public Assistance, will be crucial to helping the city and its residents recover. The State has already invested over $10 million in emergency protective measures and will be expending much more, some details of which are provided in the public assistance portion of this letter.

The jurisdictions that are the subject of this request have recognized their responsibility to make their community as disaster-resilient as possible. They currently have in place a FEMA-approved Hazard Mitigation Plan that is compliant with the Disaster Mitigation Act of 2000. The plan was adopted January 26, 2015. Under Michigan's Emergency Management Act, Public Act 390, as amended, the City of Flint is included within Genesee County's mitigation plan and emergency management program. Similarly, the State of Michigan has made a strong commitment to mitigate hazards and has met all applicable federal standards. On April 23, 2014, FEMA approved Michigan's Hazard Mitigation Plan as a Standard State Hazard Mitigation Plan under the Disaster Mitigation Act of 2000.

The following information addresses the nature and amount of State, local, or Indian tribal government resources that have been or will be used to alleviate the conditions of this emergency:

Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD or EMHSD)

In response to Flint's water emergency, the EMHSD has undertaken bulk distribution of water, filters, filter cartridges, and test kits throughout the City of Flint. Working closely with the mayor's office, the EMHSD has identified Points of Distribution (PODs) throughout the city and have begun training troopers and volunteers to canvass the city to provide these commodities to households. The EMHSD is also maintaining overall coordination of the incident, both through the State Emergency Operations Center, and through members of an incident management assistance team in the local Genesee County EOC.

EMHSD – Geographic Information System Unit (GIS)

On Friday, January 8, 2016, GIS staff met with the City of Flint's Department of Public Works (DPW) to begin defining the scope of the affected area for the incident. The critical data layers needed to define where lead pipes are present need significant updating before an accurate picture can be created.

DPW estimates that approximately 80% of the parcels within the city may have lead piping within their services lines from the water main to the house. Based on preliminary processing of the analog map data that DPW was able to provide, GIS staff have noted that newer sections of the city (post 1950) tend to be copper piping and do not have a prevalence of lead. In contrast, older sections of the city tend to have sparse concentrations of lead, but the records for these areas are often incomplete.

In order to effectively determine the scope of the affected area, EMHSD is working with DPW and the University of Michigan–Flint to digitize many of DPW's old analog maps in order to extract the pipe status. Even when this process is complete, however, it will remain unclear whether the information will be accurate, given the age of the source data. With the comprehensive water testing plan that the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) is implementing, problem areas for the city will be identified to allow for manual inspections of the underground pipes to confirm the presence of lead.

Michigan Department of Military and Veterans Affairs (MDMVA)

As of January 13, 2016, I authorized activation of the Michigan National Guard to assist the people of Flint and the surrounding communities served by the water department. The National Guard will help to broaden the distribution of water, filters, and test kits throughout the water department's service area.

Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) – Health Division

The MDHHS is unique in that it responds to the types of emergencies being experienced by Flint as part of its daily mission. This emergency potentially could impact the capacity of the MDHHS to continue to undertake its public health work in other areas of the state.

The MDHHS continues to work closely with local partners to ensure that potentially impacted individuals, especially children younger than six years of age, are being tested at the State Laboratory for elevated blood lead levels (EBLLs). This includes working closely with the local primary care provider community and Women/Infants/Children (WIC) clinics to emphasize the importance of blood lead level screening for children. A technical workgroup comprised of Medicaid data and public health surveillance experts have developed Medicaid specific EBLL testing goals. The MDHHS updated its data surveillance methods for blood lead level testing to ensure the most up-to-date, accurate information is being reviewed. Ongoing efforts include enhanced epidemiological disease surveillance. Results are made available through summary reports on the www.michigan.gov/flintwater website, indicating the number tested and with elevated levels.

The MDHHS is partnering with the Genesee County Health Department to ensure families are being offered case management support, which incorporates environmental investigations. The state continues to distribute free water filters to Flint residents with replacement cartridges available at multiple locations. In October 2015, MDHHS initiated community outreach for distribution of educational materials to parents, families, and healthcare providers in Flint. These materials were also distributed to all children in Flint schools highlighting the importance of blood lead level testing, effects of lead exposure and the importance of nutrition. MDHHS has been proactively monitoring the Ready-to-Feed formula use and coordinating with manufacturers and WIC retailers to address any supply or distribution issues with infant formula availability.

While the extent of the impact is unknown, a worst-case-scenario impact of this emergency could result in significant future health costs to the impacted population, for direct medical needs, secondary and tertiary medical expenses, and secondary and tertiary prevention (education and nutrition).

Department of Health and Human Services – Human Services Division

The City of Flint is categorized as a food desert. The Human Services Division of the MDHHS has been working steadily to provide assistance to the local community through several different programs listed below.

Healthy foods: MSU-Extension has been giving out recipes of healthy foods that will help counter the effects of lead, but residents must be able to purchase the ingredients. Many have a Bridge Card (SNAP assistance) but still require additional healthy fruits and vegetables beyond what they can obtain through the SNAP program. Other residents who have had elevated blood lead levels may not have a Bridge Card, but purchasing fresh fruits and vegetables still can be a burden due to higher costs.

The plumbing in some homes is in poor condition. As a result, the faucet filters may not fit. The cost of paying for city water that the residents cannot drink is also significant. Some residents may have to make a choice between buying food or to paying for water to flush toilets, bathe, and wash clothes. A typical water bill in a home with good plumbing for a family of 2 is $98 per month. For a family of four, with leaks, etc., it could amount to more than $150 per month.

Additional ongoing testing will be required for those with EBLLs. Other potential long-term expenses may include treatment, tutoring, behavior specialists, and mental health services.

Flint is one of the most impoverished areas in Michigan. State and city poverty rates are given in the table "Michigan – Genesee – Flint Demographic Summary" on page 8.

- In addition to the general numbers in the table, the number of children age 0-17 living in poverty, has risen substantially between 2006 (25.4%) and 2012 (31.8%).
- The median income for Flint residents between 2009 and 2013 was markedly lower than the state's median income, also shown in the table "Michigan – Genesee – Flint Demographic Summary" on page 8.
- Overall, Genesee County ranked 73 out of 83 counties for child well-being (with 1 being best). For poverty, Genesee County ranked 69 among the state's 83 counties.
- In Genesee County, 55.5% of students are eligible for free or reduced price school lunches compared to 38 % in 2006.
- Children age 0-5 eligible for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) increased from 35.4% in 2006 to 47% in 2013.
- 21.8% of students did not graduate on time in 2013.
- The following table, "MDHHS Program Data," shows the numbers of recipients of benefit programs offered by MDHHS.

MDHHS Program Data

City of Flint
Program	Cases	Recipients
Food Assistance Program (FAP) [SNAP]	35,231	57,974
Family Independence Program (FIP) [TANF]	1,917	4,578
State Disability Assistance (SDA)	233	234

State Emergency Relief (SER)	460	n/a
Medicaid (MA)	52,735	82,117

Department of Talent and Economic Development (MDTED)

The MDTED is comprised of the Michigan State Housing and Development Authority (MSHDA), Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) and the Talent Investment Agency (TIA).

The MDTED's combined efforts are focused on short- and long-term assistance to the impacted communities through various grants and potential infrastructure assistance. MSHDA has identified allowable funds to assist residents with MSHDA-backed mortgages and the purchase of water/water filters for low income households. MEDC is focused on infrastructure development and qualifying funds for this purpose.

Based on available sources and studies, the MDTED determined potential long-term impacts to the economy of Flint and its residents resulting from the water crisis. Potential long term costs associated with certain blood lead levels could include lifetime earnings loss, lead health care treatment costs, ADHD treatment costs, and special education costs.

With input from the Department of Treasury, the MDTED assessed that the most significant potential negative impact may be the economic effects of such things as decreased property values, lost business activity (new businesses will not move to Flint and existing businesses that rely on clean water, such as restaurants, will be hurt), lost employment, population loss (renters may leave the city). Residents and businesses may also have to continue to pay extra for bottled water, so the extra spending on water could take away from other spending. It would be relatively easy for residents to move some of their economic/spending activity outside the city, which could contribute to an economic downturn in Flint. Long-term, there may be the significant cost of a new water system over and above the health related costs, estimated by the MDHHS.

Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ)

The MDEQ has been granted primary enforcement authority in Michigan by the EPA for regulatory oversight of all public water supplies, pursuant to the federal Safe Drinking Water Act. The City of Flint began using the Flint River for drinking water on April 25, 2014.

On October 1, 2015 the State Chief Medical Executive confirmed Hurley Children's Hospital blood lead level data. On this same day, the Genesee County Health Department issued a "Do Not Drink" advisory to the customers of the Flint Water Treatment Plant. On October 15, 2015 the Michigan State Legislature authorized $9.35 million to help fund the City's return to purchasing treated water from the Detroit Water System (DWSD), and to fund comprehensive lead evaluations at City schools, provide free water filters for residents, provide free in-home water tests for residents, and provide free blood lead level testing and follow-up services. On October 16, 2015 the Flint Water Treatment Plant reverted its source back to DWSD. On October 28, 2015 the MDEQ issued a construction permit for additional corrosion control treatment.

The MDEQ is supporting the response with incident management personnel, lead and copper water test kits and analysis and investigative teams. The connection to the Karagnondi Water Authority is scheduled to be completed in mid to late 2016.

The MDEQ estimates its cost impacts in the amount of $9.55 million. This includes $7.8 million to keep Flint on the Detroit system until January 1. It also includes $250,000 in chemicals needed for Flint to test the new water system once it is in place, and $1.5 million for 10 staff and lab equipment. The MDEQ staff will be responsible for providing additional school and residential sampling and laboratory testing as well as expertise related to corrosion control and service line verification.

Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD)

Part of the MDARD's coordinated outreach includes contact with businesses, particularly food-related businesses, to evaluate the safety of the water they use in their products. Water safety also impacts animals. As a precautionary measure, the MDARD included pets, service animals, and other domestic animals in their messages to families about water. They have also reached out to the veterinary and animal care communities to bring their attention to this issue.

Through Michigan's funds and the USDA's Rural Development's programs, we are working to build and grow regional food systems, including the food hub and incubator kitchen at the Flint Farmers' Market. Through additional federal and state investments as well as public-private partnerships, we can help address some of the challenges to a nutritious food system. This is a critical component of responding to lead blood levels as good nutrition is one of the most effective treatments.

There are 549 Food Service establishments (includes restaurants as well as schools, which are being handled by Department of Education) and 337 Food Establishments (includes grocery, convenience stores, vending machines, etc.). All establishments received a letter in October 2015 with guidance and will receive revised guidance over the next few days. There are 97 gas stations within the city which are within those food license numbers. We are planning additional outreach to them as part of our efforts.

No animal licensed shelters exist in the water service area. The current focus is on residences where they may also have pets. There are two veterinary clinics in the City, and we have made individualized follow up calls with them; all veterinarians in the region were contacted last week by Michigan Veterinary Medical Association.

The MDARD has been in close coordination with the MDEQ, The MDHHS, and Genesee County Health Department on the protocol for using water. Guidance put out last fall was jointly issued by all four agencies. The MDARD has also worked with other agencies on water sampling protocols. Compliance with new protocols will be a top priority.

Department of Education (MDE)

The MDE is monitoring all child nutrition program providers operating in the Flint area. MDE food service program staff is working with all school meal operators and child and adult care operators to ensure they take all proper precautions if they have unsafe water.

Department of Insurance and Financial Services (DIFS)

The DIFS is prepared to assist individuals with questions relating to their health insurance coverage or any health insurance claims that are not covered by their health insurer. The potential losses experienced in Flint may not be a covered loss under property insurance. It is unlikely that there will be any remedy under property insurance to assist with the replacement of lead service lines. The estimate provided by the MDEQ of $4,000 per service line would be multiplied by the ultimate number of lead service lines identified when the study is complete.

Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA)

Beginning this week, state employees from LARA's Bureau of Construction Codes/Plumbing Division will conduct a pilot program at Freeman Elementary and will install new water faucets and plumbing associated with the nine faucet outlets that showed elevated lead exposure following MDEQ's initial testing. Twenty-two outlets did not show elevated lead exposure, but the nine faucets that did come back with initially high results involve brass components, indicating the problem involves the fixtures or plumbing immediately surrounding the fixture. Following the installation of the new faucets, DEQ will retest Freeman identically to the original test of the school. Following the results of this pilot program, the initiative could be broadened to other schools throughout Flint and will affect the State of Michigan's long term strategy for ensuring clean drinking water in the city.

Replacement of faucets and piping are to be certified with no lead.

- Sink faucets $200
- Water supply valves/pipe fittings $100
- Labor/installation $625

With 29,943 customers on this water line and a minimum of 2 faucets per customer, (one bathroom, one kitchen), we are estimating replacement costs which could be as much as $55 million.

Department of Technology, Management and Budget (DTMB)

DTMB has been helping to procure water, filters and refill cartridges. Seven trucks and drivers have been deployed to assist with delivering supplies to Points of Distribution (PODs) and assisting with neighborhood visits. More of the above resources are being procured.

DTMB also facilitated the establishment of the Joint Information Center (JIC) at the Flint State Office Building and provided additional security at the building. They have also established a lease agreement for 100,000 square feet of warehouse space in the city to use for water, filters and supplies and provided guidance and assistance with agencies in their contracts along with IT needs.

Procurements include:

- Truckloads of water – 32; Equating to gallons, this is approximately 250,000 gallons over two days, and this is anticipated to double.
- Brita faucet filters – 27,000
- Brita Replacement filters – 1,600
- PUR faucet filters – 12,500
- PUR 3-pack replacement filters – 40,000

Disaster History/Long Term Recovery Continues

The State of Michigan has had two Governor's declarations in the previous 12 months, the Portland Tornado in June, 2015, and the Grand Traverse and Leelanau Straight Line Winds in August, 2015. Additionally, the state continues to work on Public Assistance and Long Term Recovery from the Southeast Michigan Flood of August, 2014. In response to these disasters, in addition to Stafford Act assistance from DR-4195, the State has made disaster funding available from state funds through Sections 18 and 19 of Public Act 390, the Michigan Emergency Management Act.

While the responses to Portland and Grand Traverse/Leelanau have successfully addressed the impacts, the Long Term Recovery in Southeast Michigan continues to face many challenges. Several voluntary organizations work in Detroit to continue rebuild efforts and even muck-outs from the flooding of 2014. Resurgent black mold plagues many households, and the rebuild efforts continue to struggle with unmet needs such as furnaces. A Long Term Recovery committee meets regularly to establish funding opportunities, identify needs, and communicate the needs, but resources continue to be difficult to obtain, at best. The Southeast Michigan Flood Recovery Group (SEMIFRG), in cooperation with the Urban Studies Center at Wayne State University, estimates that there remain 14,992 homes still in need of intervention resulting from the 2014 flood, with estimated repairs reaching as much as $144,477,500.

Demographics

Genesee County, and particularly the City of Flint, experience rates of poverty significantly higher than both the nation and the state. Genesee County's poverty rate is a full 5.6% above the national average, and the City's rate is more than double the national rate. Household income lags significantly behind national and state median income in the county, and the city is less than half the national median income. To exacerbate the problem, especially with lead which impacts young children so significantly, the percentage of children under 5 living in Flint exceeds the national, state, and county rate. The elderly population is slightly lower in the City of Flint, but the percent disabled is significantly higher, 8.1 percentage points above the national rate. Unemployment too is significantly higher than national and state rates. As of September, 2015, prior to the emergency, The City of Flint's unemployment rate was 9%; nearly double the state rate of 5% and national rate of 5.1% However, looking at the U.S. Census American Community Survey 5-year average, a prolonged period of very high unemployment is seen, over 26.3%. The table below shows the unemployment rate in Flint has been nearly three times the national average over the past 5 years.

Michigan – Genesee – Flint Demographic Summary

	Average of Persons Below Poverty Level*	Median Household Income*	Percent Children under 5	Percent Elderly*	Percent Disabled*	Percent Pre-Disaster Unemployment*
US Average	15.6%	$53,482	6.4%	13.7%	12.3%	9.2%
State of Michigan	16.9%	$49,087	5.9%	14.6%	13.9%	11.4%
Genesee County	21.2%	$41,879	6.2%	14.7%	16.1%	15.5%
City of Flint	41.6%	$24,679	7.8%	11.7%	20.4%	26.3%

Public and Individual Assistance

In the October, 2015, to December, 2015, time frame, the State made an emergency appropriation to return Flint to Detroit water. The appropriation included several emergency measures which included testing, case management for those affected, and short and long term health care strategies. The state's commitment to those measures was $9.35 million. As part of the return to Detroit water, the City of Flint also committed to expending $2 million, and the Charles Mott Foundation committed $4 million. Current emergency response measures include the distribution of approximately 1 gallon of water per day per resident, a filtration cartridge to every household, a cartridge refill, and a water testing kit. These measures require approximately $9.55 million to keep Flint on Detroit water until Karagnondi water is available and $22 million to distribute water, filters and testing kits until the emergency is resolved.

For Individual Assistance, under Housing Assistance, the need could be as much as $53 million to help individuals eliminate lead service lines on their properties.

The City's water system has been affected by the introduction of a new source of water with a different chemical composition. A "coating" that is maintained by chemical treatment at different levels, depending on the water source appears to have decomposed and it is likely that some of the underlying lead pipes and lead solders began to leach into the water. Ultimately, this may have contributed to significant EBLL problem noted throughout this letter and numerous public reports. The extent of lead in the City's system at this time is difficult to determine. Much of the system has not been mapped, but the City's best estimate right now is that as much as 80% could contain lead components. The University of Michigan–Flint is assisting the city with the digitization of historic hand-written records.

Insurance

The City of Flint is self-insured, so there is no outside insurance resource for this emergency.

Concluding Statement

In response to this emergency, I took appropriate action under state law and directed the execution of the Michigan Emergency Management Plan on January 5, 2016, in accordance the Stafford Act. On that same date, under my authority as Governor I also proclaimed a State of Emergency for Genesee County, including the City of Flint, and directed state departments and agencies to utilize all available resources necessary to assist the aforementioned county and local political subdivision in responding to and recovering from this emergency. Numerous state departments and agencies had already initiated response actions prior to my formal proclamation, in accordance with their assigned missions in the Michigan Emergency Management Plan. These actions included but were not limited to: providing direct assistance to the affected communities and to individuals.

I have determined that this incident is potentially of such severity and magnitude that effective recovery is beyond the capabilities of the State of Michigan and the affected local governments and that federal relief assistance is necessary. I am specifically requesting activation of both Individual Assistance and Public Assistance for the affected county and jurisdictions specified in this request, and activation of the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP) for all counties within the state. Preliminary estimates of the types and amount of Individual Assistance and Public Assistance needed under the Stafford Act are estimated in FEMA Form 010-0-13.

I am requesting Direct Federal Assistance from other agencies with resources and expertise that can be brought to their relevant areas of expertise, including but not limited to the CDC, EPA, USDA, HHS, HUD, SBA, and USACE.

I certify that for this emergency, the state and local governments will assume all applicable non-federal share of costs required by the Stafford Act.

I have designated Capt. Chris A. Kelenske of the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division, as the State Coordinating Officer for this request. He will work with the Federal Emergency Management Agency on recovery program implementation and may provide further information or justification on my behalf.

Sincerely,

Richard D. Snyder
Governor

The Honorable Rick Snyder
Governor of Michigan
111 South Capitol Avenue
Lansing, Michigan 48909

Dear Governor Snyder:

This is in response to your January 14, 2016, request for an expedited major disaster declaration for the State of Michigan as a result of water contamination described in your request as beginning on April 25, 2014, and continuing. You specifically requested Individual Assistance and Public Assistance, including direct federal assistance for Genesee County and Hazard Mitigation statewide.

Based on our review of all of the information available, a major disaster declaration under the Stafford Act is not appropriate. The request does not meet the legal definition of a "major disaster" under 42 U.S.C. § 5122, as implemented at 44 C.F.R. §§ 206.2(17). The incident was not a result of a natural catastrophe, nor was it caused by a fire, flood, or explosion.

This denial may be appealed within 30 days after the date of this letter. Any appeal pursuant to 44 CFR § 206.46, along with additional information justifying the appeal, should be submitted to the President through Andrew Velasquez III, Regional Administrator, FEMA Region V, located at 536 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

Sincerely,

W. Craig Fugate
Administrator

Meegan,

I understand the concern, but my concern is the JIC will need new information for the media tomorrow. I don't think we can keep giving them old info, especially because we are making significant progress.

We can stress this info is updated. Will that work?

Shanon –
Two options:

- If you go with a release and push the button at 8:30 a.m., could you indicate in the release something to the effect that these are updated numbers are just in – to make clear that these are updates since the Governor's speech? I just remember FEMA Dan talking about how we don't want to get nailed for not having our numbers straight.
- Cancel this release all together. Just put the next one out on Wednesday night. What do you think? I actually favor this action.

Yes please. That way when the Gov says tonight "more than 21,000" homes visited, your new # won't hit the media market so we won't get questions about why the JIC is reporting one # and we are reporting another.

Thank you Shanon!

Hi Meegan and Anna,

I just spoke with Nicole Lisabeth and I want to confirm that the JIC is to hold the nightly water activity numbers news release tonight and issue it tomorrow morning. We can push it out at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow. Will this be fine?

Thank you,

For the Gov declaration date, the document lists 2015, not 2016. Also, not sure if it matters, but the talking points do not include the Gov's request on Jan 12 for FEMA to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies. Gongwer reported today that the US HHS will lead the federal support efforts (I thought this was going to be announced tomorrow, prior to Gongwer article).

Top-level points

- We are increasing our efforts/numbers each day on the ground, including visiting nearly 4,000 homes on Sunday and nearly 5,000 homes on Monday, for a total of 21,300 homes since January 18.
- Governor Snyder made resources available in October to Flint residents, including free filters and testing, but the word was not getting out to residents or they didn't know where to go, or have transportation. These obstacles have been overcome.
- Our primary mission continues to be ensuring all Flint residents have access to safe water and are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits.
- Our door-to-door teams ensure every resident is offered a free filter, replacement cartridges, bottled water, and testing.
- In addition to door-to-door efforts, we are maintaining five water resource sites open from daily 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
- We are continuing to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety.
- The one-stop shop for finding all these resources is by visiting www.michigan.gov/FlintWater or calling 2-1-1.

From January 9 through 18, we have:

- Visited more than 21,300 homes
- Distributed more than 37,300 cases of water
- Distributed more than 7,300 water testing kits
- Distributed more than 53,700 faucet filters

Top-level points

- We are increasing our efforts/numbers each day on the ground, including visiting nearly 4,000 homes on Sunday and nearly 5,000 homes on Monday, for a total of 21,300 homes since January 18.
- Governor Snyder made resources available in October to Flint residents, including free filters and testing, but the word was not getting out to residents or they didn't know where to go, or have transportation. These obstacles have been overcome.
- Our primary mission continues to be ensuring all Flint residents have access to safe water and are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits.
- Our door-to-door teams ensure every resident is offered a free filter, replacement cartridges, bottled water, and testing.
- In addition to door-to-door efforts, we are maintaining five water resource sites open from daily 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
- We are continuing to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety.
- Resources can be found by visiting www.michigan.gov/FlintWater, calling 2-1-1, or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

From January 9 through 18, we have:

- Visited more than 21,300 homes
- Distributed more than 37,300 cases of water
- Distributed more than 7,300 water testing kits
- Distributed more than 53,700 water filters

Chronology

- October 1, 2015: Public Health Emergency Declaration issued
- December 14, 2015: State of Emergency declared by City of Flint.
- January 4, 2016: Genesee County Board of Commissioners declared a local emergency and requested a Governor's Declaration of Emergency
- January 5, 2016: Governor declared a State of Emergency in Genesee County
    - State Emergency Operations Center activated in Lansing to coordinate state response, overseen by the Michigan State Police
    - Joint Information Center (JIC) activated on January 6, 2016, in Lansing; moved to Flint on January 11, 2016
- January 9, 2016: Water resource sites established at five fire stations
- January 12, 2016: Water resource teams began going door-to-door
- January 12, 2016: Governor Snyder issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distribution efforts at the water resource sites
- January 12, 2016: Governor Snyder requested FEMA to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint
- January 14, 2016: Governor requested Presidential declaration of emergency and expedited major disaster for Genesee County
- January 16, 2016: President Obama approved the Governor's request for a federal emergency in Flint. Denied request for major disaster, which the state is appealing.

Flint Water Crisis

Let me start by saying "Thank You" to every single MSP employee who has given of their time and attention to help the residents of Flint. A heartfelt appreciation to all of you who have been serving long hours within the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC), at the local Emergency Operations Center (EOC), and in the Joint Information Center (JIC).

As you are aware, on January 4, 2016, Genesee County declared a local state of emergency. On January 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency, citing the urgency to get every Flint resident a water filter in their home, to get their water tested, and offer blood lead level testing for the residents, as well. Under the direction of Capt. Chris Kelenske, the MSP activated the SEOC on January 5, which is coordinating all available state resources needed to help the residents of Flint with this water crisis.

This is a very real and serious issue. There will be the need for immediate action and long-term plans. I can assure you that the MSP is doing our part, enlisted and civilian members, to help with these response efforts and with the future recovery phase, too.

----------insert media Clip----------

Take for example my department-wide request last week for volunteers to join the water response teams to hand out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and home water testing kits. Within one day, there was an overwhelming number of MSP members who said they could help. Working initially in teams, walking door-to-door, talking to the residents and handing out supplies, I know we made a positive difference. I also know that many MSP members continued to volunteer throughout the weekend and on Monday, during the Martin Luther King Day holiday.

----------insert pictures**----------

Even with a water-related crisis, we are called upon to help coordinate a solution. As I walked the streets of Flint and visited the Genesee County EOC last week, there were several moments when I had the opportunity to just watch MSP employees in action. Without hesitation, you respond and get to work. As your Colonel I will tell you that I am proud to be part of the MSP team and love the opportunity of working together with you.

Laura,

F/Lt. Dave Kaiser, our on-scene PIO, will be doing an in-station television interview this evening with NBC 25. They will tape him giving today's activity numbers (which will be available around 7 p.m. tonight) for airing potentially at 11 p.m. tonight, but definitely for airing during tomorrow's morning newscast, as requested.

He is scheduling interviews with TV 5 and ABC 12 for the coming days, and I will report on those as soon as they are confirmed.

Thanks,
Shanon

Gov. Rick Snyder appeals denial of federal major disaster declaration for Flint

Asking for special consideration due to the imminent and long-term threat

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today submitted an appeal to President Barack Obama following the denial of a major disaster declaration, a move that could potentially bring additional

"The situation in Flint is a disaster and in need of a federal declaration," Snyder said. "This situation poses an imminent and long-term threat to the people of Flint. We appreciate the support of the White House through the earlier emergency declaration. But additional federal resources are needed for the work that must be done."

In the appeal to President Obama, Snyder said the severity of the disaster warrants special consideration for all categories under the Individual and Public Assistance Programs, as well as the Hazardous Mitigation program in order to facilitate recovery.

Snyder said this disaster is similar in scope to a flood, given that qualities within the water over a long period of time damaged the city's infrastructure in ways that are not immediately detectable. The problems will contribute to years -- and potentially decades -- of health problems and economic loss as well as require repairs to the infrastructure that neither the city, county nor state has the capacity to carry out.

President Obama denied the disaster declaration for Flint while approving an emergency declaration on Saturday, Jan. 16.

HI!

The overtime exemption request for hours worked on the Flint water crisis is still pending approval. Once it is approved through the MSP chain of command, it will be sent to Civil Service for approval based on an overtime approved start date of 01/03/2016.

Since the request has not yet been approved, your overtime hours could not be entered in DCDS for the last pay period. Once the exemption is approved, overtime hours worked can be entered. I will reach out to you once the exemption is approved to confirm your OT hours before modifying your timesheet.

Thanks!

2,715 More Homes Visited on Tuesday by Water Response Teams

FLINT, Mich. - As noted in Governor Snyder's State of the State address last night, significant progress has been made in distributing water resources to residents in Flint.

As of this morning, 22,129 homes in the City of Flint were either visited by a water response team, comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers, or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up these resources.

The following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams, in addition to donations:

- More than 77,700 cases of water
- More than 69,700 water filters
- More than 16,600 water testing kits

There is a coordinated effort to ensure that each Flint home is provided with a water filter and other water supplies. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time, so water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts.

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- 95,760 cases of water
- 115,700 water filters
- 61,161 water testing kits

Persons wishing to volunteer or provide material, in-kind, or financial donations can visit www.helpforflint.com for more information.

MORE

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5

Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Road
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Road
Flint, MI 48507

To enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Gov. Rick Snyder: Legislative approval of $30 million to assist Flint residents with water bills essential step in ongoing recovery efforts

Gov. Rick Snyder made the following statement today with regards to the state House's approval of $30 million to provide relief for a portion of Flint residents' water and sewer bills going back to April 2014:

"Flint residents should not have to pay for water they cannot drink. I have continually said that the crisis will be solved by everyone coming together with solutions, and I would like to thank the Legislature for being a strong partner on getting immediate funding for recovery to the city," Snyder said. "Politicizing this issue has not yet delivered any solutions for Flint's families, but with passage of today's $30 million, Michigan lawmakers have helped to aid Flint residents with nearly $70 million in state funding in the past four months. The Legislature's continuing support demonstrates the positive results that come from putting people above politics."

Editor's note: The Senate will need to concur on the House's version of SB 136.

FLINT, Mich. –Water response teams, bolstered by 95 Michigan National Guard Soldiers and Airmen, distributed water resources to 3,395 Flint homes today. They provided residents with free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

By tomorrow, additional National Guard Soldiers and Airmen will arrive bringing the total number of National Guard service members to approximately 180 going door-to-door along with water response teams comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers.

To date, 29,317 homes in the City of Flint were either visited by a water response team, or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up supplies.

The following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams, in addition to donations:

- More than 90,300 cases of water
- More than 73,200 water filters
- More than 19,800 water testing kits

There is a coordinated effort to ensure that each Flint home is provided with a water filter and other water supplies. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time, so water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts.

- 111,630 cases of water
- 115,700 water filters
- 61,161 water testing kits

Today, Gov. Rick Snyder submitted an appeal to President Barack Obama following the denial of the major disaster declaration, a move that could potentially bring additional and much-needed resources to help the people of Flint.

In the appeal to President Obama, Snyder said the severity of the disaster warrants special consideration for all categories under the Individual and Public Assistance Programs, as well as the Hazardous Mitigation program in order to facilitate recovery.

Persons wishing to volunteer or provide material, in-kind, or financial donations can visit www.helpforflint.com for more information. Please note the American Red Cross is no longer able to accept material donations at this time.

LANSING, MI - Gov. Rick Snyder today requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to bring together and identify other federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of an interagency recovery plan.

This request will enable the various programs, authorities and/or technical expertise held by federal agencies to be utilized in order to help the needs of the city of Flint. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

A critical component to building local and state response capacities is to develop a framework and strategy for government and non-government entities to identify and coordinate the resources necessary to support sustainable recovery solutions.

The current situation in Flint is one that may benefit from non-Stafford Act support...

Nicole,

Here's what I'm planning to send to Chad. Are you good with this?

Chad,

We continue to closely monitoring the water issues in Flint through the regional office in Chicago and our liaisons deployed to the state Emergency Operation Center.

At the request of Capt. Kelenske, on January 7, 2016, FEMA sent two FEMA liaisons to the state Emergency Operations Center to offer technical assistance to the state. In addition to technical planning support their role will draw upon their experience of bringing together and identifying other Federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of a non-Stafford Act recovery Plan.

On January 9, 2016, FEMA sent an additional staff member to the State of Michigan's Emergency Operations Center to also provide planning assistance.

We stand ready to support the State with additional technical staff, if requested.

Flint Water Issue Talking Points
January 2016

Topline Message:

- FEMA, through our regional office in Chicago, Ill., has been closely monitoring the water issues in Flint. We've remained in close contact with state officials who, in support of officials in Flint, activated their Emergency Operation Center to coordinate state resources.

- At this time, there has not been a request for federal assistance. Should FEMA receive a request from the state, we would evaluate the circumstances within the guidelines of the Stafford Act. We encourage Flint residents with concerns or questions about the water supply to contact their local emergency management assistance line by dialing 211. For more information, please visit the state's website,www.michigan.gov/FlintWater

- FEMA sent three FEMA staff to support the state and offer technical assistance as needed.They will also assist in reaching out to federal agencies that may have programs and funding to assist Flint as part of a non-Stafford Act recovery plan.

FEMA Actions

- As a part of the agency's normal commodities management process, FEMA made available bottled water nearing the end of its shelf-life to eligible non-profits across the country. In December 2015, the Food Bank of Eastern Michigan claimed 71,200 liters (approximately 5 truckloads). The water was provided without cost by FEMA, however food bank was responsible for transportation costs.

- At the request of Capt. Kelenske, on January 7, 2016, FEMA Region V Administrator Andrew Velasquez sent two FEMA liaisons to the state Emergency Operations Center to offer technical assistance to the state.Their role will draw upon their experience of bringing together and identifying other Federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of a non-Stafford Act recovery Plan.

- On January 9, 2016, FEMA Region V sent an additional staff member to the State of Michigan's Emergency Operations Center. The additional staff will provide planning assistance to the state.

Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder Turns To Feds For Help With Flint Water Crisis

By Tracy Connor

NBC News, January 11, 2016

With chanting protesters demanding his resignation in the background, Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder announced Monday that he plans to ask for federal aid to deal with the lead-poisoning crisis in Flint.

At a press conference, Snyder was repeatedly questioned about the state's admitted mishandling of the water emergency and whether he knew it was a major problem before he addressed it in a press conference in early October.

"I have a degree of responsibility," he said.

It wasn't until last week that Snyder declared a state of emergency in Flint, where the first batch of 2,200 blood tests turned up 43 children with elevated lead in their blood — which can cause mental and physical development problems.

Only 2 percent of the city's population has been tested, even though the state's chief medical officer said every child under the age of 6 years should be assessed.

Officials warned Monday that the tap water still isn't safe to drink, but it took five days after the emergency declaration for the state to start handing out bottled water.

And Flint's economically challenged citizens are still being billed for water that authorities say they shouldn't consume or even use to brush their teeth.

Snyder said a newly formed interagency committee will be examining whether homeowners should get a break on their water bills and that testing and handouts of water and filters will be stepped up.

"We're continuing to work hard. We're going to continue to step up our efforts," he said.

The crisis began in April 2014 when Flint switched from using Detroit's water supply to water from the Flint River to save money. The river water was saltier and began corroding the old pipes and leaching lead into the system.

An email obtained by researchers at Virginia Tech revealed that six months ago, the governor's chief of staff was concerned enough that he told the state health department Flint's residents were "rightfully" worried about initial reports of lead levels and were "getting blown off" by the state.

Snyder insisted his epiphany about the Flint situation didn't come until Oct. 1, when testing done by a hospital lab affirmed the results a local doctor had been reporting.

"We started taking actions on Oct. 2," he said. He blamed the three-month gap between that and the emergency declaration to the need to follow protocol.

He said it could take a month for the Federal Emergency Management Agency to respond to any request from Michigan, and he did not say what kind of help the state is seeking.

White House Chief of Staff Denis McDonough said on "Meet the Press" on Sunday that the administration is "very concerned" about the Flint situation and "watching it very closely."

Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton also weighed in on Monday, applauding the Justice Department for opening an investigation.

"The people of Flint deserve to know the truth about how this happened and what Governor Snyder and other leaders knew about it. And they deserve a solution, fast," Clinton said in a statement.

At Monday's press conference, Snyder stood with Flint's new mayor, Karen Weaver, who had been a staunch critic of how the crisis was handled by the government.

She took exception to a remark that she seemed "cozy" with Snyder, saying her goal now was to speed up help for the people of the city.

"I can stand up here and fight with him or I can get the people out there what they need," she said.

Gov. Rick Snyder Prepares To Request Federal Aid In Flint Lead Crisis

By Jim Lynch And Chad Livengood

Detroit News, January 12, 2016

Flint — Gov. Rick Snyder said Monday the state health department's Oct. 1 confirmation of elevated lead in the blood of Flint residents was the first time he learned of the extent of the city's drinking water crisis.

After getting Flint's water supply switched back to Detroit's system in mid-October, it took nearly three months until the governor declared a state emergency that Flint's unfiltered water is not safe to drink — a delay for which he is facing national criticism.

But Snyder expressed regret Monday for how the state's management of Flint's drinking water supply ended in what he called, for the first time, "a crisis."

"Obviously in retrospect there's always opportunities you wish you could go back and do things," Snyder said. "We have to deal with the circumstances we have today. This is something none of us wish would have happened."

Snyder said the state is starting to draft a request for federal emergency assistance with Flint's lead contaminated water crisis.

"We have engaged FEMA in this process," Snyder said about the Federal Emergency Management Agency. "We have not made a specific request for assistance yet."

Despite a state emergency declaration, Snyder sidestepped questions Monday about whether Flint residents should be required to pay for lead contaminated water dating back to April 2014.

"That's one of the questions that we'll be reviewing," Snyder said. "... We're addressing the immediate issue now, which is making sure people have water filters and other resources."

As Flint's water emergency gains national attention, Snyder is facing one of the biggest challenges of his five years as Michigan's governor in explaining what his administration knew about the quality of Flint's water and why his emergency manager switched the city to Flint River water in April 2014 to save money.

State officials believe lead is leaching from Flint's pipes because the Department of Environmental Quality did not require the city to treat Flint River water with corrosion control chemicals.

State health officials have confirmed 43 cases of elevated lead levels in the blood Flint residents, who complained for more than a year that the brownish Flint River smelled and caused rashes. Lead can cause irreversible brain and developmental damage in children and infants who ingest it through water or lead-based paint.

Following Flint's Oct. 16 switch back to Detroit's water supply from Lake Huron, state and local officials have been distributing 12,000 water filters to the city's 33,000 households and encouraging parents to have their kids tested for lead poisoning, Snyder said.

"But it's not been enough, so it needed to go to another level and that's what we're doing now," Snyder said about the state's "crisis" response.

The Snyder administration has struggled to explain why the Department of Environmental Quality failed to require Flint to prevent corrosion of lead pipelines in October 2014, when General Motors Co. deemed the water too corrosive for engine parts.

"It's not good enough for GM, but it's good enough to shove down people's throats?" asked Gladyes Williamson, 61, a retired GM worker who says Flint's water has ruined her hot water heater and washing machine.

Democratic presidential frontrunner Hillary Clinton joined the chorus of Democrats lambasting the Republican governor's handling of Flint's water problems.

"We now know that a General Motors factory stopped using Flint's water because it was corroding car engine parts — yet officials continued to reassure the public that the water was safe for human consumption. That's unconscionable," Clinton said in a statement.

Flint has been dealing with water issues since April 2014, when the city began using the Flint River as its source. In addition to consistent problem with taste, odor and discoloration, the water has been shown to contain high levels of lead.

Snyder used Monday's press conference to explain how his office became aware of problems with Flint's water supply.

On July 22, Snyder's outgoing Chief of Staff Dennis Muchmore raised concerns in an email to the state's Health and Human Services department director that Flint residents were getting "blown off" by state agencies dismissing concerns about the smell and taste of Flint's water.

Snyder said his office pushed state agencies to respond to concerns Muchmore was hearing from a group of Flint pastors.

"And to be open with you, they came back and reaffirmed they didn't believe there was an issue," Snyder said of the DEQ and DHHS. "That was not the correct outcome, it turns out, in retrospect. That was one of the problems with the situation."

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint Township, said Monday the governor is trying to excuse a months-long delay in the state's response to late summer studies showing rising lead levels in the blood of Flint children.

"The governor is trying to create a timetable and a narrative that forgives him responsibility," Kildee said. "... Someone asked me the other day if (Snyder) should step down. I said 'No, I want him to step up.'"

Snyder sought to deflect criticism of why the state has not sought a federal emergency declaration. He noted it took nearly a month to get a federal disaster declaration for last year's flooding in Metro Detroit, which was a natural disaster. Flint's water contamination crisis would only qualify for federal emergency status — not natural disaster assistance — since it was a manmade disaster.

Snyder and his chief medical executive also warned city residents against using tap water from the Flint River.

"We don't want people to assume anything's good until we've had a chance to do extensive testing," he said.

"One of our immediate objectives is to make sure every Flint household has a water filter," Michigan State Police Capt. Chris Kelenske said at the news conference.

On Monday, Snyder also created the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee to study the long-term effects of lead contamination on city residents and devise a strategy for addressing those effects.

State Sen. Jim Ananich, who asked Snyder's office for an emergency declaration on Sept. 22, was unimpressed with the governor's executive order.

"I want to see problems solved, but I don't want to keep waiting for new layers of government," said Ananich, who was allowed into the press conference. "I want to see us get working on it."

With police officers guarding the doors, residents were not allowed into the Flint City Council chambers where Snyder, the mayor and several state agency directors stood for the mid-afternoon press conference.

A few residents could be heard outside the building protesting Snyder's first appearance in Flint since declaring the emergency a week ago.

"I think it was a duck in and duck out, and that's what the governor's been doing to us for a year," Williamson said.

Michigan Gov. Creates Panel For Long-term Flint Response

USA Today, January 12, 2016

LANSING, Mich. — Faced with a public health and infrastructure crisis in Flint that could take years to fully resolve, Gov. Rick Snyder signed an executive order Monday to create an inter-agency committee to work on "long-term solutions to the Flint water situation and ongoing public health concerns affecting residents."

Critics continued to say Snyder is responding to the lead contamination problem too slowly.

Snyder said in a news release the work of the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee will be in addition to immediate steps that are underway, such as distributing bottled water and filters that remove lead from water, and arranging for children to be blood-tested for exposure to lead poisoning.

"We need to focus on improving Flint for the longer term," Snyder said. "This committee, made up of experts from government and the Flint community, will set a course of action to remedy the water situation and resulting health issues, and carry on long after the emergency declaration expires."

Snyder declared a state of emergency in Flint and Genesee County on Jan. 5, mobilizing the Michigan State Police and other agencies to work alongside non-profits and other groups to help get safe drinking water to city residents and address immediate health concerns. Three liaison officers from the Federal Emergency Management Agency are in Michigan providing technical assistance, but Snyder has not made a request for federal financial aid.

Flint's drinking water became contaminated with lead in April 2014 when the city switched its drinking water from Lake Huron water treated at the Detroit water treatment plan to more corrosive and polluted Flint River water treated at the Flint water treatment plant. The city was under the control of a state-appointed emergency manager at the time and the state Department of Environmental Quality acknowledged it failed to make sure the city added corrosion control chemicals that would have stopped lead from leaching into the water from pipes and fixtures.

The state helped Flint switch back to Detroit water in October, but a health hazard persists because of damage the Flint River water did to the city's water distribution infrastructure.

The new 17-member committee will include representatives from the state, Genesee County, the City of Flint and experts on particular subjects, Snyder said. "The group will analyze any long-term effects of high lead levels in Flint residents and recommend action," he said.

Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich, D-Fllint, said Monday that creation of the committee is a positive step, but it's one he asked for in September. The Snyder administration has acted too slowly since acknowledging mistakes in October, he said.

"People are still getting exposed to lead for the first time, and that's unacceptable," Ananich said.

"They're treating it like it's a political problem and a public relations problem, and it's not, it's a public health crisis."

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint, sent letters about the crisis Monday to President Obama and to Snyder and said the state's response has been inadequate.

"In November, I wrote to you encouraging the state to request assistance from federal agencies," Kildee said in the letter to Snyder.

"To date, federal assistance has not been requested by the state. Since in my opinion the state's response to the ongoing crisis has been inadequate, I reached out to the White House today to request assistance with any additional federal resources that may be available."

Snyder May Ask Lawmakers For Money For Flint Crisis

By Elisha Anderson And Paul Egan

Detroit Free Press, January 12, 2016

FLINT — Gov. Rick Snyder said Monday the state will step up its efforts to respond to a public health crisis resulting from lead contamination of Flint's drinking water and said he may need to ask the Legislature for more money to address the issue before he presents his state budget in February.

Snyder wouldn't specify how much money he might need during a visit to Flint. He said residents should continue to use filters and bottled water, and the state doesn't want people to assume anything is good with their water until extensive testing has been done.

"This is a crisis," Snyder said. "And that is something I apologize for in terms of the state's role in all of this."

He was flanked by state officials and peppered with questions by journalists during a news conference at Flint City Hall. There weren't specifics offered for many of the questions posed.

Snyder, who has been asked repeatedly about when he first learned that lead in Flint water could be poisoning children, said Monday it was around Oct. 1, and that action was quickly taken.

"More work needs to be done with more urgency," he said. "And I want to see us make a positive contact with every household in Flint."

He said residents should have access to water filters, bottled water and blood tests and acknowledged that actions taken by the state have not been good enough.

Officials said more than 12,000 filters have been passed out so far to Flint's roughly 33,000 households. Parents were encouraged to get blood tests for themselves and their children, and all Flint children under the age of six should have their blood lead levels checked, officials said.

Flint Mayor Karen Weaver said there are unanswered questions about what will be done about some of the problems the city will now face.

"We know that we have kids that have been impacted by this, impacted in a negative way," she said.

She said kids will have mental health issues, behavior issues, physical health issues, learning disabilities and some kids will end up in the juvenile justice system as a result.

Noise could be heard from outside the room where the news conference was held by residents angry they were not allowed to attend.

"We wanted in," said Gladyes Williamson, 61, of Flint. "They wouldn't let us in."

She held a container filled with rust-colored water and said she has questions for the governor.

State Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich, D-Flint, said he thinks the public should have been allowed in, adding they have the right to ask their government questions. He said the citizens of Flint are suffering.

"You're probably never going to the hear the words 'I'm happy' come out of my mouth because the citizens of my community never should have been poisoned," he said. "But I'm looking to say the words 'I'm satisfied' and I'm not there yet."

On Tuesday, Michigan State Police troopers and other state officials plan to go door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits. Over the weekend, officials established sites where citizens could pick up the items.

Meanwhile several local churches have been passing out bottled water to residents and will continue to do so to meet the need for clean water.

On Monday morning, nine members of Second New Hope Baptist Church in Royal Oak Township drove to Flint in a rented a U-Haul with more than 330 cases of bottled water. They stopped at First Trinity Missionary Baptist Church and dropped off the bulk of their load.

"We had to do something," said Pastor Eric Burr, adding they are trying to get water in people's hands immediately.

Several churches in Detroit and surrounding suburbs donated money to purchase the water, he said.

Flint's drinking water became contaminated with lead in April 2014 after the city switched its supply source and treatment while under the control of a state-appointed emergency manager. Instead of getting Lake Huron water treated by the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, as the city had for years, Flint started drawing more corrosive and polluted water from the Flint River and treating it at the city water treatment plan.

The cost-cutting move — which was to be a stopgap move while the city waited for the new Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline to Lake Huron to be built — resulted in a spike in lead levels in children. A recent preliminary report from a task force appointed by Snyder placed most of the blame on the state Department of Environmental Quality, which has acknowledged a mistake in not requiring Flint to add corrosion control chemicals to the water, and prompted the Dec. 29 resignation of DEQ Director Dan Wyant.

Although the state assisted the city in moving its source of drinking water back to Lake Huron water supplied by Detroit in October, concerns about contamination remain because the river water damaged pipes and other infrastructure.

Snyder declared a state of emergency Jan. 5. Three liaison officers from the Federal Emergency Management Agency are in Michigan to assist with emergency efforts, and the White House says it is closely monitoring the situation, but Snyder has not yet asked for federal financial assistance.

Snyder is under sharp criticism for not acting sooner on the public health crisis, particularly after last week's release of an e-mail from Dennis Muchmore, Snyder's chief of staff at the time, who said in July he was worried that concerns from Flint residents about the safety of their drinking water were getting "blown off" by the administration. The e-mail, sent to Department of Health and Human Services Director Nick Lyon, was among a large number of e-mails and other records obtained under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act by Virginia Tech researcher Marc Edwards, a drinking water expert who helped expose the crisis.

In addition to the task force appointed by Snyder, the U.S. Attorney's Office in Detroit is assisting the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency with an investigation.

Also Monday, Snyder signed an executive order to create an inter-agency committee to work on "long-term solutions to the Flint water situation and ongoing public health concerns affecting residents."

Snyder said in a news release the work of the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee will be in addition to immediate steps that are under way, such as distributing bottled water and filters that remove lead from water, and arranging for children to be blood-tested for exposure to lead poisoning.

"We need to focus on improving Flint for the longer term," Snyder said. "This committee, made up of experts from government and the Flint community, will set a course of action to remedy the water situation and resulting health issues, and carry on long after the emergency declaration expires."

The new 17-member committee will include representatives from the state, Genesee County, the City of Flint and experts on particular subjects, Snyder said. "The group will analyze any long-term effects of high lead levels in Flint residents and recommend action," he said.

Ananich, said Monday that creation of the committee is a positive step, but it's one he asked for in September. The Snyder administration has acted too slowly since acknowledging mistakes in October, he said.

"People are still getting exposed to lead for the first time, and that's unacceptable," Ananich said.

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint, sent letters about the crisis Monday to President Barack Obama and to Snyder and said the state's response has been inadequate.

"In November, I wrote to you encouraging the state to request assistance from federal agencies," Kildee said in the letter to Snyder.

"To date, federal assistance has not been requested by the state. Since in my opinion the state's response to the ongoing crisis has been inadequate, I reached out to the White House today to request assistance with any additional federal resources that may be available."

Fund established for Flint children

A fund has been established to address the short- and long-term needs of Flint children exposed to lead through contaminated drinking water, the Community Foundation of Greater Flint announced Monday.

"Our Flint children deserve every opportunity to be healthy and successful," said Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha, the Hurley Medical Center pediatrician who helped expose the tragedy. "The creation of this Fund will further ensure that our children are afforded the resources and interventions to overcome this population-wide exposure to lead."

Gov Announces Flint Water Committee, Fields Questions About What He Knew, When

By Steve Carmody

WUOM-FM Ann Arbor (MI), January 12, 2016

Gov. Snyder continues to defend himself against questions about when he knew the extent of the Flint water crisis.

On Monday, the governor was in Flint to announce the formation of a joint city-state panel to examine the city's water crisis and ways to address it.

The Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee will be composed of state officials with emergency management, environmental quality, health and human services, and other state agencies. Flint's mayor and Genesee County officials will also be on the committee.

Snyder says the panel will "create an action plan, establish protocols for communications at the local, executive and legislative levels, make recommendations regarding the impact to health of the affected population, and "assess the status of infrastructure and determine feasible actions for upgrading Flint's water system."

"The real issue in front of us if how do we address it and how do we take care of the people of Flint," the governor told a news conference in Flint.

But the main question reporters asked Snyder was when he knew the extent of the problem with lead contamination in Flint's drinking water.

The city's switch to the Flint River in 2014 started a chain of events that severely damaged the city's water pipes. The pipes leached lead into the drinking water. The water remains unsafe to drink without a special filter even after switching to a less corrosive water source.

Snyder adamantly insists he was not aware of the extent of the problem until October 1, when state health officials confirmed a local study which showed elevated blood lead levels in Flint children tied to the time of the switch to the Flint River.

"I have a degree of responsibility," Snyder says, "And that's why we're tried to be prudent about taking actions to address where those problems were and what those issues were."

The governor formally declared a "state of emergency" in Flint last week.

Snyder says state officials have been talking with FEMA about the situation in Flint. The federal emergency agency is working with the state to assess whether Flint's drinking water crisis warrants a federal disaster declaration. A declaration could mean millions of dollars in federal aid. But Snyder says it could be weeks before the decision is made as to whether to seek the federal help.

He notes that other requests for federal help came a month after 'states of emergency' were declared.

But State Sen. Jim Ananich, D-Flint, says he is tired of waiting.

"We need these resources for the citizens of my community," says Ananich.

Tuesday, teams of state workers will begin fanning out across Flint, offering homeowners bottled water and filters. The man heading up the effort admits he doesn't know how long it will take to knock on every door of people needing help in Flint.

Governor says not ready to ask for federal aid for Flint water crisis

Mlive.com, January 12, 2016

FLINT, MI -- The state is talking to the federal government about Flint's lead in water crisis but isn't ready to request a national disaster declaration, Gov. Rick Snyder said here today.

"We have not made a specific request for assistance yet, but we're in a dialogue with the federal emergency management people, talking to them about how we can best work together," Snyder said in a City Hall news conference.

"This is a normal part of the process after we do a state declaration. It does take some time for us to put a request together for specific assistance, and we're undergoing that process.

"It will take some time but we will get to that point," Snyder said.

Appearing six days after he declared a state of emergency in Flint because of health and safety issues caused by lead in the city's drinking water, Snyder:

Repeated his apology for problems that arose with Flint's water supply while the city was being run by state appointed emergency managers.

"This is a crisis," he said. "That is something I apologized for. (The question is): How do we address it?

Said the state will look for new opportunities to expand assistance to Flint, including economic and community development, education, and "whatever else we can do."

"Flint has been a challenged community for some time," Snyder said. "This water crisis has been a setback in terms of some of the good things that have been going on in this community."

Indicated he didn't realize Flint had a problem with lead in the water supply until approximately Oct. 1 even though city test results sent to the state showed lead levels on the rise immediately after the city began using the Flint River as its water source.

Snyder said the state "had many issues at the" agency and the problem was allowed to grow worse.

"We've been clear to communicate that," he said. "(That) created a major delay in the actions that should have been taken."

Advised residents to drink bottled water or tap water that has been filtered.

"We still want to see people using filters ... and bottled water," the governor said. "We don't want people to assume anything is good until we have a chance to do extensive testing and (announce results) publicly."

To date in the city, there have been more than 12,000 water filters distributed, 2,000 blood tests performed, and more than 700 water tests performed.

"Those actions were not good enough. We need to get more connections to the citizens in Flint," said Snyder, who also today signed an executive order creating a new committee to deal with Flint's water issues.

Flint Mayor Karen Weaver said city residents have been waiting for the governor to visit and thanked Snyder for his assistance, but two legislators said the governor needs to act sooner and appoint committees later.

"Flint residents deserve action, not more talk from Governor Snyder. This is not a public relations problem – this is a public health crisis," U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee said in a news release.

"The indifference shown by this administration throughout this water crisis is beyond frustrating. An entire city has been poisoned by a decision made by a state-appointed emergency financial manager and for months the state first denied, then delayed action to help the people of Flint.

State Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich said the governor wasted time denying there was a problem with Flint water.

"I don't think we can keep waiting for another task force and another group" to study the issue, he said.

Snyder Was briefly interrupted by protesters, who were not allowed inside City Council chambers, where the news conference was held.

Roughly two dozen community members gathered outside the area where Snyder delivered his speech. Protesters repeated chants calling for the governor's ouster until police officials, who were standing between protesters and the chambers, asked them to remain quiet.

City resident Colette Metcalf said protesters were upset that Snyder officials refused to allow any community members into the news conference. Metcalf said the Snyder administration is failing to respond timely to the city water issue.

"He still refuses to call in the federal aid and it's wrong," Metcalf said.

Flint Police Captain Collin Birnie said there were no arrests during the protest.

Dayton Red Cross to send volunteers to Flint amid water crisis

WDTN, January 12, 2016

DAYTON, Ohio (WDTN) – The Dayton Area Chapter of the American Red Cross announced Monday that it will send trained volunteers to Flint, Michigan to respond to the city's water crisis.

Last week, Michigan Governor Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency in Flint over problems with lead in the city's drinking water, the same day federal officials confirmed they're investigating the matter that prompted a local public health emergency.

Now, the team from Dayton will respond for logistics purposes, said Laura Seyfang, Executive Director with the Dayton Area Chapter of the American Red Cross. The team will handle potable water distribution – potentially passing out water to the entire population of Flint. No official numbers have been released.

Chapters across the country will respond to a situation similar to Flint's after that area's Emergency Management Agency Director will make a request for support. The calls for assistance will slowly fan out by distance away from the trouble area, Seyfang said.

Flint's calls for support have now reached the Dayton area.

If anyone is interested in becoming a trained volunteer for situations such as Flint's, contact the Dayton Area Chapter of the American Red Cross.

I'm a New York Times reporter working on a story about the water situation in Flint and was hoping you could help with a few different points.

First, do you know if any state agencies conducted any testing or gave any approval before the 2014 switch from Lake Huron to the Flint River, and if any testing was done in the weeks or months after that switch? If so, can you please point me toward those reports.

Secondly, would Mr. Creagh at DEQ and Mr. Lyon at DHHS be available for interviews this week about their agencies' roles in Flint to this point, where they've done well, where they could have done better and how they plan to be involved in the coming months and years?

Governor Snyder Requests Support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency

National Guard Activated to Assist with Flint's Water Emergency

LANSING, MI - Gov. Rick Snyder today requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.

This request will identify federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, Snyder today issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said. "The Michigan National Guard is trained and ready to assist the citizens of Flint and will begin doing so immediately."

Members of the National Guard are expected to start arriving in Flint as early as Wednesday to assist with response efforts and plan to increase to over 30 personnel by Friday. The support of the National Guard will enable American Red Cross volunteers, who have been staffing the water resource sites since Jan. 9, to join the efforts of the water resource teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

This is the second time Snyder has activated the National Guard. The first was for the massive Duck Lake Fire in the Upper Peninsula in May 2012.

Under Executive Order 2016-02, the active state service units and individuals in the Michigan National Guard are authorized to assist in maximizing all state efforts to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

Flint residents can continue to pick up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits at the water resource sites.

On Jan. 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency in the City of Flint at the request of Flint and Genesee County officials.

In accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the director of the Michigan State Police, or her designee, is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County.

No. 2016 – 02

ACTIVATION OF THE NATIONAL GUARD TO ASSIST IN RESPONDING TO THE EMERGENCY RELATING TO THE CITY OF FLINT'S WATER SYSTEM

WHEREAS, Section 1 of Article V of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 vests the executive power of the State of Michigan in the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Under Section 12 of Article V of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 the Governor is the Commander-in-Chief of the state armed forces and may call them out to execute the laws; and

WHEREAS, Section 151 of the Michigan Military Act, MCL 32.551, authorizes the Governor to order any members of the organized militia to active state service in the aid of the civil authority in times of public danger, disaster, crisis, catastrophe, or other public emergency within the State; and

WHEREAS, municipal water in the City of Flint showed elevated lead levels after the City of Flint changed its water source from the Detroit water system to its own treatment plant drawing from the Flint River; and

WHEREAS, by Executive Proclamation issued on January 5, 2016, the Governor declared a State of Emergency in the City of Flint and Genesee County; and

WHEREAS, lead can be introduced to humans through water, and elevated lead levels can result in significant health impacts, particularly for children, pregnant women, and the elderly; and

WHEREAS, the State's first priority in addressing this emergency is to limit potential exposure to lead in drinking and cooking water by limiting potential exposure to lead in the City's water system; and

WHEREAS, other priorities include: (1) directly informing as many Flint residents as possible that filters, bottled water, information on lead, water testing kits, and other resources are available; and (2) directly providing resources to Flint residents and following up with those residents to ensure that they have access to safe water, are fully informed, and have their water supply tested. These tasks will require that personnel go door-to-door in large areas of the City of Flint; and

WHEREAS, due to the significant level of human and other resources required for these tasks, additional assistance is needed to supplement existing personnel and equipment; and

WHEREAS, by the Executive Proclamation of Emergency issued on January 5, 2016, the Governor directed that the Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division of the Department of State Police, coordinate and maximize all state efforts, and call upon all state departments and agencies to utilize available resources to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County pursuant to the Michigan Emergency Management Plan;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consequence of the above, I, Richard D. Snyder, Governor of the State of Michigan, pursuant to the Michigan Constitution of 1963, the Michigan Military Act, 1967 PA 150, MCL 32.501 et seq., and the Emergency Management Act, 1976 PA 390, MCL 30.401 et seq., order the following:

1. The Adjutant General of the Michigan National Guard is directed to order to active state service units and individuals of the Michigan National Guard that, in his discretion, he deems appropriate to meet general mission assignments as determined by the Director of the Department of State Police, or her designee.

2. The Director of the Department of State Police, or her designee, shall coordinate and maximize all state efforts, including such units and individuals of the Michigan National Guard that may be activated to state service to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

3. The Michigan National Guard is activated until such time as determined by the Adjutant General, after consultation with the Director of Department of State Police, or her designee.

The Executive Order shall become effective upon filing.

Coordination of Resources in Non-Stafford Act Events

The State of Michigan has identified and planned for various natural, technological and man-made hazards that have, and will continue to, impact its residents. Given the scope, severity and magnitude of any of these hazards, the impacted local jurisdictions and the state may or may not have adequate resources and capabilities for which to efficiently and effectively respond to, recover from and mitigate against. A critical component to building local and state capacities is to develop a framework and strategy for government and non-government entities at all levels to identify and coordinate the resources necessary to support sustainable recovery solutions at the state, Tribal, and local levels.

Subsequent to a Stafford Act declaration, the state and federal government coordinate available resources to assist individuals and communities to respond to and recover from the disaster. Although resources made available through specific Stafford Act authorities would not be provided in a non-Stafford Act event, many resources are available to states, Tribes, and local governments that may be used to support jurisdictions.

The current situation in the City of Flint is one that may benefit from non-Stafford Act support. In a non-Stafford Act event the federal presence, if warranted, is typically limited to technical assistance. However, other federal agencies may have existing authorities, programs and resources that could be requested to address recovery priorities. In the context of this event, which primarily involves public health impacts and infrastructure degradation, there are a number of federal agencies that may be appropriate for further analysis such as the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Army Corps of Engineers that maintain programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that may be able to support the needs of the City of Flint. In addition, the City of Flint is one of six cities selected in 2014 in the second round of the White House initiative, Strong Cities - Strong Communities, which is a targeted initiative to strengthen local capacity and spark economic growth in local communities, while ensuring taxpayer dollars are used wisely and efficiently. This initiative could be leveraged to take advantage of established local, state and federal agency relationships as they relate to coordination of available federal resources to address identified recovery priorities in this incident.

Also, state agencies may have existing programs or grants that in many instances can be re-prioritized to meet identified recovery needs and goals. In addition, private sector and non-governmental organizations, may have available programs and funding opportunities.

For an event that requires additional support, the state may request federal recovery coordination support through the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Regional Administrator to share information or provide technical assistance. Federal recovery coordination support could include an individual with experience and expertise in recovery coordination. The individual could also provide relevant subject matter expertise and facilitate enhanced coordination between federal agencies and state, tribal or territorial recovery leadership.

That person could be the Federal Disaster Recovery Coordinator (FDRC). In the context of an event that does not receive a federal declaration, the Region V FDRC can play a facilitative role in the identification of federal agencies with authorities and resources that could address recovery priorities as well as provide subject matter expertise in assisting the state in identifying their recovery leadership structure and state agency engagement. In events where a federal role may be necessary to support the local, county and state, the FDRC can play a role as a focal point for incorporating recovery and mitigation considerations into decision making processes.

In this event, the Governor issued Executive Order #2016-1, establishing the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee, charged with creating an incident action plan designed to assist state and local authorities in ensuring safe drinking water for the residents of the City of Flint and addressing the consequences of elevated lead levels in the drinking water and citizens. The FEMA Region V FDRC could serve as a liaison to this committee to support the coordination between federal agencies, state agencies/departments, and private sector and non-governmental organizations in the development and implementation of achievable courses of action to resolve the public health and infrastructure issues in Flint.

This non-Stafford Act process and the programs listed above are offered as a means for the State of Michigan to identify potential program and funding sources that might be available to address the recovery priorities identified by the state and the City of Flint.

President Obama:

Last week, Michigan Governor Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for the city of Flint -- a long overdue action -- due to high lead levels in the city's drinking water. It is an emergency that is a direct result of decisions made by the state government itself, decisions that resulted in thousands of children being poisoned by lead in their drinking water.

For months, the state of Michigan failed to recognize and respond to the ongoing public health emergency, which was created when a state-appointed emergency financial manager made the decision to switch the city's drinking water source. Although there has been an increase in state resources in my hometown over the past few days, the state's response still does not nearly address the immediate or long-term needs in Flint that are a result of the state's decisions.

I write to provide you with an overview of how the Flint water crisis was created, what has been done so far, and what federal resources could help in overcoming this man-made disaster.

The state of Michigan eliminated state support for cities over the past decade, which meant the loss of $50 million to the city of Flint. That decision precipitated a financial crisis in Flint due to its already stressed finances resulting from decades of disinvestment and the loss of its manufacturing base and population decline. As a result, in December of 2011, Flint's democratically elected officials were removed by the governor and the city was put under control of an emergency manager.

In April 2013, the state-appointed emergency financial manager decided to switch Flint's drinking water source from the Detroit Water and Sewer Authority, which draws its water from Lake Huron, to the Flint River in order to save money while a new regional pipeline was being built. In April of 2014, the state made the fateful switch to the Flint River as its drinking water source. Since then, the water became discolored and poor tasting resulting in five violations of the Safe Drinking Water Act in less than a year.

In February 2015, after being ignored by officials at Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ), a Flint resident contacted the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) because of the high levels of lead in her water. The EPA tested the resident's water and released a draft memo in June that questioned the safety of the water in Flint. In September, Dr. Marc Edwards, a professor from Virginia Tech, released a study that showed the water in Flint had dangerous levels of lead, in direct contradiction of MDEQ's repeated assurances that the water was safe. Later that month, a local pediatrician, Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha, released her own report showing that there were increased blood lead levels in children as a result of the water's lead content. After numerous attempts by the state to discredit the work of both researchers, on October 8, 2015, the state finally helped facilitate a transition back to the Detroit water supply. Even then, the state failed to take responsibility, requiring $2 million to be paid by the financially stressed city of Flint to reconnect to Detroit water.

Since learning about the dangerous lead levels in the water, I have requested assistance from the EPA, the Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) for a variety of federal resources (attached). As a result of those requests, the federal government has provided the following resources to Flint:

- The EPA's creation of the Flint Drinking Water Task Force that has proved critical technical assistance in ways to improve testing and treatment of Flint's water;
- The EPA conducting an in-depth audit of MDEQ's Drinking Water Program;
- FEMA sent employees to work with the state after the state's emergency declaration and shipments of water;
- The Corporation for National and Community Service dispatched additional AmeriCorps volunteers to Flint to respond to the crisis.

I have made numerous requests for federal assistance and I am greatly appreciative of what Flint has received so far. However, we need more federal resources to respond to not only the immediate needs of providing Flint residents with bottled water and water filters, but also the long term impacts of lead on the Flint community, especially its children. Thus, as the community continues to develop its comprehensive strategy for a long term response to the water crisis, I ask that you direct federal resources to help my hometown in three major ways:

1. Funding secondary and tertiary prevention strategies. According to the medical experts, it is impossible to reverse the damage of exposure to lead, but steps can be taken to mitigate its impacts. This would include:

- Providing universal access for Flint's children to early childhood education, such as Headstart and Pre-Kindergarten.
- Improving nutritional support through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), increasing access to healthy foods, and breastfeeding promotion.
- Increasing resources in the Flint schools for: school nurses; literacy education; before, after and summer school programming; additional special education capacity and counseling; and additional educational support for students throughout their academic careers.
- Expanding medical treatment for services such as: yearly tracking of medical conditions including mental health; promotion of available resources through Medicaid; and support for additional medical professionals in the area using the existing medical community infrastructure.
- Supporting parents and caregivers to respond to children that have been exposed to high levels of lead.
- Improving education and outreach for the community on impacts of lead and how to avoid contact.

2. Repairing the severely damaged water infrastructure. The corrosiveness of the water accelerated damage to the water infrastructure in Flint and the city desperately needs the resources to repair the damage.

- Replacing all private and public lead service lines in Flint through forgivable loans from the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund (DWSRF).
- Support allowing loans made in previous fiscal years under DWSRF to be forgiven, freeing local resources to be utilized to overcome this crisis rather than repayment of past loans to the state.
- Increasing funding to the DWSRF.

3. Repairing the damaged reputation of Flint. The water crisis has significantly damaged Flint's reputation and its ability to compete for industry. Federal assistance will be required to rebuild the Flint economy. I am asking that you:

- Direct all federal agencies to provide additional support to the city of Flint as it endeavors to rebuild itself and its economy in light of the devastating reputational loss associated with this state-created crisis.
- Accept my invitation to visit Flint. I understand you are traveling to Detroit, Mich. on January 20, 2015. I, along with members in my community, extend an open invitation for you to come to Flint at any time to see the crisis for yourself. If that date is not possible, consider a visit to Flint in the very near future.
- Direct a person from the White House to lead the federal government's response to the Flint water crisis and help coordinate federal resources to provide to Flint.

The community and surrounding region has come together to help the people of Flint who have been poisoned. Unfortunately, the state continues to fail in providing the broad support that is needed – and is morally required – to respond to this crisis. The state has thus far refused to ask the federal government for resources, and my hometown cannot wait any longer. Each day that passes without an adequate response is a day that will be lost for the children of Flint forever.

Simply put, the indifference shown by the state of Michigan is beyond comprehension. The people of Flint and I have no confidence that the state of Michigan will provide a response in measure way equal to the gravity of the situation.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Dan Kildee
MEMBER OF CONGRESS

Topline Message:

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->FEMA, through our regional office in Chicago, Ill., has been closely monitoring the water issues in Flint. We've remained in close contact with state officials who, in support of officials in Flint, activated their Emergency Operation Center to coordinate state resources.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->At this time, there has not been a request for federal assistance. Should FEMA receive a request from the state, we would evaluate the circumstances within the guidelines of the Stafford Act. We encourage Flint residents with concerns or questions about the water supply to contact their local emergency management assistance line by dialing 211. For more information, please visit the state's website, www.michigan.gov/FlintWater

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->FEMA sent three FEMA staff to support the state and offer technical assistance as needed. They will also assist in reaching out to federal agencies that may have programs and funding to assist Flint as part of a non-Stafford Act recovery plan.

FEMA Actions

- As a part of the agency's normal commodities management process, FEMA made available bottled water nearing the end of its shelf-life to eligible non-profits across the country. In December 2015, the Food Bank of Eastern Michigan claimed 71,200 liters (approximately 5 truckloads). The water was provided without cost by FEMA, however food bank was responsible for transportation costs.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->At the request of Capt. Kelenske, on January 7, 2016, FEMA Region V Administrator Andrew Velasquez sent two FEMA liaisons to the state Emergency Operations Center to offer technical assistance to the state. Their role will draw upon their experience of bringing together and identifying other Federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of a non-Stafford Act recovery Plan.

- On January 9, 2016, FEMA Region V sent an additional staff member to the State of Michigan's Emergency Operations Center. The additional staff will provide planning assistance to the state.

Tiff,

I most likely will not be in JIC at 8a.; closer to 8:30-9. I'm still in JIC now and leaving soon. Meegan and Kari will also probably be in late as they worked late too. Shanon should be in around 8:30a and I've emailed her details.

You will probably be the first one in the JIC at 8. Additional PIOs will be new to JIC, so please provide direction first thing. Shanon should sit where Ron was (he's off).

As a heads up, we may need to plan Natl Guard media avail; we will have a Guard PIO in JIC. Start thinking ahead for what needs to be done...

Also, do you have contact for Red Cross PIO Perry? If so, can you please send him the Gov's news release?

Call if you have questions. Thanks!

Jane,

Please give SEOC a JIC rep may not be on 8:30a call with locals. I'm still in the JIC now so we may not be in until 9a. It's been a long day/night!

Shanon is coming to JIC in morning, but may not be here by 8:30a.

Let us know if there is something specific we need to do here that the Capt wants. We'll be on SEOC call.

Penny,

Not sure if you'll know this or not. Our folks at the JIC are not taking a lunch, we're working through lunch and never stop working. Are staff required to include a 1-hour lunch as part of DCDS payable hours even though they're not actually taking a lunch? For example, if we work from 8a to 8p without stopping, can we claim 12 hours, or do we need to claim 11 to show a lunch?

Also, Meegan Holland with Gov Office needed a hotel at 11p tonight and the Holiday Inn was booked so she found a different hotel and put on her credit card. Does she need to claim reimbursement through you/SEOC, or Gov Office process?

Thanks in advance.

So you're aware, Shanon and I have arranged to give Ron Wednesday off. He's been working a lot and needed a break. We're working on staffing for this weekend and hope to give Ron a weekend day off, too.

Also, Shanon and I will begin switching off and on to serve as the JIC Manager so we can all get a little break. Shanon and I will both be in the JIC Wednesday. Shanon will be JIC Manager on Thursday (I'll be off), then I'll be back in the JIC Friday and Shanon will be in Lansing.

I'll provide the SEOC with our full JIC staffing list through the weekend, but I wanted you to be aware of our leadership schedule this week.

We've requested all state agency PIOs to send us their availability to staff the JIC since we need more support to meet the public information demands.

Please let me or Shanon know if you have any questions.

Thanks for coordinating dinner!! This was very helpful since we were in JIC past midnight.

Can dinner be arranged for JIC staff every night if needed?

If so, please email any requirements/details you need from us to jicmanager@michigan.gov. We're changing staff each day so this is the most consistent email.

Thanks again!!

Hi Tom,

This is Nicole Lisabeth with the Michigan State Police in the JIC. These daily reports from 211 are very valuable to help us know the types of calls you're getting and any messaging/info you need from us.

If possible, can you please begin sending these reports to our email for the JIC in addition to your other contacts, at jicmanager@michigan.gov.

Staffing at the JIC is changing daily so this will help ensure the right people get it every day.

211 is doing an outstanding job with coordinating public inquires. Please let the JIC know if there's anything we can do to help you out.

Keep up the good work!

> - 185 calls requests for water-related issues had been received as of 4:45 pm.

- At 9:30 am Central Michigan 2-1-1 provided training to staff at 2-1-1 partner agencies across Michigan to increase capacity to handle any sudden surge in call volume. Trained agents are flagged in the statewide call routing platform as specially prepared to provide water assistance.
- At 12:08 pm there was a sudden influx of calls to 2-1-1 resulting from news coverage on TV and radio. The call queue increased to a maximum of 25 callers. Additional capacity from 2-1-1 partners ensured the wait-time for callers remained under two minutes during this period.
- Primary reason for calls are water filters and bottled water.

SPECIAL NEEDS/REQUESTS

- ☑ Received response to request in yesterday's update on where to send information on callers requesting transportation assistance and water filter delivery.
- ☐ Still seeking information on yesterday's request on whether an apartment complex manager can pick up filters for entire complex (47 filters).
- Central Michigan 2-1-1 contacted the EOC with reports that some fire station were out of water. EOC shared information on the process to restock sites along with a standard message for 2-1-1 to share with callers to provide reassurance.
- Callers are asking when canvassers will be coming to their communities. 2-1-1 is telling these callers the canvassing map has not been released, but the door-to-door outreach will begin in areas reporting the highest lead levels, then will expand across the city.

RUMOR CONTROL

- There were no more reports of rumors lead being found in bottled water.
- Several callers asked about the safety of bottled water for baths – they reported hearing rumors about rashes caused by bathing in bottled water. 2-1-1 referred to information on the flyer at the state web site regarding water safety and also suggested contacting their doctor or health provider with any related concerns.

OTHER

- At a recent Coalition To Keep Michigan Warm meeting, 2-1-1 heard anecdotal reports that some households in Flint have to replace water heaters annually due to corrosive water. A review of 2-1-1 call data identified 15 requests for water heater replacement in Flint since October 1, 2015.

RUMOR CONTROL

- There were no more reports of rumors lead being found in bottled water.
- Several callers asked about the safety of bottled water for baths – they reported hearing rumors about rashes caused by bathing in bottled water. 2-1-1 referred to information on the flyer at the state web site regarding water safety and also suggested contacting their doctor or health provider with any related concerns.

OTHER

- At a recent Coalition To Keep Michigan Warm meeting, 2-1-1 heard anecdotal reports that some households in Flint have to replace water heaters annually due to corrosive water. A review of 2-1-1 call data identified 15 requests for water heater replacement in Flint since October 1, 2015.

Good evening!

A woman called tonight concerned about the hearing impaired in Flint. She wanted to know when the city officials were coming to her area to pass out drinking water so she could lookout because she is hearing impaired and concerned that she may not hear someone knocking on the door. She also shared her concern for other individuals who are hearing impaired and how they may not hear the officials knocking on their door as well. Is there any way that we can get this message out to them so they know the concerns of this particular citizen?

Thank you!

So you're aware, I'm off on Thursday and Shanon Banner with the Michigan State Police will be leading the JIC. Her and I are switching on and off as the JIC leader.

Her contact information is below. Feel free to call/email her if you need anything. You can also email jicmanager@michigan.gov and we can get back to you that way.

As a heads up, I'm hearing that a request for a Presidential emergency declaration is on the fast track for IA, PA, and mitigation. Shanon will be your contact for this on Thursday and I'll be back in the JIC Friday and Saturday.

Let us know if you need anything from us. I greatly appreciate your help with everything, especially the messaging for the support request.

Looks like you'll be doing a news release on Presidential request. Ron should be able to get you a past request release to use as guidance; he has token to access his S drive. You'll need info on an emergnecy declaration, not typical disaster declaration.

Link to an example that may help, but it's for disaster decl- http://www.michigan.gov/msp/0,4643,7-123-72297_60152_68178-337709--rss,00.html

I'm going to email Mark Peterson with FEMA letting him know I'm off Thursday and to contact you about request as needed for release.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions about the request and release. I'm happy to help message/coordinate it. Kari knows the lingo and would be good to write this.

Subject: SEOC Update 1/13/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/13/16 – 9th Day (8th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Prepare/approve logistics plan and close lease on warehouse space
- Continue with door to door teams and finalize planning for second wave increase (+15 teams – total for 1/14/16 will be 20)
- Continue to work on Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 8

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- All support data from state Agencies and local jurisdictions collected as of 6:00 pm on 01-13-16
- Current timeline:
    - First draft completed and ready for review by State Department Directors (including the Attorney General) by 11:00 am on 01-14-16
    - State agency reviews due back by 1:00 pm on 01-14-16 for revision of the draft
    - Revised draft to Captain Kelenske by 2:00 pm on 01-14-16 for review and forwarding to the Governor for final review
    - Final draft (based on Governor's review) submitted to FEMA Region V Administrator by no later than cob 01-14-16 but hopefully sooner. FEMA is aware and ready to receive.

Requests and potential response from FEMA/President

- The letter will request all programs eligible under the Stafford Act including Public Assistance, Individual Assistance, Hazard Mitigation, FEMA's coordination of assistance from other Federal agencies and direct assistance from FEMA
- The letter will also request potential direct reimbursement from other Federal agencies such as EPA, CDC, HUD, DHHS and SBA
- This request is in coordination with the request for Non-Stafford Act federal assistance already requested and received by the State (technical assistance and administration, but no direct reimbursement of disaster costs)
- Direct Federal assistance from FEMA in the form of Individual Assistance to homeowners for household repairs (repair and/or replacement of water service lines and Other Needs Assistance to reimburse for water filters, bottled water, etc.) is a possibility
- Direct Federal assistance from FEMA in the form of Public Assistance is not as likely as it is mostly replacement of publicly owned water distribution lines (and not the direct result of damage from a natural cause)
- If Stafford Act assistance is denied (Public Assistance, Individual Assistance and Hazard Mitigation) FEMA could still provide coordination of assistance from other Federal agencies if the President declares a disaster (or emergency) for the State of Michigan

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The door to door teams will continue at 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. Thursday morning and continue through the weekend.
- We will continue to ramp up door to door operations with additional teams. Teams are focusing on the high lead level areas and additional data is being analyzed to focus mission areas.
- MNG will have a press event at the armory with incoming soldiers and MG Vadnais.

Items to Note

- Received information that Rev. Jesse Jackson will be in town 1/17/16 at 1:30 at the Heavenly Host Church of the Harvest of Dartmouth St, Flint.
- Managed and corrected misinformation on NG role.
- Senator Ananich is stopping by the SEOC tomorrow morning 0845. I am meeting with him and his Chief of Staff. Short visit as he has a 0930 at the Capitol.
- Working with Comcast so they can put teams in the field for distribution.
- Penske is going to give us 15-20 trucks over the weekend.
- Contact made with Two Men and a Truck for resources.
- Meeting set with Google where they will brief me and key staff potential tasks.
- Coordinated with Flint Mass Transportation Authority (MTA) to include Fire Station PODs on bus routes.
- Tomorrow I will have a projection as to the number of teams needed to get all citizens filters in their homes in 5 days / 3 days.
- We are standardizing team structure and supply deployment to increase efficiencies. Mission Ready Package (MRP) specifications will be sent out for other entities to assist with door to door. They will then be able to arrive as a MRP, get supplies, receive a mission location and deploy.
- 5 Water Response Teams were in the field again today. Below are the numbers from the 2 days of just the Water Response Teams (there are paper copies with data still to be entered from the PODs). I was just briefed by the ARC logistics planner and there are efficiencies we can put in place to increase homes touched per day. The next version of the app will provide more granular details. Additional 30 tablets were configured by DTMB today for field implementation to include use in the PODs.

	Total	1/12/2016	1/13/2016
Occupied Homes	533	242	291
Vacant Homes	238	152	86
Total Homes	771	394	377
Resources
Door Hangars	473	217	256
Water	265	117	148
Filters	235	112	123
Pitchers	9	3	6
Water test kits	92	48	44
Replacement Filter	93		93
Total Resources Dispersed	1167
Future sample test site	62	28	34

- We show 17,276 residences with filters (this does not include data entry to be completed from POD or other locations).
    - We have 35,378 service hookups but with apartments, multi residence dwellings, etc we would be around 45,000.
- Logistics Support
    - The American Red Cross Logistics Planner provided me a brief and I approved the plan forward. The current plan includes:
        - Mission – A filter in every home ASAP.
        - 4 Distribution Methods
            - PODs (5)
            - Water Response Teams (20 effective tomorrow and this will increase)
            - Local EOC "Hot Shots" (these are calls for functional needs, unable to get to a POD location due to ??, etc). Personnel dispatched with supplies.
            - Local EOC support for other local requests (Faith based for distribution, etc.)
        - Three warehouse locations at this time
        - How to better leverage ARC resources

- Supplies – Daily Numbers
    - Replacement Cartridges - 30,700 delivered.
    - Water (cases) - 19,152 cases delivered

- Budget projection completed and will be submitted to SBO for review.

- Notes from Water Response Team Command (MSP)
    - Very good synergy between Flint Post troopers and Genesee County Sheriff command and deputies in effective and efficient deployments for distribution efforts.
    - Great attitude and efforts by uniforms and volunteers to make important contributions to the City of Flint on water response team deployments.
    - Clear direction and coordination in the field of supply teams by lieutenants and troopers. No confusion. Clearly defined roles.

All personnel continue to be fully committed to fixing this as quickly as possible.

Update 1/12/16 – 8th Day (7th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

I apologize in advance for the length of this report. With the supply issues we had the last couple of days I wanted to share our inventory plus what we anticipate to ensure we do not have supply issues.

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Fine-tune logistics
- Increase and deploy door to door teams (4 state teams added to teams from the Sheriff's Department)

- Increase collaboration and messaging of collaboration with local agencies (specifically the Sheriff's Department)

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 7
- Executive Order Activating the National Guard

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The Governor signed an Executive Order activating the National Guard. Mission will be to relieve ARC volunteers at the PODs (Fire Stations) which will free up the ARC volunteers for door to door activities.
    - I have briefed the ARC Disaster Officer on this plan.
- The Governor requested, through FEMA Region V, support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to bring together and identify other federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of an interagency recovery plan. One of the existing LNOs has been identified as the POC for this. He will be a great liaison for the FWIACC.
- The door to door teams will continue at 0830 Wednesday morning and continue through the weekend and ramp up door to door operations with additional teams. Teams are focusing on the high lead level areas.
- We will look at all commodities and see where we are and where we need to be while working with the ARC logistics specialist.

Items to Note

- PSA video sent out to Flint citizens on resources available.

- Water
    - Today's numbers - 7,824 cases of water arrived today, 1/12/16 (109 pallets)
    - Ordered:
        - 19,152 cases of water are going to arrive Wednesday, 1/13/16 (266 pallets)
            - 1/3 is going to GCCARD and the rest is going to the new warehouse
        - 12,768 cases to arrive daily beginning Thursday through Saturday (177 pallets a day)

- Filters
    - Today's numbers
        - Ordered on 1/11/16 and delivered 1/12/16 direct to GCCARD
            - 2,000 – Brita filter faucet mounts
        - Filter Replacements
            - 2,400 – Brita filter replacements (single pack)
            - 8,000 – Brita filter replacements (two pack)
    - Ordered on 1/12/16 to arrive Wednesday
        - Faucet Mounts – To be delivered direct to GCCARD on 1/13/16 (Wednesday)
            - 10,000 – PUR Vertical faucet mount
            - 2,500 – PUR Horizontal mount
        - Replacement Filters – To be delivered direct to GCCARD on 1/13/16 (Wednesday)
            - 10,000 – PUR replacement filters (3 pack)
            - 10,000 – PUR replacement filters (single pack)

        - PUR Combination Pack – to be delivered to GCCARD on 1/13/16 (Wednesday)
            - 10,700 – PUR combo packs

- To arrive Thursday
    - Zero Water Pitcher (8 Cup) – Delivering direct to GCCARD on 1/14/16 (Thursday)
        - 1,300 – Zero Water pitchers
    - Faucet Mounts – Delivering direct to GCCARD on 1/14/16 (Thursday)
        - 11,000 – PUR vertical faucet mount
        - 1,500 – PUR Horizontal faucet mount
        - 5,000 – Brita faucet mount
        - 10,000 – Brita adv faucet mount white
        - 12,000 – Brita adv faucet mount chrome
    - Replacement Filters – Delivering direct to GCCARD on 1/14/16 (Thursday)
        - 117,600 – PUR replacement filter

- Test Kits
    - 6601 unassembled kits arrived at GCCARD today, 1/12/16.
    - 500 have been assembled and are ready for distribution
    - 1000 additional unassembled kits have been ordered to be delivered at GCCARD (no ETA yet)
    - 10,142 unassembled kits to arrive at GCCARD early next week

- Second warehouse – Located in Flint
    - 100, 000 square feet of secure warehouse obtained.
    - Accepting commodities beginning Wednesday, January 13

- Logistics Support
    - The American Red Cross Logistics Planner arrived from DC today as requested. I outlined what her mission was and how I saw the progression forward. This logistics planner will assist in streamlining the inventory and distribution process now and into the future.

- Door to Door Numbers
    - Today the app implementation for the field went extremely well. There were a few issues that were quickly addressed. One related to how form fields should be filled out. Another was getting styluses for teams so that they don't have to remove their gloves in the cold. All very simple to fixes.
    - We are working on version 2.0 so this can be used at the PODs
    - We should be able to greatly optimize distribution in the near future as we mapped the active water subscribers from Flint's DPW and are adding them to the field team members apps. Of the ~56,000 possible addresses, this reduces the number of possible homes to visit down to ~29,000.
    - Notes from the field commander:
        - "Today we started out the day using two groups that consisted of approximately 10 people in each group. We eventually combine groups with Genesee County Sheriff's group and they brought two more groups with approx. 10 people (Local UAW) in each group. This made us a lot more efficient and we were able to set up a game plan. Tomorrow I feel we will be more efficient and we will have a better plan in place to get the maximum output out of our resources."

- In the end, there were 394 total home visits with the following breakdowns:
  - 217 Door Hangers
  - 152 Vacant Homes
  - 117 Water Distributions
  - 112 Filters
  - 3 Pitchers
  - 48 Water Test Kits

- 211
  - CALL VOLUME:
    - 185 calls for water-related issues had been received as of 4:45 pm.

- Logistics made contact with Comcast and will be supplying them with filters and replacement cartridges for their deliveries in their work trucks as they make services calls. They will follow our procedures for reporting (our checklist).

Chris

Update 1/11/16

The focus today was the media event and getting the supplies and logistics on track. Most of the activity today was working on logistics for the water and other supplies.

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 6

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The door to door teams will start at 0830 Tuesday morning. It is reported that troopers are going to the door but DHHS employees are the lead with a troop car nearby.
  - State and local GIS created an App today for the teams to use tomorrow but I see potential use at distribution sites.
  - The App data will be used for our maps as we survey the public/distribute supplies and we will be getting real time metrics through the site from the field send back to the SEOC. We are using Android tablets tomorrow but in the future can use any mobile device for this.

Items to Note

- It was reported that only one POD (Station 5) was out of water longer than 30-45 minutes. This site was ~2 hours without water and part of that was the truck went to the wrong station. Trucks were sent as soon as the local EOC was notified.
- We also did not receive a DHHS shipment that was to come in which caused some filter delivery issues.
- Supplies are limited at this time; however, we are getting our shipments starting at 0630 tomorrow.
- We have Home Depot giving us 12,768 cases (this was a late development so the SitRep indicates half the amount) of water every day starting tomorrow. We are still working with other distributors too.
- ARC is flying in a logistics planner tomorrow. Three additional staff with be with her to shadow and help. We are turning warehouse logistics over to ARC logistics. We are moving tomorrow to a process that has a distribution center (GCCARD) and a warehouse that is 100,000 square that will maintain mass quantities. Staff has continually been placing orders for supplies to ensure we get a head of this. The intent is to keep the warehouse full so we do not have these continual issues of supplies.

- Began mapping lead service lines (anticipate having draft of lead service lines Friday).
- Coordinated with local IT managers overseeing filter tracking system to streamline data collection.

Local Emergency Operations Center

• Working to coordinate resources at the local level to maintain adequate supplies at all PODs.
• Demand has exceeded supplies and supplies are moving rapidly from PODs today. Working to make sure POD managers notify us when they start running low.
• Working to establish a warehouse for local resource storage.
• Established trigger points for resources at PODs and hourly inventory reporting from the PODs.
• Discussed potential long term water sources between local EOC and SEOC.
• Established planning cycle/meeting scheduled for 1/12/16.
• Local EOC EMHSD staff with Natasha Henderson to request deployment of City representative at local EOC.

Update 1/10/16

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 5
- Door card (English version but Spanish version will be ready for Tuesday)

I have a local EOC section listed below but state personnel are heavily engage in management of both locations. We occasionally hit some road bumps with this event but all personnel are working well together to accomplish our goals (especially state agency personnel).

I have had good discussion with FEMA LNOs. Two statements have been developed from our discussions that hopefully helps put this in more context but if it is more confusing I apologize:

1. In the immediate response, the State, in collaboration and coordination with city of Flint and county of Genesee are working to get water, water filters, and testing kits to the affected population. In conjunction, the state will coordinate with federal agencies to ascertain what resources can come to bear to help mitigate the issue.

2. If asked about a federal declaration from FEMA, we need to articulate the definition of major and emergency declaration and state or note to ourselves that it appears to not qualify; however, there may exist opportunities to leverage federal assistance from some agencies (i.e....EPA) under their own authority to help address this issue.

- We need to really manage expectations on the potential for a federal declaration...not that we will not go after one but it will be difficult to get.
- A major disaster is defined in the Stafford Act as any "nature catastrophe (including hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, windriven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought) or, regardless of cause any fire, flood, or explosion.....causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude, to warrant major disaster assistance.....to supplement the efforts and available resources of States, and local government....."
- An emergency declaration is "is any occasion or instance for which, in determination .....assistance is needed to supplement State and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and protect property and public health and safety or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe....."
    - This is limited to immediate and short-term assistance (I hate to put times on this but short-term is like 3 weeks), essential to save lives, protect public health and safety and property.
- Severity of the situation is "A finding that the situation is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capability the state and affected local governments, and that the state requires supplementary federal emergency assistance to save and to protect property....
- Nature of assistance for Emergency Declaration is for "Debris removal, emergency protective measures, direct federal assistance...."
    - Debris Removal = self-explanatory and we do not have this
    - Emergency Protective measures = water, commodities, transportation (remember ... to supplement what the locals and state are already doing if we need more)
    - Direct federal assistance= what specific type of work is requested, and what are the reasons why the state/local government cannot perform or contract for performance. Essentially what is the need that state/local govt cannot provide. I can see this being something we need but we may be able to get this outside a federal declaration under the federal agencies own authority to help address this issue.

Back to the update...

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Training is occurring for the door to door teams scheduled for Tuesday morning.
- Deploying an additional MSP District Coordinator to the local EOC for command and control support.
- Deploying two DTMB trucks and two drivers for sustained logistical support for the week.
- Media event with the Governor in Flint.
- New Incident Action Plan starts (1/11 0800 -1/13 0800 operational period). Our objectives are as follows:
    1. Ensure all households within impacted community have required resources.
    2. Ensure accurate tracking and accounting of all commodities.
    3. Improve and maintain public information strategy.

4. Develop a long term public health and services plan.
5. Ensure adequate staffing to support operational requirements.
6. Identify possible assistance programs.
7. Develop an approved GIS strategy.
8. Maintain coordination between partner agencies and organizations.
9. Enhance situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
10. Develop a comprehensive Recovery Plan.

Items to Note

- All 9 churches had filter systems/replacement filters, information sheets, and water test kits delivered as requested by each pastor/reverend on Sunday. We did not think we could get them water due to the limited time but we did end up getting water to all 9 churches with the other items.
- Fire station resource locations stayed open from 9a to 9p and will continue with those hours until further notice (Staffing is in place until Saturday). ARC is staffing these locations.
- The media event was held at Fire Station No. 1 and report back is that it went well and the spirit of collaboration between local, state, non-governmental partners is strong was relayed.
- The four door to door teams will have the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
    - Each will have logistics support from DTMB, security from MSP, and contact personnel from DHHS.
    - The door card is attached that will be left if no one is home.
- Worked to identify a storage location within the City of Flint for water and supplies. G-CARD is identified as temporary location but we are moving toward a state run warehouse operation (looking at private sector partners to assist, especially with the warehouse management side).
    - GCCard is large enough, centrally located and comes staffed. GCCard has 75,000 sq ft with warehouse managers to assist with tracking resources coming in and out.
- GIS will provide us daily updates of how much was distributed each day but note we have a delay in data entry from delivery to entry in the GIS system. Over the weekend there was a problem locally with staffing to get this completed. A solution is in place and will be implemented so we get timely data. Distributed to date (as of 1/8/16).
    - 12,386 filters
    - 1,985 replacement filters
    - 354 Pitchers
    - 2500 Lead Testing Kits
- Establishing and tracking of resources is a priority. Staffing has been assigned to get a good handle on these to ensure distribution sites maintain an appropriate level of inventory. I have requested trigger points get put in place so we do not get below certain levels in the main warehouse location.
    - Contacts with some large water distributors have been made and their and our logistics chiefs will connect first thing this week.
    - We have ordered an additional (expedited delivery with ETAs tomorrow)
        - 40,000 Brita Filters
        - 40,000 Brita Replacement Filters
        - 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
        - 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
        - 2000 PUR Replacement Filters

        - 93 Pallets of water (about 6700 cases)
- GIS continues to produce multiple maps for use.
- JIC Items
    - Requested PSA on the radio. Media has been approved and working with MAB.
    - Requested JIC to contact Comcast and Dish Network for availability for continuous running of filter install/replacement and test kit video.
    - A news release will likely going out tomorrow regarding canvassing in neighborhoods. Continued social media messaging.
        - Tuesday – embed state PIO with one of the canvassing teams to liaison with media.
        - JIC moving tomorrow to Flint.

Local Emergency Operations Center

I am providing you some information on some issues we ran into at the PODs. This has been addressed with additional state resources and processes put in place so we do not run out of resources. Public concerns/complaints have not been brought to my attention at this time. Staff is working very hard to ensure we do not run out of supplies at the PODs and they understand the consequences. No one in the Local EOC or State EOC is happy the follwoing occurred and I felt you should know in case it is brought up. Again, I believe we have fixed this and I take full responsibility for any supplies not being on site.

Fire Station Inventory Levels:

Station 1:

- Only time without supplies - 15 minutes without water while the truck was unloaded.

Station 3:

- Ran out of replacement filters around 7:00, replacement filters delivered around 7:30. Had to pick up replacement filters from Home Depot and deliver.

Station 5:

- Ran out of water around 5:00, water was delivered around 6:30. We needed to find additional trucks because DTMB drivers were over hours. The ARC stepped up and found a truck to go and pick up a pallet of water and deliver.
- Somewhere between 4:00-6:00 they ran out of lead test kits. No way to restock these because City facilities were closed and could not reach anyone.

Station 6:

- Around 5:00 ran out of water, filters, and replacement kits. Replacement kits were delivered around 7:30. Additional water and filters were delivered after 9:00 due to the DTMB drivers heading back to Lansing. Food Bank was called and had to get drivers in to operate trucks, pick up water from the School District, load and deliver to all sites. Delays occurred with weather conditions and needing to use last minute sheriff EOC staff to load due to issues with City workers. City workers were scheduled to help and left around 7:00 without helping.
- 2 pallets of water were dropped off in the afternoon and within 1 hour were gone. This was much faster than we expected. On 1/9 they didn't go through 2 pallets of water at any station for the hours 9:00-4:00.
- We received news that a reverse 9-1-1 call notified residents of water which caused an unanticipated amount of people obtaining water. There was also a report of 1 person walking out with 2 cases of water and trying to sell in the parking lot.

Station 8:

- Around 7:00 ran out of filters and lead tests. Filters were delivered around 8:00 from the food bank trucks.
- Hourly reports were requested in the morning from volunteers but this information was not received as to the status throughout the day. Early inventory of supplies took between 1 hour-1.5 hours to receive in the EOC. We were not advised of low counts, just zero numbers.
- Reports received that the last couple of hours were slow.
- Residents were advised of the other sites and the opportunity to obtain supplies.

Restocking Plan

- United Way set up meeting with Food Bank to discuss.
- Had EOC meeting on this topic to discuss options.

Churches:

- All 9 churches received waters, filters, and informational bulletins.
- Lt Roach received positive feedback from 3 of the pastors.
- No complaints were received.

Signage:

- Provided information to SEOC on signage requirements at the fire stations.

Storage:

- Researched storage spaces; established temporary site at GCCARD.

Personnel:

- Lack of local EOC leadership (seems somewhat checked out) with IC and Deputy IC (doing an okay job).
- Captain TaFoya (Genesee County) helped tremendously today with all the plans outlined above and attended the press conference.
- Tina Martinez at the Food Bank and Matt Purcell at GCCARD were extremely helpful in getting last minute operations set up.

Chris

Update 1/9/16

SitRep 4 attached for more in depth information. The below only contains some items worked on today and while the format in the attached SitRep is not perfect (it is created automatically by MICIMS) it does contain a lot more information you may want to read. I also attached one of our maps. It is our filter distribution map. All filters handed out by anyone working with us feeds into this now. We are continuing to refine these and at this time there is a delay in the upload of address data but we are working on it. We have a ways to go to get filters in every home but this will help direct us to those who need still them. We also are working on identifying abandoned homes.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 9 churches will have ARC volunteers and filters for distribution. Some may also get water.

- 5 fire stations are a distribution point for water, filter systems/replacement filters, and water test kits. While only open today until 4 p.m., tomorrow and until further notice they are open from 9a to 9p.
- Media event will take place on the above tomorrow.

Items to Note

- 211 has some issues with call load but it is being worked on. 2-1-1 Director contacted MDHHS PIO to discuss/resolve caller wait times and messaging. We anticipate an increase in activity tomorrow in 211 calls so we requested and received an increase to staff 211.
- We are shifting tasks the SEOC took on that are handled more effectively and efficiently at the local EOC. We have established command and control in their EOC. We are running things there but that is not being made public. We are doing this in partnership but we are clearly handling the operation with state personnel oversight.
- A 3rd FEMA LNO arrived today upon my request. This has nothing to do with a Presidential request for a declaration but support for some other items I want worked on for long term recovery.
- We continue morning calls with the local EOC leadership and local emergency manager on what our goals for the day are as well as any issues/concerns.
- Five 5 fire stations have received water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits with American Red Cross personnel at each location to assist with delivery of resources and collection of addresses receiving them. These locations will be open from 9a – 9p daily until determined they are no longer needed. Those picking up water testing kits will be advised that they can return the test kits to the fire departments (where they will be picked up and taken to the Flint City Hall), the Flint Water Treatment Plant, or they can take them directly to the Flint City Hall. For those unable to return the kits, 211 can make arrangements for pick up the kits. We understand response to these sites has been positive thus far. The Genesee County EOC will be monitoring these supplies and request replacement of products as needed.
    - A call is going out tomorrow morning to advise this information ... I do not believe it was every resident but Tori Sachs has that info if needed.
- I approved a press release today to advise the public that all levels are working together to ensure delivery of filters, test kits and water; noting that all of these items were delivered to the 5 Flint fire department stations. It was stressed that the public should be aware that the local and state agencies have been working cooperatively to assist the residents - and will continue to do so. This was done to hopefully end or at least minimize the "who can get water and filters out first" when all of this has been connected with the state and coordinated since the state declaration was put in place.
- The arrangement of 2,000 filters, to be taken to 9 local churches on Sunday, January 10, is ongoing. The filters have been secured; they are now in the possession of the DTMB. DTMB will return to Flint on Sunday morning to deliver these to necessary locations. The American Red Cross will be on site at each church to assist with distribution and recording addresses (for GIS). The local EOC is working to ensure these arrangements are complete and run smoothly. Future engagement with the faith based community will occur to assist with additional distribution.
- A Flint City liaison has not been in the EOC but starting Monday this will be in place to keep the Flint Mayor appraised of activities being conducted in the city. She also has been advised she can call me at any time if she needs anything.

- Training has been confirmed for the door-to-door operation scheduled to start Tuesday. Four teams are initially scheduled with more to potentially be put in place. These are the teams that will be handing out water, filter systems/replacement filters, test kits and information. If nobody is home, a door hanger with information is being left. DHHS personnel and one MSP trooper will be on these teams.
    - Training will take place at 1 p.m. on Monday afternoon at the DHHS office on Clio Road. DEQ and DHHS will provide the training.
        - Training is so those going door to door can explain what the filters do, how to install them, if they need install help to call 211 who has a list of people who can install the filters, and answer any other questions versus just handing them the filter.
    - Hours of operation will be Tuesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. AT THIS TIME. I am reevaluating these times to increase contact with someone versus just leaving information.
    - Logistics are being finalized for the teams and trucks to handle stocking and re-stocking of materials during daily operations.
    - GIS maps will provide guidance on deployment locations for these teams and other teams in the field.
- A pilot project at Freeman Elementary with LARA and DEQ has been initiated to see if replacing certain plumbing components in faucets at the school will drop the lead level.

MSP/EMHSD GIS Section Updates

Accomplished Today (January 9):

- Produced a Point of Distribution Map. Contains four types of distribution points; Churches, Water Resource Sites, Filter Distribution Sites, Water Distribution Sites.
- Produced Filter Distribution Map.
- Developed process of how best to handle geocoding the household filter locations, worked on processing the data.
- Worked on map of franchise customers outside of Flint City.
- Produced maps for MDARD on food establishments and Local Health Departments.
- Produced map of Church Filter Distribution map for DTMB.

Local Emergency Operations Center

- The state has deployed 10 personnel to the Genesee County EOC to ensure we have command and control at the local level. On 1/8/15 The state personnel took over the incident management functions of the Genesee County EOC (not public). The arrival of additional staff allowed the local Emergency Management Coordinator to delegate tasks which relieved a tremendous amount of stress.
- Additional Sherriff staff (2-positions) will be shadowing the state incident management team to allow for transition to the county personnel later in the incident when we are comfortable with them handling things. Not sure when that will be but we have secured a direct bill hotel for staff to stay in Flint as long as needed.
- With the additional staff, the Local EOC will be able to take over functions previously handled by the SEOC including:
    - Logistical activities to support church operations.

- Logistical activities to support fire stations operations.
- Coordinate Donations Management activities and draft donations management plan
- Coordinate Volunteer Management activities
- Identify local storage/staging facilities
- Overall inventory tracking
- Tracking of Points of Distribution (PODs)

Chris

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/8/16

SitRep 3 attached.

There is a significant difference in what is being presented by the media and what the local EOC is relaying to us at the SEOC. It is also being driven by the media that this is a state versus local response (who is providing more and quicker versus a coordinated effort between all). That said, I advised SEOC personnel that perception is reality in some eyes and we are to move forward to address items that typically are addressed at the local level. I have ordered the SEOC open all weekend due to make the quick wins that we need and continue to get the coordination and collaboration in place that is needed (but make gains on our own as needed).

Items to Note

- Two FEMA LNO's arrived today and are in the SEOC. A third LNO was requested from FEMA due to some unique issues with this event to include having to deploy more or my staff to the local EOC to get more structure and/or find out why there is an issue with the message the media is showing versus what we are hearing from the local EOC.

- We finally received from the local EOC 8 locations (we were told originally early in the week they had 80-90) that are their Points of Distribution (PODs) for water in conjunction with the local food bank. The PODs are not getting water from the food bank even though the food bank has water. We are going to resolve this issue as we can help deliver the water to the PODs but we were not aware of this. 8 PODs is not enough locations if water needs to be distributed to citizens. Speaking with the ARC Regional Administrator later today, I believe ARC got water to those locations but I need to confirm that in the morning. The food bank reported they had 376 cases of water.

- We have learned that a low number of residents are testing their water when DEQ can test 400 kits per day. This is an added focus that we believe can be increased through dissemination of test kits with the filters and any water.

- I found out the Mayor was okay with using fire stations as distribution points for water, filters, and water test kits. While this did not come to me through the local EOC, I advised we needed to get water, filters, and test kits to these locations for tomorrow. The distribution at 5 Flint Fire Department stations has been coordinated to be in place by 10:00 am tomorrow morning.

- DTMB has provided a truck and driver to pick up water test kits from DEQ lab in Lansing, water from the Food Bank and water filters and replacement cartridges from GCARD in Genesee County.
- 10 American Red Cross (ARC) volunteers will meet the DTMB truck at GCARD at 9:00 am to be provided information about filters. Instructions will be included in water test kits. They will then report to the 5 fire stations to assist in distribution of resources to the public and track addresses of same.
- Residents will be told where they can drop off their water test kits, or that they can return them to the fire station the next day. Coordination will occur on pick up of water test kits daily to be taken to the Flint City Hall, who will then delivery them to the DEQ testing lab.

- STILL FINALIZING - We have made available 2,000 Filters for distribution on Sunday as parishioners leave mass/services. This will be 200 filters for 10 churches in Flint. While this is a small number of churches, we do not want to waste an opportunity to hand out filters and this seems like a quick way to so. The filters will be put on the DTMB truck on Saturday for delivery to TBD locations for distribution. Logistics remain undetermined as I am still waiting on a list of the churches, pastors/reverends/hours or services/etc. The DTMB truck will be returning to Lansing approximately 11:00 a.m. so we need to finalize this quickly on Saturday. We may utilize ARC to assist with this.

- The Recovery branch is working with the JIC to develop a door hanger card. DTMB is working on the printing portion of the hanger card. Recovery will also be finalizing logistics over the weekend for neighborhood canvasing to occur early next week. 40 volunteers have signed up to attend training on Monday afternoon to complete this task. The mission will be to deliver water sample kits along with water filters/replacement cartridges, and water.

- It appears that 211 has become overloaded. DHHS is researching ways to increase capacity for calls.

- A Volunteer Management Coordinator is in the Genesee County EOC as of today.

- A Donations Management Coordinator has been requested and she will be in the Genesee County EOC Saturday.

- DHHS had a conference call with GM today; they indicated they can provide cash, and supplies, but primarily manpower. No commitments were made at this point. We inquired as to availability of warehouse space and trucks. It was left as GM being a major resource pool that we can tap into as we determine missions. Further conversations will occur, but primarily GM just wanted us to know they are there if needed.

- An additional EMHSD staff member was sent to the Genesee County EOC to act as Operations Section Chief and obtain awareness of the situation there.

- GIS staff met with various parts of Genesee County/Flint personnel to try to get a handle on data available.

- GIS continues to work with local GIS personnel with three GIS staff going to Flint today to work with them. GIS staff is working with U of M on how best to proceed with digitizing water lines for long term recovery.

UPDATE 1/7/16

A summary of some of today's SEOC activities is provided below. Attached is the following:

- Today's SitRep which contains more information than below.
- The resource request/task assignment sheet for your situational awareness. This is how locals request resources as well as how we track resources and any assignments and/or tasks that are to be completed.
- JIC Task Tracking – for your situational awareness on how we are tracking requests and assignments. Once someone is assigned a task or resource request it allows them to document what work has been or will be done as shown at the bottom of the document.

Items to note:

- I received a document this evening from Genesee County which appears to be damage assessment information. Analysis of this will occur tomorrow. It appears to be infrastructure and costs to fix it and no other impacts.
- I spoke with Jamie Curtis, Genesee County Commissioner, this evening. A very good relationship is in place with him, especially with our District Coordinator (DC). I also have our DC working on developing stronger relationships with the Mayor/Mayor's office.
- GIS staff continue to obtain data and work with County and City personnel to get a picture of where resources have been provided, need to be provided, as well as infrastructure locations (pipes) that could be affected.
- Personnel and agencies have been tasked with developing a plan to get people in the community to deliver information, hand out filters, etc. This would target those areas we are showing minimal or no filter distribution based on the data we are collecting. The plan is to get them in the field by Tuesday and the plan will be provided to me tomorrow.
- Filters can be obtained at the following locations:
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 125 E. Union St., Flint, MI 48502
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 4809 Clio Road, Flint, MI 48504
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 2727 Lippincott, Flint, MI 48507
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 601 N. Saginaw, Flint, MI 48502
- Conducted briefing with local EOC and county executive.
- Conducted briefing with state agencies (daily updates).

- Began work to schedule legislative/congressional conference calls. Tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday.
- JIC continued to develop messaging.
- Provided input to local EOC regarding best methods of identifying health and non-structural impacts for damage assessment process.
- Deployed two EMHSD/SEOC liaisons to assist the local EOC.
- Published the Incident Action Plan and continued assignment of objectives/tasks.
- FEMA Liaison Officers just arrived in Lansing to assist command and general staff.
- I spoke with Harvey a few times and he should have talking points later tonight or tomorrow a.m. for his use and also for others who may speak to media outside of state government who may benefit from our messaging.
- We held a media round table at 1 P.M. at the SEOC. Dr. Wells and I spoke and answered questions to numerous media outlets.
- Local agencies and NGOs continue to provide water and filters to citizens.
- The website, www.michigan.gov/flintwater, was update with information and links to assistance to include 211. Additional recommendations were provided to include information on the testing water in homes.

EMHSD GIS:

Accomplished Today:

- Reproduced Socio-Economic Status Map
- Reproduced Predicted Affected Populations Map
- Cleansed old data and reports for water filter distributions
- Created draft map of water filter distributions (Refinement needed before releasing final product)
- Scheduled on-site visit with Flint GIS Department and Genesee County GIS Department
- Formatted databases to host content
- Researched service line database creation and scheduled meeting with U of M Flint to discuss timelines and resource needs
- Generated water infrastructure map (does not include building service lines)

Tasks for Tomorrow:

- Meet with Flint City GIS
- Meet with Genesee County GIS
- Meet with U of M Flint GIS
- Finalize water filter distributions map
- Finalize plan for data distribution methods

UPDATE 1/6/16

A summary of today's SEOC activities is provided below. I tried to distill this as best I could but there has been a lot of activity and discussion to get an accurate assessment of the situation. Attached is the final draft of objectives and tactics for the operational period and agency situation report (SitRep) which has more SEOC agency information. I have implemented weekly operational periods.

Advise if you want anyone else copied or off this distribution.

Daily Update

- Set goals for SEOC and identified response/recovery emphasis
- Requested FEMA liaison officers (LNO) from FEMA Region V. Two LNOs will be on site by ~3 p.m. 1/7/16. Both are known contacts to me and some staff and one has worked extensively with me during the SE MI flooding in a command and control position. These personnel have been specifically tasked with this mission. THEY ARE NOT HERE TO ASSIST WITH A PRESIDENTIAL DECLARATION REQUEST BUT TO ASSIST ME.
- PIOs from multiple agencies were here and established the Joint Information Center (JIC). News released pushed out on this. I am very happy with the PIO work and movement toward coordinated messaging.
- Held briefing for State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators, which included presentations from DEQ and DHHS subject matter experts to ensure situational awareness and to develop a common operating picture.
    - I opened the briefing by identifying our initial goals, items to think about while subject matter experts were briefing us, and how we are to move forward, find quick wins, and regain trust.
    - MDHHS – Elevated Blood Lead Levels
        - Dr. Elizabeth Wells gave an in depth summary of lead poisoning and what has occurred in terms of health monitoring throughout the Flint crisis.
    - MDEQ – Water Testing Protocols
        - Mr. George Krisztian of MDEQ gave an in depth summary of the testing protocols and summary results that as they have developed throughout the emerging crisis.
- Developed Incident objectives, strategy and tactics (see attached)
- Identified SEOC and state agency staff positions
- Assigned work tasks for SEOC operation period from 0800 January 6, 2016 to 1700 January 8, 2016
- Reviewed planned actions, prepared final draft Incident Action Plan
- Made contact with the Genesee County Emergency Manager first thing in the morning and held a conference call mid-day to discuss roles. Daily 0830 command conference calls with local EOC command staff starts tomorrow. Tomorrows call will include the County Commissioner and the City Administrator (both invited). Topics include the incident action plan objectives and establishing better local coordination, command and control to facilitate integration with the SEOC. The local EOC is not functioning as it needs to with personnel and local coordination and we are working on that issue.
- I will be in Flint tomorrow for a 2 p.m. media round table with local officials that was set up by the JIC.
- The attached initial objectives will be updated at least every operational period and as needed. I listed the objectives below but the tactics to accomplish them is in the attached if you want further information.
    1. Activate the State Recovery Task Force (SRTF).
    2. Establish and maintain coordination between the City of Flint, Genesee County, state and federal agencies, and appropriate medical experts.

3. Obtain and maintain situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
4. Establish SEOC operational period and hours of operations.
5. Investigate and identify all available programs for assistance with direct or related impacts, including the federal Lead Pipe Replacement Program.
6. Develop a comprehensive GIS strategy.
7. Coordinate response and recovery activities with MIVOAD and identify potential mission areas.
8. Establish and coordinate routine communication between SMEs and coordinate technical assistance among state agencies and to local agencies.
9. Provide technical assistance to the local Damage Assessment process.
10. Establish a Joint Information Center (JIC) and develop a public information strategy.
11. Monitor MI CIMS for resource requests and address as appropriate.
12. Establish and disseminate cost center information for the incident.

- Additional tasks include:
    - Determine what federal agencies are already involved and their status
    - Identify potential water supplies
    - Determine where affected homes are located, where filters/pitchers (and replacements) were installed/provided, and determine who needs filters, etc.
    - Determine how filter distribution is handled, and if it can be handled more efficiently and effectively
    - Determine what mechanisms are in place for nutrition supplementation

EMHSD GIS Accomplishments:

- Hosted a conference call to begin coordination with Flint City and Genesee County GIS departments and the SEOC
- Established a daily call with county and city GIS personnel to synchronize GIS efforts in support of the Flint water crisis at 8:30 A.M.
- Began consolidating local data from local GIS practitioners into a consolidated database, to include:
    - Water Pipeline Locations
    - Filter Distribution Locations
    - November 25, 2015 Water Monitoring Results (Partial, some data remains to be digitized)
    - Affected School Locations
    - Predictive analysis of blood lead levels for affected area
    - Updated Parcels
    - Demographics
    - Block Groups
- Produced a map for the filter distribution locations
- Began contacting specialists who developed historic maps depicting the Flint Water Crisis to obtain the data

Below are some key points for your situational awareness (FYSA) that have taken place or will take place within the next 15 hours.

- I was on the phone with Sean Kammer, Assistant to the Flint City Administrator, when the declaration hit the news so I advised him immediately. He was going to let the City Administrator know.
- I contacted MSP Lt. Roach, 3rd District Coordinator, who was at the Genesee County EOC and advised her to let the County EM know the declaration status.
- State Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMCs) were notified via our notification system with additional information in an email.
    - This included information on the SEOC activation and a 0900 briefing for SEMCs.
    - Some subject matter experts will provide us an update to establish a common operating picture.
- We have been in contact with FEMA Region V watch desk ... they will be on the call tomorrow and continue to monitor the situation.
- I have been in contact with the FEMA Region V Administrator to keep him updated.
- Operational period for the SEOC will be M-F, 0800 to 1700 at this time.
- Situation Reports (SitReps) will be provided in the evenings.
- An Incident Action Plan will be developed tomorrow.

Penny,

Were you able to determine if Shanon Banner is eligible for OT? Can you please let her know either way?

Also, is there a certain PCA/Index we should use for OT? I've asked Nicole Brown with OOD to get with you for submitting my time and other members of Public Affairs.

I'm off Thursday so anything for JIC logistics should be sent to JIC Manager like food. (You can email me OT questions; not JIC Manager)

Thanks again for your help.

Subject: RE: State Employee Volunteers for the Flint Water Response

There's been discussion in the SEOC about sending a message to state agency director's that they can share with their employees to request volunteers. MSP sent a message to MSP employees yesterday that can be used as an example for other agencies. However, each department will need to craft their own message with how they want to handle employees volunteering (i.e., paid time, not paid time, community leave, etc.).

Our email would recommend that the director's work with their HR to determine this.

> We've heard there may be discussion regarding development of a communication for use by all departments soliciting state employee volunteers. Earlier this afternoon OSE and CSC spoke with the DHHS HR Director to respond to questions regarding pay and overtime (different treatment for exclusively represented employees and NEREs) for employees who may volunteer to assist state efforts. It wasn't clear how many volunteers are needed or how they would be selected.
> Having HR offices aware of information to be sent to employees (if that is the plan) would be very helpful since they would receive calls from employees and could be prepared to respond. Same for MI HR here at CSC. An opportunity to review before the message is sent would be great—same as our recent efforts on the snowstorm announcements to assure accuracy, etc. We are guessing there could be pay questions.

FLINT WATER RESPONSE TEAM

UPDATE | WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 2016

This daily update is being issued in order to provide the latest information regarding actions and available resources.

Governor Snyder has requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint as we work on short-term and long-term solutions for residents. This request will identify federal agencies that have programs, authorities, and/or technical expertise that could help in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human services, the Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition to requesting support from FEMA, the Governor has activated the Michigan National Guard to help our local volunteers distribute supplies at the five water resource sites. If you need free bottles of water, water filters, replacement cartridges, or water testing kits, please visit one of these sites. CLICK HERE TO FIND A LIST OF THE WATER RESOURCE SITES.

A Public Service Announcement was also released in a priority efforts to continue providing free water resources to all Flint residents. Please share this PSA on social media to help us spread the word.

Today, Governor Snyder was joined by Director Nick Lyon from the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs Director Mike Zimmer, and Michigan Chief Medical Executive Dr. Eden Wells at a press conference in Detroit.

During the press conference, in an abundance of caution and full transparency, officials released information regarding a spike in cases of Legionella in Genesee County. The documented increase occurred in 2014 and 2015.

Dr. Wells noted that proper authorities, including the Environmental Protection Agency and Center for Disease Control and Prevention are working together to further investigate the spike and will issue full reporting in the near future.

While the cause of the increase in Legionella is being reviewed, Dr. Eden Wells does not advise any change in current procedures being recommended by the Department of Health and Human Services. Residents should continue using clean water resources.

Reminders:

- Flint Water Assistance: Dial 211 or visit www.mi.gov/FlintWater
- Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water.

WATER RESOURCE LOCATIONS
These sites are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with the following resources:

- Bottled water

- Water filters
- Replacement cartridges
- Water testing kits

Fire Station #1 310 East 5th St. Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3 1525 Martin Luther King Ave. Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5 3402 Western Rd. Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6 716 West Pierson Rd. Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8 202 East Atherton Rd. Flint, MI 48507

WATER FILTER PICK-UP SITES
Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water. In addition to the water resource sites, water filters and replacement cartridges continue to be available Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

- Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office 125 E. Union St. Flint, MI 48502
- Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office 4809 Clio Road Flint, MI 48504
- Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office 2727 Lippincott Flint, MI 48507
- Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office 601 N. Saginaw Flint, MI 48502
- Flint City Hall 1101 S. Saginaw St. Flint, MI 48502

If you require transportation or any other assistance, please call 211.

We will continue to work to improve the water situation in Flint. Community members and local officials are working together to make sure we hear and respond to concerns. Governor Snyder will continue to keep you updated on the latest news and information. If you don't find the resources you need by dialing 211 please call the Governor's office directly at 517-335-7858.

In addition to requesting support from FEMA, the Governor has activated the Michigan National Guard to help our local volunteers distribute supplies at the five water resource sites. If you need free bottles of water, water filters, replacement cartridges, or water testing kits, please visit one of these sites. CLICK HERE TO FIND A LIST OF THE WATER RESOURCE SITES.

A Public Service Announcement was also released in a priority efforts to continue providing free water resources to all Flint residents. Please share this PSA on social media to help us spread the word.

Today, Governor Snyder was joined by Director Nick Lyon from the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs Director Mike Zimmer, and Michigan Chief Medical Executive Dr. Eden Wells at a press conference in Detroit.

During the press conference, in an abundance of caution and full transparency, officials released information regarding a spike in cases of Legionella in Genesee County. The documented increase occurred in 2014 and 2015.

Dr. Wells noted that proper authorities, including the Environmental Protection Agency and Center for Disease Control and Prevention are working together to further investigate the spike and will issue full reporting in the near future.

While the cause of the increase in Legionella is being reviewed, Dr. Eden Wells does not advise any change in current procedures being recommended by the Department of Health and Human Services. Residents should continue using clean water resources.

Reminders:

- Flint Water Assistance: Dial 211 or visit www.mi.gov/FlintWater
- Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water.

WATER RESOURCE LOCATIONS
These sites are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with the following resources:

- Bottled water

- Water filters
- Replacement cartridges
- Water testing kits

Fire Station #1 310 East 5th St. Flint, MI 48502

- Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office 601 N. Saginaw Flint, MI 48502
- Flint City Hall 1101 S. Saginaw St. Flint, MI 48502

If you require transportation or any other assistance, please call 211.

We will continue to work to improve the water situation in Flint. Community members and local officials are working together to make sure we hear and respond to concerns. Governor Snyder will continue to keep you updated on the latest news and information. If you don't find the resources you need by dialing 211 please call the Governor's office directly at 517-335-7858.

At this time, the state is focused on abating the immediate crisis with the water supply in the City of Flint.

If so, will the support come in the form of professional development or grant funding? The state will be working with a number of federal, state, and local resources and partners to assist the children of Flint.

- Does the department know of other districts, past or present, in the state that face similar challenges with a potentially high number of children with levels of lead in their blood entering or already enrolled in the school system? We are not aware, at this time, of any other school districts that are facing similar challenges.
- Will the state provide extra funding to the Flint Community Schools for water purification systems, or offer some other type of assistance to help allay fears that parents and students may have? (I would leave this response up to the JIC)

Martin,
Is the state Department of Education developing a response to the Flint water crisis and its potential fallout? Numerous studies detail the significant negative consequences of lead toxicity on learning and educational attainment.
I have a number of related questions:

- Is the state preparing for the possibility of increased special education enrollment in the Flint Community Schools, and charter schools in the city, for developmentally delayed students and the costs that would come along with that?
- Will the state provide support to the Flint Community Schools, and charter in the city, as they work to identify children suffering from developmental disabilities due to high levels of lead in their blood? If so, will the support come in the form of professional development or grant funding?
- Does the department know of other districts, past or present, in the state that face similar challenges with a potentially high number of children with levels of lead in their blood entering or already enrolled in the school system?
- Will the state provide extra funding to the Flint Community Schools for water purification systems, or offer some other type of assistance to help allay fears that parents and students may have?

Hi Ed,

I am just following up our earlier call. I have let our Joint Information Center know that the MTA has included the 5 fire stations in the bus routes. This information will be provided to 211.

I have also let Jay Eickholt know that I'll be the main point of contact for MTA.

I am following up on the supplies, we will get a stock set aside and then I can coordinate pick up with you. We are receiving a lot of supplies today.

I am also going to speak with the sheriff's department about the calls received regarding home deliveries.

Please contact me a' [illegible] you need anything.

Thank you so much for your support,

Subject: Staffing needed for Joint Information Center
Importance: High

Fellow PIOs:

The Joint Information Center (JIC) is playing a critical role in centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts as the state continues working to improve the water situation in Flint. Thank you to all the departments who have and are providing staff. Despite these efforts, we continue to require additional PIOs to keep up with workload.

At this time we are asking for assistance from any state agency who can send a PIO to the JIC. To maximize efficiency, preference is for PIOs to staff the JIC for a two- or three-day time period (at least initially) to limit re-training and transition between incoming/outgoing staff.

The JIC is operating from a state office building in Flint at 125 E. Union Street, 48502. At a minimum, JIC working hours are 8 a.m. – 6 p.m., although several PIOs are routinely working until 9 p.m. to complete all necessary tasks (more staff will help alleviate some of this). Lunch is provided, and overnight accommodations can also be arranged at no-cost to the PIO.

Most immediately, we are in need of a writer for Thursday and Friday, as well as someone to develop website messaging. We are also looking to identify staff who can work this weekend and on Monday (which is a state holiday). Beyond that, we need to establish a staffing schedule for next week.

I've attached the current staffing schedule so you can see who is already plugged in and where the needs are. Please let me know if you or one of your staff can help us out.

I ask that you respond with your availability as soon as possible to JICManager@michigan.gov.

Thank you much,
Shanon

Subject: Joint Information Center Info

Fellow PIOs:

This week, the governor activated the State Emergency Operation Center to address the health and safety issues related to Flint drinking water. The Joint Information Center has been established to support the SEOC by centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts.

All media inquiries regarding Flint water and health concerns must be directed to the JIC – the media line is: 888-363-8632. Additionally, all communications materials related to Flint must be routed through the JIC to ensure consistent and accurate messaging. If you have draft social media, FAQs, or any materials you plan to share, send them to Ron Leix at leixr@michigan.gov for approval.

The JIC has created approved social media content for your use, as well as Facebook and Twitter graphics. Messaging and graphics are attached.

Some of you may be called on to staff the JIC. Currently, the governor's office and lead agencies – MDHHS and DEQ – are working side by side with MSP on location. Through close of business today, Friday, January 8, the JIC will be located at 4000 Collins Road, Lansing, MI 48910 in the SEOC. As of Monday morning at 9 a.m., the JIC will be moved to Flint, at 125 E. Union Street, 48502.

Thank you,
Dave

The hours are now expanded to be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. to help make the process of picking up water resources as convenient as possible for Flint residents. Available resources include free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits. Locations are available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater<http://www.michigan.gov/flintwater>.

I wanted you to have this updated information tonight since you wrote an article on this topic earlier today (which I greatly appreciate).

We're also planning a media avail Sunday afternoon in Flint to discuss the water resource sites. We'll send an advisory in the morning with additional details.

Also, thanks for adding the information from our discussion to your article about the FEMA liaisons.

If you have any questions tomorrow, please call the Joint Information Center at 888-363-8632 or at jicnews@michigan.gov<mailto:jicnews@michigan.gov>.

Governor Snyder Requests Support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency

National Guard Activated to Assist with Flint's Water Emergency

LANSING, MI - Gov. Rick Snyder today requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.

This request will identify federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, Snyder today issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said. "The Michigan National Guard is trained and ready to assist the citizens of Flint."

Members of the National Guard are expected to start arriving in Flint as early as Wednesday to assist with response efforts and plan to increase to over 30 personnel by Friday. The support of the National Guard will enable American Red Cross volunteers, who have been staffing the water resource sites since Jan. 9, to join the efforts of the water resource teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

This is the second time Snyder has activated the National Guard. The first was for the massive Duck Lake Fire in the Upper Peninsula in May 2012.

Under Executive Order 2016-02, the active state service units and individuals in the Michigan National Guard are authorized to assist in maximizing all state efforts to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

Flint residents can continue to pick up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits at the water resource sites.

On Jan. 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency in the City of Flint at the request of Flint and Genesee County officials.

In accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the director of the Michigan State Police, or her designee, is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County.

Additional information about available resources can be found at www.michigan.gov/flintwater and by calling 2-1-1.

Agency Summaries

Joint Information Center / Public Information Officer

The Joint Information Center (JIC) was operational in Flint from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Jan. 12. State agencies at the JIC included the Governor's Office, Health and Human Services, Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, and Department of Technology and Management and Budget, Natural Resources, and Michigan State Police.

Tasks accomplished during the operational period included:

- Held an 8:15 a.m. media event where media members had an opportunity to get footage and photos of the water resource teams as they go door-to-door to distribute free bottled water, water filters, water filter replacement cartridges and water testing kits to residents throughout Flint. A photographer/videographer was embedded with the team.
- Collaborated on a Governor's news release about a Public Service Announcement featuring Capt. Chris Kelenske from the Michigan State Police. The PSA provided information about the resources currently available for free to all Flint residents, including water filters, replacement filters, bottled water, water testing kits, and blood testing.
- Issued Web and social media content about the water resource teams.
- Reached out to local and nonprofit PIOs to become active participants in the JIC.
- Finalized MDARD letter and fact sheets to food establishments.
- Sent water filtration video to Comcast. Working to get a Dish Network contact.
- Arranged for an interview with the New York Times, including directors from DEQ and MDHHS.
- Began preparing a news release to include numbers, including teams, sites, local and American Red Cross.
- Monitored traditional and social media.
- Received 17 calls from the news media on the JIC media hotline.
- Expanded JIC staffing and roles.
- Confirmed digital billboard to encourage residents to call 211 for water resources and information.

Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD)

Jan 13th - 1/13/16 - MDARD Activities: Food Safety: The updated guidance document for water in retail food and restaurants/food service is done and is going out via US Mail, and attached here. MDARD Food staff will start scheduling water sampling and inspections for next week. Verified that the warehouses storing water do not need MDARD Food Licenses.

MDARD's Agriculture Development Division provided background on historical grants to the Flint Farmers' Market and Food Bank of Eastern Michigan and will be contacting those organizations to ask about barriers and potential opportunities to help strengthen the food system.

American Red Cross (ARC)

The American Red Cross staffed the points of distribution (POD) at the 5 fire stations today, and will do so again tomorrow.
The assembly of water test kits continued, today we moved the operation from G-CARD to ARC headquarters.
Although the acquisition of warehouse space has been an issue, delivery trucks have been off-loaded throughout the day.

The ARC did stand up a volunteer reception center (VRC) today. It will be in operation daily (including weekends) from 9am to 7pm.

Civil Rights (MDCR)

Continue to review activities to provide support and assistance to assigned Human Services branch and other SEOC activities. Conducted background on swimming pool water/licensing and researched best practices in community engagement.

Community Health (MDCH)

Communications have been maintained between the CHECC and the SEOC throughout this operational period. MDHHS, MDE, LARA and MDARD have collaborated on the beginnings of a nutritional plan that includes educational components, consistent messaging across agencies, short term and longer term goals to address the "food desert" that exists in Flint. Information obtained was provided to the CHECC and a lead has been assigned to further develop this multi agency the nutritional plan .

The CHECC began to assess needs and resources to address disaster behavioral health needs for citizens and responders associated with this response. Contact was initiated with the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration Disaster Technical Assistance team. Discussed disaster behavioral health resources with FEMA V Disaster Recovery Coordinator.

CHECC Continued communication with LHD EPC to determine additional support that may be required.

The CHECC continues to track responses to volunteer availability through the MI Volunteer Registry.

Corrections (MDOC)

Brent Travelbee and Mike Farmer reported to the SEOC at 0750 hours on 1/13/2016. We have filled all requests for vehicles, personnel and warehouse equipment to assist with water distribution. MDOC Director Heidi Washington is providing full support to our assistance efforts. We will continue to staff the SEOC as a full-time partner as we have assets deployed into the field. All resources are documented on the appropriate forms and shared with the SEOC staff. Additional resource requests are coming in frequently and we are working hard to locate the requested resources while still maintaining minimal local facility operational requirements from the providing facility.

The MDOC is dedicating a considerable amount of resources and staff to this effort. We are working closely with the Logistics Chief to locate needed resources and fulfill resource requests in a timely manner.

Currently we have 25 staff and 18 vehicles dedicated (on site) to the response for Thursday, January 14, 2016, additionally we have 4 pallet jacks, one refrigerated semi-trailer and two MDOC staff assigned to the SEOC location.

Information is as follows:

(4) Large Box trucks

(4) 15 passenger vans

(4) Ford F-250 trucks

(3) enclosed trailers

(1)Handicap Van

(1)20 passenger Van

The MDOC continues to monitor the situation and its affect on our staff as well as our clients in the community.

Education (MDE)

MDE is distributing nutrition guidelines for "Help Fight Lead Poisoning with a Healthy Diet" handout. Additional MDE staff trained for SEOC. (1/11)

MDE is monitoring the situation and coordinating as necessary with other state agencies.

Kyle Guerrant, Deputy Superintendent, was on-site at the SEOC; January 10, 0915-1425.

Environmental Quality (MDEQ)

The Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) completed the following activities:
- DEQ staff deployment as a field observer to assist in tracking water kit supplies and samples
- Coordination of DEQ and LARA personnel for Freeman School Faucet Replacement plan and school testing over the weekend

Human Services (MDHS)

On the Human Services side, two representatives worked the SEOC during our operation hours of 0800 to 2000 today.

Updated resource requests with water filtration products delivered today.

Participated in numerous briefs and conference calls, related to the response.

Genesee Co. MDHHS staff participated in the Flint Water Resource Teams again today. Genesee MDHHS staff have been identified for Thursday, and Friday.

Staying in communication with 211, addressing human service concerns and delivery of resources to the elderly and disabled. Review and provide regular 211 updates to SEOC Ops.

CHECC continues to maintain a Level 2 Activation

Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA)

LARA has offered to assist with lab testing utilizing the MIOSHA Lab and Scientists as appropriate in coordination with DEQ. We have 3 scientists and the lab manage available. LARA staff are also available for assisting with collection of testing materials or as needed..

LARA Bureau of Community and Health Services is in contact with licensed facilities to ensure they are receiving appropriate assistance if needed. The Center for Medicaid and Medicare Services has contacted us regarding any potential issues.

National Weather Service (NWS)

Jim Maczko from NWS Grand Rapids will participate in SEOC briefings via phone call and will coordinate support with local forecast office that serves Flint - NWS Detroit/Pontiac.

Natural Resources (MDNR)

MDNR is fully participating in all SEOC activities. Situational awareness is being maintained and the department stands ready to assist as needed.
Department POC's include:
Chief Gary Hagler, F/Lt. Jennifer Wolf, F/Lt. Steven B. Burton.

Services to the Aging (OSA)

Valley Area Agency on Aging - Region 5 (VAAA), in partnership with other local community agencies such as the Genesee County Health Department and MDHHS, has helped organize local meetings and distribute water and water filters. VAAA is an access point for receiving calls from homebound seniors who are not able to pick up water filters or need assistance installing water filters. VAAA reports they continue to receive calls from seniors who need assistance.

Contact info for VAAA Executive Director is:

Kathryn C. Boles
President, CEO
Valley Area Agency on Aging
225 E. Fifth Street, Suite 200
Flint, MI 48502
(810) 239-7671
(810) 239-8869 fax

VAAA has distributed 2 bottles of water with each home delivered meal to each HDM client within the City of Flint. Water. VAAA also provided water to homebound seniors who needed water to prepare food as they had limited support to pick up bottled water. Congregate meal participants also have access to water and filters as needed. Once water filters were installed, VAAA discontinued including water with home delivered meals.

VAAA also contacted the Grandparents Raising Grandchildren program to ensure that they were aware of educational efforts and confirm the program had received water filters to distribute to program participants.

On 1/11/16 AASA forwarded to MSP/GIS over 1,400+ NAPIS addresses of Flint seniors who received in-home services in FY15. The NAPIS file was sent encrypted and did not include client names. The NAPIS file included 1,029 HDM, 138 CM, and 30 CCS clients.

VAAA continues to operate as a call center and referral point for area seniors concerned about their drinking water. They've noticed this week that seniors who've had filters installed are beginning to request bottled water again.

AASA's State LTC Ombudsman has checked in with the local Ombudsman in Flint. Local Ombudsman reports Flint area nursing homes have been taking precautions using bottled water for cooking and drinking. The local Ombudsman remains concern about Nursing Homes' long term need to replace old facility plumbing that may be leaching lead.

State Police (MSP)

Teams have been distributing water all day. 771 homes have been visited as of the end of this operational period.

Logistically, we can support 15 teams consisting of [illegible] oP volunteers beginning on Thursday, 1/14. We will fold these personnel into multi agency teams with local volunteers, other state agencies, the county, etc.

To run this operation, we will need a minimum of [illegible] alisted uniform troopers and sergeants (to lead the teams) in marked vehicles, plus any need command and control staff.

Muster location is the Local EOC, 1101 Beach St., Flint. Parking is Available at the Trinity Church, located at the intersection of Beach and 8th St. Operational period is 0900-1600 on Thursday and Friday. (with 0800-0900 and 1600-1700 being travel to and from)

Supreme Court

08:50 - State Judiciary EMC John Ort reported to the SEOC regarding the Flint water emergency. Nothing to report from the Judiciary regarding the emergency. DEQ website resources shared with our State Court Administrative Office (attn: Region II) in case our Genesee County courts have any questions regarding the emergency.

Technology, Management and Budget (MDTMB)

DTMB Mail Services has seven drivers with trucks assisting in transporting supplies to support point of distribution centers and Flint Water Resource Teams.

DTMB Real Estate assisted in procuring 80,000 feet of warehouse space and writing the rental agreement.

Eight trucks carrying 12,768 cases of water will be delivered Thursday, along with two trucks carrying 117,000 water filters and 39,000 faucet mounts.

Filled resource request for 20 tablets to send out with the Flint Water Response Teams to record supplies being delivered in the field.

Talking Points

Flint Water

NOT INTENDED TO BE DISSEMINATED TO THE MEDIA OR PUBLIC IN THIS FORMAT

Background

- In April 2014, the city of Flint moved from purchasing water from the Detroit Water and Sewer Department and began processing Flint River water. Several local and state issues surfaced and about the quality of the processed river water, including high lead levels caused by the water's corrosiveness. This caused state and local officials to go back to purchasing water from the Detroit Water and Sewer Department.
    - Water and health experts have found that the high lead levels were caused by corrosive water leaching lead particles from older water lines. Local health experts found that children experienced elevated lead levels in their blood during the switch to processing Flint River water.
- On Oct. 1, 2015, the Genesee County declared a "Public Health Emergency."
- On Oct. 15, 2015, Gov. Rick Snyder signed a bill (Public Act 143 of 2015) to direct funding to the city of Flint's emergency water services to reconnect the city's water supply to the Great Lakes Water Authority until the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline is completed.
- In addition to the $6 million appropriated to reconnect Flint to the Detroit Water and Sewer System, the following has also been provided:
    - $300,000 to the Department of Environmental Quality's drinking water and environmental health service;
    - $1 million to provide for DEQ to test drinking water samples;
    - $1 million to enable the Department of Health and Human Services to purchase and distribute water filters to Flint residents;
    - $850,000 will aid in follow-up services for children, including testing, investigations, and case management for those with elevated blood levels; and
    - $200,000 will fund state plumbing inspections for schools and health facilities.
    - NOTE: To reconnect the city of Flint to Detroit water, the city provided $2 million, the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation committed $4 million and the state of Michigan provided $6 million.
    - OVERALL TOTAL: State: $9.35 million; Local/private nonprofit: $6 million
- Dr. Karen Weaver, the new Flint Mayor, revealed her 100-day plan on Dec. 1, 2015. She is calling for a federal disaster declaration so the community can pursue federal assistance to help Flint residents during this crisis. She is working with state legislators and Congressman Dan Kildee.

- Dr. Marc Edwards, the Virginia Tech professor who has been studying Flint water issues, was recently in Flint talking about his findings. Edwards said recent samples of the water show dramatic drops in lead levels (after the switch back to Detroit water), but some homes are still showing very high levels. He said the water is still not safe to drink, adding that it may still take months to get below the safe federal standard.

- On Dec. 14, Flint Mayor Karen Weaver declared a "local state of emergency" and called for a Genesee County to declare a "local state of emergency" to support her declaration.

- On Jan. 4, 2016, Genesee County Board Chairman Jamie Curtis declared a local state of emergency due to the health and safety issues with the drinking water in the city of Flint.

- On Jan. 5, 2015, Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water. By declaring a state of emergency, Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations. The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police's Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division to coordinate state efforts.

Current Situation

The drinking water crisis that continues to affect the city of Flint is an emergency in every sense of the word. Every day, we depend on safe and clean drinking water from our taps. Flint residents cannot depend on their water unless safeguards are in place. Working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, we will find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents.

- To date, federal, state and local government and many private nonprofit organizations have provided money, filters or staff expertise to ensure Flint residents have clean and drinkable water. Through a whole community approach, everyone is working together to bring Flint back to a state of normalcy. But remember: Normalcy won't happen overnight.

- The city's recovery will depend on a whole community approach, including all layers of government and outside experts. Everyone must work together for to help Flint residents.

- The staff of the MSP/EMHSD

What is a local state of emergency?

- The chief executive official of a community, like a mayor or county board chair, can declare a "local state of emergency" during an emergency or disaster. A local declaration enables a community to activate its emergency operations plans and administer local aid and assistance. Directives may be issued too.

- A local emergency declaration is not an automatic call for state or federal assistance. A local declaration is a mechanism to cope with an emergency or disaster. It's a red flag, notifying everyone that there's a problem within the community.

- A local declaration typically complements the activation of a county's or a municipality's emergency operations center and public information operations.

Why does Flint depend on Genesee County for emergency declarations?

- The city of Flint has opted to be incorporated into the Genesee County Emergency Management program. The city has an emergency support plan that complements Genesee County's emergency operations plan.

- When the city of Flint exhausts its resources during an incident, they may call upon Genesee County for resources. It's a mutual agreement where both help each other out when it's needed most.

- The city of Flint's Fire Chief and Genesee County's Emergency Management Coordinator are designated as the officials to manage an emergency situation.

What is a Governor's declaration?

- When a designated Michigan Emergency Management Act program exhausts its resources during an emergency or disaster, they may request specific resources from the state of Michigan. Resources include contracts, equipment and personnel.

- All requests are submitted to the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division, which provides a recommendation to the Governor's Office. The Governor may approve or deny the request.

- If a request is approved, the Governor will declare a "state of emergency" or "state of disaster."

What state resources are available under a Governor's declaration?

- The Governor may provide state resources, like contracts, equipment and personnel, to support and assist during the emergency or disaster.

- For the situation in Flint, state resources have been already deployed outside of a disaster declaration. For example, the Michigan State Legislature provided more than $9.35 million to lessen the threat of a catastrophe by reconnecting the city water to the Detroit Water and Sewer System. This total also includes funding for lead testing, case management for children with elevated blood levels, and filters.

What is a Presidential declaration?

- When a state exhausts its resources during an emergency or disaster, a Governor may request assistance through the Stafford Act. Requests are submitted to the President through the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Region V Office in Chicago.

- FEMA reviews all requests and provides a recommendation to the President. Ultimately, the President decides whether to make an emergency or major disaster declaration.

Is a Presidential disaster declaration possible?

- A Presidential declaration is not easy to pursue during emergencies or disasters. A case has to be made to prove the incident is outside the scope of both local and state response and recovery efforts.

- A Presidential emergency declaration provides supplemental aide during an incident. Federal law outlines an emergency where federal assistance is needed to supplement state and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and to protect public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe. There is a potential $5,000,000 cap in federal assistance.

- A Presidential major disaster declaration provides long-term recovery resources after an emergency or disaster. Federal law and regulations define a major disaster as being any natural catastrophe, any fire, flood or explosion.

    - In 2014, Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker requested a federal major disaster declaration due to a deep freeze that damaged millions of dollars in public infrastructure. The declaration was denied. His appeal was also denied.

        - The disaster declaration was denied based on the determination that federal assistance under the federal law (Stafford Act) was not necessary or appropriate under the circumstances.

        - Federal law and regulations outline a major disaster as being any natural catastrophe, any fire, flood or explosion.

    - On Jan. 10, 2014, President Obama declared an emergency existed in West Virginia after chemicals were spilled into the Elk River and affecting the water supply close to 300,000 residents.

        - An emergency declaration provides relief efforts that have the purpose of alleviating the hardship and suffering caused by the emergency on the local population, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe.

        - West Virginia later tried to obtain a presidential major disaster declaration, but was denied.

Are water service lines eligible for disaster assistance?

- Water service lines are those water lines that go from the water main to the house. Different communities have defined this differently. If a water service line is the responsibility of the homeowner and on private property, then he or she is responsible for replacing it.

- Private property lead water services lines are not considered eligible expenses under the Michigan Emergency Management Act and Stafford Act.

Message 2.2: The Michigan Guard has established processes mobilizing and moving quickly to provide support, making them ideal for a mission like this.

7. Questions and Answers.

Q1. What is the Guard doing here? What is their mission?
A1. The Michigan Guard has been activated to assist with water distribution in whatever capacity the MSP deems to be the best allocation of the resources.

Q2. Who are they answering to? Are they in charge? Who is in charge?
A2. The MSP

Q3. How many Soldiers will be called up?
A3.

Q4. How long will the Soldiers be here?
A4.

Q5. Will the Soldiers be armed? Will the weapons be loaded?
A5.

Q6. Why were these Soldiers and Airmen selected? Do they have a unique skill set that made them right for this?
A6. Based on the mission requirements

Q7. Why wasn't the Guard called sooner?
A7.

Q8. Can the Guard members arrest people or perform law enforcement duties?
A8. Absolutely not, the Guard is here in a supportive role

Q9. So if a Guard member sees a crime taking place ?
A9.

Q10. Will members of the Guard be patrolling the streets and keeping them safe for citizens of Flint?
A10.

Q11. What Guard equipment can we expect tanks, drones, machine guns, etc?
A11. The Soldiers and Airmen supporting this mission will be equipped

Q12. IF the Soldiers get fired at are they going to be allowed to return fire?
A12.

Q13. Why is this only the second time Governor Snyder has activated the Guard, there have been other situations where Soldiers and Airmen could have assisted?
A13.

Q14. Why pay Soldiers and Airmen to do this, couldn't you pay people minimum wage to do this?
A14. There are a myriad of readiness items that come with providing support to civilian agencies and the Michigan Guard has streamlined this process making the Guard uniquely prepared to respond quickly in time of need.

Q15. Is the readiness of the Guard effected by the men and women supporting operations in Flint?
A15.

Governor Snyder Activates National Guard to Assist with Flint's Water Emergency

Gov. Rick Snyder today issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at water resource sites established throughout the City of Flint.

The National Guard will start arriving in Flint on Wednesday to assist at the five Flint fire stations where water resource sites are located. By Friday, more than 30 personnel are expected in Flint.

Flint residents can pick up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits at each site.

The support of the National Guard will free up American Red Cross volunteers, who have been staffing the water resource sites since they opened Jan. 9. The Red Cross will join water resource teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute information, bottled water, water filters and testing kits.

"As emergency personnel work to ensure that all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said. "The Michigan National Guard is trained and ready to assist the citizens of Flint and will begin doing so immediately."

Under Executive Order 2016-02, the Governor authorizes the active state service units and individuals in the Michigan National Guard are authorized to help the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

On Jan. 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency in the City of Flint at the request of Flint and Genesee County officials.

This is the second time Snyder has activated the National Guard. The first was for the massive Duck Lake Fire in the Upper Peninsula in May 2012. /////CONFIRM////

Subject: Staffing needed for Joint Information Center
Importance: High

Fellow PIOs:

The Joint Information Center (JIC) is playing a critical role in centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts as the state continues working to improve the water situation in Flint. Thank you to all the departments who have and are providing staff. Despite these efforts, we continue to require additional PIOs to keep up with workload.

At this time we are asking for assistance from any state agency who can send a PIO to the JIC. To maximize efficiency, preference is for PIOs to staff the JIC for a two- or three-day time period (at least initially) to limit re-training and transition between incoming/outgoing staff.

The JIC is operating from a state office building in Flint at 125 E. Union Street, 48502. At a minimum, JIC working hours are 8 a.m. – 6 p.m., although several PIOs are routinely working until 9 p.m. to complete all necessary tasks (more staff will help alleviate some of this). Lunch is provided, and overnight accommodations can also be arranged at no-cost to the PIO.

Most immediately, we are in need of a writer for Thursday and Friday, as well as someone to develop website messaging. We are also looking to identify staff who can work this weekend and on Monday (which is a state holiday). Beyond that, we need to establish a staffing schedule for next week.

I've attached the current staffing schedule so you can see who is already plugged in and where the needs are. Please let me know if you or one of your staff can help us out.

I ask that you respond with your availability as soon as possible to JICManager@michigan.gov.

Thank you much,

Subject: Joint Information Center Info

Fellow PIOs:

This week, the governor activated the State Emergency Operation Center to address the health and safety issues related to Flint drinking water. The Joint Information Center has been established to support the SEOC by centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts.

All media inquiries regarding Flint water and health concerns must be directed to the JIC – the media line is: 888-363-8632. Additionally, all communications materials related to Flint must be routed through the JIC to ensure consistent and accurate messaging. If you have draft social media, FAQs, or any materials you plan to share, send them to Ron Leix at leixr@michigan.gov for approval.

The JIC has created approved social media content for your use, as well as Facebook and Twitter graphics. Messaging and graphics are attached.

Some of you may be called on to staff the JIC. Currently, the governor's office and lead agencies – MDHHS and DEQ – are working side by side with MSP on location. Through close of business today, Friday, January 8, the JIC will be located at 4000 Collins Road, Lansing, MI 48910 in the SEOC. As of Monday morning at 9 a.m., the JIC will be moved to Flint, at 125 E. Union Street, 48502.

Thank you,
Dave

Subject: Joint Information Center Info

Fellow PIOs:

This week, the governor activated the State Emergency Operation Center to address the health and safety issues related to Flint drinking water. The Joint Information Center has been established to support the SEOC by centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts.

All media inquiries regarding Flint water and health concerns must be directed to the JIC – the media line is: 888-363-8632. Additionally, all communications materials related to Flint must be routed through the JIC to ensure consistent and accurate messaging. If you have draft social media, FAQs, or any materials you plan to share, send them to Ron Leix at leixr@michigan.gov for approval.

The JIC has created approved social media content for your use, as well as Facebook and Twitter graphics. Messaging and graphics are attached.

Some of you may be called on to staff the JIC. Currently, the governor's office and lead agencies – MDHHS and DEQ – are working side by side with MSP on location. Through close of business today, Friday, January 8, the JIC will be located at 4000 Collins Road,

Lansing, MI 48910 in the SEOC. As of Monday morning at 9 a.m., the JIC will be moved to Flint, at 125 E. Union Street, 48502.

Thank you,
Dave

Is Greg set with directions to the JIC and what not? I can email him if needed. Also, should I advise the SEOC he's in the JIC and in the room with me during calls tomorrow? I haven't told command as of now.

Subject: JIC location details
Attachments: Staffing_updated.docx; ATT00001.htm

Shanon mentioned you might be in the JIC Friday. Below are the details for location, parking, access, etc. Call me if you have questions. I'll be in at 8am.

JIC Location:

State of Michigan Office Building
125 E. Union Street
Flint, MI 48502
https://goo.gl/maps/ZpiVMNys3u52

Free parking is available in the parking structure directly across the street from the main entrance to the State of Michigan Office Building.

You will need to bring your state ID to show to the security guard at the entrance. Take the elevator to the 5th floor. The entrance to the work area is directly left of the elevator on the 5th floor. You will also need your state ID to access the work area. If your card doesn't work, knock and we'll let you in.

Subject: JIC staffing schedule

Fellow PIOs,

Thank you so much for your response to our call for assistance in the JIC. Attached is a staffing schedule through next week. You'll notice there are still several holes in the schedule where we still need assistance. If you or any of your staff can fill a spot, please send an email to JICManager@michigan.gov. Also, please keep in mind, the JIC will be operational for the foreseeable future, so we will likely be looking for future staffing needs as well.

PIOs scheduled to report tomorrow at 8 a.m. include:
Laura Biehl
Shanon Banner
Jen Eisner
Bob Wheaton
Bill Humes
Mel Brown
Tiffany Brown
Ron Leix
Sierra Medrano
Heather Throne
Kerry Wieber
Jason Moon
Caleb Buhs
Dave Kaiser

Please review the full schedule (attached) for staffing for the rest of the days. The logistical information for PIOs traveling to Flint for the JIC is as follows:

JIC Location:

State of Michigan Office Building
125 E. Union Street
Flint, MI 48502
https://goo.gl/maps/ZpiVMNys3u52

Free parking is available in the parking structure directly across the street from the main entrance to the State of Michigan Office Building.

You will need to bring your state ID to show to the security guard at the entrance. Take the elevator to the 5th floor. The entrance to the work area is directly left of the elevator on the 5th floor. You will also need your state ID to access the work area.

If you cannot access the building, please contact the JIC Hotline at 888-363-8632. (Keep in mind that staff will not be available at the JIC before 8 a.m. daily.)

JIC Hours:

Please try to be at the JIC by 8 a.m. as some briefings start as early at 8:30 a.m. The media hotline opens at 9 a.m.

Hotel Information:

PIOs who wish to stay in Flint (at no charge to them), can reserve a room by calling the Holiday Inn, using the below information:

Holiday Inn - Flint
5353 Gateway Centre Dr.
Flint
Phone: 810-232-5300

Please use the following account code in order to ensure the room is charged to State Police:

If you reserve a room, we need to you to report it to JICManager@michigan.gov so it can be shared with Finance. If you have any problems or find the hotel to be booked, please email JICManager@michigan.gov.

Misc.

There are laptops here in the JIC; however, most PIOs have found working on their own laptops seems to work better. If you have a laptop, the recommendation is to bring it.

Lunch will be provided, as well as dinner for anyone staying beyond 6 p.m.

Thank you,
Shanon Banner

I wanted you to have this updated information tonight since you wrote an article on this topic earlier today (which I greatly appreciate).

We're also planning a media avail Sunday afternoon in Flint to discuss the water resource sites. We'll send an advisory in the morning with additional details.

Also, thanks for adding the information from our discussion to your article about the FEMA liaisons.

If you have any questions tomorrow, please call the Joint Information Center at 888-363-8632 or at jicnews@michigan.gov<mailto:jicnews@michigan.gov>.

I'm not in the JIC today so I've forwarded your inquiry to jicnews@michigan.gov to look into.

Sending inquiries to JICNews is your best option to ensure someone in the JIC sees it as staff changes daily.

Sorry for the confusion. The reservations I already made are still in place, right? I want to make sure they're not cancelled. I didn't book anything for Decastro.

We were told that we need to make our own reservations, then let finance know. Should we have you make the reservations instead? Just let me know.

FYI

Below please find a breakdown of the Flint, Michigan social media conversation. If you have any questions about this information please let me know.

Flint, MI Social Listening Report 1/14/15 17:30 ET

- Local organizers and advocates who previously campaigned for FEMA to be brought to Flint are now asking if enough is being done. They are questioning why more troops are not being sent, if the State is relying on water donations, and if Flint residents will be refunded for water bills.

- The majority of the FEMA conversation continues to be the sharing of news articles about FEMA and the Michigan National Guard stepping in to help. A small number of people however seem to not know or understand that we are already involved with the response (example 1, example 2). These people are questioning why we are not helping or why the Governor has not requested help yet.

- Congressman Dan Kildee sent a letter to President Obama stating that the people he represents in Flint "have lost any trust that the state can keep them safe and demand a federal response." In the letter he expresses frustration over the state's handling of the situation and requests experts from HHS, CDC and EPA be sent to Flint.

- There was an increase in protest activity and discussion today as residents continue to express their anger and discontent with state officials (example 1, example 2).

- The Genesee County Sheriff's office set up a number for Flint residents to call if they are unable to leave their homes to get water and filters.

Subject: Daily Update

Here is today's report on activity and issues concerning the Flint water situation.

TUESDAY

- The Governor issued an Executive Order to activate the National Guard, and requested FEMA support, which was approved. This was announced late, but digital and broadcast media picked up on it quickly.
- A Red Cross logistics planner from Washington DC has arrived to assist in streamlining the inventory and distribution process.
- Teams started canvassing Flint neighborhoods and handing out water resources and information. Thanks to mapping of households, it appears the number of households to visit has been reduced from 56,000 to 29,000.
- The National Guard will start arriving today, and staff up to about 30 people by Friday. With National Guard personnel handing out bottles of water from the five fire stations, Red Cross personnel will be freed up to go door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods.
- A PSA video was shared widely on social media

COMING UP

- A second warehouse opens today and will start receiving supplies.

Subject: Daily Update

Here is today's report on activity and issues concerning the Flint water situation.

TUESDAY

- The Governor issued an Executive Order to activate the National Guard, and requested FEMA support, which was approved. This was announced late, but digital and broadcast media picked up on it quickly.

- A Red Cross logistics planner from Washington DC has arrived to assist in streamlining the inventory and distribution process.
- Teams started canvassing Flint neighborhoods and handing out water resources and information. Thanks to mapping of households, it appears the number of households to visit has been reduced from 56,000 to 29,000.
- The National Guard will start arriving today, and staff up to about 30 people by Friday. With National Guard personnel handing out bottles of water from the five fire stations, Red Cross personnel will be freed up to go door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods.
- A PSA video was shared widely on social media

COMING UP

- A second warehouse opens today and will start receiving supplies.

This is Harvey Hollins with the governor's office calling with an important Flint water emergency response team update.

It is important for you to pick up a water filter at your nearest water resource site and install the filter properly in order to have access to safe water. If you have already installed a filter, you should pick up free replacement filter cartridges at the water resource sites -- and replace those cartridges when needed -- as indicated by the filter manual.

As a reminder, you should only run cold water through the water filter. Warm or hot water could harm the filter cartridge and that water will not be properly filtered.

Bottled water, water filters, replacement filter cartridges, and home water testing kits remain available seven days a week from 9 am until 9 pm at the following Flint fire stations:

Fire station # 1 at 310 East 5th Street

Fire station # 3 at 1525 Martin Luther King Ave

Fire station #5 at 3402 Western Road

Fire station #6 at 716 west pierson road

Fire station #8 at 202 east Atherton road

Gov. Rick Snyder seeks presidential emergency and major disaster declaration to help Flint residents

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today requested President Obama to declare both an emergency and an expedited major disaster for Genesee County as a result of ongoing emergency water response efforts in the city of Flint.

Snyder requested supplementary federal aid in the form of Individual Assistance and Public Assistance to help eligible residents and state and local government entities to protect the health, safety and welfare of Flint residents.

If federal aid is granted, assistance can include grants for temporary housing and home repairs, low-cost loans to cover uninsured property losses and other programs to help people and businesses recover. Public assistance helps cover some of the costs incurred by state and local governments due to damage to public facilities and infrastructures, such as city schools and the water system.

"We are utilizing all state resources to ensure Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water and today I am asking President Obama to provide additional resources as our recovery efforts continue," Snyder said.

Snyder's request will be reviewed by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, which will advise President Obama whether an emergency and major disaster declaration should be granted. Ultimately, the president will determine whether to provide federal assistance.

Snyder declared a state of emergency on Jan. 5 for Genesee County, following the county's local emergency declaration on Jan. 4. The declaration makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery efforts in Genesee County as outlined in the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

In addition, Snyder requested support from FEMA on Tuesday to help coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint. Snyder also activated the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at five water resource sites established in Flint.

Hi Dan,

Thanks for providing this. I saw in your email to the Congressional delegation that you're planning to be in Michigan this weekend. Are you coming on Sunday? This JIC is located in Flint and the State EOC is in Lansing.

Capt. Chris Kelenske would like to schedule a Congressional call for Sunday to provide an update. I don't have a time yet. Is this something you can help coordinate, or are you already planning to do so? I assume the FCO will be on the call, too.

I'm working on talking points. Do you have any materials you're planning to provide?

Please call me when you have a chance.

I am not scheduled to be in the JIC tomorrow. Shanon Banner with the Michigan State Police will be the JIC Leader on Sunday and Monday.

President Obama grants Gov. Rick Snyder's request for emergency declaration in Flint

Request for major disaster declaration was denied

LANSING, Mich. - President Barack Obama today declared a federal emergency in Flint, based on Gov. Rick Snyder's request made on Thursday, January 14, providing resources to help provide residents access to safe, clean water.

Obama denied an additional request for a major disaster declaration.

"I appreciate the President approving my federal emergency request and supporting Flint during this critical situation," Snyder said. "I have pledged to use all state resources possible to help heal Flint, and these additional resources will greatly assist in efforts underway to ensure every resident has access to clean water resources."

Snyder received notice from FEMA this afternoon that emergency relief has been approved in the form of water, water ...

period of assistance is up to 90 days. Under the Stafford Act, resources totaling $5 million can be used for federal emergencies, and the state is required to match 25 percent. If the $5 million is exhausted, Congress has the option to approve additional funding.

The governor had also requested a major disaster declaration, which was denied based on the legal requirement that under the Stafford Act disaster relief is available only for natural events, fires, floods, or explosions. The state is now actively reviewing the process for appealing the disaster declaration denial.

Thanks for the heads up. We're seeing reports they are collecting donations until 1 p.m.

If logistics needs us to, we can contact them to provide the details of where the water should go (i.e., warehouse).

Let us know.

FYI, attached is the release we sent out tonight at 10:50p with the numbers. Hopefully this process goes smoother now that we have this established.

Thanks for coming to the JIC today. I know your schedule is very busy and I appreciate you taking the time to experience the JIC and see how it works. Having you there today was very helpful, especially with the issue of releasing the Presidential request letter and the staff member who showed up.

Hope your cough goes away! Have a good weekend.

"With more teams going door to door, we are confident we will double our efforts to ensure residents receive these much needed resources as soon as possible," said Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:

- More than 18,500 cases of water
- Nearly 46,000 filters
- More than 3,200 water testing kits

In addition to donated supplies, the State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- Nearly 45,000 cases of water
- Nearly 79,000 filters
- Nearly 19,000 water testing kits

Flint residents can continue to visit the water resource sites to receive free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits. The sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Check out the part about reduction in number of homes. If this is accurate we should be saying this everywhere. I keep heading media reports of 40,000+ households. Might be good for numbers discussion.

Here is today's report on activity and issues concerning the Flint water situation.

TUESDAY

- The Governor issued an Executive Order to activate the National Guard, and requested FEMA support, which was approved. This was announced late, but digital and broadcast media picked up on it quickly.
- A Red Cross logistics planner from Washington DC has arrived to assist in streamlining the inventory and distribution process.
- Teams started canvassing Flint neighborhoods and handing out water resources and information. Thanks to mapping of households, it appears the number of households to visit has been reduced from 56,000 to 29,000.
- The National Guard will start arriving today, and staff up to about 30 people by Friday. With National Guard personnel handing out bottles of water from the five fire stations, Red Cross personnel will be freed up to go door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods.
- A PSA video was shared widely on social media

COMING UP

- A second warehouse opens today and will start receiving supplies.

Nicole,

I just received the email below from an MDHHS staff member who works at one of our Pathways to Potential schools in Kent County. The School News Network, which reports on education in the Grand Rapids area, wants to do an article on efforts by their school to help another Pathways schools in Flint by collecting water.

Should I have the School News Network call the JIC number or contact me to discuss this? I can work with the Pathways to Potential staff member on talking points for any interview. This might even be a good story to pitch to other news media.

Subject: Sibley school aiding Eisenhower Elementary in Flint with water

Hi Bob,

The School News Network has contacted me, not even 24 hours after we started organizing an effort to collect water to send to Flint school, for an interview about what we are doing. Charlie Honey is the reporter who contacted me this morning and he would like to run something as soon as possible to get the word out in the community about helping and where to donate etc. Our mission is to help a fellow community school from Pathways to Potential in this time of need. They indicated they are going through roughly 2500 bottles of water a week at this school and the need is overwhelming. We have asked our staff, parents/families, and community partners to join us in collecting water through January 29th. Spartan-Nash is a long-time partner of ours and have graciously offered to match our water donations with a delivery of water from a store in Fenton, MI. We are working on other potential matches or any help we can get. We hope to show our people that helping a little, even when you live in poverty, is possible and when done all together, we can do a great deal of good for someone in need. I would love the opportunity to comment on the partnership with this P2P school and how are great school is rallying to support another. I understand the sensitivity of the subject of the water and would never comment on the political situation going on. This is strictly about helping people in our State gain access to safe water.

Can you please let me know if I'm able to comment and explain or efforts to Mr. Honey?

DECLARED JANUARY 16, 2016

SUMMARY

STATE: Michigan

NUMBER: FEMA-3375-EM

INCIDENT: Contaminated Water

INCIDENT PERIOD: April 25, 2014, and continuing

DATE REQUESTED BY GOVERNOR: January 14, 2016

FEDERAL COORDINATING OFFICER: David G. Samaniego
National FCO Program

DESIGNATIONS AND TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

The Department of Homeland Security, Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), is authorized to provide appropriate assistance for required emergency measures, authorized under Title V of the Stafford Act, to save lives and to protect property and public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe in the designated area. Specifically, FEMA is authorized to provide emergency protective measures (Category B), limited to direct federal assistance, under the Public Assistance program at 75 percent federal funding.

This emergency assistance is to provide water, water filters, water filter cartridges, water test kits, and other necessary related items for a period of no more than 90 days for Genesee County.

OTHER: Additional designations may be made at a later date if requested by the state and warranted by the results of further evaluation.

Note: This is an emergency declaration.

LANSING, Mich. – Beginning on Saturday, January 16, water distribution efforts will expand with more than 20 water response teams going door-to-door to distribute safe water resources to the homes of Flint residents. These teams will consist of state personnel and American Red Cross volunteers, including approximately 250 State of Michigan employees who will volunteer Saturday through Monday.

Since January 12, the water resource teams have provided nearly 7,500 Flint homes with bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

All members of the water response teams will be wearing official credentialed badges with a State of Michigan seal hologram so they can be easily identified.

"With more teams going door to door, we are confident will can double our efforts to ensure residents receive these much needed resources as soon as possible," said Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Additional water response teams will greatly enhance our efforts to ensure every Flint home receives the safe water resources they need," said Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:

- More than 18,500 cases of water
- Nearly 46,000 filters
- More than 3,200 water testing kits

MORE

In addition to donated supplies, the State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- Nearly 45,000 cases of water
- Nearly 79,000 filters
- Nearly 19,000 water testing kits

Flint residents can continue to visit the water resource sites to receive free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits. The sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.

FEMA Fact Sheet

Stafford Act Declaration Process

This fact sheet is intended to provide general information regarding the Stafford Act declaration process. All emergency and major disaster declarations are made solely at the discretion of the President of the United States.

The Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 5121-5207 (the Stafford Act) §401 states in part that: "All requests for a declaration by the President that a major disaster exists shall be made by the Governor of the affected State." A State also includes the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. The Republic of Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia are also eligible to request a declaration and receive assistance through the Compacts of Free Association.

As a result of the Sandy Recovery Improvement Act, federally recognized Indian tribal governments now have the option of pursuing a declaration directly from the President. While this fact sheet may be informative for Indian tribal governments, FEMA is developing Tribal Declarations Pilot Guidance, which will provide more detailed and specific guidance for Tribal requests.

FEMA has codified the declaration process at 44 C.F.R. Part 206, Subpart B.

Preliminary Damage Assessment

If it is apparent that a Presidential disaster declaration may be necessary to assist in the recovery of the impacted area, the State or Indian tribal government should contact their FEMA Regional Office and request a joint Federal, State/Tribal Preliminary Damage Assessment (PDA). Local government representatives should be included, if possible. Together, the team will conduct a thorough assessment of the impacted area to determine the extent of the disaster, its impact on individuals and public facilities, and the types of federal assistance that may be needed. This information is included in the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive's request to show that the disaster is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capabilities of the State and the affected local governments or Indian tribal government and that supplemental federal assistance is necessary.

State or Indian Tribal Government Resources Overwhelmed

Once the PDA is complete and the State or Indian tribal government determines that the damage exceeds their resources, the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive may submit a declaration request to the President through their FEMA Regional Office. As part of the request, the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive must take appropriate action under State or Tribal law and direct the execution of the State or Tribal emergency plan. The Governor or Tribal Chief Executive shall furnish information on the nature and amount of State and local or Indian tribal government resources that have been or will be committed to alleviating the results of the disaster, provide an estimate of the amount and severity of damage and the impact on the private and public sectors, and provide an estimate of the type and amount of assistance needed under the Stafford Act. In addition, the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive must certify that, for the current disaster, State and local governments or Indian tribal government obligations and expenditures will comply with all applicable cost-sharing requirements.

Declaration Process

Generally, the PDA is completed prior to the submission of the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive's request for a major disaster declaration. However, when an obviously severe or catastrophic event occurs, the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive's request may be submitted prior to completion of the PDA.[1] In such circumstances the major disaster will generally be limited to Public Assistance Categories A and/or B (which may be further limited to Direct Federal Assistance (DFA)) and Hazard Mitigation Assistance. For high-impact events where the level of damage to residences is empirically overwhelming, the declaration may also include Individual Assistance. Additional forms of assistance may be added at a later date, pending the completion of PDAs.

Declaration Types

There are two types of disaster declarations provided for in the Stafford Act: emergency declarations and major disaster declarations.[2] Both declaration types authorize the President to provide supplemental federal disaster assistance. However, the events related to the two different types of declaration and scope and amount of assistance differ.

[1] 44 C.F.R. §206.33(d)

[2] FEMA has established a third type of declaration, Fire Management Assistance Grant (FMAG) declarations, through regulation. That process differs significantly from the emergency and major disaster processes. More information regarding the FMAG program can be found here: http://www.fema.gov/fire-management-assistance-grant-program

Emergency Declarations: The President can declare an emergency for any occasion or instance when the President determines federal assistance is needed. Emergency declarations supplement State and local or Indian tribal government efforts in providing emergency services, such as the protection of lives, property, public health, and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe in any part of the United States. The total amount of assistance provided for a single emergency may not exceed $5 million. The President shall report to Congress if this amount is exceeded.

Requirements[3]: The Governor of the affected State or Tribal Chief Executive of the affected Tribe must submit a request to the President, through the appropriate Regional Administrator, within 30 days of the occurrence of the incident. The request must be based upon a finding that the situation is beyond the capability of the State and affected local governments or Indian tribal government and that supplemental federal emergency assistance is necessary to save lives and protect property, public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a disaster. In addition, the request must include:

- Confirmation that the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive has taken appropriate action under State or Tribal law and directed the execution of the State or Tribal emergency plan;
- A description of the State and local or Indian tribal government efforts and resources utilized to alleviate the emergency;
- A description of other federal agency efforts and resources utilized in response to the emergency; and
- A description of the type and extent of additional federal assistance required.

Assistance Available Under Emergency Declarations:

- Public Assistance (PA) – Only Categories A (debris removal) and B (emergency protective measures) may be authorized under an emergency declaration. Categories C-G (permanent work) are not available under an emergency declaration. Emergency declarations often include only Category B and will typically be limited to DFA, absent damage assessments showing significant need for financial assistance. This assistance is generally provided on a 75% federal, 25% non-federal cost sharing basis.
- Individual Assistance (IA) – The Individuals and Households Program (IHP) is the only form of IA that may be authorized under an emergency declaration. Authorization of IHP under an emergency is rare. Housing Assistance under IHP is provided at a 100% federal share, while Other Needs Assistance under IHP requires a 25% non-federal cost share.
- The Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP) is not available for emergency declarations.

[3] 44 C.F.R. §206.35

Pre-Disaster Emergency Declarations[4]: A Governor or Tribal Chief Executive may request an emergency declaration in advance or anticipation of the imminent impact of an incident that threatens such destruction as could result in a major disaster. Such requests must meet all of the statutory and regulatory requirements for an emergency declaration request. Requests must demonstrate the existence of critical emergency protective measure needs prior to impact are beyond the capability of the State and affected local governments or Indian tribal government and identify specific unmet emergency needs that can be met through DFA. Such DFA may include, but is not limited to, personnel, equipment, supplies, and evacuation assistance. Pre-positioning of assets generally does not require a declaration. Assistance made available under a pre-disaster emergency declaration will typically be Category B (emergency protective measures), limited to DFA. FEMA may require damage assessments and/or verified cost estimates if additional types of assistance are requested.

Emergency Declarations with Federal Primary Responsibility: When an emergency exists for which the primary responsibility rests with the Federal government, the President may declare an emergency without a request from the Governor of the affected State or the Tribal Chief Executive of the affected Tribe. Such an emergency declaration does not prevent the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive from subsequently requesting a major disaster declaration for other unmet needs caused by the event.

Major Disaster Declarations: The President can declare a major disaster for any natural event, including any hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, wind-driven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought, or, regardless of cause, fire, flood, or explosion, that the President determines has caused damage of such severity that it is beyond the combined capabilities of state and local governments to respond. A major disaster declaration provides a wide range of federal assistance programs for individuals and public infrastructure, including funds for both emergency and permanent work.

Requirements[5]: The Governor of the affected State or Tribal Chief Executive of the affected Tribe must submit the request to the President through the appropriate Regional Administrator within 30 days of the occurrence of the incident. The request must based upon a finding that the situation is beyond the capability of the State and affected local governments or Indian tribal government and that supplemental federal assistance is necessary. In addition the request must include:

- Confirmation that the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive has taken appropriate action under State or Tribal law and directed execution of the State or Tribal emergency plan;

[4] This section provides guidance regarding the circumstances under which pre-disaster emergency declarations may be considered and the types of assistance which may be made available, as required by Stafford Act Section 502(c) (42 U.S.C. § 5192(c)).
[5] 44 C.F.R. §206.36

- An estimate of the amount and severity of damage to the public and private sector;
- A description of the State and local or Indian tribal government efforts and resources utilized to alleviate the disaster;
- Preliminary estimates of the type and amount of Stafford Act assistance needed; and
- Certification by the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive that the State and local governments or Indian tribal government will comply with all applicable cost sharing requirements.

Assistance Available Under Major Disaster Declarations: Not all programs, however, are activated for every disaster. The determination of which programs are authorized is based on the types of assistance specified in the Governor or Tribal Chief Executive's request and the needs identified during the joint PDA and subsequent PDAs. FEMA disaster assistance programs are as follows:

- Individual Assistance - Assistance to individuals and households, which may include:
  - Individuals and Households Program;
  - Crisis Counseling Program
  - Disaster Case Management
  - Disaster Unemployment Assistance
  - Disaster Legal Services
  - Disaster Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program

- Public Assistance - Assistance to State, Tribal, and local governments and certain private nonprofit organizations for emergency work and the repair or replacement of disaster-damaged facilities, which may include the following Categories:
  - A - Debris removal
  - B - Emergency protective measures
  - C – Roads and bridges
  - D – Water control facilities
  - E – Buildings and equipment
  - F – Utilities
  - G – Parks, recreational and other facilities

- Hazard Mitigation Assistance – Assistance to State, Tribal, and local governments and certain private nonprofit organizations for actions taken to prevent or reduce long term risk to life and property from natural hazards.

Factors: When evaluating requests for major disasters and making recommendations to the President, FEMA considers the following factors[6]:

(a) Public Assistance Program

[6] 44 CFR 206.48. The regulation includes a chart titled "Average Amount of Assistance per Disaster." This chart it out of date and is no longer relevant to the declarations process.

1) Estimated cost of the assistance
2) Localized impacts
3) Insurance coverage in force
4) Hazard Mitigation
5) Recent multiple disasters
6) Other federal agency assistance programs

(b) Individual Assistance Program
1) Concentration of damage
2) Trauma
3) Special populations
4) Voluntary agency assistance
5) Insurance
6) Damaged residences – severity and number.

Appeals: The Governor or Tribal Chief Executive can appeal the denial of a major disaster or emergency declaration request. The appeal must be submitted within 30 days of the date of the denial letter and should include additional information justifying the need for supplemental federal assistance.

Post Declaration Actions

Add-ons: The Governor, the Governor's Authorized Representative (GAR), or Tribal Chief Executive can request designation of additional counties and programs within 30 days of the declaration or the end of the incident period, whichever is later. The Governor, GAR, or Tribal Chief Executive may submit an extension request within the 30-day period, providing a valid reason supporting an extension.

Cost Share Adjustments: The authority to adjust the Public Assistance cost share resides with the President. FEMA will recommend an increase in the federal share to not more than 90% for Public Assistance when a disaster is so extraordinary that actual federal obligations under the Stafford Act, excluding administrative cost, meet or exceed a qualifying threshold.[7]

Appeals: Post declaration determinations are generally subject to a one-time appeal. Such appeals must be submitted within 30 days of the denial letter. This deadline may be extended by FEMA, upon request of the State or Indian tribal government. Extension requests must be submitted within the 30 day deadline.

29,317 Homes Visited To Date by Water Resource Teams

FLINT, Mich. –Water response teams, bolstered by 95 Michigan National Guard Soldiers and Airmen, distributed water resources to 3,395 Flint homes today. They provided residents with free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

By tomorrow, additional National Guard Soldiers and Airmen will arrive bringing the total number of National Guard service members to approximately 180 going door-to-door along with water response teams comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers.

To date, 29,317 homes in the City of Flint were either visited by a water response team, or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up supplies.

The following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams, in addition to donations:

- More than 90,300 cases of water
- More than 73,200 water filters
- More than 19,800 water testing kits

There is a coordinated effort to ensure that each Flint home is provided with a water filter and other water supplies. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time, so water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts.

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- 111,630 cases of water
- 115,700 water filters
- 61,161 water testing kits

MORE

Today, Gov. Rick Snyder submitted an appeal to President Barack Obama following the denial of the major disaster declaration, a move that could potentially bring additional and much-needed resources to help the people of Flint.

In the appeal to President Obama, Snyder said the severity of the disaster warrants special consideration for all categories under the Individual and Public Assistance Programs, as well as the Hazardous Mitigation program in order to facilitate recovery.

Persons wishing to volunteer or provide material, in-kind, or financial donations can visit www.helpforflint.com for more information. Please note the American Red Cross is no longer able to accept material donations at this time.

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5

Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Road
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Road
Flint, MI 48507

To enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

I have a little more information based on the initial appointment (likely to change). Speakers will be Mayor, Gov, and Colonel. Several directors will be in attendance as well as pastors. The topic might have something to do with pastors; Harvey's office requested the CAUTION member list yesterday.

Pre-briefing is 11-11:30 a.m. with press conference from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Location TBD.

Colonel will need talking points; not sure what that will entail yet.

Schuette taps Flood, Arena for Flint water probe
Detroit News

Lansing – Former Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Todd Flood will serve as special counsel for an investigation into the Flint drinking water crisis and retired Detroit FBI Chief Andrew Arena will join the probe, Attorney General Bill Schuette announced Monday.

Schuette launched the investigation Jan. 15, vowing to determine whether any state laws had been broken in Flint, where residents continue to rely on bottled and filtered water due to unsafe lead levels in the tap water.

But Schuette will also defend the state and governor in a series of class-action lawsuits brought by Flint residents. Flood and Arena will provide what the attorney general's office called "an ethics-based" firewall between the investigation and lawsuits.

Flood and Arena, who will report to Schuette, are expected to join him at a 10:30 a.m. press conference in Lansing.

"We will do our job thoroughly and let the chips fall where they may," Schuette said in a statement. "I have every confidence in Todd Flood, Andrew Arena and our team to work with me on this independent investigation. This investigation is about beginning the road back, to rebuild, regain and restore trust in government."

Flood spent 10 years in the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office on the homicide, drug house and trial unit, according to his website. He's now in private practice out of Royal Oak. Arena, who retired in 2012, spent more than two decades with the FBI and oversaw the corruption probe of former Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick.

Schuette's office said defense of the lawsuits against the state will be supervised Chief Deputy Attorney General Carol Isaacs and Chief Legal Counsel Matthew Schneider.

Subject: Flint JIC assistance

David,

Shanon contacted me this morning and she's in urgent need of someone to assist in the JIC tomorrow, Friday, and Monday. This person would be responsible for monitoring JIC email accounts, sending out news releases by email, monitoring MiCIMS (online emergency situational awareness program), and other tasks.

Would you be available to assist in the JIC on these days? The JIC hours are from 8 a.m. to about 8-9:30 p.m., depending on what time the nightly news release is finalized. For this pay period, you would get paid overtime for any hours over 80 for the pay period. We would flex your time during the next period. You could take a work vehicle and either commute each day, or stay in a hotel (especially Thursday night). Lunch and dinner are provided.

Ron Leix has been filling this role and he will be in the JIC on Thursday to train you, then he's off Friday and Monday. Shanon is in the JIC on Thursday and Monday, and Insp. Matt Bolger is in the JIC on Friday.

This would be a great opportunity to experience the JIC and crisis communication firsthand.

Please let me know as soon as possible if you are available.

Gov. Rick Snyder appoints field experts to oversee long-term solutions for Flint water system

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today named a group of medical and field experts to the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee to set in place long-term solutions to Flint's water system.

The 17 member committee, housed within the Michigan State Police, will be asked to make recommendations regarding the health and welfare of people exposed to lead, study Flint's water infrastructure and determine potential upgrades, review Flint Water Task Force recommendations, and establish ways to improve communication between local and state government.

"Flint residents deserve clean, safe drinking water, and I am confident that the expertise represented on this committee will be a tremendous asset as we continue to address the water crisis in Flint," Snyder said. "I am grateful to these appointees for their willingness to serve on this important committee."

Karen Weaver is the mayor of the city of Flint. She earned a bachelor's degree from Tougaloo College, a master's degree from Long Island University, and a doctorate from Michigan State University.

Jamie Curtis is the chairman of the Genesee County Board of Commissioners. He earned a millwright apprenticeship certificate from Mott College. Curtis is a representative of Genesee County who shall be submitted by the Genesee County Board of Commissioners.

Marc Edwards is a professor at Virginia Tech with numerous awards and honors for his work. He earned a bachelor's degree in bio-physics from SUNY Buffalo, and both a master's and doctorate of science in environmental engineering from the University of Washington. Edwards will represent subject matter experts.

Mona Hanna-Attisha is the director of the pediatric residency program at Hurley Medical Center. She earned a bachelor's degree in resource ecology and management/environmental health from the University of Michigan, a doctorate from Michigan State University College of Human Medicine, and a master's from the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

Natasha Henderson is the city administrator and chief administrator officer for the city of Flint. She earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Arkansas – Pine Bluff, and a master's in business administration from Texas A&M University – Texarkana. Henderson is a representative of the city of Flint who shall be submitted by the mayor of the city of Flint.

Jim Koski retired as the Saginaw county drain commissioner, a role in which he had served from 1977 to 1980 and again in 1996 to 2011. He is a representative of Genesee County who shall be submitted by the Genesee County Board of Commissioners.

Lawrence Reynolds is president and CEO of the Mott Children's Health Center. He earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Wayne State University and a doctorate from Howard University College of Medicine. Reynolds will represent subject matter experts.

Laura Sullivan is a professor of mechanical engineering at Kettering University. She earned a bachelor's degree in premedical engineering from Arizona State University, and both a master's degree and a doctorate in materials science and engineering from the University of Texas at Arlington. Sullivan is a representative of the city of Flint who shall be submitted by the mayor of the city of Flint.

Mark Valacak is the health officer of the Genesee County Health Department and an instructor at the Michigan State University College of Human Medicine. He earned both a bachelor's degree and a master's of public health degree from the University of Michigan. Valacak is a representative of Genesee County who shall be submitted by the Genesee County Board of Commissioners.

One additional member will be named at a later date.

The following members will also serve on the Coordinating Committee:

- Harvey Hollins, director of Office of Urban Initiatives within the Executive Office of the Governor;
- Col. Chris Kelenske , deputy state director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security within the Michigan Department of State Police;
- Keith Creagh, director of the Department of Environmental Quality, or his or her designee;
- Nick Lyon, director of the Department of Health and Human Services, or his or her designee;
- Mike Zimmer, director of the Department or Licensing and Regulatory Affairs, or his or her designee;
- Nick Khouri, state treasurer, or his or her designee;
- Brian Whiston, superintendent of public instruction, or his or her designee;

Members will serve three-year terms expiring Dec. 31, 2018. Their appointments are not subject to the advice and consent from the Senate.

Great, thank you!! Shanon will be very happy to know you're coming to assist.

You will not have access to the Intranet, so Christie will need to post items in your absence. Plan to put an out of office message up directing people to the internal-comm email account.

I will get you information on the JIC location, parking, and hotel details to make arrangements.

Do you know how to reserve a pool car? If not, I can assist with this. Some of the cars moved to the GOB, so you'll need to reserve one that's still at HQ.

Subject: URGENT: Flint JIC Staffing - Two Weeks
Importance: High

Fellow PIOs,

It appears the Joint Information Center in Flint will remain operational through the next two weeks. With that, I am asking for any PIOs with availability to please respond by the end of the day today with your availability. We will not be staffed during the weekends.

This operation is a true State of Michigan team effort and I thank you for your continued support and assistance.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Shanon Banner

Okay. In hindsight, I guess I should have asked this for the last pay period as I told him he'd get OT for his additional hours on Thursday and Friday last week. I didn't think OT would be an issue, especially since we asked for his assistance with little notice at the end of the pay period.

If flexing is possible, that would be the preferred way to handle this. Comp time is also an option for him given the small amount of hours. I don't think he should pursue OT, as it is not for a continued period of time, nor was his time on the weekend or a holiday.

Shanon,

Below is the draft article for the external newsletter about MSP's role in the Flint response. We wanted to keep the article at a high-level focusing on MSP's role, primarily the SEOC. Let me know what you (and the JIC) think. We can scratch this all together if needed. The attached photo will be included.

MSP Assists with Flint Water Response Efforts

The MSP is actively involved in the state's ongoing response to the health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

On January 5, Governor Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County, making available all state resources to ensure Flint residents have access to safe water. As part of this effort, Governor Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC), which is overseen by the MSP Emergency Management & Homeland Security Division.

The SEOC continues to be activated and is responsible for coordinating response and recovery efforts by state, local and federal agencies. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in Michigan. The state's Joint Information Center (JIC) is also operational to help coordinate public information.

In addition to working in the activated emergency facilities, members of the MSP have helped distribute water resources to Flint residents, including several department members who volunteered during the Martin Luther King, Jr. Day holiday.

For updates on the Flint water situation, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater or call 211. Information on how to help Flint residents can be found at www.helpforflint.com.

Thanks for the quick approval. Photos of the new SEOC would be great, but I currently don't have any. Is this something Trevor can provide today? We would want photos of people working in the SEOC, not just the room. If not for this article, we can use them in future publications, including the internal newsletter going out next week.

Thanks!

MSP Employees Receive Recognition

Every year in January, the Michigan State Police (MSP) continues the tradition of recognizing the Trooper of the Year, Motor Carrier Officer of the Year and the Civilian of the Year at a special department ceremony in Lansing.

In the Community March 19:

This year's ceremony took place on January 21, where department members gathered with family and friends at the MSP Training Academy to recognize and congratulate the 2015 honorees.

The 2015 Dr. Carl A. Gerstacker Trooper of the Year Award was presented to Tpr. Michael Darrow of the Tri-City Post. The Gerstacker Award recognizes the MSP trooper or sergeant who symbolizes outstanding professional ethics, dedication to duty and a concern for giving back to their community. Trooper Darrow is a 15-year veteran of the department and is known for his dedication to community outreach. Trooper Darrow is instrumental in several MSP community outreach initiatives, such as Light Up the City and the Community Action United Team In Our Neighborhood program, known as C.A.U.T.I.O.N.

The 2015 Motor Carrier Officer of the Year Award was presented to MC Ofcr. Jason Zylstra of the Jackson Post. This award is sponsored by the Michigan Trucking Association and recognizes the MSP motor carrier officer who symbolizes outstanding professional ethics, dedication to duty and concern for giving back to their community. MC Officer Zylstra joined the department in 2011 and serves as a Commercial Vehicle Safety Alliance certified instructor, background investigator and a recruiter for the department.

Also presented at the ceremony was the 2015 Civilian of the Year Award, which was presented to Ms. Brianna Briggs of the Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. The MSP Civilian of the Year Award is named in honor of the late Floyd R. Bell Jr., a 42-year employee of the MSP, who demonstrated commitment and dedication to the department and his community. Ms. Briggs is a departmental analyst with the EMHSD, where she served as the project manager for two of the division's largest projects in 2015.

Celebrate Super Bowl 50 Responsibly

As friends and family gather to watch Super Bowl 50 on Sunday, February 7, the MSP wants to remind citizens to be a team player and designate a sober driver.

Celebrate responsibly by not driving drunk and if you're hosting a party, don't let guests get behind the wheel if they have been drinking. Remember, buzzed driving is drunk driving.

MSP Holds Women's Recruiting Seminar

The MSP is continuing to host recruiting seminars for women and the next informational seminar will take place at Schoolcraft College in Livonia on Saturday, March 19.

Women interested in a career with the State Police are invited to attend this recruiting seminar to hear from female troopers about recruit school training, the trooper lifestyle, opportunities for women in law enforcement and the hiring process.

The event will begin promptly at 10:00 a.m. and will feature many of the department's specialty units, including the Forensic Science Division, Canine Unit, Gaming Section, Special Investigations and Computer Crimes.

Women interested in attending need to RSVP to Tpr. Marjorie Richardson at RichardsonM2@michigan.gov. Additional information is available on the MSP Recruiting website.

A Look Back in Time

Most young men who joined the Michigan State Police in 1919-1920 were military veterans of the Great War. Today, nearly one-third of our trooper recruits are military veterans and those serving in the National Guard and Reserve.

Hi Shanon and Sierra,

Below is a draft of the weekly report. I will be out tomorrow and Friday but wanted to compile a draft report. As always, please add anything I may have missed. Also, I know this is a busy time for the Governor's Office so I wanted to include the MCO RS graduation in the report so that it is on their radar. According to information Chelsea received from the Training Academy, the Governor is speaking at the graduation. I have not confirmed that for myself, so I did not include that in the write-up. And I don't know what time the Director is scheduled to give testimony on Feb. 23 so I did not include that info. I hope this is helpful. --Tiff

Jess, Jordan and Anna,

Below is our report for the upcoming period. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Flint Water: The State Emergency Operation Center remains activated to address the health and safety issues related to Flint drinking water. The Joint Information Center also remains activated to serve as the central communications hub and for public information efforts.

Feb 10: The MSP Recruiting and Selection Section will have recruiters at the Northern Michigan University Marquette Summer Job Fair from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the university.

Feb 10: The MSP Recruiting and Selection Section will have recruiters at the Michigan State University Criminal Justice Career Fair from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the university.

Feb 12: The MSP Recruiting and Selection Section will have recruiters at the Central Michigan University Alpha Kappa Psi Career Day from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the university.

Feb 12: The MSP Recruiting and Selection Section will have recruiters at the Western Michigan University Kalamazoo Government and Nonprofit Fair 2016 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the university.

Feb. 23: Colonel Etue will give testimony on the MSP budget to the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee.

Feb 25: The MSP Recruiting and Selection Section will have recruiters at the Grand Valley State University Career Fair from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the university.

Feb. 26: Thirteen new motor carrier officers will graduate from the 20th Motor Carrier Officer Recruit School during a ceremony at the Lansing Center at 1 p.m. We will issue a media advisory inviting the media to attend the ceremony. We will also issue a press release on graduation day.

Fellow PIOs,

I've attached the latest Flint Joint Information Center staffing sheet that covers from Feb. 8 to Feb. 14.

For those coming to the Flint JIC, the key information you need to know is listed below. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Ron

==========

JIC Location:

State of Michigan Office Building
125 E. Union Street
5th Floor (Next to the East Lobby)
Flint, MI 48502
https://goo.gl/maps/ZpiVMNys3u52

Free parking is available in the parking structure directly across the street from the main entrance to the State of Michigan Office Building.

Use the parking garage entrance on Harrison Street. You may park in spots designated as "Flint Water Team" on Level 4 (Yellow Cones) or anywhere on the roof (Level 5). There will be a security guard at the gate on Level 3 to let you into the State of Michigan parking area.

JIC Hours:

Please try to be at the JIC by 8 a.m. as some briefings start as early at 8:30 a.m. The media hotline opens at 9 a.m. We are always in need of staff who can stay until 8 p.m.

Hotel Information:

PIOs who need to stay in Flint (at no charge to them), can reserve a room by calling the Holiday Inn, using the below information:

Holiday Inn - Flint

5353 Gateway Centre Dr.
Flint
Phone: 810-232-5300

Please use the following account code in order to ensure the room is charged to State Police:

If you reserve a room, we need to you to report it to JICManager@michigan.gov so it can be shared with Finance. If you have any problems or find the hotel to be booked, please email JICManager@michigan.gov.

Misc.

There are laptops here in the JIC; however, most PIOs have found working on their own laptops seems to work better. If you have a laptop, the recommendation is to bring it.

Many MSP members continue to play an active role in the state's response to the Flint water emergency.

Thanks to our dedicated employees who continue to work in the activated emergency centers and in the field, we are helping to ensure residents have access to safe water.

In the midst of being activated, the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) successfully moved from its former location at Collins Road into our new, state-of-the-art emergency operations facility at the General Office Building. A significant amount of work went into preparing the new SEOC and completing the move, all the while maintaining SEOC operations during the transition.

Spotlight: Fraud Investigation Section

Did you know Michigan is among the top ten states for the number of identity theft complaints reported annually, with nearly 75,000 complaints in 2014? Recognizing the growing number of fraud-related complaints, the MSP Fraud Investigation Section is dedicated to investigating criminal activity related to fraud and identity theft. This section includes nine enforcement members, who make up the east and west Fraud Investigation units.

In 2015, the Fraud Investigation units initiated 151 complaints, nearly doubling the number of investigations from 2014. These investigations included credit card fraud, identity theft, bridge card fraud, organized retail crime, check fraud, mortgage fraud, embezzlement, and tax fraud. Investigations into these crimes are complex and lengthy, often taking several months to complete.

Fraud is a high-reward and low-risk crime in which the suspects can go undetected for weeks, months, and even years before they are caught. The suspects often only receive probation or minimal jail time for these crimes, because they don't involve any type of violent acts.

developing relationships with private stakeholders to discuss current trends and issues related to fraud. They are also working with Michigan law enforcement agencies and other state departments to develop successful partnerships and methods of sharing critical information.

Education is a critical component for citizens to protect themselves from identity theft and other fraud schemes. To help reduce your risk of falling victim to identity theft and other forms of fraud, follow these tips:

- Don't respond to unsolicited requests for personal information (i.e., your name, birth date, social security number, or bank account number) by phone, mail, or online.
- Shield the keypad when typing your passwords on computers and at ATMs to prevent "shoulder surfers" from seeing your password.
- Store personal information in a safe place at home and at work.
- Create complex passwords that identity thieves cannot guess easily. Change your passwords if a company that you do business with has a breach of its databases.
- Avoid having your credit card skimmed at the gas pump by using a pump closer to the front of the store. Thieves often place skimmers at the gas pumps farther away from the store so they aren't noticed as quickly.
- Always inspect credit card readers for anything suspicious. Avoid using it if something looks loose, crooked, damaged, or if you notice scratches or adhesive/tape residue.

You can visit the MSP Fraud Investigation website for more helpful information and tips on fraud awareness.

Gov. Snyder: Flint to receive additional $2 million in water infrastructure replacement funding

Money will help advance action plan Flint mayor and state agreed to on Feb. 8

LANSING, Mich. – Flint will receive an additional $2 million from the state to help with water infrastructure replacement costs, Gov. Rick Snyder said today, which will be available for the city to start removing priority lead service lines within the next 30 days. Under Mayor Weaver's plan, which relies on estimates from the Lansing Board of Water and Light, this funding would cover replacement of lead service lines for several hundred homes.

The financing will come in the form of grant funding, intended to reimburse the city for the $2 million it paid as part of the state-local agreement to reconnect with the Detroit water system last October. The Flint City Council and chief financial officer will have to take action to complete the grant process.

"This funding continues Michigan's substantial and coordinated response to the Flint water crisis," Snyder said. "We continue to ensure every possible resource is being utilized so that Flint families have safe and reliable drinking water in their homes and schools."

The Financially Distressed Cities, Villages and Townships Grant is designed to ensure that funding can be used to ensure the safety, reliability and sustainability of the city's water system. Municipalities are eligible for a grant if they are experiencing one or more conditions indicative of "probable financial stress". The city of Flint also received a $2 million dollar grant from this program in Feb. 2015 to finance water system infrastructure improvements.

The state continues to work closely with the city of Flint on a comprehensive approach to identify lead service lines and replace them, beginning with the highest priority homes – ones with very high lead levels and those with young children or pregnant women in the home. Rich Baird, who is leading Gov. Snyder's Mission Flint team, and State Budget Director John Roberts met with Flint Mayor Karen Weaver on Feb. 7 to discuss the governor's proposed budget recommendation and the plan to coordinate with Rowe Engineering to complete an infrastructure study and begin service line replacement on the most high-priority homes in February. Gov. Snyder and Baird met with Mayor Weaver and Gen. Mike McDaniel, head of Flint's Fast Start program, on Feb. 8, where all parties agreed to move forward on the contract with Rowe to complete an infrastructure study before replacing lines.

To date, more than 10,000 Flint homes have been tested for lead levels. One Flint home on Feb. 11 was identified as having higher than 10,000 parts per billion lead levels. A response team comprised of DEQ, DHHS and a licensed plumber made contact with the homeowner on Feb. 12, where a plumbing inspection, cleansing of aerators and flushing of lines was provided. The homeowner was provided two additional test kits and a bus pass to assist with travel to a clinic for blood testing. The High Lead/Copper Team visited with the resident again Wednesday.

Since Oct. 2, 2015, the state has assisted the city of Flint in the amount of $39.3 million. A supplemental funding bill, pending final legislative approval, will allocate an additional $30 million to aid the city of Flint in crediting a portion of residents' water bills going back to April 2014 for water that was unsuitable for consumption. State Treasurer Nick Khouri is working with the city of Flint's chief financial officer on a plan for implementation of the reimbursements.

Gov. Rick Snyder made the following statement today with regards to U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Sylvia Burwell visiting Flint:

"I'm encouraged by Sec. Burwell's visit to Flint today, and hope she brings with her the news that the federal government will soon approve my request to expand Medicaid for Flint children up to age 21 and pregnant women. Expanded health care and nutrition services are essential for Flint residents, and we continue to work in partnership with the federal government to find ways we can work together during this critical time in Flint's recovery."

Michigan.gov/flintwater has key information in American Sign Language and four other languages

FLINT, Mich. – To ensure all communities in Flint have the information they need, the State of Michigan continues to add to its inventory of communication materials. Key informational materials related to the Flint water crisis are available in Spanish, Mandarin Chinese, Arabic and Hmong, as well as American Sign Language (ASL).

"It is vital that all Flint residents, regardless of their native language, have access to the information and resources they need during this emergency," said Governor Rick Snyder.

The Michigan School for the Deaf is located in Flint, and the area is home to a large population of individuals who are deaf. The State is working on making critical information available in American Sign Language, including this video.

"Flint is home to a number of individuals who may not be proficient in English, including a significant community of people who use American Sign Language," said Agustin Arbulu, Director of the Michigan Department of Civil Rights. "It is critical that they have access to the same important information we're providing to everyone, in a form they can understand."

After consulting with community leaders and the Michigan Department of Civil Rights, the state worked with certified translators to have key documents translated to ensure important information is available to those with no or limited English comprehension.

Translated documents are available in the "Alternative Language Resources: Español - 中文 - العربي" area of www.michigan.gov/flintwater. Further, our federal partners have resources available in Spanish, traditional Chinese, simple Chinese, Vietnamese, and Korean available at www.epa.gov/flint.

State Partners Again with MSU Student Athletes in Flint to Help With Recycling and Water Distribution Efforts

Recycling Site Open Saturday, Feb. 20, from Noon to 4 p.m.

Flint, Mich. – Student athletes from Michigan State University will once again partner with Schupan Recycling, Republic Services and the Michigan Community Service Commission (MCSC) to aid in recycling and water distribution efforts in Flint on Saturday, Feb. 20. These efforts will include collection of empty water bottles, distribution of recycling bags and information on how to participate in curbside recycling.

Recycling collection and water distribution will take place Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. in the parking lot of the Northwest Shopping Center, 2629 West Pierson Road, Flint, MI 48504 (corner of Clio Road and W. Pierson Road).

"Our first recycling event was so successful that the MSU students wanted to come back and help again," said Ginna Holmes, executive director of MCSC. "We are grateful for their contributions, as well as the contributions of Schupan and Republic for donating their recycling services and expertise."

Residents are asked to bring their empty water bottles to this location. Schupan Recycling will collect the bottles to process for turning into new products. Residents can also sign-up for curbside recycling from Republic Services.

Daily water distribution is ongoing at fire stations 1, 3, 5, 6 and 8. When picking up water, residents will be given a recyclable bag, donated by Petoskey Plastics, and instructions on how to recycle their water bottles either curbside or at a Schupan Recycling trailer location.

Recycling trailers are located at fire stations 1, 5 and 8, along with 3008 Airpark Drive S (Comcast) and 4119 North Saginaw (Empowerment Village).

Media is invited to attend the Saturday event.

Marc Edwards: Use faucet filters over "whole house filters"

Marc Edwards, a researcher and professor at Virginia Tech and an expert on water treatment, said that Flint residents should use faucet filters rather than the more expensive whole house filters.

Whole house filters do not do anything to mitigate lead that could be in household pipes. Whole house filters are also more prone to bacteria accumulation.

Flint families need critical clean water resources. Since January 9, the state has distributed:

- 332,158 cases of bottled water
- 105,822 water filters
- 215,546 replacement cartridges
- 37,094 water testing kits

REMINDERS

- For Flint water assistance: Dial United Way 211 or visit www.mi.gov/FlintWater
- To donate or volunteer: visit www.HelpForFlint.com
- Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate and ongoing access to safe water. Only run cold water through the water filter and use filtered water for drinking and cooking.
- Monitor the cartridge on the filter and replace as needed.

WATER RESOURCE LOCATIONS
These sites are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with the following resources:

Gov. Rick Snyder appoints Joel Ferguson to Flint Receivership Transition Advisory Board

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today announced the appointment of Joel Ferguson, of Lansing, to the Flint Receivership Transition Advisory Board.

The board was first named in April 2015 after the city of Flint transitioned back to local control.

"I thank Joel for his willingness to serve on this important board and am confident his collaboration with local leaders will help ensure ongoing financial stability in the city of Flint," Snyder said.

Ferguson is president of Ferguson Development and F&S Development and is chairman of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps and earned a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Michigan State University. He will represent members with relevant professional experience and replaces David McGhee.

Other members of the City of Flint RTAB include: Frederick Headen, representing the State Treasurer, Mike Finney, representing members with relevant professional experience, and Michael Townsend, who serves as the representative of the director of the Department of Technology, Management and Budget. Members serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Residents are asked to bring their empty water bottles to this location. Schupan Recycling will collect the bottles to process for turning into new products. Residents can also sign-up for curbside recycling from Republic Services.

Daily water distribution is ongoing at fire stations 1, 3, 5, 6 and 8. When picking up water, residents will be given a recyclable bag, donated by Petoskey Plastics, and instructions on how to recycle their water bottles either curbside or at a Schupan Recycling trailer location.

Recycling trailers are located at fire stations 1, 5 and 8, along with 3008 Airpark Drive S (Comcast) and 4119 North Saginaw (Empowerment Village).

Media is invited to attend the Saturday event.

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 16

Current Issues Talking Points

Process under way to replace lead water pipes in Flint

- Work has begun in Flint to locate and replace high-risk, high-priority lead service lines in Flint.
- State and local leaders are working together on this project to maximize efficiency and protect the health and safety of Flint residents.
    - Flint-based engineering firm Rowe Professional Services will update recent analyses of water pipes and help with replacement.
    - Retired National Guard General Brig. Michael McDaniel is helping coordinate efforts between the Lansing Board of Water and Light, local, state and federal agencies, and additional stakeholders.
- A supplemental budget request approved last month includes money for utilities and can be used to support the survey work required to identify high-priority replacement areas.
- An additional $25 million was included in the Governor's FY 2017 budget recommendation last week which can also be used to assist in water infrastructure replacement projects.

Governor seeks waiver to expand Medicaid services to Flint residents under 21, pregnant women

- On Sunday, the Governor submitted a request to the federal Government to expand Medicaid for those up to age 21 and pregnant women.
- Approval of the request would expand Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Programs to an additional 15,000 residents served by the City of Flint water system.
- Under the expansion case workers would be designated to help people with:
    - Coordinating primary care physicians and behavioral health providers, Medicaid health plans and others to ensure access to all necessary health services;
    - Providing nutrition support;
    - Improving access to educational and social supports and services that may be available in the community to assist them with their individual needs.
- To date the federal Government has provided only $5 million aid to Flint residents while the State of Michigan has allocated $37.3 million and the Governor proposed an additional $195 million as part of his formal FY 2017 budget recommendation.

Governor releases department emails regarding Flint Water

- Friday, the Governor posted emails and corresponding documents related to Flint water that had been made available previously to requesting entities from state departments.
- By making these documents easily accessible, everyone can review them and take from them what they need. Transparency and collaboration are key to helping the city move forward.
- The documents include materials from the Michigan departments of Environmental Quality, Health and Human Services, Treasury, Department of Technology, Management and Budget, and Agriculture and Rural Development.
- Press release and documents here.

Governor requests opportunity to testify before congressional committee

- The Governor has asked the Chairman of the U.S. House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform for the opportunity to testify regarding the water crisis.
- The Governor hopes to clarify the ways in which local, state and federal governments jointly failed the people of Flint.
- He also hopes to explain the steps Michigan has taken and continues to take to prevent this type of crisis from happening again as well as share ongoing efforts to support Flint families both short and long-term.
- Attending this hearing will be an opportunity to examine health and safety protections in place, assess infrastructure needs, and avoid this type of crisis again.
- The chairman has accepted the governor's request but a hearing date has not been set.

Hi team- Just following up on this morning's meeting. We appreciate you bearing with us during this crazy time and I think the daily call we discussed will be very helpful.

To eliminate confusion, Meegan will remain your main point of contact, but I will be a back-up if anything additional is needed.

A calendar notice has been sent for a 3pm conference call each day. If we can try to have someone from each of our teams on the call each day, that would be ideal.

We will circle back with you on surrogate media opportunities, but so we're all on the same page, please let us know of any national interview requests you receive before booking.

Let Meegan or I know if you have any questions.

Flint Water Discussion Points
Updated Jan. 26

Current Issues Talking Points

Medicaid/Federal Asks

- Governor Snyder today announced that a request will be sent to the federal government that asks for all Flint residents under age 21 to receive additional healthcare services to address potential problems brought on from exposure to lead.
- We want to make sure comprehensive medical care services are available, and we hope the federal government will partner in our efforts.
- Request will include:
  - Expanded Medicaid eligibility for all residents in the impacted areas up to age 21, regardless of income level.
  - Lead-abatement programs to help minimize and/or prevent any long term adverse health problems associated with lead exposure.
  - Additional, community-based resources to ensure all children, regardless of health insurance coverage, have access to comprehensive medical treatment.

House passage of the $28 million supplemental bill (unanimous vote)

- The supplemental request includes short-term funding to address immediate needs in the city, including bottled water, filters and testing kits.
  - The supplemental request will also include funds to address the most critical needs of Flint residents.
  - The Governor has asked to completely re-open the budget proposal the administration has been working on since last fall to assess all of the resources available to provide long-term support for the health of Flint residents.
- The health and safety of Flint residents remains a top priority. The Governor has worked closely with the Legislature to encourage quick passage of the supplemental to encourage immediate action.
- We look forward to the Senate taking action on this bill this week.

General High-level talking points

- There are people in the state of Michigan that can't drink their water, and that is unacceptable to all of us. As Governor, Rick Snyder has taken responsibility, taken emergency response measures and is committed to dedicate all the resources needed to make this right for the people of Flint.

- The top priority for Governor Snyder and his administration is ensuring every Flint resident has access to clean, safe drinking water. We are committed to providing affected children and families access to medical and educational resources to ensure long-term care and treatment.

- The Flint water crisis has been a systemic failure of government at all levels: from the city of Flint, the state of Michigan, the civil servant scientists and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

- The Governor has held himself and his government accountable. The Governor replaced the leadership of Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) and has taken disciplinary measures on the staff and civil servant scientists responsible for the crisis. Actions have been taken to ensure a new and capable team is overseeing Flint water and creating a department culture focused on the health and safety of Michigan residents. Two DEQ officials involved in the testing of Flint water have been suspended pending an investigation, in accordance with civil service rules.

- The Governor has asked to completely re-open the budget proposal the administration has been working on since last fall to assess all of the resources available to provide long-term support to the health of Flint residents. In addition, the supplemental budget request will provide funds to the city to help alleviate the need for utility shutoffs.

- Governor Snyder and his administration are committed to working in partnership with Flint Mayor Karen Weaver, independent experts, and the federal government to ensure both short-term and long-term solutions.

Resources distributed (as of 1/25/2016):

- 176,118 cases of water
- 93,048 filters
- 29,320 testing kits
- 198,552 filter cartridges

Homes visited by Flint Water Response Teams (as of 1/24/16): 37,844

Hi Christie,

Trevor is working to finalize some materials for us tonight for a new water bottle recycling program, but they won't be approved until tomorrow. Unfortunately, he is physically moving tomorrow so if we need changes made, we'll be reaching out to you. Trevor will be sharing the art files with you. I'll let you know if we need anything.

Thanks for your help. Hope things are going well.

1,350 Homes Visited Today by Water Response Teams

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 26, 2016
Release #: 18

Flint, Mich. - Water response teams comprised of 98 city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers continued their door-to-door efforts today visiting 1,350 homes to provide free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits to Flint residents.

"We are committed to ensuring every household has access to safe and clean drinking water," said Capt. Chris. A. Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "Water response teams continue working to find residents who may not have a filter or replacement cartridges. We encourage neighbors to check on neighbors, and anyone who needs help should call 2-1-1."

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

* 186,309 cases of water

Hi Christie,

Trevor is working to finalize some materials for us tonight for a new water bottle recycling program, but they won't be approved until tomorrow. Unfortunately, he is physically moving tomorrow so if we need changes made, we'll be reaching out to you. Trevor will be sharing the art files with you. I'll let you know if we need anything.

Thanks for your help. Hope things are going well.

David,

Shanon contacted me this morning and she's in urgent need of someone to assist in the JIC tomorrow, Friday, and Monday. This person would be responsible for monitoring JIC email accounts, sending out news releases by email, monitoring MiCIMS (online emergency situational awareness program), and other tasks.

Would you be available to assist in the JIC on these days? The JIC hours are from 8 a.m. to about 8-9:30 p.m., depending on what time the nightly news release is finalized. For this pay period, you would get paid overtime for any hours over 80 for the pay period. We would flex your time during the next period. You could take a work vehicle and either commute each day, or stay in a hotel (especially Thursday night). Lunch and dinner are provided.

Ron Leix has been filling this role and he will be in the JIC on Thursday to train you, then he's off Friday and Monday. Shanon is in the JIC on Thursday and Monday, and Insp. Matt Bolger is in the JIC on Friday.

This would be a great opportunity to experience the JIC and crisis communication firsthand.

Please let me know as soon as possible if you are available.

Thank you,

Subject: Wednesday Jan. 27 update from the Flint Water Response Team

This daily update is being issued in order to provide the latest information regarding actions and available resources.

In Flint today, Governor Snyder held a press conference with Mayor Karen Weaver to announce a comprehensive effort to improve health, infrastructure, and economic opportunities. The goal is to make Flint a stronger city after the water crisis.

As part of that effort, the Governor announced that one of his top aides, Flint-native Rich Baird, will lead a team with an office in the city focused on improving the quality of life.

In addition, the Governor said that Professor Marc Edwards and Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha, from Hurley Hospital, both instrumental in bringing to light the problems of elevated blood lead levels in the city, have agreed to be part of the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Council (FWICC).

Click here to read more about the latest updates from Flint.

Since January 9, our water resource teams have been delivering critical clean water resources:

- 186,309 cases of bottled water
- 94,301 filters
- 29,841 water testing kits

REMINDERS

- For Flint water assistance: Dial 211 or visit www.mi.gov/FlintWater

- To donate or volunteer: visit www.HelpForFlint.com
- Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate and ongoing access to safe water. Only run cold water through the water filter and use filtered water for drinking and cooking. Monitor the cartridge on the filter and replace as needed.

WATER RESOURCE LOCATIONS
These sites are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with the following resources:

- Bottled water
- Water filters
- Replacement cartridges for water filters
- Water testing kits pick-up
- Drop-off location for water testing kits

Efforts Continue to Provide Safe Water Resources in Flint
1,020 Homes Visited Today by Water Response Teams

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 27, 2016
Release #: 20

Flint, Mich. - Water response teams comprised of 109 city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers continued door-to-door delivery efforts today visiting 1,020 homes. These teams are canvassing the city providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits to Flint homes not yet identified as having a water filter.

As part of the distribution process, residents seeking water filters and replacement cartridges are asked to share their address. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time to assist with long-term recovery and help water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts. It is important to note that no resident will be denied resources if an address is not provided, and a photo identification is not required.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

* 196,456 cases of water
* 95,417 water filters
* 30,255 water testing kits

In addition to water response teams, water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.

Fire Station #5 (also a recycling site)
3402 Western Rd.

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.

Fire Station #8 (also a recycling site)
202 East Atherton Rd.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International<http://www.nsf.org/newsroom/statement-regarding-flint-water-system-lead-issue-and-to-certification-nsf/> for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website<http://www.nsf.org/>.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater<http://www.michigan.gov/flintwater>, by calling 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com<http://www.helpforflint.com/>.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/28/16 – 24th Day (23rd Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store, and increase quantities of supplies.
- Increase efficiency of warehouse operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
- Shift Water Response Teams operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows where filters have not been provided.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.

Attached Documents:

- Sit Rep # 23
- Maps:
  - Parcel Contact Status, includes data as of 5 pm today. (Provide earlier by GIS)
  - Parcel Filter Status (Multi-Tenant Excluded), includes GIS data as of 5 pm today. (Provide earlier by GIS)

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel).
- We continue to send ARC teams to targeted areas potentially missed.
- Collins Road SEOC will be shutdown. New SEOC at 7150 Harris Drive in Windsor Township (former GOB) will be activated for SEOC staff only. All EMHSD admin personnel will start at the new facility on Monday.

Items to Note

- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- MSP HQ staff completed data entry on all ARC paper copies.
- Recovery Staff attended local Community Partners Meeting.
- Recovery Branch worked with GIS to develop an area map and spreadsheet with addresses based on data specified as "follow up required "for Red Cross teams.
- SEOC Logistics researched possible warehouse options with the local EOC, FEMA and General Motors.
- We have a corporate owned (originally thought to be a franchise owned) Kroger that is no longer in business near Fire Station 6. Looking to get a lower cost for potentially use.
- Received an inquiry regarding potential scams being perpetrated on residents of Flint. This information was referred to the Attorney General's office for a possible news release and further action.
- Issued a media advisory and coordinated a press conference about recycling with Lt. Gov. Brian Calley at noon at Fire Station #1. Used social media to promote the event as it occurred.
- SEOC Operations coordinated water pitcher request for vulnerable population.
- Information reported to the JIC:
    - As of 1/28/16, 4 pm for PODs and 5 pm for FWRT (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

Local EOC

- Planning for transition of operational control to local level.
- Discussed transition and demobilization of EOC support team with SEOC staff, Genesee County Sheriff's Office and Genesee County Emergency Management & Homeland Security.
- Identifying and securing additional warehouse space.
- Implementing recycling program. Promoted program at a press conference with Lt. Gov. Calley.
- Coordinating in-kind and monetary donations through Michigan Community Service Commission.
- Coordinating volunteer management with Michigan Community Service Commission, ARC and other VOADs.
- Continuously addressing public concerns over perceived fraud through door-to-door teams.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/27/16 – 23th Day (22nd Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store, and increase quantities of supplies.
- Increase efficiency of warehouse operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
- Shift Water Response Teams operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows where filters have not been provided.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.

Attached Documents:

- Sit Rep 22
- Maps:
  - Parcel Contact Status, includes data as of 5 pm today. (Provided earlier by GIS)
    - The first one indicates based upon the outreach that has been conducted, which parcels have had contact with a resident and which parcels have not had any contact with a resident.
  - Parcel Filter Status (Multi-Tenant Excluded), includes GIS data as of 5 pm today. (Provided earlier by GIS)
    - The second map indicates the status of residents that have or have not received a filter.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel).
  - ARC teams are targeting the homes we show that were not visited.
- Information provided to the Governor's Office (Paul Smith) for an extension to the Governor's Declaration of an Emergency. This has to be approved by both houses of the legislature. The extension will put us on the same timeline as FEMA's declaration.

Items to Note

- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- Recovery Branch compiled a list of targets for apartment complexes. Once plan is in place, a team will go to each complex and verify all tenants have been given or have a water filter. Once outreach has taken place for each complex, GIS will manually mark entire parcel as complete.
- SEOC Logistics worked with the Michigan Community Service Commission on donations management and volunteers
- GIS coordinated with DNR and DEQ to establish timelines for lead mapping and strategize updates of lead statuses based on plumber activities.
- GIS coordinated with DTMB/CSS to meet with local GIS staff to review city GIS infrastructure and provide recommendations on future asset management.
- Planning and Financial provide information for Senate Appropriations Committee meeting this afternoon.
- Financial Reviewed donations as match guidelines for required 25% federal match.
- Information reported to the JIC:
  - As of 1/27/16, 4 pm for PODs and 5 pm for FWRT (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

       *This is an estimate from Phase I data. We are cleaning up the data to get a more accurate number -- Phase II questions were developed to help clean this up.

GIS Information

AS OF 1/27/2016 AT 5 p.m. USING DATA FROM FLINT WATER RESPONSE TEAMS, POD DISTRIBUTIONS, AND GENESEE COUNTY HEALTH DISTRIBUTION DATA.

NOTE: PLEASE REMEMBER THAT PAPER DATA AND DATA ENTRY FROM PREVIOUS DAYS CONTINUES TO COME IN AND WILL BE INCLUDED IN THE TOTALS AS IT IS RECEIVED.

We are tracking 38,238 residential parcels that the City of Flint has identified as non-vacant (including Franchise). Of those:

- 34,849 (91%) of the parcels have been engaged (e.g. face to face, left an information card, etc.) as part of response efforts
- 22,939 (60%) of the parcels have been confirmed to have some form of filter
- 10,723 (28%) of the parcels have volunteered for water testing sites
- 4,918 (13%) of the parcels have not had personal contact (not home or did not visit a POD)

We are also tracking that there are 29,994 active water subscribers (metered service lines) in the city. When consolidated down and filtering out only residential there are 26,673 residential parcels that have the ability to use the Flint Water System. Of these

- 25,457 (95%) of the parcels have been engaged as part of response efforts
- 19,677 (74%) of the parcels have been confirmed have some form of filter
- 9,561 (36%) of the parcels have volunteered for water testing
- 3,718 (14%) of the parcels have not had personal contact (not home or did not visit a POD)

Local EOC

- Planning for transition of operational control to local level.
- Identifying and securing additional warehouse space for donations management.
- Coordinating rapid response deliveries to identified locations.
- Coordinating demobilization of vehicles and technology.
- Working to implement recycling program. Press conference scheduled for 01/28/2016.
- Coordinating in-kind and monetary donations through Michigan Community Service Commission.
- Coordinating volunteer management with Michigan Community Service Commission, ARC and other VOADs.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel).
- Press conference to be held in Flint with the Governor, Mayor and some state agency personnel.

Items to Note

- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- We have taken a significant number of paper records from the ARC WRTs so we can get the data entered into our system. MSP HQ staff has been pulled to the SEOC for data entry. These are a portion of the records the ARC had as they were not using the door to door App as directed. This data will further clarify areas covered/not covered by any teams.
- The WRTs are going to "targeted" locations where we are showing residences not contacted.
- We are working on identifying any multi-unit housing to ensure all have filters (e.g. apartment buildings). Some have been taken care of but we are ensuring these locations are not missed.
- Information reported to the JIC:

Local EOC

- Delivered iPads to warehouse and provided on-site training to drivers, followed with written instructions.
- Facilitated recycling planning meeting and planned for implementation of the program.
- Attended local "Pastors and Police" meeting to coordinate water distribution plan with faith-based organizations
- Planning for a transition of operational control to local level.
- Coordinated the incoming donations of water and filters through the Michigan Community Service Commission.
- Coordinated volunteer management with Michigan Community Service Commission, ARC and other VOADs.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel).

Items to Note

- 11 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- 8 EPA PIOs will be in the JIC tomorrow. The JIC is unaware of the role or expectations at this time.
- Reference the rash I discussed on the call tonight:
  - There was one specific complaint about rashes that Community Health personnel plan on working with ATSTD/CDC. DEQ is requesting that EPA collect all appropriate water samples to enable a full analysis of the water at the address (an apartment) for bacterial contamination, and a full metals and organics panel. Lead is not associated with skin rashes, but other contaminants are and DEQ wants to find out what, if any, other contaminants are in the water.
  - It was also discussed that it would be ideal if Community Health can forward to the EPA the other addresses and contact information for which they've received complaints of rashes, so that EPA could also test there for appropriate parameters to see if we can identify a cause.
  - SEOC DEQ desk will continue to monitor and work this issue.
- SEOC OPS, Health, MDEQ SEOC, Logistics participated in conference calls with the Governor's office and private partners on potential alternative filtration systems for schools, daycares, etc.
- Created a form for drivers to track rapid response deliveries.
- Media avail at fire station 8 this morning received positive news coverage.
- The NAACP is holding a public meeting at U of M Flint on Tuesday.
- Rachel Maddow will hold a town hall meeting on Wednesday. MSP Third District Commander advised.
- Developed new Incident Action Plan (#7 published in MICIMS) and ICS 204s for the new operational period (1/26/2015-2/2/2016).
- MDOC assumed all warehousing responsibilities today.
- Reviewed state agency financial information received for update to current spend plan.
- Information reported to the JIC:

   * Numbers have not been updated due to the following circumstances:
   - Outstanding donations and inventory at the warehouse which has not been reported to the SEOC. Staff in the SEOC is working with donations management and warehouse to reconcile numbers.
   - Outstanding data from GCCARD on deliveries from 1/8-1/12. Staff in the SEOC and local EOC is working with GCCARD to obtain data.
   - At the beginning of tracking the planning factor used was 72 cases of water per pallet and 22 pallets per semi-truck. Per bill of lading received from the warehouse today, it has been identified that this assumption is not correct. Staff is working to reconcile numbers.

5. Teams going out tomorrow:
   a. 10 ARC (2-4 people) type 5 teams -- Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

GIS Information

I have had numerous discussions with GIS staff as to getting our data validated and as close to final as possible. We are tracking 38,144 residential properties within the city (noting large apartment complexes are classified as commercial so they are not a part of this). Of these:

- 34,318 have been engaged by Flint Water Response Teams and PODs (90%) - The remaining 10% is going to be a focus for the teams in the near future
- 23,281 have led to a direct citizen engagement (61%)
- 5,173 were not home during any attempt to visit and have not been recorded as having visited a POD (14%)
- 5,864 of the properties the teams visited were vacant or destroyed (15%)

Additionally, we have been tracking the status of "Active Water Subscribers" from the Flint Department of Public Works. These are residential properties which have meters put on the homes by the city. Of the total 29,994 subscribers citywide, 26,673 have been confirmed as being on residential parcels. Of the 26,673:

- 18,487 Have been confirmed as having received a filter by the Flint Water Response Teams or PODs (69%)
- 3,928 Were not home when visited (15%)
- The remaining 16% we have no data to confirm or deny whether they have a filter

Of special significance from the water subscriber data is that the old lead maps that we are digitizing from the Flint Water Department contain 993 suspected homes with lead lines in them. Of these only 659 have received a filter.

It is significant to note that we are continuing to receive paper forms from the field and processing them. The ARC and volunteers were specifically told to use the App and we provided Ipads but tonight I was told this was not being done by everyone which has caused us some lags in data. This is likely improve the overall numbers as we process historic records (ARC had ~7,000 of these records).

It cannot be reiterated enough that data is still coming in and we are still actively cleansing it.

Local EOC

Operations:

- Coordinated with Foodbank of Eastern Michigan for issuing of Resource Request.
- Coordinating and following up on vehicle demobilization.
- Facilitated rapid response deliveries to special locations.
- Finalizing components of recycling program.
- Received authorization to operate bottle collections for recycling at Fire Station 1 and 5 PODs.

- Initiated activities to plan for inclusion of institution sampling (schools, daycares, nursing homes, etc.) in Genesee County EOC IAP.
- Coordinating volunteer management with Michigan Community Service Commission.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/24/16 – 20th Day (19th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

I have asked state agency SEMCs to archive their SitRep items so you only have current operational period information in the SitRep Agency Summaries. Director Creagh added to daily report.

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store, and increase quantities of supplies.
- Increase efficiency of warehouse operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs).
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.

Attached Documents:

- Situation Report # 19
- Maps:
  - Parcel Contact Status, includes data as of 5 pm today.
    - The first one indicates based upon the outreach that has been conducted, which parcels have we had contact with a resident and which parcels have not had any contact with a resident.
  - Parcel Filter Status (Multi-Tenant Excluded), includes GIS data as of 5 pm today.
    - The second map indicates the status of residents that have or have not received a filter.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel).
- WRTs with NG personnel are transitioning out. No field teams. NG will continue to staff the PODs.
- Tony Katarsky will be acting SEOC State Director. Capt. Kelenske not in the SEOC - available by phone (in the Holland MI area).

Items to Note

- [illegible] National Guard/state/local teams and 19 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- JIC was operational with limited staff out of the SEOC today. Co-located JIC in Flint will be back and operational tomorrow.
- SEOC Logistics worked with MDOC on warehouse management transition.
- Recovery Branch began demobilization of trucks and vans.
- Demobilization of National Guard Water Response Teams will be effective as of Monday, January 25.

- School for the Deaf
  - As of 1/23/16: LARA and DEQ teams on site; water testing complete in school building and LRC dorm. Stevens Hall will be tested when landlord finishes upgrades.
  - As of 1/23/16: all water faucets replaced in Stevens Hall. 3 new drinking fountains on order; expected mid-week. Once fountains are installed, Stevens Hall will be scheduled for water testing.
- SEOC Finance Donations Management team to obtain list of donors and donations for FEMA request.
- SEOC Planning Section worked on burn rate data from FWRT and PODS for FEMA request.
- GIS continued to clean up V2 Dataset (patched approximately 1000 records).
- GIS coordinated with the DEQ to transfer lead service line mapping to their GIS department tomorrow. Wall maps showing known lead service lines based off of geographical locations and zip codes provided for Chief Hagler, SEOC DEQ staff and Director Creagh.
- Out of 37,003 homes visited, 5,660 were not home/did not answer. The number of homes visited is lower than the Phase II number as some duplicate contacts at addresses were eliminated.
- Information reported to the JIC:
  - As of 1/24/16, 4 pm for PODs and 5 pm for FWRT (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/22/16 – 18^{h} Day (17th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Increase efficiency of warehouse operations
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs)
- Plan for next phase with MSP and NG personnel
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration
- Work with HHS personnel to ensure they have all items needed for operations

Attached Documents:

- SitRep # 17
- Briefing provided to the HHS Undersecretary by FEMA (due to time only finished 75%)

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- National Guard/State/Local
- 40 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams
- Deliveries going out to all churches on our list we have been working with (21) for Sunday services.
- I will not be in the SEOC Saturday. Tony Katarsky will be the acting SEOC state director. I will be available by phone (wrestling meet).
- Sunday, Lt. Mike Johnson will be acting SEOC state director but I may be in for some of the day.
- Monday I am out on a college visit with my son...I will be available by phone and Tony will again be acting.

Items to Note

- Deployed
- SEOC Operations worked on getting local contact into the JIC along with developing messaging for resources and donations.
- SEOC Planning worked on the further development of long term strategy.
- Recovery branch continued coordination with Red Cross on volunteers and the Michigan National Guard for Friday and Saturday.
- SEOC logistics worked with FEMA/DHHS on warehouse tracking status/strategy, coordinated resources, and donations management.
- Have had a number of media request concerning resources for immigrants and population less proficient in English. Clarified with a news release that we are not requiring ID but we are asking for addresses to assist with long term recovery. Nobody will be denied resources if they fail to provide us an address.
- Have received numerous inquiries from celebrities on how they can assist and donate.
- We are validating a lot of data but what we have currently is 38,144 parcels in Flint that are not considered "vacant". This does not mean all parcels have a tenant, there are a lot of houses that are empty.
    - 26,673 water subscribers in Flint (not including franchise).
        - Water Subscribers with a Filter = 15,399 (57.7%)
        - Water Subscribers without a Filter = 11,274 (42.2%)
            - With our second pass we are getting more information as to why people do not have a filter. Looking into whether these include homes connected but nobody currently living there. We are refining the data.
    - 11,471 Non-Water Subscribers in Flint.
        - Non Water Subscribers with a Filter = 2,196 (19%)
        - Non Water Subscribers without a Filter = 9,275 (81%)

- The SEOC Ops Chief has been directed to firm up all numbers with GIS. We have a GIS specialist from FEMA Region V also deployed to the SEOC to assist. ArcGIS has advised us that the amount of data we have collected is more than some major disasters in other states. We are looking into getting their personnel more engaged to ensure we are using all the tools available for analysis.

- SEOC Finance Chief is working on costs to date and all SEMCs were advised to tighten up their records and ensure we have accountability of all costs.
- Information reported to the JIC:
  - As of 1/22/16, 4 pm for PODs and 5 pm for FWRT (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. Homes visited by the FWRTs to date.

To Date	1/22/2016
37,697	5,920

2. Distributed: Includes outstanding data from yesterday (PODs after 5 pm, ARC worksheets and local EOC hotshots.)

Commodity	Total to Date
a. Number of cases of water	121,404
b. Filters	82,687
c. Filter cartridges	191,704
d. Test kits	23,415

3. Resources purchased:
   a. Cases of water 130,782 (additional 21,682 donated)
   b. Filters 115,700
   c. Filter Cartridges 266,200
   d. Test kits 61,161

4. Teams going out tomorrow:
   a. [illegible] .m
   b. 40 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams -- Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

Local EOC

Operations:

- Worked to identify all vulnerable populations to help streamline Hot Shot process.
- Working on plan for church water distribution and POD locations.
- Looking at possible alternative locations for PODs in difficult traffic areas.
  - Working on finding a new POD for 3 and 6. We are aware that the mayor would need to approve this.
- Coordinated water donations and delivery areas.
- Last minute large donations of water and volunteers expected during the weekend.
- Working on finalizing a recycling plan for the incident.
- The Jail water has been tested and is fine. The prisoners are not being poisoned and the local health department is working on clearing this issue up.
- Working on a plan with the churches to have 4 mega sites for churches (N,E,S,W) and have smaller churches work through these sites to get supplies. Churches are interested in the recycling program, putting information in their bulletins and also used a collection sites.
- Team Rubicon is coming tomorrow to assist with home deliveries.
- Continuing with recycling plan. Need to identify sites with city. Local EOC has visited areas with the local contractor.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/21/16 – 17h Day (16th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Increase efficiency of warehouse operations
- Continue to implement the logistics plan and adjust as needed
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs) - "Phase II"
- Plan for next phase with MSP and NG personnel for Governor approval – "Phase III"
- Prepare for appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration
- Work with HHS personnel to ensure they have all items needed for operations

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 16
- Draft Water Operations Plan for moving to next phases (Discussion document)
- Resident Water Sample Results Map (Not for public distribution)
- January 13-19 comparison map

Status on Governor's request letter to the President

- Emergency declaration received. Pending decision of Major Disaster appeal and any denials under the Emergency Declaration (e.g. Category B). We have not been denied category B yet ... POTUS/FEMA has not given it to us though. I believe we may get a denial of category B in conjunction with the Major Disaster appeal decision. We will have 30 days to appeal.
    - Category B is critical in that it is for Emergency Protective Measures which includes (but is not limited to EOC related costs, supplies and commodities, safety inspections, and in limited circumstances "water testing and treatment supplies in the immediate aftermath of the incident to counter a specific threat." We purposely put our start date of this incident to be April 25, 2014 in hopes we get category B and could get 75% federal funds for many other costs all the way back to 2014 – long shot but would be huge if we land this.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The logistics plan will be fully executed tomorrow with all teams.
    -
    - We will have 15 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel), with a goal of 100 homes per team.

Items to Note

- We are using the terms Phase II, Phase III, etc. These are for internal discussion for planning and not meant for public dissemination at this time unless it is determined to be beneficial.
- The draft operations plan (attached) was completed in conjunction with MSP and NG personnel to initiate discussion on our next steps as to WRTs and PODs.
- The WH issued a statement that $80 million dollars in aid to MI mostly to repair Flint water infrastructure. We do not have additional information on this. This may be existing federal funds provided to MI that is just being opened up for other use. FEMA does not have any information on this.
- We have been advised we exceeded the $5 million under the emergency declaration. We are at $7.6 million.
- FEMA has advised that any donated items can be used to offset the state cost share. We are working on the mechanism with FEMA to do this.

- Deployed 18 state/local teams and 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- SEOC logistics worked to project future orders of water resources and commodities.
- Released updated JIC map at 1800 displaying updated field team activity and integrating historic paper records that have been entered into the tracking system for field team activity.
- DEQ test kits are only being provided to those who ask for them.
- I made contact with Senator Ananich aid, Julie Townsend, who was a POC for his volunteers. They are set to work next week on the 30th.
- MDOT met with city personnel to look at Station 6 POD and other PODs to see how traffic flow can be facilitated and safety increased. Additional report out due 1/22.
- [illegible]
- MDARD Food Program staff have completed assessments of all 21 food businesses (including restaurants) that were located in the highest risk area. In addition, they have completed assessments at 34 food businesses in the medium risk area, and have scheduled 28 appointments to collect water samples.
- Dr. Nicole Lurie, the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response from the US Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), in addition to the HHS Regional Coordinator and other CDC staff, visited the CHECC and SEOC this morning and provided commentary to CHECC and SEOC staff/EMCs. She also attended a briefing from FEMA before departing to visit Flint.
- Parents of boarding students at the Michigan School for the Deaf were notified of the elevated lead results in Stevens Hall. All fixtures in the dormitory are scheduled to be replaced by January 24, 2016. Lt Gov. has scheduled visit on January 25.
- Valley Area Agency on Aging (VAAA) continues to take calls from seniors and caregivers needing access to water and filters. VAAA is providing this information to the local EOC each afternoon for follow-up.
- Information reported to the JIC:

  - As of 1/21/16, 4 pm for PODs and 5 pm for FWRT (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. Homes visited by the FWRTs to date.

Phase 1	Phase 2
30,770	5,409

2. Distributed: Includes outstanding data from yesterday - PODs after 5 pm, ARC worksheets and local EOC hotshots.

Commodity	Phase 1	Phase 2	Total to Date
a. Number of cases of water	94,688	10,403	105,091
b. Filters	77,215	2,356	79,571
c. Filter cartridges	188,389	1,039	189,428
d. Test kits	20,037	1,588	21,625

3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
   a. 29,944 paying customers
   b. ~45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)
   c. ~39,000 includes apartment complexes/multi family (The is the low end target #)

4. Resources purchased:
   a. Cases of water 124,398 (additional 20,098 donated)
   b. Filters 115,700
   c. Filter cartridges 243,200

d. Test kits 61,161

5. Teams going out tomorrow:

b. 15 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams -- Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

Local EOC

• Attended ARC meeting with VOADs to discuss volunteer management and strategies.
• Attended meeting with Plumbers and Pipefitters Union to assess the need for long term cooperation for filter installation and fixture replacement.
• Requested and received confirmation of deployment of Team Rubicon (starting on 01/23/2016).
• Facilitated Flint & Genesee Chamber of Commerce representation at the EOC.
• Addressed security issues at Fire Station 3, 6 and 8 PODs (residents concerned about criminal activity).
• Coordinating with SEOC Logistics to receive information on purchasing strategy and volumes for filter equipment.
• Met with Genesee County Planning Commission, United Way of Genesee County and Michigan Community Service Commission to clarify recycling plans and potential volunteer utilization.
• Coordinated and verified deliveries of supplies to apartment complexes.
• Identified potential locations for recycling stations.

Update 1/20/16 – 16th Day (15th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Increase efficiency of warehouse operations
- Continue to implement the logistics plan and adjust as needed
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs)
- Prepare for second phase of door to door operations
- Submitted appeal to FEMA Region V
- Prepare for appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 16

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Emergency declaration received.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Five copies of the State/FEMA agreement will need to be signed by the Governor. Capt. Kelenske has them and will coordinate delivery.
- The logistics plan will be fully executed tomorrow with all teams.
  - We will have 18 National Guard (MSP supported), type 3 teams (6-9 personnel), with a goal of 300 homes per team.
  - We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel), with a goal of 100 homes per team.
- Dr. Luri from HHS will be at the SEOC ~10:00 p.m.

- A second phase is starting tomorrow which will include more refined questions as to type of filter systems each person has. This will assist with sustainment operations.
- DOC prison work crew personnel (6-7) will be at the warehouse to keep the area clean. A lot of trash is generated in the warehouse and was becoming an issue.

Items to Note

- Deployed 10 state/local (NG, MSP, Local) teams and 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- MSP and local Sheriff's Department continue to provide over watch for WRTs.
- Aqua Hydrate contacted me to donate 5000 cases a month (4 semis) for a year. I was advised by Lindon Nelson this was a Governor/Mayor/Senator Ananich and Meekhof initiative and a press release was going to go out soon (TBD). Logistics is following up with them.
- News release sent from Governor's office about the appeal to the President of the disaster declaration.
- SEOC Logistics worked with JIC and Governor's office to establish a business resource submission tab on www.helpforflint.com
- SEOC Operations continued to develop and finalize Phase 2 canvassing roll out.
- Meeting held with Dr. Luri from HHS.
- Capt. Kelenske and other state agency financial personnel attended the appropriations hearing.
- End of day – concerns with the mass amounts of volunteers showing up and wanting to help. This can cause logistical issues but staff was working to get additional tasks for volunteers outside of the WRTs. We will continue to work on ways to involve more volunteers.
- Additional 5 person NG team for warehouse support approved.
- Information reported to the JIC:

  - As of 1/20/16 as of 4 pm for PODs and 5 pm for FWRT (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. 29,317 homes visited by the FWRTs to date.

   2. Distributed: Includes outstanding hard copy data from yesterday (PODs after 5 pm, ARC worksheets and local EOC hotshots).
      a. Number of cases of water 90,337
      b. Filters 73,229
      c. Filter cartridges 185,852
      d. Test kits 19,866

   3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
      a. 29,944 paying customers
      b. 45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/18/16 – 14th Day (13th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Continue to implement the logistics plan and adjust as needed
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs) and PODs
- Prepare for possible surge in FWRTs utilizing NG personnel
- Work to bring FEMA IMAT personnel up to date following the Presidential Emergency declaration.
- Complete appeal for Presidential Major Disaster Declaration denial.

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 13
- Side by side comparison of homes with filters January 13th compared to January 18th. This should be hitting the media tonight. This took longer to create than I wanted but is the image I have wanted to show progress of getting filters in to the field.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal in process.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The logistics plan will be fully executed tomorrow with all teams.
    - We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel), with a goal of 100 homes per team.
    - NG will be bringing in personnel to prep for surge.

Items to Note

- Beginning tomorrow the operational periods will be 7 days long.
- The CDC/ATSDR (Agency for Toxic Substances Disease Registry) has deployed a team to Michigan.
- An Arabic version of the palm card was reviewed and approved. This was developed via Arab American and Chaldean Council.
- Deployed 12 state/local teams and 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- DTMB is working to secure space in Flint for FEMA staff.
- Cost analysis to investigate if it would be more cost effective for FEMA to purchase water vs the SOM.
- ARC news release concerning the Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) sent out today.
- Media availability conducted today at 3pm at the VRC.
- Since 1/14/16 Michigan 2-1-1 has received three direct reports of bottled water testing positive for lead. DHHS SEOC Desk and DEQ SEOC Desk was able to contact two of the callers. The Zero Water filter (pitcher) has a handheld test device so people know when to change the filter. This TDS Meter measures dissolved solids (it is not a lead test). This was explained and we are going to work on messaging to ensure this does not cause issues. Dissolved solids are in all water. The water from the callers is going to be tested and a case of water from one of the companies will also be sent to DEQ for testing. Brands are Spartan Spring Water and Canned Water for Kids. The filter company is also going to work on messaging and work with us on this matter.
- Information reported to the JIC:
    - As of 1/17/16 as of 5 pm (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. 21,393 homes visited by the FWRTs to date.

    2. Distributed:
        a. Number of cases of water 37,313
        b. Filters 53,713
        c. Filter cartridges 169,520

d. Test kits 7,379

3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
   a. 29,944 paying customers
   b. 45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)
   c. 39,000 includes apartment complexes (The is the low end target #)

4. Resources purchased:
   a. Cases of water 82,992 (additional 16,056 donated)
   b. Filters 115,700
   c. Filter cartridges 243,200
   d. Test kits 61,161

5. Teams going out tomorrow:

   b. 10 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams----Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

Local EOC

Operations:

- Continuing to work with faith based organization to distribute resources.
- Working with colleges to obtain volunteers for canvassing.

Update 1/17/16 – 13th Day (12th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Continue to implement the logistics plan and adjust as needed
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), PODs
- Prepare for possible surge in FWRTs utilizing NG personnel
- Work to bring FEMA IMAT personnel up to date following the Presidential Emergency declaration.

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 12

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Emergency declaration received.
  - Limited to direct assistance so we will need to ask for the Individual Housing Program but that is something I will work on with FEMA.
- Major disaster declaration denied. The appeal is being developed with a draft to Paul Smith by later afternoon 1/18/16.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The logistics plan will be fully executed tomorrow with all teams.
  - We will have 12 state agency, type 3 teams (6-9 personnel), with a goal of 300 homes per team.
  - We will have 12 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel), with a goal of 100 homes per team.

Items to Note

- Deployed 11 state/local teams and 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
  - 4,963 homes visited today.

- DTMB is working with DSEMIC and NC3 to monitor social media for information on cyber-attack yesterday.

01/16/16

  - Approximately 5:00PM, Michigan.gov began to experience slowness in web page load time. Approximately 10 minutes later the Michigan.gov site became inaccessible caused by of a denial of service attack.
  - IBM team was able to implement a mitigation strategy to stop the attack that began at 5:00PM. At 6:24PM the michigan.gov websites were again available to the public.
  - Approximately 7:30PM, a new attack was initiated on the michigan.gov environment. The attack focused on the DNS servers and resulted in michigan.gov becoming inaccessible. Additionally, due to the nature of the attack other IBM customers were affected as well. IBM was able to implement a new mitigation strategy that resulted in the excessive traffic being blocked. At 7:53PM the websites were restored to normal operation.
  - Shortly after the michigan.gov websites were restored, the State of Michigan was notified by our internet service providers that a DDoS attempt was made against our SOM DTMB servers in the external DMZ. Once detected, this attack was blocked and Michigan Cyber Security saw no signs of any other types of attacks.

01/17/16

  - Genesee County was unable to access MiCIMS due to the State increasing filters. Michigan Cyber Security made adjustments to filter settings and their access to MiCIMS was restored.
  - DTMB reached out to the City of Flint CTO, Paul Knific, offering any support they need. Right now they feel they have bigger issues than trying to get some of the things back online.

We currently do not have any additional information on the attacks on the City of Flint (cityofflint.com) or Flint Township Police (flinttownshippolice.org) websites. We'll continue to pass information along as we receive it.

- Information reported to the JIC:

  - As of 1/17/16 as of 7pm (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. 16,353 homes visited by the FWRTs to date. We believe we have ~24,000 homes with filters; still trying to validate. This is from the data we received from prior to the SEOC activation (trying to validate the data) plus the PODs and door to door operations since activation.

   2. Distributed:
      a. Number of cases of water 27,195
      b. Filters 50,432
      c. Filter cartridges 168,605
      d. Test kits 4,861

   3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
      a. 29,944 paying customers
      b. 45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)
      c. 39,000 includes apartment complexes (The is the low end target #)

   4. Resources purchased:
      a. Cases of water 57,456 (additional 12,884 donated)
      b. Filters 108,520
      c. Filter cartridges 239,081
      d. Test kits 28,901

   5. Teams going out tomorrow:

      b. 12 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams----Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

Local EOC

Operations:

- Facilitated activation of the Genesee County/Genesee Health System MOU for mental health services.
- Coordinated supplies for distribution to students at the U of M Flint campus.
- Still concerned about people going to every fire station and collecting water/filters.
- Coordinated trash pickup at Fire Station PODs with the City Liaison officer.
- Coordinated hotshot deliveries of supplies to home bound population.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/16/16 – 12th Day (11th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Continue to implement the logistics plan and adjust as needed
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs)
- Prepare for possible surge in FWRTs utilizing NG personnel
- Work with FEMA personnel to prepare for engagement following the Presidential Emergency declaration

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 11

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Emergency declaration received. Federal Coordinating Officer (FCO) is David Samaneigo (Sam) who has been my LNO from FEMA. We began discussions on a transition to FEMA support last night. His team is headed to MI at this time and we will have our first coordination meeting on Sunday.
- The request for a Declaration of a Major Disaster was denied. FEMA advised this event does not fit the legal definition of a major disaster (natural incident or fire, flood, or explosion). This information has been provided since prior to the event to elected officials in Flint and the legislature. We are reviewing the chances for an appeal and I have already discussed this with the FCO.

Key items for tomorrow to note:

- The logistics plan will be fully executed tomorrow with all teams.
  - We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel), with a goal of 100 homes per team.
- I will be back on duty Sunday.
- We have been working with some of the churches. Contact was made with 14 churches for Sunday distributions. Interaction with the pastors has been very positive.
- A logistics briefing will be provided to see how many more teams we can put in the field.

Items to Note

- LT Gov visited the local EOC today; discussed local EOC operations.
- Deployed 11 state teams and 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- DEQ sampling kits are now being received at the PODs.
- DEQ sampled two Head Start facilities and worked with GIS to obtain future sample sites.

- The Freeman School pilot was delayed due to some parts not arriving as scheduled. Testing was to be done Sunday but may not occur until Monday.
- NG will have a total of personnel in the PODs for distribution. Mission has not changed.
    - NG soldiers have been in the PODS. more processing in tomorrow with start date of 1/18 in the PODS. The TAG and I will be discussing future use of NG personnel door to door next week.
- Information reported to the JIC:

    - As of 1/16/16 7pm (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. 11,324 homes visited by the FWRTs to date. We believe we have ~24,000 homes with filters; still trying to validate. This is from the data we received prior to the SEOC activation plus the PODs and door to door operations since activation. 3,850 homes were visited today (4,000 was the goal).

    2. Distributed:
        a. Number of cases of water 20,876
        b. Filters 47,935
        c. Filter cartridges 167,401
        d. Test kits 3,322

    3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
        a. 29,944 paying customers
        b. 45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)
        c. 39,000 includes apartment complexes (The is the low end target #)

    4. Resources purchased:
        a. Cases of water 57,456 (additional 12,884 donated)
        b. Filters 108,520
        c. Filter cartridges 239,081
        d. Test kits 28,901

    5. Teams going out tomorrow:
        a. [illegible]
        b. 10 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams----Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

Local EOC

Operations:

- Provided direction to Operations and Logistics Section to initiate water sample collection at PODs.
- Lt. Roach worked with faith based organizations today reference water and filter distribution. Additional churches were supplied with water, filters and test kits.
- Still concerned about people going to every fire station and collecting water/filters.
- Station #6 (POD) has associated safety concerns due to proximity of street and lack of suitable parking. We are working to resolve.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/15/16 – 11th Day (10th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Pilot the logistics plan and adjust as needed
- Continue with door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs)
- Prepare for possible surge in FWRTs utilizing NG personnel
- Work with FEMA personnel to ensure we get a Presidential Declaration of a Major Disaster and Emergency

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 10

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- All documents for the presidential request have been submitted to FEMA. Numerous calls and meetings took place between me and FEMA today.
- When we get the declaration(s) ... I will set up a legislative/congressional call to explain and provide bullet points as to what programs we will received. The Federal Coordinating Officer assigned will also be with me to answer questions. This has helped in the past.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The logistics plan will be fully executed tomorrow with all teams.
  - We will have 10 ARC, type 5 teams (2-4 personnel), with a goal of 100 homes per team.
  - A pilot team was used to test our logistics plan today and with 60% strength they had 160% output (830 homes).
- I will be off tomorrow but available by cell. Tony Katarsky will be SEOC State Director. I will be back in on Sunday.

Items to Note

- LT Gov visited the local EOC and SEOC today. He was able to hear our final briefing for the day.
- Held a short session managing stress with SEOC staff. Two handouts were put in MICIMS for all state and local personnel to view.
- Deployed 10 state teams and 5 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- Standing requirements were created for the JIC so we can get information to the media every day. Below are the current ones we have in place and we should have something out tonight according to the JIC.
  - As of 1/15/16 as of 7pm (start date was Tuesday, 1/12/16)

1. 7474 homes visited by the FWRTs. We believe we have ~24,000 homes with filters but are trying to validate that information. This is form the data we received from prior to the SEOC activation plus the PODs and door to door operations since activation.

2. Distributed:
   a. Number of cases of water 18,576
   b. Filters 45,916
   c. Filter cartridges 165,382
   d. Test kits 3,217

3. Total number of customers on the Flint water system
    a. 29,944 paying customers
    b. 45,000 hookups (This is our high end target #)
    c. 39,000 includes apartment complexes (The is the low end target #)

4. Resources purchased:
    a. Cases of water 44,688 (additional 12,884 donated)
    b. Filters 78,520
    c. Filter cartridges 163,081
    d. Test kits 18,761

5. Teams going out tomorrow:

    b. 10 ARC (2-4 folks) type 5 teams----Goal tomorrow 100 homes per team

Local EOC

Home Deliveries:

- Still receiving lists from the Valley Area Agency on Aging (VAAA) on home deliveries and forwarding these to the Sheriff's office. They are going through a lot of homes. 120 out of 125 homes were completed yesterday.

Operations:

- We sent staff to visit Fire Station 6 and the warehouse today. Fire station 6 traffic was congested and that was during a "slow" time. The National Guard is identifying what is needed to alleviate this. MSP is working on providing uniform presence as needed. An additional iPad at each location will hopefully help relieve the amount of time that people are spending at the distribution sites.
- Lt. Roach worked with faith based organizations today reference water and filter distribution. Additional requests from churches were made and I approved the locations so they could be ready for Sunday. Lt. Roach was told by one of the pastors that he met with the Gov today and expressed how much he appreciated the efforts put forth. We should have 14 for this Sunday. We are working on how we can increase this output.
- Still concerned about people going to every fire station and collecting water/filters. NG personnel observed vehicles with several cases of water an overheard saying they were heading to the next station. Some people were helping themselves and taking more than one case at a time. Per the NG they cannot physically stop people from doing so. The NG is going to try to change staging in the fire stations to try to prevent this.
- Flint PD is going to check in every day with the EOC and provide a specific contact person. They are also going to help with traffic issues at the PODS. Will ask Flint PD to provide a presence when water is off loaded at a POD to help prevent people from "helping themselves."

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/14/16 – 10th Day (9th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Prepare/approve logistics plan and finalize lease on warehouse space/begin to move supplies from GCCARD to new warehouse
- Continue with door to door teams and finalize planning for future team use
- Submit request for a Presidential Declaration of a Major Disaster and Emergency

- Continue to work on long term recovery items (DHHS, DEQ, MDARD)

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 9

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- All documents for the presidential request have been submitted to FEMA. I had a lengthy conversation with the FEMA Region V Administrator reference the request prior to sending.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The door to door teams will continue in the morning.
- We will continue to ramp up door to door operations with additional teams. Teams continue to focus on the high lead level areas and additional data is being analyzed to focus mission areas.
- ARC will increase the number of their Water Response Teams.
- Supply burn rates as well as projections on how many teams will be needed to put filters in all homes within 3 and 5 days will be completed. Analysis will be done to see in NG personnel may be needed to finish in quicker manner.

Items to Note

- DEQ was notified of the number of homes who are willing to have them take additional samples in the future (current number (114). This question was added to the App being used by the Water Response Teams. Data will be provided when needed.
- LT Gov is scheduled to be at the local EOC and SEOC (~4:30) tomorrow to see the operations.
- Secured 80,000 sq. ft. of a warehouse today. Working to consolidate all resources in one location. Tomorrow will be the first day of full implementation of our logistics plan.
- Email sent to state employees to request volunteers for weekend.
- Media monitoring showed no incorrect information today.
- Michigan Association of Broadcasters is sending PSA to radio stations.
- Coordinating with Red Cross on volunteers for weekend.
- Deployed 8 Water Response Teams to the field today (approx. 120 volunteers). 78 Red Cross volunteers active across the operation today.
- National Guard is ramping up to have [illegible] at each POD tomorrow. Will also have a Public Affairs Officer at the JIC and liaison at the local EOC.
- Senator Ananich visited the SEOC today to see how things operate. The visit went well and he seemed happy with the number of staff working the Flint event. He tweeted out a message indicating there is still a lot of work to be done but all are working hard.
- DHHS
  - The Community Health Emergency Coordination Center (CHECC) is working on the following:
    - A nutrition plan
    - Education materials, messaging, and working with local agencies
    - Developing a community assessment for disaster behavioral health services.
- Lined up the delivery of filters to two large apartment complexes and a student housing complex.
- We have the list of individuals needing home service (additional contacts will be sent to the Ops Chief at the Local EOC each day at 4:00). Info will be provided to the sheriff's office for action.
- Water Response Team Numbers (this is not the total of homes with filters – I will provide that number tomorrow but it appears we have filters in over half the residences):

	TOTAL	1/12/2016	1/13/2016	1/14/2016

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/13/16 – 9th Day (8th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Prepare/approve logistics plan and close lease on warehouse space
- Continue with door to door teams and finalize planning for second wave increase (+15 teams – total for 1/14/16 will be 20)
- Continue to work on Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 8

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- All support data from state Agencies and local jurisdictions collected as of 6:00 pm on 01-13-16
- Current timeline:
  - First draft completed and ready for review by State Department Directors (including the Attorney General) by 11:00 am on 01-14-16
  - State agency reviews due back by 1:00 pm on 01-14-16 for revision of the draft
  - Revised draft to Captain Kelenske by 2:00 pm on 01-14-16 for review and forwarding to the Governor for final review
  - Final draft (based on Governor's review) submitted to FEMA Region V Administrator by no later than cob 01-14-16 but hopefully sooner. FEMA is aware and ready to receive.

Requests and potential response from FEMA/President

- The letter will request all programs eligible under the Stafford Act including Public Assistance, Individual Assistance, Hazard Mitigation, FEMA's coordination of assistance from other Federal agencies and direct assistance from FEMA
- The letter will also request potential direct reimbursement from other Federal agencies such as EPA, CDC, HUD, DHHS and SBA
- This request is in coordination with the request for Non-Stafford Act federal assistance already requested and received by the State (technical assistance and administration, but no direct reimbursement of disaster costs)
- Direct Federal assistance from FEMA in the form of Individual Assistance to homeowners for household repairs (repair and/or replacement of water service lines and Other Needs Assistance to reimburse for water filters, bottled water, etc.) is a possibility
- Direct Federal assistance from FEMA in the form of Public Assistance is not as likely as it is mostly replacement of publicly owned water distribution lines (and not the direct result of damage from a natural cause)

- If Stafford Act assistance is denied (Public Assistance, Individual Assistance and Hazard Mitigation) FEMA could still provide coordination of assistance from other Federal agencies if the President declares a disaster (or emergency) for the State of Michigan

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The door to door teams will continue at 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. Thursday morning and continue through the weekend.
- We will continue to ramp up door to door operations with additional teams. Teams are focusing on the high lead level areas and additional data is being analyzed to focus mission areas.
- MNG will have a press event at the armory with incoming soldiers and MG Vadnais.

Items to Note

- Received information that Rev. Jesse Jackson will be in town 1/17/16 at 1:30 at the Heavenly Host Church of the Harvest of Dartmouth St, Flint.
- Managed and corrected misinformation on NG role.
- Senator Ananich is stopping by the SEOC tomorrow morning 0845. I am meeting with him and his Chief of Staff. Short visit as he has a 0930 at the Capitol.
- Working with Comcast so they can put teams in the field for distribution.
- Penske is going to give us 15-20 trucks over the weekend.
- Contact made with Two Men and a Truck for resources.
- Meeting set with Google where they will brief me and key staff potential tasks.
- Coordinated with Flint Mass Transportation Authority (MTA) to include Fire Station PODs on bus routes.
- Tomorrow I will have a projection as to the number of teams needed to get all citizens filters in their homes in 5 days / 3 days.
- We are standardizing team structure and supply deployment to increase efficiencies. Mission Ready Package (MRP) specifications will be sent out for other entities to assist with door to door. They will then be able to arrive as a MRP get supplies, receive a mission location and deploy.
- 5 Water Response Teams were in the field again today. Below are the numbers from the 2 days of just the Water Response Teams (there are paper copies with data still to be entered from the PODs). I was just briefed by the ARC logistics planner and there are efficiencies we can put in place to increase homes touched per day. The next version of the app will provide more granular details. Additional 30 tablets were configured by DTMB today for field implementation to include use in the PODs.

	Total	1/12/2016	1/13/2016
Occupied Homes	533	242	291
Vacant Homes	238	152	86
Total Homes	771	394	377
Resources
Door Hangars	473	217	256
Water	265	117	148
Filters	235	112	123
Pitchers	9	3	6
Water test kits	92	48	44
Replacement Filter	93		93
Total Resources Dispersed	1167
Future sample test site	62	28	34

- We show 17,276 residences with filters (this does not include data entry to be completed from POD or other locations).
    - We have 35,378 service hookups but with apartments, multi residence dwellings, etc we would be around 45,000.

- Logistics Support
    - The American Red Cross Logistics Planner provided me a brief and I approved the plan forward. The current plan includes:
        - Mission – A filter in every home ASAP.
        - 4 Distribution Methods
            - PODs (5)
            - Water Response Teams (20 effective tomorrow and this will increase)
            - Local EOC "Hot Shots" (these are calls for functional needs, unable to get to a POD location due to ??, etc). Personnel dispatched with supplies.
            - Local EOC support for other local requests (Faith based for distribution, etc.)
        - Three warehouse locations at this time
        - How to better leverage ARC resources

- Supplies – Daily Numbers
    - Replacement Cartridges - 30,700 delivered.
    - Water (cases) - 19,152 cases delivered

- Budget projection completed and will be submitted to SBO for review.

- Notes from Water Response Team Command (MSP)
    - Very good synergy between Flint Post troopers and Genesee County Sheriff command and deputies in effective and efficient deployments for distribution efforts.
    - Great attitude and efforts by uniforms and volunteers to make important contributions to the City of Flint on water response team deployments.
    - Clear direction and coordination in the field of supply teams by lieutenants and troopers. No confusion. Clearly defined roles.

All personnel continue to be fully committed to fixing this as quickly as possible.

Update 1/12/16 – 8th Day (7th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

I apologize in advance for the length of this report. With the supply issues we had the last couple of days I wanted to share our inventory plus what we anticipate to ensure we do not have supply issues.

Mission focus for the day:
- Receive, store and increase quantities of supplies
- Fine-tune logistics
- Increase and deploy door to door teams (4 state teams added to teams from the Sheriff's Department)
- Increase collaboration and messaging of collaboration with local agencies (specifically the Sheriff's Department)

Attached Documents:
- SitRep 7
- Executive Order Activating the National Guard

Key items for tomorrow to note are:
- The Governor signed an Executive Order activating the National Guard. Mission will be to relieve ARC volunteers at the PODs (Fire Stations) which will free up the ARC volunteers for door to door activities.
    - I have briefed the ARC Disaster Officer on this plan.

- The Governor requested, through FEMA Region V, support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA to bring together and identify other federal agencies that may have programs and funding that could be dedicated to assisting Flint as part of an interagency recovery plan. One of the existing LNOs has been identified as the POC for this. He will be a great liaison for the FWIACC.
- The door to door teams will continue at 0830 Wednesday morning and continue through the weekend and ramp up door to door operations with additional teams. Teams are focusing on the high lead level areas.
- We will look at all commodities and see where we are and where we need to be while working with the ARC logistics specialist.

Items to Note

- PSA video sent out to Flint citizens on resources available.

- Water
  - Today's numbers - 7,824 cases of water arrived today, 1/12/16 (109 pallets)
  - Ordered:
    - 19,152 cases of water are going to arrive Wednesday, 1/13/16 (266 pallets)
      - 1/3 is going to GCCARD and the rest is going to the new warehouse
    - 12,768 cases to arrive daily beginning Thursday through Saturday (177 pallets a day)

- Filters
  - Today's numbers
    - Ordered on 1/11/16 and delivered 1/12/16 direct to GCCARD
      - 2,000 – Brita filter faucet mounts
    - Filter Replacements
      - 2,400 – Brita filter replacements (single pack)
      - 8,000 – Brita filter replacements (two pack)
  - Ordered on 1/12/16 to arrive Wednesday
    - Faucet Mounts – To be delivered direct to GCCARD on 1/13/16 (Wednesday)
      - 10,000 – PUR Vertical faucet mount
      - 2,500 – PUR Horizontal mount
    - Replacement Filters – To be delivered direct to GCCARD on 1/13/16 (Wednesday)
      - 10,000 – PUR replacement filters (3 pack)
      - 10,000 – PUR replacement filters (single pack)
    - PUR Combination Pack – to be delivered to GCCARD on 1/13/16 (Wednesday)
      - 10,700 – PUR combo packs

- To arrive Thursday
  - Zero Water Pitcher (8 Cup) – Delivering direct to GCCARD on 1/14/16 (Thursday)
    - 1,300 – Zero Water pitchers
  - Faucet Mounts – Delivering direct to GCCARD on 1/14/16 (Thursday)
    - 11,000 – PUR vertical faucet mount
    - 1,500 – PUR Horizontal faucet mount
    - 5,000 – Brita faucet mount
    - 10,000 – Brita adv faucet mount white
    - 12,000 – Brita adv faucet mount chrome
  - Replacement Filters – Delivering direct to GCCARD on 1/14/16 (Thursday)
    - 117,600 – PUR replacement filter

- Test Kits
  - 6601 unassembled kits arrived at GCCARD today, 1/12/16.
  - 500 have been assembled and are ready for distribution
  - 1000 additional unassembled kits have been ordered to be delivered at GCCARD (no ETA yet)

- 10,142 unassembled kits to arrive at GCCARD early next week

- Second warehouse – Located in Flint
  - 100, 000 square feet of secure warehouse obtained.
  - Accepting commodities beginning Wednesday, January 13

- Logistics Support
  - The American Red Cross Logistics Planner arrived from DC today as requested. I outlined what her mission was and how I saw the progression forward. This logistics planner will assist in streamlining the inventory and distribution process now and into the future.

- Door to Door Numbers
  - Today the app implementation for the field went extremely well. There were a few issues that were quickly addressed. One related to how form fields should be filled out. Another was getting styluses for teams so that they don't have to remove their gloves in the cold. All very simple to fixes.
  - We are working on version 2.0 so this can be used at the PODs
  - We should be able to greatly optimize distribution in the near future as we mapped the active water subscribers from Flint's DPW and are adding them to the field team members apps. Of the ~56,000 possible addresses, this reduces the number of possible homes to visit down to ~29,000.
  - Notes from the field commander:
    - "Today we started out the day using two groups that consisted of approximately 10 people in each group. We eventually combine groups with Genesee County Sheriff's group and they brought two more groups with approx. 10 people (Local UAW) in each group. This made us a lot more efficient and we were able to set up a game plan. Tomorrow I feel we will be more efficient and we will have a better plan in place to get the maximum output out of our resources."
  - In the end, there were 394 total home visits with the following breakdowns:
    - 217 Door Hangers
    - 152 Vacant Homes
    - 117 Water Distributions
    - 112 Filters
    - 3 Pitchers
    - 48 Water Test Kits
- 211
  - CALL VOLUME:
    - 185 calls for water-related issues had been received as of 4:45 pm.

- Logistics made contact with Comcast and will be supplying them with filters and replacement cartridges for their deliveries in their work trucks as they make services calls. They will follow our procedures for reporting (our checklist).

Chris

Update 1/11/16

The focus today was the media event and getting the supplies and logistics on track. Most of the activity today was working on logistics for the water and other supplies.

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 6

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- The door to door teams will start at 0830 Tuesday morning. It is reported that troopers are going to the door but DHHS employees are the lead with a troop car nearby.
    - State and local GIS created an App today for the teams to use tomorrow but I see potential use at distribution sites.
    - The App data will be used for our maps as we survey the public/distribute supplies and we will be getting real time metrics through the site from the field send back to the SEOC. We are using Android tablets tomorrow but in the future can use any mobile device for this.

Items to Note

- It was reported that only one POD (Station 5) was out of water longer than 30-45 minutes. This site was ~2 hours without water and part of that was the truck went to the wrong station. Trucks were sent as soon as the local EOC was notified.
- We also did not receive a DHHS shipment that was to come in which caused some filter delivery issues.
- Supplies are limited at this time; however, we are getting our shipments starting at 0630 tomorrow.
- We have Home Depot giving us 12,768 cases (this was a late development so the SitRep indicates half the amount) of water every day starting tomorrow. We are still working with other distributors too.
- ARC is flying in a logistics planner tomorrow. Three additional staff with be with her to shadow and help. We are turning warehouse logistics over to ARC logistics. We are moving tomorrow to a process that has a distribution center (GCCARD) and a warehouse that is 100,000 square that will maintain mass quantities. Staff has continually been placing orders for supplies to ensure we get a head of this. The intent is to keep the warehouse full so we do not have these continual issues of supplies.
- Began mapping lead service lines (anticipate having draft of lead service lines Friday).
- Coordinated with local IT managers overseeing filter tracking system to streamline data collection.

Local Emergency Operations Center

- Working to coordinate resources at the local level to maintain adequate supplies at all PODs.
- Demand has exceeded supplies and supplies are moving rapidly from PODs today. Working to make sure POD managers notify us when they start running low.
- Working to establish a warehouse for local resource storage.
- Established trigger points for resources at PODs and hourly inventory reporting from the PODs.
- Discussed potential long term water sources between local EOC and SEOC.
- Established planning cycle/meeting scheduled for 1/12/16.
- Local EOC EMHSD staff with Natasha Henderson to request deployment of City representative at local EOC.

Chris

Update 1/10/16

Attached Documents:

- SitRep 5
- Door card (English version but Spanish version will be ready for Tuesday)

I have a local EOC section listed below but state personnel are heavily engage in management of both locations. We occasionally hit some road bumps with this event but all personnel are working well together to accomplish our goals (especially state agency personnel).

I have had good discussion with FEMA LNOs. Two statements have been developed from our discussions that hopefully helps put this in more context but if it is more confusing I apologize:

1. In the immediate response, the State, in collaboration and coordination with city of Flint and county of Genesee are working to get water, water filters, and testing kits to the affected population. In conjunction, the state will coordinate with federal agencies to ascertain what resources can come to bear to help mitigate the issue.

2. If asked about a federal declaration from FEMA, we need to articulate the definition of major and emergency declaration and state or note to ourselves that it appears to not qualify; however, there may exist opportunities to leverage federal assistance from some agencies (i.e....EPA) under their own authority to help address this issue.

   - We need to really manage expectations on the potential for a federal declaration...not that we will not go after one but it will be difficult to get.
   - A major disaster is defined in the Stafford Act as any "nature catastrophe (including hurricane, tornado, storm, high water, windriven water, tidal wave, tsunami, earthquake, volcanic eruption, landslide, mudslide, snowstorm, or drought) or, regardless of cause any fire, flood, or explosion.....causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude, to warrant major disaster assistance.....to supplement the efforts and available resources of States, and local government....."
   - An emergency declaration is "is any occasion or instance for which, in determination .....assistance is needed to supplement State and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and protect property and public health and safety or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe....."
     - This is limited to immediate and short-term assistance (I hate to put times on this but short-term is like 3 weeks), essential to save lives, protect public health and safety and property.
   - Severity of the situation is "A finding that the situation is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capability the state and affected local governments, and that the state requires supplementary federal emergency assistance to save and to protect property....
   - Nature of assistance for Emergency Declaration is for "Debris removal, emergency protective measures, direct federal assistance...."
     - Debris Removal = self-explanatory and we do not have this
     - Emergency Protective measures = water, commodities, transportation (remember ... to supplement what the locals and state are already doing if we need more)
     - Direct federal assistance= what specific type of work is requested, and what are the reasons why the state/local government cannot perform or contract for performance. Essentially what is the need that state/local govt cannot provide. I can see this being something we need but we may be able to get this outside a federal declaration under the federal agencies own authority to help address this issue.

Back to the update...

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Training is occurring for the door to door teams scheduled for Tuesday morning.
- Deploying an additional MSP District Coordinator to the local EOC for command and control support.
- Deploying two DTMB trucks and two drivers for sustained logistical support for the week.
- Media event with the Governor in Flint.
- New Incident Action Plan starts (1/11 0800 -1/13 0800 operational period). Our objectives are as follows:
  1. Ensure all households within impacted community have required resources.
  2. Ensure accurate tracking and accounting of all commodities.
  3. Improve and maintain public information strategy.
  4. Develop a long term public health and services plan.
  5. Ensure adequate staffing to support operational requirements.
  6. Identify possible assistance programs.
  7. Develop an approved GIS strategy.
  8. Maintain coordination between partner agencies and organizations.
  9. Enhance situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.

10. Develop a comprehensive Recovery Plan.

Items to Note

- All 9 churches had filter systems/replacement filters, information sheets, and water test kits delivered as requested by each pastor/reverend on Sunday. We did not think we could get them water due to the limited time but we did end up getting water to all 9 churches with the other items.
- Fire station resource locations stayed open from 9a to 9p and will continue with those hours until further notice (Staffing is in place until Saturday). ARC is staffing these locations.
- The media event was held at Fire Station No. 1 and report back is that it went well and the spirit of collaboration between local, state, non-governmental partners is strong was relayed.
- The four door to door teams will have the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
    - Each will have logistics support from DTMB, security from MSP, and contact personnel from DHHS.
    - The door card is attached that will be left if no one is home.
- Worked to identify a storage location within the City of Flint for water and supplies. G-CARD is identified as temporary location but we are moving toward a state run warehouse operation (looking at private sector partners to assist, especially with the warehouse management side).
    - GCCard is large enough, centrally located and comes staffed. GCCard has 75,000 sq ft with warehouse managers to assist with tracking resources coming in and out.
- GIS will provide us daily updates of how much was distributed each day but note we have a delay in data entry from delivery to entry in the GIS system. Over the weekend there was a problem locally with staffing to get this completed. A solution is in place and will be implemented so we get timely data. Distributed to date (as of 1/8/16).
    - 12,386 filters
    - 1,985 replacement filters
    - 354 Pitchers
    - 2500 Lead Testing Kits
- Establishing and tracking of resources is a priority. Staffing has been assigned to get a good handle on these to ensure distribution sites maintain an appropriate level of inventory. I have requested trigger points get put in place so we do not get below certain levels in the main warehouse location.
    - Contacts with some large water distributors have been made and their and our logistics chiefs will connect first thing this week.
    - We have ordered an additional (expedited delivery with ETAs tomorrow)
        - 40,000 Brita Filters
        - 40,000 Brita Replacement Filters
        - 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
        - 1000 Zero 8-Cup Pitchers
        - 2000 PUR Replacement Filters
        - 93 Pallets of water (about 6700 cases)
- GIS continues to produce multiple maps for use.
- JIC Items
    - Requested PSA on the radio. Media has been approved and working with MAB.
    - Requested JIC to contact Comcast and Dish Network for availability for continuous running of filter install/replacement and test kit video.
    - A news release will likely going out tomorrow regarding canvassing in neighborhoods. Continued social media messaging.
        - Tuesday – embed state PIO with one of the canvassing teams to liaison with media.
        - JIC moving tomorrow to Flint.

Local Emergency Operations Center

I am providing you some information on some issues we ran into at the PODs. This has been addressed with additional state resources and processes put in place so we do not run out of resources. Public concerns/complaints have not been brought to my attention at this time. Staff is working very hard to ensure we do not run out of supplies at the PODs and they understand the consequences. No one in the Local EOC or State EOC is happy the follwoing occurred and I felt you should know in case it is brought up. Again, I believe we have fixed this and I take full responsibility for any supplies not being on site.

Fire Station Inventory Levels:

Station 1:

- Only time without supplies - 15 minutes without water while the truck was unloaded.

Station 3:

- Ran out of replacement filters around 7:00, replacement filters delivered around 7:30. Had to pick up replacement filters from Home Depot and deliver.

Station 5:

- Ran out of water around 5:00, water was delivered around 6:30. We needed to find additional trucks because DTMB drivers were over hours. The ARC stepped up and found a truck to go and pick up a pallet of water and deliver.
- Somewhere between 4:00-6:00 they ran out of lead test kits. No way to restock these because City facilities were closed and could not reach anyone.

Station 6:

- Around 5:00 ran out of water, filters, and replacement kits. Replacement kits were delivered around 7:30. Additional water and filters were delivered after 9:00 due to the DTMB drivers heading back to Lansing. Food Bank was called and had to get drivers in to operate trucks, pick up water from the School District load and deliver to all sites. Delays occurred with weather conditions and needing to use last minute sheriff EOC staff to load due to issues with City workers. City workers were scheduled to help and left around 7:00 without helping.
- 2 pallets of water were dropped off in the afternoon and within 1 hour were gone. This was much faster than we expected. On 1/9 they didn't go through 2 pallets of water at any station for the hours 9:00-4:00.
- We received news that a reverse 9-1-1 call notified residents of water which caused an unanticipated amount of people obtaining water. There was also a report of 1 person walking out with 2 cases of water and trying to sell in the parking lot.

Station 8:

- Around 7:00 ran out of filters and lead tests. Filters were delivered around 8:00 from the food bank trucks.
- Hourly reports were requested in the morning from volunteers but this information was not received as to the status throughout the day. Early inventory of supplies took between 1 hour-1.5 hours to receive in the EOC. We were not advised of low counts, just zero numbers.
- Reports received that the last couple of hours were slow.
- Residents were advised of the other sites and the opportunity to obtain supplies.

Restocking Plan

- United Way set up meeting with Food Bank to discuss.
- Had EOC meeting on this topic to discuss options.

Churches:

- All 9 churches received waters, filters, and informational bulletins.
- Lt Roach received positive feedback from 3 of the pastors.
- No complaints were received.

Signage:

- Provided information to SEOC on signage requirements at the fire stations.

Storage:

- Researched storage spaces; established temporary site at GCCARD.

Personnel:

- Lack of local EOC leadership (seems somewhat checked out) with IC and Deputy IC (doing an okay job).
- Captain TaFoya (Genesee County) helped tremendously today with all the plans outlined above and attended the press conference.

- Tina Martinez at the Food Bank and Matt Purcell at GCCARD were extremely helpful in getting last minute operations set up.

Chris

Update 1/9/16

SitRep 4 attached for more in depth information. The below only contains some items worked on today and while the format in the attached SitRep is not perfect (it is created automatically by MICIMS) it does contain a lot more information you may want to read. I also attached one of our maps. It is our filter distribution map. All filters handed out by anyone working with us feeds into this now. We are continuing to refine these and at this time there is a delay in the upload of address data but we are working on it. We have a ways to go to get filters in every home but this will help direct us to those who need still them. We also are working on identifying abandoned homes.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 9 churches will have ARC volunteers and filters for distribution. Some may also get water.
- 5 fire stations are a distribution point for water, filter systems/replacement filters, and water test kits. While only open today until 4 p.m., tomorrow and until further notice they are open from 9a to 9p.
- Media event will take place on the above tomorrow.

Items to Note

- 211 has some issues with call load but it is being worked on. 2-1-1 Director contacted MDHHS PIO to discuss/resolve caller wait times and messaging. We anticipate an increase in activity tomorrow in 211 calls so we requested and received an increase to staff 211.
- We are shifting tasks the SEOC took on that are handled more effectively and efficiently at the local EOC. We have established command and control in their EOC. We are running things there but that is not being made public. We are doing this in partnership but we are clearly handling the operation with state personnel oversight.
- A 3rd FEMA LNO arrived today upon my request. This has nothing to do with a Presidential request for a declaration but support for some other items I want worked on for long term recovery.
- We continue morning calls with the local EOC leadership and local emergency manager on what our goals for the day are as well as any issues/concerns.
- Five 5 fire stations have received water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits with American Red Cross personnel at each location to assist with delivery of resources and collection of addresses receiving them. These locations will be open from 9a – 9p daily until determined they are no longer needed. Those picking up water testing kits will be advised that they can return the test kits to the fire departments (where they will be picked up and taken to the Flint City Hall), the Flint Water Treatment Plant, or they can take them directly to the Flint City Hall. For those unable to return the kits, 211 can make arrangements for pick up the kits. We understand response to these sites has been positive thus far. The Genesee County EOC will be monitoring these supplies and request replacement of products as needed.
    - A call is going out tomorrow morning to advise this information ... I do not believe it was every resident but Tori Sachs has that info if needed.
- I approved a press release today to advise the public that all levels are working together to ensure delivery of filters, test kits and water; noting that all of these items were delivered to the 5 Flint fire department stations. It was stressed that the public should be aware that the local and state agencies have been working cooperatively to assist the residents - and will continue to do so. This was done to hopefully end or at least minimize the "who can get water and filters out first" when all of this has been connected with the state and coordinated since the state declaration was put in place.
- The arrangement of 2,000 filters, to be taken to 9 local churches on Sunday, January 10, is ongoing. The filters have been secured; they are now in the possession of the DTMB. DTMB will return to Flint on Sunday morning to deliver these to necessary locations. The American Red Cross will be on site at each church to assist with distribution and recording addresses (for GIS). The local EOC is working to ensure these arrangements are complete and run smoothly. Future engagement with the faith based community will occur to assist with additional distribution.

- A Flint City liaison has not been in the EOC but starting Monday this will be in place to keep the Flint Mayor appraised of activities being conducted in the city. She also has been advised she can call me at any time if she needs anything.
- Training has been confirmed for the door-to-door operation scheduled to start Tuesday. Four teams are initially scheduled with more to potentially be put in place. These are the teams that will be handing out water, filter systems/replacement filters, test kits and information. If nobody is home, a door hanger with information is being left. DHHS personnel and one MSP trooper will be on these teams.
    - Training will take place at 1 p.m. on Monday afternoon at the DHHS office on Clio Road. DEQ and DHHS will provide the training.
        - Training is so those going door to door can explain what the filters do, how to install them, if they need install help to call 211 who has a list of people who can install the filters, and answer any other questions versus just handing them the filter.
    - Hours of operation will be Tuesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. AT THIS TIME. I am reevaluating these times to increase contact with someone versus just leaving information.
    - Logistics are being finalized for the teams and trucks to handle stocking and re-stocking of materials during daily operations.
    - GIS maps will provide guidance on deployment locations for these teams and other teams in the field.
- A pilot project at Freeman Elementary with LARA and DEQ has been initiated to see if replacing certain plumbing components in faucets at the school will drop the lead level.

MSP/EMHSD GIS Section Updates

Accomplished Today (January 9):

- Produced a Point of Distribution Map. Contains four types of distribution points; Churches, Water Resource Sites, Filter Distribution Sites, Water Distribution Sites.
- Produced Filter Distribution Map.
- Developed process of how best to handle geocoding the household filter locations, worked on processing the data.
- Worked on map of franchise customers outside of Flint City.
- Produced maps for MDARD on food establishments and Local Health Departments.
- Produced map of Church Filter Distribution map for DTMB.

Local Emergency Operations Center

- The state has deployed 10 personnel to the Genesee County EOC to ensure we have command and control at the local level. On 1/8/15 The state personnel took over the incident management functions of the Genesee County EOC (not public). The arrival of additional staff allowed the local Emergency Management Coordinator to delegate tasks which relieved a tremendous amount of stress.
- Additional Sherriff staff (2-positions) will be shadowing the state incident management team to allow for transition to the county personnel later in the incident when we are comfortable with them handling things. Not sure when that will be but we have secured a direct bill hotel for staff to stay in Flint as long as needed.
- With the additional staff, the Local EOC will be able to take over functions previously handled by the SEOC including:
    - Logistical activities to support church operations.
    - Logistical activities to support fire stations operations.
    - Coordinate Donations Management activities and draft donations management plan
    - Coordinate Volunteer Management activities
    - Identify local storage/staging facilities
    - Overall inventory tracking
    - Tracking of Points of Distribution (PODs)

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 1/8/16

SitRep 3 attached.

There is a significant difference in what is being presented by the media and what the local EOC is relaying to us at the SEOC. It is also being driven by the media that this is a state versus local response (who is providing more and quicker versus a coordinated effort between all). That said, I advised SEOC personnel that perception is reality in some eyes and we are to move forward to address items that typically are addressed at the local level. I have ordered the SEOC open all weekend due to make the quick wins that we need and continue to get the coordination and collaboration in place that is needed (but make gains on our own as needed).

Items to Note

- Two FEMA LNO's arrived today and are in the SEOC. A third LNO was requested from FEMA due to some unique issues with this event to include having to deploy more or my staff to the local EOC to get more structure and/or find out why there is an issue with the message the media is showing versus what we are hearing from the local EOC

- We finally received from the local EOC 8 locations (we were told originally early in the week they had 80-90) that are their Points of Distribution (PODs) for water in conjunction with the local food bank. The PODs are not getting water from the food bank even though the food bank has water. We are going to resolve this issue as we can help deliver the water to the PODs but we were not aware of this. 8 PODs is not enough locations if water needs to be distributed to citizens. Speaking with the ARC Regional Administrator later today, I believe ARC got water to those locations but I need to confirm that in the morning. The food bank reported they had 376 cases of water.

- We have learned that a low number of residents are testing their water when DEQ can test 400 kits per day. This is an added focus that we believe can be increased through dissemination of test kits with the filters and any water.

- I found out the Mayor was okay with using fire stations as distribution points for water, filters, and water test kits. While this did not come to me through the local EOC, I advised we needed to get water, filters, and test kits to these locations for tomorrow. The distribution at 5 Flint Fire Department stations has been coordinated to be in place by 10:00 am tomorrow morning.

  - DTMB has provided a truck and driver to pick up water test kits from DEQ lab in Lansing, water from the Food Bank and water filters and replacement cartridges from GCARD in Genesee County.
  - 10 American Red Cross (ARC) volunteers will meet the DTMB truck at GCARD at 9:00 am to be provided information about filters. Instructions will be included in water test kits. They will then report to the 5 fire stations to assist in distribution of resources to the public and track addresses of same.
  - Residents will be told where they can drop off their water test kits, or that they can return them to the fire station the next day. Coordination will occur on pick up of water test kits daily to be taken to the Flint City Hall, who will then delivery them to the DEQ testing lab.

- STILL FINALIZING - We have made available 2,000 Filters for distribution on Sunday as parishioners leave mass/services. This will be 200 filters for 10 churches in Flint. While this is a small number of churches, we do not want to waste an opportunity to hand out filters and this seems like a quick way to so. The filters will be put on the DTMB truck on Saturday for delivery to TBD locations for distribution. Logistics remain undetermined as I am still waiting on a list of the churches, pastors/reverends/hours or services/etc. The DTMB truck will be returning to Lansing approximately 11:00 a.m. so we need to finalize this quickly on Saturday. We may utilize ARC to assist with this.

- The Recovery branch is working with the JIC to develop a door hanger card. DTMB is working on the printing portion of the hanger card. Recovery will also be finalizing logistics over the weekend for neighborhood canvasing to occur early next week. 40 volunteers have signed up to attend training on Monday afternoon to complete this task. The mission will be to deliver water sample kits along with water filters/replacement cartridges, and water.

- It appears that 211 has become overloaded. DHHS is researching ways to increase capacity for calls.

- A Volunteer Management Coordinator is in the Genesee County EOC as of today.

- A Donations Management Coordinator has been requested and she will be in the Genesee County EOC Saturday.

- DHHS had a conference call with GM today; they indicated they can provide cash, and supplies, but primarily manpower. No commitments were made at this point. We inquired as to availability of warehouse space and trucks. It was left as GM being a major resource pool that we can tap into as we determine missions. Further conversations will occur, but primarily GM just wanted us to know they are there if needed.

- An additional EMHSD staff member was sent to the Genesee County EOC to act as Operations Section Chief and obtain awareness of the situation there.

- GIS staff met with various parts of Genesee County/Flint personnel to try to get a handle on data available.

- GIS continues to work with local GIS personnel with three GIS staff going to Flint today to work with them. GIS staff is working with U of M on how best to proceed with digitizing water lines for long term recovery.

UPDATE 1/7/16

A summary of some of today's SEOC activities is provided below. Attached is the following:

- Today's SitRep which contains more information than below.
- The resource request/task assignment sheet for your situational awareness. This is how locals request resources as well as how we track resources and any assignments and/or tasks that are to be completed.
- JIC Task Tracking – for your situational awareness on how we are tracking requests and assignments. Once someone is assigned a task or resource request it allows them to document what work has been or will be done as shown at the bottom of the document.

Items to note:

- I received a document this evening from Genesee County which appears to be damage assessment information. Analysis of this will occur tomorrow. It appears to be infrastructure and costs to fix it and no other impacts.
- I spoke with Jamie Curtis, Genesee County Commissioner, this evening. A very good relationship is in place with him, especially with our District Coordinator (DC). I also have our DC working on developing stronger relationships with the Mayor/Mayor's office.

- GIS staff continue to obtain data and work with County and City personnel to get a picture of where resources have been provided, need to be provided, as well as infrastructure locations (pipes) that could be affected.
- Personnel and agencies have been tasked with developing a plan to get people in the community to deliver information, hand out filters, etc. This would target those areas we are showing minimal or no filter distribution based on the data we are collecting. The plan is to get them in the field by Tuesday and the plan will be provided to me tomorrow.
- Filters can be obtained at the following locations:
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 125 E. Union St., Flint, MI 48502
  - Michigan Department of Health and Human Services office, 4809 Clio Road, Flint, MI 48504
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 2727 Lippincott, Flint, MI 48507
  - Genesee County Community Action Resource Department office, 601 N. Saginaw, Flint, MI 48502
- Conducted briefing with local EOC and county executive.
- Conducted briefing with state agencies (daily updates).
- Began work to schedule legislative/congressional conference calls. Tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday.
- JIC continued to develop messaging.
- Provided input to local EOC regarding best methods of identifying health and non-structural impacts for damage assessment process.
- Deployed two EMHSD/SEOC liaisons to assist the local EOC.
- Published the Incident Action Plan and continued assignment of objectives/tasks.
- FEMA Liaison Officers just arrived in Lansing to assist command and general staff.
- I spoke with Harvey a few times and he should have talking points later tonight or tomorrow a.m. for his use and also for others who may speak to media outside of state government who may benefit from our messaging.
- We held a media round table at 1 P.M. at the SEOC. Dr. Wells and I spoke and answered questions to numerous media outlets.
- Local agencies and NGOs continue to provide water and filters to citizens.
- The website, www.michigan.gov/flintwater, was update with information and links to assistance to include 211. Additional recommendations were provided to include information on the testing water in homes.

EMHSD GIS:

Accomplished Today:

- Reproduced Socio-Economic Status Map
- Reproduced Predicted Affected Populations Map
- Cleansed old data and reports for water filter distributions
- Created draft map of water filter distributions (Refinement needed before releasing final product)
- Scheduled on-site visit with Flint GIS Department and Genesee County GIS Department
- Formatted databases to host content
- Researched service line database creation and scheduled meeting with U of M Flint to discuss timelines and resource needs
- Generated water infrastructure map (does not include building service lines)

Tasks for Tomorrow:

- Meet with Flint City GIS
- Meet with Genesee County GIS
- Meet with U of M Flint GIS
- Finalize water filter distributions map
- Finalize plan for data distribution methods

UPDATE 1/6/16

A summary of today's SEOC activities is provided below. I tried to distill this as best I could but there has been a lot of activity and discussion to get an accurate assessment of the situation. Attached is the final draft of objectives and tactics for the operational period and agency situation report (SitRep) which has more SEOC agency information. I have implemented weekly operational periods.

Advise if you want anyone else copied or off this distribution.

Daily Update

- Set goals for SEOC and identified response/recovery emphasis
- Requested FEMA liaison officers (LNO) from FEMA Region V. Two LNOs will be on site by ~3 p.m. 1/7/16. Both are known contacts to me and some staff and one has worked extensively with me during the SE MI flooding in a command and control position. These personnel have been specifically tasked with this mission. THEY ARE NOT HERE TO ASSIST WITH A PRESIDENTIAL DECLARATION REQUEST BUT TO ASSIST ME.
- PIOs from multiple agencies were here and established the Joint Information Center (JIC). News released pushed out on this. I am very happy with the PIO work and movement toward coordinated messaging.
- Held briefing for State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators, which included presentations from DEQ and DHHS subject matter experts to ensure situational awareness and to develop a common operating picture.
    - I opened the briefing by identifying our initial goals, items to think about while subject matter experts were briefing us, and how we are to move forward, find quick wins, and regain trust.
    - MDHHS – Elevated Blood Lead Levels
        - Dr. Elizabeth Wells gave an in depth summary of lead poisoning and what has occurred in terms of health monitoring throughout the Flint crisis.
    - MDEQ – Water Testing Protocols
        - Mr. George Krisztian of MDEQ gave an in depth summary of the testing protocols and summary results that as they have developed throughout the emerging crisis.
- Developed Incident objectives, strategy and tactics (see attached)
- Identified SEOC and state agency staff positions
- Assigned work tasks for SEOC operation period from 0800 January 6, 2016 to 1700 January 8, 2016
- Reviewed planned actions, prepared final draft Incident Action Plan
- Made contact with the Genesee County Emergency Manager first thing in the morning and held a conference call mid-day to discuss roles. Daily 0830 command conference calls with local EOC command staff starts tomorrow. Tomorrows call will include the County Commissioner and the City Administrator (both invited). Topics include the incident action plan objectives and establishing better local coordination, command and control to facilitate integration with the SEOC. The local EOC is not functioning as it needs to with personnel and local coordination and we are working on that issue.
- I will be in Flint tomorrow for a 2 p.m. media round table with local officials that was set up by the JIC.
- The attached initial objectives will be updated at least every operational period and as needed. I listed the objectives below but the tactics to accomplish them is in the attached if you want further information.
    1. Activate the State Recovery Task Force (SRTF).
    2. Establish and maintain coordination between the City of Flint, Genesee County, state and federal agencies, and appropriate medical experts.
    3. Obtain and maintain situational awareness and common operating picture of all activities.
    4. Establish SEOC operational period and hours of operations.
    5. Investigate and identify all available programs for assistance with direct or related impacts, including the federal Lead Pipe Replacement Program.
    6. Develop a comprehensive GIS strategy.
    7. Coordinate response and recovery activities with MIVOAD and identify potential mission areas.
    8. Establish and coordinate routine communication between SMEs and coordinate technical assistance among state agencies and to local agencies.
    9. Provide technical assistance to the local Damage Assessment process.

10. Establish a Joint Information Center (JIC) and develop a public information strategy.
11. Monitor MI CIMS for resource requests and address as appropriate.
12. Establish and disseminate cost center information for the incident.

- Additional tasks include:
  - Determine what federal agencies are already involved and their status
  - Identify potential water supplies
  - Determine where affected homes are located, where filters/pitchers (and replacements) were installed/provided, and determine who needs filters, etc.
  - Determine how filter distribution is handled, and if it can be handled more efficiently and effectively
  - Determine what mechanisms are in place for nutrition supplementation

EMHSD GIS Accomplishments:

- Hosted a conference call to begin coordination with Flint City and Genesee County GIS departments and the SEOC
- Established a daily call with county and city GIS personnel to synchronize GIS efforts in support of the Flint water crisis at 8:30 A.M.
- Began consolidating local data from local GIS practitioners into a consolidated database, to include:
  - Water Pipeline Locations
  - Filter Distribution Locations
  - November 25, 2015 Water Monitoring Results (Partial, some data remains to be digitized)
  - Affected School Locations
  - Predictive analysis of blood lead levels for affected area
  - Updated Parcels
  - Demographics
  - Block Groups
- Produced a map for the filter distribution locations
- Began contacting specialists who developed historic maps depicting the Flint Water Crisis to obtain the data

Subject: Update - Genesee County Declaration

Below are some key points for your situational awareness (FYSA) that have taken place or will take place within the next 15 hours.

- I was on the phone with Sean Kammer, Assistant to the Flint City Administrator, when the declaration hit the news so I advised him immediately. He was going to let the City Administrator know.
- I contacted MSP Lt. Roach, 3rd District Coordinator, who was at the Genesee County EOC and advised her to let the County EM know the declaration status.

- State Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMCs) were notified via our notification system with additional information in an email.
    - This included information on the SEOC activation and a 0900 briefing for SEMCs.
    - Some subject matter experts will provide us an update to establish a common operating picture.
- We have been in contact with FEMA Region V watch desk ... they will be on the call tomorrow and continue to monitor the situation.
- I have been in contact with the FEMA Region V Administrator to keep him updated.
- Operational period for the SEOC will be M-F, 0800 to 1700 at this time.
- Situation Reports (SitReps) will be provided in the evenings.
- An Incident Action Plan will be developed tomorrow.

Call me with any concerns or questions.

Agency Summaries

Joint Information Center / Public Information Officer

The Joint Information Center (JIC) was expected to be operational in Flint from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Jan. 28. The JIC was operational until 10:30 p.m. on Jan. 27.

State agencies at the JIC included the Michigan State Police, Michigan State Housing Development Authority, Michigan Economic Development Corporation, Michigan Community Service Commission, and Departments of Environmental Quality, Health and Human Services, Licensing and Regulatory Affairs, Technology, Management and Budget, and Military and Veterans Affairs. The Genesee County Sheriff's Office and American Red Cross were also present.

Tasks accomplished:

• Media hotline staff answered more than 20 emails and phone calls ranging from recycling to Spanish-speaking operators at 2-1-1.

• Received an inquiry regarding potential scams being perpetrated on residents of Flint. This information was referred to the Attorney General's office for a possible news release and further action.

• Key agency PIOs fielded multiple news inquiries throughout the day, including conducting or scheduling interviews with the Detroit News, Snopes.com, Bloomberg BNA, FOX 2, Supertalk 1570, WDIV Channel 4, and ABC 12.

• Assisted the Governor's Office with media photo op with Flint pastors at 10:30 a.m. at Flint City Hall.

• Issued a media advisory and coordinated a press conference about recycling with Lt. Gov. Brian Calley at noon at Fire Station #1. Used social media to promote the event as it occurred.

• Coordinated a live shot at Fire Station #1 with Channel 4 in Indianapolis. Six-thousand cases of water were donated by citizens of Indianapolis, IN, and were dropped off at the Clio Rd. warehouse.

• Staff attended a 3:00 pm community partnership meeting at the Red Cross office to help dispel rumors about immigration enforcement.

• Problem solved fact sheet printing issue with State Emergency Operations Center, Genesee County Emergency Operations Center, and Genesee County Health Department.

• Created a media monitoring report and looked for information requiring correction.

• Updated internal talking points about the ongoing Flint water emergency.

• Continued routing public information materials for approval, including communications from MDHHS and MDEQ.

• Obtained a recording of the Governor's tele-town hall on 1/17/16 and will post this information on the michigan.gov/flintwater webpage and include a link in the nightly news release.

• JIC is planning to issue the nightly activity news release around 7 p.m.

• Developed a dozen social media messages for use by state agencies to support operational messaging.

Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD)

Thursday, Jan 28th -
The first water samples from food establishments have been returned; (8 reports received-50% 'not detected' and 50% at varying levels of lead detected from 2-21 ppb). MDARD is reviewing results and will be coordinating on next steps and requirements for those firms. Assessments of food businesses are continuing.
MDARD's Animal Health & Environmental programs is working on how to get information about pets and gardening / urban agriculture to people in the areas most impacted. We will coordinate public messaging with the JIC and have to coordinate with Local Health given the sensitivity and privacy concerns of residents.
MDARD plans to participate in a conference call with DEQ, LARA, DHHS, and MDE to discuss a common message regarding interpretation of water lead test results.
Question from Civil Rights re: cottage food producers - by legislation they are not licensed and do not have to register so there are no lists; MDARD will reach out to the areas where those businesses may be selling (generally farm markets)

American Red Cross (ARC)

The American Red Cross deployed and supported 10 Water Response Teams on Thursday. We expect to have 10 teams available tomorrow as well.
The Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) was in full operation today. The VRC is scheduled to be open from 9am to 7pm today and tomorrow. The weekend schedule 9am to 3pm.
We continued assembling water test kits today.

AuxComm

Auxcomm EMC continues to follow the incident via MI-CIMS and SEOC briefings, and provide situational awareness for ARES, RACES, MARS, SATERN and CAP leadership.

Civil Rights (MDCR)

Continue to review activities to provide support and assistance to assigned Human Services branch and other SEOC entities.

* Followed up with FEMA HHS rep. on 2-1-1 accessibility for pre-paid/minute mobile phone; aware and advised push for alternative messaging for the alternative line available 1-844-875-9211 has been ongoing discussion

* Reviewed continuing media coverage of Genesee County Hispanic Latino Collaborative issues and concerns;

* Continue to update list of area non-profits engaged in stabilization and recovery for 360 inclusion

* Briefed on Michigan Civil Rights Commission/MDCR public hearings

Water Resource Sites Open Daily from 9 a.m. - 9 p.m.
Audio Available from Governor Snyder's Tele-Town Hall

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 28, 2016
Release #: 21

Flint, Mich. - As efforts continue to ensure Flint residents have safe drinking water, Governor Snyder last night held a live tele-town hall where he and other state officials fielded questions from residents on the state's actions. A recording of the conversation can be heard here<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nSLyrspo1FU&feature=youtu.be>.

One of the most visible aspects of the response continues to be the distribution of bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits by National Guard members at five of the city's fire stations.

As part of the distribution process, residents seeking water filters and replacement cartridges are asked to share their address. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time to assist with long-term recovery and help water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts. It is important to note that no resident will be denied resources if an address is not provided, and a photo identification is not required.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

* 207,055 cases of water
* 97,342 water filters
* 30,801 water testing kits

Water response teams also continued door-to-door delivery efforts. Today, 125 American Red Cross and other volunteers visited 1,768 homes providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Earlier this afternoon, a coalition of public-private partners announced Flint's coordinated recycling program for empty water bottles and used water filter cartridges. Residents can learn more here<http://www.michigan.gov/documents/flintwater/Flint_Recycling_Information_Handout_512267_7.pdf?20160128182706>.

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a water bottle recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.

Fire Station #5 (also a water bottle recycling site)
3402 Western Rd.

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.

Fire Station #8 (also a water bottle recycling site)
202 East Atherton Rd.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International<http://www.nsf.org/newsroom/statement-regarding-flint-water-system-lead-issue-and-to-certification-nsf/> for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website<http://www.nsf.org/>.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater<http://www.michigan.gov/flintwater>, by calling 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com<http://www.helpforflint.com/>.

Subject: ASL materials

Hello JIC team—

I just got a call from Colleen Pero at Civil Rights asking about where the JIC/SEOC were with materials or information in American Sign Language for the deaf and hard of hearing community in Flint. I believe there were already some conversations on making this happen, so I thought the best way to get an answer on this would be to loop all of you in with Jacki Miller, Public Information Officer for Civil Rights (and DCH-alum), so you can get to an answer.

Jacki—the materials that have been developed so far have focused on filters and health impacts/effects of lead on various populations. I know many of the materials are being updated on content as we speak so some may not be in final form yet. Videos have also been produced on filter replacement, etc. If you could give the JIC crew some additional information as to what you feel may be helpful to have developed in ASL or what the priority documents should be for development, I think that would be a great place to start conversations.

Thanks so much everyone,
Geralyn
